San Rafael Robbers Hit Store, Motorist

A San Rafael liquor store clerk and a visiting Long Beach man were the victims of two robberies within five hours last night and early today in San Rafael.

The larger haul was made by a short, polite young man who brandished a .32 caliber pistol at Wilbur Lewis Haven in Rudy's Liquor Store, 1835 Fourth Street, at 9 p.m. yesterday, then took about $277 in currency from the cash register.

Victim of the other robbery, Ren Hoek, 51, lost $64 in cash and a watch and ring worth a total of $61 when two men claiming to have a gun ordered him out of his car at Fourth and A streets at 1:43 a.m. today.

Police gave this description of the liquor store holdup:

Haven was in the rear of the store when a short man, about 25, with a crew cut walked in through the Second Street door and waited at the cigarette counter.

When Haven went to the counter, the man drew the gun and said, politely, "This is a holdup, sir."

Haven told officers the holdup man again called him "sir" when he advised him that his weapon was "not a toy gun."

Ordering Haven to open the cash register and lie on the floor, the robber reached into the cash drawer, scooped out all the currency and hurried through the same doorway by which he had entered.

Coins in the cash drawer were untouched, police said.

Inspector Thomas Cheetham said two women apparently saw or heard the man within the next few minutes. One reported seeing a man running south across Second Street (which runs behind the store before joining with Fourth Street at the start of the Miracle Mile).

Next, she told police, he ran south on West Street and she lost sight of him.

The other woman witness said she heard a dog bark and a car drive away from West Street about the same time.

Haven said the man was about 5 feet 7 inches, weighed 160 pounds, had "dirty brown hair," and had a day's growth of beard. His speech sounded as though he might have been of German descent, Haven said.

It was the second holdup of Rudy's in just over two months.

High-Rise Project Proposed In Courthouse Square Plan

FUTURE OF COURTHOUSE SQUARE? — This layout by engineer Daniel P. Coleman, prepared for the City of San Rafael, shows how the courthouse square might provide a central downtown park and at the same time accommodate a 10-story building and two two-story buildings. A portion of Fourth Street would be depressed to connect with underground parking. A and Court streets between Fourth and an extended Julia Street would be narrowed to walkways.

Off-Street Parking Suggested

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A 10-story building at the rear of the courthouse square would dominate a park-like center of downtown San Rafael in a proposal presented to the San Rafael City Council last night by engineer Daniel P. Coleman.

Julia Street would be extended as a subway to Court Street, connecting with a second level of underground parking beneath the rear portion of the square. A and Court streets would be only walkways between Julia and Fourth.

PEDESTRIAN WALK

Curbside parking would vanish from Fourth Street. There would be diagonal parking in a center section beyond both ends of the depressed portion.

Four hundred and seventy-five cars could park on the two levels beneath the courthouse block, solving San Rafael's long-time problem of where to park automobiles without killing off valuable street frontage.

REPORT TO CITY

Coleman pictured this development in his report to the city council on how best to control development of the square when it is sold by the county. It is to be sold to raise money toward a new Hall of Justice at the Civic Center.

Such development would be possible under a new zone, "planned commercial redevelopment district," designed especially for the courthouse block.

"These plans are not intended as master plan," Coleman wrote, "but merely as a visual explanation of the proposed amendment."

The city council, expressing pleasure with Coleman's work, unanimously referred the report and suggested ordinance to the planning commission.

No Solution Found For Ditch Dispute

Residents of east Corte Madera who intend to buy a new car might consider the Land Rover or four-wheel-drive Jeep.

Paradise Drive will be undergoing the therapy of one contractor or another for the next 90 days, at least, assuming the weather doesn't get too bad.

That was the most encouraging word Acting Town Engineer Philip B. Lygren could give about 30 irritated residents and businessmen at the Corte Madera Town Council meeting last night. But, he said, the present ditch should be filled in about 10 days.

Lygren said the contractor agreed, after a meeting earlier in the day, to go back to work on the project tomorrow. He had pulled out after an encroachment permit expired.

The agreement came after Corte Madera Sanitary District engineers agreed to ask that district's board to withhold payments until the town was satisfied with the work.

But, Lygren added, digging of the 16-foot deep trench has damaged the street, causing sinking, cracks and chuckholes, and the contractor and town have yet to agree what is damage and what has always been there.

"We had a man from Kirkwood-Bly, Inc. (the contractor) in here yesterday telling us the street hasn't subsided," said Public Works Director Arthur N. Morrison, as the audience laughed.

Because of the disagreement, the town cannot correct the damage without hurting its case when it asks the contractor to pay for the mess created, Lygren explained.

Town forces will fill up holes that are a serious hazard; but otherwise, until all damage is surveyed by an impartial outside firm of soil engineers, the cracks and chuckholes will have to remain, he continued.

Then, when Kirkwood-Bly completes the sewer job, Ghilotti Brothers, Inc., will move

Police Chief Tells Of Klan Acts, Arrests

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Georgia police chief testified today he arrested five Ku Klux Klansmen after a cross burning and found an arsenal in their auto.

Chief Leo Blackwell, of Griffin, Ga., told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that the incident occurred April 24, 1964.

The committee was looking also into the activities of Nacirema, Inc., which investigator Philip Manuel described as a Klan offshoot for those who wanted "more violent action." The word is a reverse spelling of American.

Witnesses refused yesterday to answer any committee questions about Nacirema, schools on how to handle explosives, or parties at a klavern headquarters near Atlanta. The parties led to the arrest of five Klansmen on charges of maintaining a disorderly house.

Blackwell said after a cross was burned in front of a Negro establishment, he and his men located the two cars that had carried the Klansmen. They were parked near the local klavern headquarters, he said.

Blackwell said he arrested two men in the klavern — he named them as Colbert McGriff and Oliver Custis Sanders—and three others later. He identified these three as Allen Bayne, Thomas Royce Carlyle and a John Mitchell.

Blackwell said all were strangers to him and he suggested they were from out of town.

In searching their cars, Blackwell said he uncovered a small arsenal and Klan robes and signs.

Witnesses at the cross burning, Blackwell said, told him

Barry Wants McNamara's Resignation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Barry Goldwater called today for the resignation of Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, urged an all-out bombing of Hanoi industrial complexes and blamed Govs. William W. Scranton and Nelson Rockefeller, both Republicans, for his defeat in last year's presidential election.

In a taped television interview with newscaster Vince Leonard of KYW (Westinghouse) entitled "One Year Later," Goldwater also said the Johnson administration had turned down his request to visit Viet Nam as a reserve general in the Air Force.

Speaking from his home in Phoenix, the former Arizona senator said the resignation of McNamara "would be the best thing that could happen in our war effort. He has had too big a say in making foreign policy."

Goldwater, who was soundly beaten by President Johnson in the 1964 election, said McNamara's policies have reduced the morale in the Pentagon to an all-time low.

Goldwater said the war in Viet Nam could be ended in a relative few months if "we would say to Hanoi you are no longer a sacred place."

He urged heavy bombing of "not the city—we are not people killers," but industrial targets.

On politics he said the attacks by Rockefeller, of New York, and Scranton, of Pennsylvania, describing him as trigger happy and out to destroy Social Security hurt most in his bid for the presidency.

Son's Accidental Shot Kills Novato Huntsman

A 40-year-old Novato father of three children was accidentally shot to death by his son yesterday while duck hunting near Olympia, Wash.

Maurese Eugene Sisco, of 64 Montego Key, was walking down a road with his son, Bruce, 13, when the boy stumbled and a shotgun he was holding flew out of his hands.

The gun landed in brush, discharged, and the blast struck the elder Sisco in the back, said Thurston County Sheriff C. A. Van Allen. The father was dead on arrival at an Olympia hospital.

A friend of the family said today: "Bruce was so excited at the prospect of going hunting. It was the big thing in his life."

The Sisco family were on a weekend visit to James Hamilton, operator of the Rainier Hereford Ranch, about 15 miles south of Olympia. They arrived Saturday and planned to leave today.

Sisco, a manufacturer's representative, is survived by his wife, his son, and two small daughters, Lezlie Ann and Jann Louise.

Parking Tag Favoritism Is Charged

Favoritism by San Rafael's meter maids in enforcing the city parking ordinance was charged last night by a Fourth Street merchant.

Warren Robinson of Marin Upholstery at 1321 Fourth Street complained to the city council that people who work or have businesses on San Rafael's main street park their cars at the curb all day and get no tickets.

When car tires are marked, they back out and drive right in again, he declared. Moreover, he said, Police Chief Charles J. Chisea had told him his "hands were tied" as cars could not be ticketed if the movement had erased or changed position of the tire mark.

"If you pull out and right back in, it's an evasion of the ordinance," he declared. "Ticket them. I'd like to take it to court and make a test case."

"The people who park there all day don't get the tickets," asserted Robinson. "The customers get the tickets."

Councilman Fred E. Jensen backed Robinson's complaint. He said he had observed a meter maid ignoring overparked cars, and she had told him, "It's none of your business."

Airborne Cavalry Captures 26 Reds, Kills 92 Of Enemy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. combat troops reported 92 Communist guerrillas killed and 26 captured in fighting in central Viet Nam today and yesterday.

Men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division, who arrived in Viet Nam only seven weeks ago, fought three engagements against an enemy force of between 500 and 600 men near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Plei Me, 210 miles north of Saigon.

The airborne cavalrymen reported they killed 88 of the enemy, captured 26 others and picked up 26 suspects. A U.S. spokesman said North Vietnamese regulars were among those killed and captured.

There was no word on Americn casualties.

The Plei Me camp underwent a week-long seige before the Communists were routed last week. The cavalrymen have been hunting down Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in the area since then.

The Viet Cong attacked an outpost near Qui Nhon, on the coast 260 miles north of Saigon, but a U.S. spokesman said paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division fought off the assault and killed four Viet Cong. The Americans suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

In the northernmost sea rescue of the war, Capt. Norman P. Huggins of Mullins, S.C., was picked up after his plane was hit by conventional ground fire over a Communist surface-to-air missile site 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, a military spokesman reported.

FBI Makes First Arrest In Brinks Cannon Caper

NEW YORK (UPI) — FBI Agents today sought the husky Canadian nephew of Jack Frank, who was arrested last night in connection with the Oct. 23 cannon-blast burglary of $416,028 from a Brinks Inc. vault in Syracuse, N.Y.

Frank, 33, of Freeport, N.Y., was arrested in nearby Garden City, N.Y. His nephew, Joe Singer, 23, of Chomady, Quebec, Canada, remained at large. Also being sought were two other Canadians, both unidentified, who along with Singer were alleged to have staged the daring theft.

The FBI charged Frank and Singer with conspiracy to violate the interstate transportation of stolen property act — the property said to be the stolen money.

Singer was also charged with violating the federal firearms act in the transportation of a 20-mm anti-tank gun which was used to help blow open a concrete and steel vault in the Brinks office.

Frank was not accused of participating in the theft. The FBI said he and Singer purchased two of the anti-tank weapons from an Alexandria, Va., gun dealer.

Investigators said Frank apparently was unaware of the burglary plan and later cooperated with the FBI in the investigation.

Roy Rogers' Son Dies

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—An autopsy revealed "an amount" of alcohol in the body of Pfc John David (Sandy) Rogers, the 18-year-old adopted son of cowboy actor Roy Rogers and actress Dale Evans, a U. S. Army spokesman reported today.

Rogers

The young soldier died Sunday in a U.S. Army hospital here of asphyxiation due to vomiting. He had been admitted to the hospital nine hours earlier, complaining of feeling ill.

The Army spokesman said he could neither confirm nor deny published reports that Rogers had fallen ill after engaging in a drinking contest. These reports said Rogers accepted a challenge to drink five glasses of vodka, brandy and whisky in 20 minutes.

The body was being flown to New York today for transshipment to California where Rogers will be buried.

Mrs. Neuberger To Drop Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., has dropped out of contention for reelection with a blast against the way she said senatorial campaigns are financed.

Mrs. Neuberger, who is really Mrs. Philip Solomon, made it clear in a statement Monday that one other principal reason for quitting was that she didn't want "to be beholden to some group for campaign money and to go begging from friends and relatives."

Mrs. Neuberger

The Senate seat she occupies will be at stake in next year's election. Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, a Republican, is expected to bid strongly for it. Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., might seek the Democratic nomination.

Mrs. Neuberger said that since she had an operation for cancer four years ago she has known she probably would not run again. She said she made "a wonderful recovery," that her health is excellent and that she has been able to carry on the heavy workload of a senator.

Paris, Moscow Call For Viet Peace Accord

MOSCOW (AP) — France and the Soviet Union called today for a Viet Nam peace settlement based on an end to outside interference in the internal affairs of the divided country.

The proposal—restating a position which both the French and the Soviet governments have taken previously—was made in a joint communique at the end of five days of talks between French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and top Soviet leaders.

The communique contained no joint peace formula, however, and made no specific mention of U.S. troops in Viet Nam.

It said the two governments expressed "growing concern" over the "new dangers" for peace stemming from the Viet Nam war.

It said the Viet Nam problem should be solved by strict application of the Geneva agreements of 1954.

The statement said the French-Soviet talks helped to build understanding between Eastern and Western Europe in a dialogue both sides said they hoped would continue.

The only specific agreement mentioned was a pact to be concluded later covering Soviet-French cooperation in space research. It is believed this will apply to joint work on a communications satellite system.

Guilty Verdict In Park Play Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Municipal Court jury found Ronald G. Davis, 32, guilty yesterday of presenting a theatrical performance in a city park without a permit.

Tax Assessors Reviewing Legislative Reform Plan

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (AP)—California's county property tax assessors are reviewing today a 28-point plan for legislative reform.

The plan calls for laws requiring all assessors to use uniform assessment ratios that are disclosed publicly.

"Assessors have been allowed to operate behind a veil of secrecy that no other agency and practically no private business enjoys," John Lynch of Fresno said yesterday. Lynch is chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

Some California county assessors' offices have been under investigation since charges were made earlier this year that certain assessors' deputies received payments in return for reduced tax bills. Assessors in San Francisco and Alameda counties have been charged by grand juries with taking money in return for lower assessments.

The Association of County Assessors began examining the reform program last Wednesday. The association is holding its annual meeting, which began Sunday and ends Thursday.

Burt Broemmel, Marin County assessor, is head of the committee which is urging adoption of the reform plan.

Other members are assessors Phil Watson of Los Angeles, Fred Wanaka of Contra Costa, Don Stewart of Monterey and Harold Brundige of Modoc.

Africa-Asia Plan For Summit Dies

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

ALGIERS (AP) — The second African-Asian summit conference finally fell apart today, a victim of the fierce political conflict between the Soviet Union and Red China.

Foreign ministers of the African-Asian world buried their hopes for the projected meeting and shelved it indefinitely. Already delayed twice, it was to have opened Friday.

The foreign ministers reluctantly concluded that a summit could not be held now because it would be boycotted by their most powerful member, Red China, and a number of other members.

Peking stayed away from the foreign ministers' conference and warned that it would not at this time attend any conference which included the Soviet Union.

The Red Chinese also scored a point when the foreign ministers declined to adopt India's proposal to bring the Soviet Union into the African-Asian ranks now. Nearly all of the 45 countries represented, however, favored inclusion of the Soviet Union if another summit meeting is ever held.

Indian Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs C.S. Jha told a news conference this was "of great political consequence for the Afro-Asian bloc and for the entire world."

The debate on Soviet participation raged day and night over the weekend in the committee rooms and corridors of Algeria's new $30-million conference center on a beach 15 miles west of Algiers.

Supervisors Spat Over Bridge Deck Opinions

The exchange was triggered when Kettenhofen said he did not think it proper for a board member to speak on an issue before public bodies after it has been defeated twice by the board.

He obviously referred to Storer's actions after the 3-2 approval by the board last week of a second deck, in which Supervisor Peter H. Behr and Storer were in the minority. Storer since spoke to the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen on the second deck and wrote a letter to the directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District opposing it.

"It will be a sad day when an elected official is gagged," Storer retorted.

He further declared he did not want to see his views or anyone else's censored, and referred to constitutional right to free speech and free press.

Kettenhofen said he did not intend criticism of Storer's specific actions, "however, the shoe must be hurting, because you're certainly squealing about it."

Kettenhofen further criticized Storer for sending the bridge board letter on Marin County stationery with no mention that his view was the minority view.

"At least you got a copy of my letter," Storer answered referring to the fact that Storer did not see a copy of Kettenhofen's telegram of rebutal to the bridge board.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Behr tried to cool the dispute, but Kettenhofen declared that he thought interpretation of his criticism as an argument against free speech was "poor taste."

Board Goes Slow On Plea For Civic Center Museum

Association President Nancy Hayden told the board that a donor willing to give a substantial sum for a museum is getting impatient. She said space has to be assured before the donor will contribute.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said that when Mrs. Hayden called him yesterday, a lease was not mentioned, only that the board agree to provide space at the center. He said also he had received calls from other association members saying that there was not so much urgency as Mrs. Hayden suggested.

Mrs. Hayden, backed by five other directors of the association, insisted that action was needed.

At the end of the discussion, supervisors agreed to take the matter up again next week. No specific site for a museum has been designated.

Neighbor's Find Is Clue To Burglary

When Ellsworth Miller of 37 Sonora Way, Corte Madera, took out the garbage Friday, he found a pillow slip filled with what appeared to be trash on top of his garbage can.

On checking the contents, he found a check book and other items bearing another man's name. He called police and thereby may have provided a break in a burglary case police have been investigating nearly a month.

The items in the pillow slip belong to Ronald A. Hoag of 3 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera. Burglars took $1,817 in cameras, jewelry and money from his home the night of Oct. 9, including the items found by Miller.

Police assumed the burglary was the work of an adult, but with Miller's discovery they have begun questioning boys with a record of burglaries who live in the Marin Estates area of Corte Madera.

KLAN

that McGriff covered them from one of the cars with a weapon that looked like a tommy gun as the cross was set up and ignited.

Blackwell said he also found records indicating one of the Klansmen as an organizer for the KKK.

Nacirema's charter from the state of Georgia was placed in the record. It stated as the purpose of the organization "to instill patriotism and re-activate liberty and justice for the body politic." Its address was given as a post office box in Mableton, Ga.

Nacirema's original incorporators were Clyde J. Newborn, Tom Gentry and R. H. Wynn.

Police reports on the disorderly house, also placed in the record, described a series of drunken weekend parties, with men and women staggering out to relieve themselves in the front yard in public.

On March 16, 1963, De Kalb County police stepped in and arrested five men at the house at 2666 Kelly Lake Drive outside Atlanta. They were John Brock, William Crowe, William Anderson, Robert Day and Billy F. Wilson. The charges against Brock and Wilson were later dropped. The disposition of the other cases could not be learned. Brock, Crowe and Anderson were called as witnesses yesterday and identified as Klan officers. All refused to answer questions.

Halloween Mischief Still On

San Rafael police were still plagued yesterday with the last mischief of the Halloween weekend.

At 8 a.m. yesterday, Maurice Antoine of 208 Fairhills Drive complained that someone had thrown eggs at the front of his house.

Donald DeLong of DeLong Chevrolet, 550 Francisco Boulevard, reported at 12:30 p.m. yesterday that someone had smashed a two-by-three foot window in the firm's parts building.

At 10:50 p.m., two 16-year-old San Rafael boys, James C. Rogers of 830 Rincon Way and Harry A. Litteral of 5 Ross Street, were walking along downtown Fourth Street when they heard a crash.

The two said they then saw two youths about their age running south on Lootens Place, leaving behind a broken window, about two by seven feet, in the front door of Gallen-Kamp's Shoe Store, 891 Fourth Street.

been charged with the Labor Day murder of a San Rafael bartender, and Harold Frank Percell, 24, both are charged with an Aug. 30 holdup at the liquor store.

In the other robbery, police said, Hoek reported that he was driving west on Fourth Street and made a left turn to A Street when two men on the sidewalk yelled at him to pull over.

When he did so, one of the men said, "Give me your money or we'll blow your brains out."

Hoek said the second man, who did not speak, had his right hand in his pocket as though holding a weapon, but no gun was visible.

Doing as he was ordered, Hoek pulled out his wallet and handed over the $64 which was inside. Then the first man ordered him to "give me your watch and that ring."

Hoek again did as he was told.

Next, the man ordered Hoek to get out of his car and start walking. He told officers he heard the men run from the area as he walked south on A Street. He walked five blocks to a service station at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue, where he called police from a pay telephone.

Police said Hoek was unable to give complete discriptions of the men, but said both wore dark clothing while the first had on a wool sweater. One man was about 5 feet 5 inches, the other 5 feet 2, and the one who spoke had a Mexican accent.

Hoek told officers he was staying at the Wilkins Hotel while in San Rafael on business.

SQUARE

It varies from an elevation of 26 feet above sea level at Fifth Avenue and A Street to 17 feet at Fourth and Court streets.

Approximately 30 per cent of the land area is now covered by the courthouse and its annex. The same amount of land would be covered by the three buildings proposed.

However, about 40 per cent of the land is now used for parking. With this underground, there would be a much more extensive park area under Coleman's plan than now exists.

In his proposal, and in the zoning amendment creating the new zone, Coleman divided the square into two parcels, at the north edge of the extension of Julia Street. Height limit on the parcel nearest Fourth Street would be 30 feet, but on the rear parcel, a 10-story building would be allowed.

"Although the amendment is intended to be specific in those areas where specifics are necessary," he wrote, "it has been prepared so as to allow considerable latitude in design since the ultimate plan for the site should reflect the most imaginative of ideas."

With only 30 per cent of the land area covered by buildings, the two two-story and one 10-story structure could have total floor area of 156,356 square feet —equal to a two-story building over the entire site, he noted.

Although he did not rule out keeping the old courthouse, Coleman observed that "although well constructed, it is not well suited for conversion to office or commercial uses."

Talk Set

Larkspur School District Supt. Milton S. Cohen will give an illustrated talk about a study trip he made this year through Germany and Russia at the San Clemente School auditorium next today at 8 p.m.

GIRL SETS A RECORD OF SORTS

Meredith Durkee, 16, of 1495 Casa Buena Drive, Apt. 605, Corte Madera, wanted to play some records last night, but first had to replace the needle in the phonograph. The machine may never be the same.

Miss Durkee dropped the needle into the phonograph, fished blindly for it, and caught her finger in some unseen crevice.

There the finger stayed until Corte Madera police officer Fred Talmadge, summoned by her sister Barbara, arrived and, with surgical precision, dismanteled the infernal machine, found the finger and freed it.

its equipment in to widen the street to four lanes and repave it.

The audience groaned at hearing the scope of the work. Lygren added he could not insure that Ghilotti would start work immediately, because approval is first needed from the county and state, which are sharing the cost.

Hopefully, he said, Kirkwood-Bly will contract with Ghilotti to fix up the street, so that project can all be handled at one time with the city's street widening job.

Gerritt Orton, 44 Echo Avenue, said he would rather see the major cracks and chuckholes fixed immediately, even though the question of liability would be clouded.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said taxpayers might be stuck with a bill of as much as $30,000 which should be paid by Kirkwood-Bly.

Those same taxpayers who live east of the highway are going to be stuck with $12 wheel it should even out, Orton asserted.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton said he had driven the street both ways at the evening commute hour and did not feel the condition was quite that serious.

Gabe M. Angel, head of the Paradise Shopping Center Merchants Assn., asked for signs pointing out temporary driveways to the shopping area, saying people cannot find them in a maze of barracades.

Colthurst said there would be no signs in the public right of way.

"We're entering our busiest season right now, we hope," said Angel. He noted Gregory's Restaurant had placed a sign near the street, apparently illegally. Councilmen did not ask to have it removed.

Someone Likes To Steal Wigs

Marin's wig thief has struck again.

Last week, 11 to 15 wigs were stolen from a wig shop in Novato.

At 9:35 a.m. yesterday, manager Jean Weill of the H. Liebes Beauty Salon, 300 Northgate Shopping Center, told police someone had stolen six wigs worth a total of $1,525, sometime before Saturday afternoon.

The wigs varied in shade from strawberry blonde to dark brown, she said.

Fairfax Trustees

Fairfax School District Board will discuss non-academic chores done by district school teachers at a meeting today at 7:45 p.m. at Manor School. Also slated for discussion are the student exchange program and school attendance.

Further arraignment proceedings in the case of two San Quentin prisoners charged with murdering San Rafael bartender Mario Ferrari were continued in Marin Superior Court today, pending arguments on motions to set aside their indictment.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner scheduled hearing of the arguments for defendants Marc C. Osuna, 30, and Jack R. Gorman, 36, for 10 a.m. Nov. 16. The motions, made by attorney Thomas P. Boyd representing Osuna, and Jerome Durham, public defender representing Gorman, allege the two were indicted without reasonable or probable cause.

Two Pistols Stolen

Kenneth Delbert Ausman, 43, of 1445 Donna Street, Novato, yesterday reported to Novato police that two Colt pistols, valued at $62, were stolen from his home.

5,000 gift packages and 25,000 newspapers over a 90-mile stretch along the North Vietnamese coast south of the city of Vinh. The packages contained cloth, plastics, needles, thread, notebooks, towels and undershirts.

It was the largest such drop of household goods so far and was made in connection with the observance yesterday of South Viet Nam's national holiday, the second anniversary of the overthrow and assassination of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

U.S. and Vietnamese planes kept targets in all four military areas of South Viet Nam under attack almost around the clock.

U.S. B-52s from Guam bombed a Viet Cong stronghold in the Boi Loi forest 35 miles northwest of Saigon.

Results of the raid were not reported.

The two bond issues included one to provide $33.67 million for the San Francisco Hospital and another to give $29 million to restore the San Francisco Opera House and build up other cultural centers of the city. A 63 per cent turnout was forecast by Registrar Charles A. Rogers.

Marina Developer Challenges Lease

The City of Mill Valley's right to grant a private developer a six-month option to lease the city's small craft yacht harbor was questioned last night by an attorney representing the developer of an adjacent marina.

Clark W. Maser, representing Bothin Real Estate Co., which has begun dredging on its marina development, told the city council its procedure "does not provide any public competition, any public bidding."

"This is for the people of Mill Valley to decide," he declared.

Maser suggested seeking an opinion from the state attorney general to see if there should be a review by the State Small Craft Harbor Commission.

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said "we are not required to go to competitive bidding." Jordan said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer has checked this with the harbor commission and no review is required. He said that if and when a lease is entered into, the state loan is immediately paid in full.

Mayor Michael Wornum remarked: "This has been public knowledge. If anyone else wanted to lease it, they could have spoken up."

Wornum asked if the council wanted to act on the option, saying "time is of the urgency." However, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks asked to continue the subject to Nov. 15 to give him time to study the new proposed agreement.

The council went over portions of the agreement with Paul B. Fischer, Corona del Mar developer, and it was agreed the lease term would be not less than 30 nor more than 55 years.

The council did not agree with a proposal that the city pay 90 per cent of engineering and feasibility studies estimated at $18,500.

The council adopted "in principle" a plan whereby entrance to the proposed William S. Allen subdivision would be from both West Blithedale Avenue and Manzanita Place. After hearing arguments for and against the access from West Blithedale residents.

Councilman Albert E. White reported that contract are being drawn following negotiations between builder George C. Goheen, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to put utilities underground in Scott Highlands Units 2 and 2A.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Approved engineering plans and authorized call for bids to overlay East Blithedale Avenue from Park School to Camino Alto.

2. Agreed to request $7,700 from the County Flood Control District No. 3 to clean out Mill Valley creeks, with additional money to be requested for Warner Creek.

3. Voted 4-0, Councilman Sheeks abstaining, to inform the county board of supervisors and planning department that it backs the Mill Valley Planning Commission's proposals for the proposed planned development on the Dias Ranch and finds proposed density at 3.5 units per acre too high.

4. Adopted a resolution initiating proceedings to get four "hold-out" parties on East Blithedale Avenue to install sidewalks.

5. Heard a letter from Harvey Muntzel praising the city for reducing its tax rate.

6. Adjourned in memory of Mrs. Gladys Balmer, mother of City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer. Mrs. Balmer died last Friday. Balmer was absent last night.

Students Hope For Pen Pal Plan

A list of 110 students interested in corresponding has been obtained by Fernando Silva, Tamalpais foreign language teacher, from Liceo de Ninas, a girls' high school in Vina.

The hope of the Sausalito People-To-People Program, according to Tamalpais High School reporter Pam Kroner, is to start an exchange student program with Vina.

Peter L. Goldstein, 31-year-old publicist injured in a freak accident Oct. 19 on the Waldo Grade, was reported in poor condition at Marin General Hospital today. Hospital officials said Goldstein, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, is now conscious most of the time.

Janitor, 24, Indicted In Girl's Death

The San Francisco County Grand Jury last night indicted a 24-year-old janitor for the alleged murder of his teen-age girl friend, whose body was found in Muir Woods last April.

Virgilio Restauro, arrested after a six-month search, was indicted in the slaying of Nonita Vicera, 16, of Daly City. He insists her death was an accident.

The high school student's body had several stab wounds. Police said she apparently was slain in a parking garage and then driven to Marin County.

Miss Vicera's body was found on the afternoon of April 19, on a slope below Muir Woods Road, by two employees of the Marin County Public Works Department. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said she died of at least six stab wounds in the head and a skull fracture.

An alarm was at once put out for Restauro. Later, a pool of blood was found in a San Francisco garage where he had parked his white Thunderbird. Investigators believe the girl was killed in the car and her body hauled to Muir Woods.

Mill Valley Garbage Cost, Service Argued

Differences over rates and service supplied by the Mill Valley Refuse Co. were argued before the city council last night, with action being postponed until the return of City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, who was absent because of the death of his mother last Friday.

Councilman Albert E. White charged there is a difference in the garbage regulations in city ordinance, which allows the franchise, and the "small print on the back of garbage bills."

White said, too, the rates, specially for commercial users, are unclear. He said the company has tried to negotiate with the city council rather than with the city manager. He suggested three months be given for negotiations and, if not concluded then, the franchise be cancelled and opened to bid.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for the refuse service, denied the compay had refused to negotiate with Balmer.

He said the company has not had a rate increase for almost nine years and is losing money in Mill Valley. He said amounts charged for businesses have in cases increased following company route checks where a business had not been paying the full rate for the amount of garbage being removed. Bianchi said the company partners are willing to terminate the contract at midnight but would like to continue negotiations.

Mayor Michael Wornum commented that "perhaps public relations could be better." The city has no intention of rescinding the contract at this point and does not wish to go into the garbage business, he said. He suggested "letting the flames cool" and wait for Balmer's return.

Fifty persons were in the audience and applauded at one point when a garbage company employee reported there have been but 22 complaints about service.

Police Probe Pellet Gun Shooting

Thomas S. Chandler of 15 Maywood Way was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Police said Thomas and two 14-year-old friends were crossing a vacant lot next to 60 Ridgewood Drive, shooting firecrackers to celebrate Halloween.

The boys told officers that someone approached them from behind, shined a flashlight on young Chandler and fired a pellet gun at him, striking him in the hand.

East German Guard Uses Escape Trick

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP)—An East German checkpoint guard fled to the West after removing the bolt of his comrade's automatic pistol, West German border officials reported today.

The two soldiers were manning an observation tower on the autobahn checkpoint Helmstedt-Marienborn when the one fled. He managed to disarm his colleague's gun unnoticed and covered his escape with a volley of shots from his own pistol.

Tiburon Sanitary Post Filled By Directors

The Tiburon Sanitary District Board last night named Francis J. Ryan to fill the board vacancy created by resignation of John Eichorn.

Ryan, of 1803 Lagoon View Drive, is also a member of the Tiburon Fire District Commission.

The board elected Angelo Mirata as president and James Murray as secretary.

A letter to the City of Tiburon was authorized protesting delay in forming a Tiburon Boulevcard flood control district.

Murray said the sanitary district has spent $1,700 on engineering studies for the flood district and is seeking repayment from the city.

Sometimes people forget it's a station wagon.

Two truck-like doors in its side leave a gaping 4' by 4' hole.

Also, its roof is quite a bit higher than the average wagon roof.

And 2 of the VW's 3 bench seats come out completely.

On top of all that, there's a sliding sunroof. (Even if something is too big to fit in, it can stick out.)

That's why, when you've just bought a rolltop desk, or a piano, or a hutch, you might forget it's a station wagon. We don't mind.

Supervisors Spat Over Bridge Deck Opinions

Sparks flew between county supervisors Thomas T. Storer and Ernest N. Kettenhofen at the Civic Center today over the proposal for a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The exchange was triggered when Kettenhofen said he did not think it proper for a board member to speak on an issue before public bodies after it has been defeated twice by the board.

He obviously referred to Storer's actions after the 3-2 approval by the board last week of a second deck, in which Supervisor Peter H. Behr and Storer were in the minority. Storer since spoke to the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen on the second deck and wrote a letter to the directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District opposing it.

"It will be a sad day when an elected official is gagged," Storer retorted.

He further declared he did not want to see his views or anyone else's censored, and referred to constitutional right to free speech and free press.

Kettenhofen said he did not intend criticism of Storer's specific actions, "however, the shoe must be hurting, because you're certainly squealing about it."

Kettenhofen further criticized Storer for sending the bridge board letter on Marin County stationery with no mention that his view was the minority view.

"At least you got a copy of my letter," Storer answered referring to the fact that Storer did not see a copy of Kettenhofen's telegram of rebutal to the bridge board.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Behr tried to cool the dispute, but Kettenhofen declared that he thought interpretation of his criticism as an argument against free speech was "poor taste."

Board Goes Slow On Plea For Civic Center Museum

Association President Nancy Hayden told the board that a donor willing to give a substantial sum for a museum is getting impatient. She said space has to be assured before the donor will contribute.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said that when Mrs. Hayden called him yesterday, a lease was not mentioned, only that the board agree to provide space at the center. He said also he had received calls from other association members saying that there was not so much urgency as Mrs. Hayden suggested.

Mrs. Hayden, backed by five other directors of the association, insisted that action was needed.

At the end of the discussion, supervisors agreed to take the matter up again next week. No specific site for a museum has been designated.

Neighbor's Find Is Clue To Burglary

When Ellsworth Miller of 37 Sonora Way, Corte Madera, took out the garbage Friday, he found a pillow slip filled with what appeared to be trash on top of his garbage can.

On checking the contents, he found a check book and other items bearing another man's name. He called police and thereby may have provided a break in a burglary case police have been investigating nearly a month.

The items in the pillow slip belong to Ronald A. Hoag of 3 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera. Burglars took $1,817 in cameras, jewelry and money from his home the night of Oct. 9, including the items found by Miller.

Police assumed the burglary was the work of an adult, but with Miller's discovery they have begun questioning boys with a record of burglaries who live in the Marin Estates area of Corte Madera.

that McGriff covered them from one of the cars with a weapon that looked like a tommy gun as the cross was set up and ignited.

Blackwell said he also found records indicating one of the Klansmen as an organizer for the KKK.

Nacirema's charter from the state of Georgia was placed in the record. It stated as the purpose of the organization "to instill patriotism and re-activate liberty and justice for the body politic." Its address was given as a post office box in Mableton, Ga.

Nacirema's original incorporators were Clyde J. Newborn, Tom Gentry and R. H. Wynn.

Police reports on the disorderly house, also placed in the record, described a series of drunken weekend parties, with men and women staggering out to relieve themselves in the front yard in public.

On March 16, 1963, De Kalb County police stepped in and arrested five men at the house at 2666 Kelly Lake Drive outside Atlanta. They were John Brock, William Crowe, William Anderson, Robert Day and Billy F. Wilson. The charges against Brock and Wilson were later dropped. The disposition of the other cases could not be learned. Brock, Crowe and Anderson were called as witnesses yesterday and identified as Klan officers. All refused to answer questions.

Halloween Mischief Still On

San Rafael police were still plagued yesterday with the last mischief of the Halloween weekend.

At 8 a.m. yesterday, Maurice Antoine of 208 Fairhills Drive complained that someone had thrown eggs at the front of his house.

Donald DeLong of DeLong Chevrolet, 550 Francisco Boulevard, reported at 12:30 p.m. yesterday that someone had smashed a two-by-three foot window in the firm's parts building.

At 10:50 p.m., two 16-year-old San Rafael boys, James C. Rogers of 830 Rincon Way and Harry A. Litteral of 5 Ross Street, were walking along downtown Fourth Street when they heard a crash.

The two said they then saw two youths about their age running south on Lootens Place, leaving behind a broken window, about two by seven feet, in the front door of Gallen-Kamp's Shoe Store, 891 Fourth Street.

ROB

been charged with the Labor Day murder of a San Rafael bartender, and Harold Frank Percell, 24, both are charged with an Aug. 30 holdup at the liquor store.

In the other robbery, police said, Hoek reported that he was driving west on Fourth Street and made a left turn to A Street when two men on the sidewalk yelled at him to pull over.

When he did so, one of the men said, "Give me your money or we'll blow your brains out."

Hoek said the second man, who did not speak, had his right hand in his pocket as though holding a weapon, but no gun was visible.

Doing as he was ordered, Hoek pulled out his wallet and handed over the $64 which was inside. Then the first man ordered him to "give me your watch and that ring."

Hoek again did as he was told.

Next, the man ordered Hoek to get out of his car and start walking. He told officers he heard the men run from the area as he walked south on A Street. He walked five blocks to a service station at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue, where he called police from a pay telephone.

Police said Hoek was unable to give complete discriptions of the men, but said both wore dark clothing while the first had on a wool sweater. One man was about 5 feet 5 inches, the other 5 feet 2, and the one who spoke had a Mexican accent.

Hoek told officers he was staying at the Wilkins Hotel while in San Rafael on business.

It varies from an elevation of 26 feet above sea level at Fifth Avenue and A Street to 17 feet at Fourth and Court streets.

Approximately 30 per cent of the land area is now covered by the courthouse and its annex. The same amount of land would be covered by the three buildings proposed.

However, about 40 per cent of the land is now used for parking. With this underground, there would be a much more extensive park area under Coleman's plan than now exists.

In his proposal, and in the zoning amendment creating the new zone, Coleman divided the square into two parcels, at the north edge of the extension of Julia Street. Height limit on the parcel nearest Fourth Street would be 30 feet, but on the rear parcel, a 10-story building would be allowed.

"Although the amendment is intended to be specific in those areas where specifics are necessary," he wrote, "it has been prepared so as to allow considerable latitude in design since the ultimate plan for the site should reflect the most imaginative of ideas."

With only 30 per cent of the land area covered by buildings, the two two-story and one 10-story structure could have total floor area of 156,356 square feet —equal to a two-story building over the entire site, he noted.

Although he did not rule out keeping the old courthouse, Coleman observed that "although well constructed, it is not well suited for conversion to office or commercial uses."

Further arraignment proceedings in the case of two San Quentin prisoners charged with murdering San Rafael bartender Mario Ferrari were continued in Marin Superior Court today, pending arguments on motions to set aside their indictment.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner scheduled hearing of the arguments for defendants Marc C. Osuna, 30, and Jack R. Gorman, 36, for 10 a.m. Nov. 16. The motions, made by attorney Thomas P. Boyd representing Osuna, and Jerome Durham, public defender representing Gorman, allege the two were indicted without reasonable or probable cause.

GIRL SETS A RECORD OF SORTS

Meredith Durkee, 16, of 1495 Casa Buena Drive, Apt. 605, Corte Madera, wanted to play some records last night, but first had to replace the needle in the phonograph. The machine may never be the same.

Miss Durkee dropped the needle into the phonograph, fished blindly for it, and caught her finger in some unseen crevice.

There the finger stayed until Corte Madera police officer Fred Talmadge, summoned by her sister Barbara, arrived and, with surgical precision, dismanteled the infernal machine, found the finger and freed it.

its equipment in to widen the street to four lanes and repave it.

The audience groaned at hearing the scope of the work. Lygren added he could not insure that Ghilotti would start work immediately, because approval is first needed from the county and state, which are sharing the cost.

Hopefully, he said, Kirkwood-Bly will contract with Ghilotti to fix up the street, so that project can all be handled at one time with the city's street widening job.

Gerritt Orton, 44 Echo Avenue, said he would rather see the major cracks and chuckholes fixed immediately, even though the question of liability would be clouded.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said taxpayers might be stuck with a bill of as much as $30,000 which should be paid by Kirkwood-Bly.

Those same taxpayers who live east of the highway are going to be stuck with $12 wheel it should even out, Orton asserted.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton said he had driven the street both ways at the evening commute hour and did not feel the condition was quite that serious.

Gabe M. Angel, head of the Paradise Shopping Center Merchants Assn., asked for signs pointing out temporary driveways to the shopping area, saying people cannot find them in a maze of barracades.

Colthurst said there would be no signs in the public right of way.

"We're entering our busiest season right now, we hope," said Angel. He noted Gregory's Restaurant had placed a sign near the street, apparently illegally. Councilmen did not ask to have it removed.

Someone Likes To Steal Wigs

Marin's wig thief has struck again.

Last week, 11 to 15 wigs were stolen from a wig shop in Novato.

At 9:35 a.m. yesterday, manager Jean Weill of the H. Liebes Beauty Salon, 300 Northgate Shopping Center, told police someone had stolen six wigs worth a total of $1,525, sometime before Saturday afternoon.

The wigs varied in shade from strawberry blonde to dark brown, she said.

Education Board Seeks Written Communications On Controversy

By FRANK FARRARA

If you have anything controversial to bring up before the Marin County Board of Education, you'll have to do it in writing.

The board adopted a controversial issues policy last night that requires anyone concerned about an issue to submit a written statement.

Purpose "is to insure that adequate consideration is given to issues that concern the operation and program of the county board of education and the county superintendent of schools that may be considered controversial," the board reported.

Statements on controversial issues will be submitted to Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, then "a report of the written statement and a review of the concern" will be reported to the board.

Then the board and Hollis will select a "responsible committee" to review the issue.

Then the committee will prepare a report, including its recommendations, to Hollis. He will submit the committee report and his recommendations to the board.

Before voting for the policy, board member Mrs. Adele J. Alpers said, "I want to see how it is implemented, and the procedure for implementation."

The policy was adopted by 6-0 vote with board member Arnold T. Dolcini Jr. absent.

The board also adopted a policy on selection of supplementary textbooks whereby a supplementary textbook selection committee evaluates the books and reports to Hollis, who makes recommendations to the board. Then the board adopts the supplementary textbooks.

The board also had first reading of a proposed policy for negotiating with employees of the county schools office under provisions of the recently passed Winton Act. There would be a nine-member negotiating council of teachers if more than one teacher organization seeks to join.

The Marin County Board Of Education Also:

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Approved hiring one to four teachers, depending upon how many are available, to supply home instruction to educationally handicapped children in the Sausalito and Bolinas-Stinson school districts.
2. Hired Harry E. Viar as a teacher at Loma Alta School to replace Thomas Stoddard who resigned, at $6,143 per year.
3. Hired David Maness as a programmer at the data processing program, at $619 per month, to succeed Ernest Stokes who resigned to accept a comparable job with the College of Marin.
4. Approved hiring the following as consultants: Dr. Richard Suchman for series of workshops; Howard Slatoff, California State College at Hayward, for Saturday art workshop, Dec. 4; Mary Hanf, consultant from the Elementary Science Institute, for demonstrations of science instruction, and Edgar A. Doll, consultant in special education, to assist in planning new plant for trainable mentally retarded at Magnolia Park School and in planning occupational training program. Hollis said pay would "run around $40 for a half day and $60 to $75 for a full day."
5. Accepted the resignation of Judith Parks, secretary for the staff and field psychologists
6. Acknowledged a $75 gift to Marindale School by Mrs. Frank Howard Allen and a $156 contribution to Lokoya School by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.
7. Changed the date for board committee meetings from the third Monday to the fourth Monday for November only.

Tam Trustees Set Up Class For Dropouts

The classes, mandatory under a new state law, will be held between 1 and 5 p.m. daily at Redwood High School. The board was told the district had a dropout rate of only 1 per cent last year.

District home teacher George Wharton was hired to teach the continuation classes at an hourly rate of $6.50.

The board referred to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle a letter from Mrs. Nathalie Hawley of Mill Valley urging hiring of a community relations expert to work with minority groups.

A resolution asking state legislators to seek means of easing the school tax load on local taxpayers was voted. The resolution protests mandatory school programs created by the legislature without including funds to carry them out.

Mrs. Iris Myers, Tamalpais High School Spanish teacher, was granted a maternity leave for the spring semester.

Bring CHP Warning

Motorcycle windshields that are clear above the handlebars but tinted red below are illegal, California Highway Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow has noted from the Corte Madera office. He said an increasing number of such windshields have been seen in the county.

He added that state law requires that motorcycles have headlights with high and low beams.

Lagoons Cause Headaches To Corte Madera Officials

When the two flood control lagoons in Corte Madera are emptied, the houses surrounding them start to sink and sewers break.

When they are full, there is danger a rain will cause flooding.

Corte Madera Public Works Director Arthur N. Morrison explained the problem to the town council last night, saying the town is now checking weather forecasts twice a day to be prepared.

The council unanimously voted a new flexible policy to keep the lagoons half full from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15. Until now, the policy has been to empty the lagoons on Oct. 15, expecting the first rains.

Morrison warned the new policy may mean flooding if there is a particularly heavy rain and high tide at the same time. He said it is less dangerous in October than it might be later.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher asked for the new policy, saying emptying the lagoons when there is no rain causes unsightliness, odor and weeds.

School Boards Set Joint Meet

San Rafael Board of Education and Dixie School District board will meet jointly Thursday at 8 p.m. in Miller Creek School library to decide whether to be governed by San Rafael city charter or by general law if voters say "yes" to unification of San Rafael and Dixie districts next June.

This is one of a series of meetings called to deal with questions arising from the proposed unification.

San Rafael city charter limits the board of education to five members, but the state education code provides at least two ways of overcoming this to provide a seven-member board. Some of the board members of the two districts feel a larger board would provide better geographical representation.

Marina Developer Challenges Lease

The City of Mill Valley's right to grant a private developer a six-month option to lease the city's small craft yacht harbor was questioned last night by an attorney representing the developer of an adjacent marina.

Clark W. Maser, representing Bothin Real Estate Co., which has begun dredging on its marina development, told the city council its procedure "does not provide any public competition, any public bidding."

"This is for the people of Mill Valley to decide," he declared.

Maser suggested seeking an opinion from the state attorney general to see if there should be a review by the State Small Craft Harbor Commission.

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said "we are not required to go to competitive bidding." Jordan said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer has checked this with the harbor commission and no review is required. He said that if and when a lease is entered into, the state loan is immediately paid in full.

Mayor Michael Wornum remarked: "This has been public knowledge. If anyone else wanted to lease it, they could have spoken up."

Wornum asked if the council wanted to act on the option, saying "time is of the urgency." However, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks asked to continue the subject to Nov. 15 to give him time to study the new proposed agreement.

The council went over portions of the agreement with Paul B. Fischer, Corona del Mar developer, and it was agreed the lease term would be not less than 30 nor more than 55 years.

The council did not agree with a proposal that the city pay 90 per cent of engineering and feasibility studies estimated at $18,500.

The council adopted "in principle" a plan whereby entrance to the proposed William S. Allen subdivision would be from both West Blithedale Avenue and Manzanita Place. After hearing arguments for and against the access from West Blithedale residents.

Councilman Albert E. White reported that contract are being drawn following negotiations between builder George C. Goheen, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to put utilities underground in Scott Highlands Units 2 and 2A.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Approved engineering plans and authorized call for bids to overlay East Blithedale Avenue from Park School to Camino Alto.

2. Agreed to request $7,700 from the County Flood Control District No. 3 to clean out Mill Valley creeks, with additional money to be requested for Warner Creek.

3. Voted 4-0, Councilman Sheeks abstaining, to inform the county board of supervisors and planning department that it backs the Mill Valley Planning Commission's proposals for the proposed planned development on the Dias Ranch and finds proposed density at 3.5 units per acre too high.

4. Adopted a resolution initiating proceedings to get four "hold-out" parties on East Blithedale Avenue to install sidewalks.

5. Heard a letter from Harvey Muntzel praising the city for reducing its tax rate.

6. Adjourned in memory of Mrs. Gladys Balmer, mother of City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer. Mrs. Balmer died last Friday. Balmer was absent last night.

A list of 110 students interested in corresponding has been obtained by Fernando Silva, Tamalpais foreign language teacher, from Liceo de Ninas, a girls' high school in Vina.

The hope of the Sausalito People-To-People Program, according to Tamalpais High School reporter Pam Kroner, is to start an exchange student program with Vina.

Janitor, 24, Indicted In Girl's Death

The San Francisco County Grand Jury last night indicted a 24-year-old janitor for the alleged murder of his teen-age girl friend, whose body was found in Muir Woods last April.

Virgilio Restauro, arrested after a six-month search, was indicted in the slaying of Nonita Vicera, 16, of Daly City. He insists her death was an accident.

The high school student's body had several stab wounds. Police said she apparently was slain in a parking garage and then driven to Marin County.

Miss Vicera's body was found on the afternoon of April 19, on a slope below Muir Woods Road, by two employees of the Marin County Public Works Department. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said she died of at least six stab wounds in the head and a skull fracture.

An alarm was at once put out for Restauro. Later, a pool of blood was found in a San Francisco garage where he had parked his white Thunderbird. Investigators believe the girl was killed in the car and her body hauled to Muir Woods.

Mill Valley Garbage Cost, Service Argued

Differences over rates and service supplied by the Mill Valley Refuse Co. were argued before the city council last night, with action being postponed until the return of City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, who was absent because of the death of his mother last Friday.

Councilman Albert E. White charged there is a difference in the garbage regulations in city ordinance, which allows the franchise, and the "small print on the back of garbage bills."

White said, too, the rates, specially for commercial users, are unclear. He said the company has tried to negotiate with the city council rather than with the city manager. He suggested three months be given for negotiations and, if not concluded then, the franchise be cancelled and opened to bid.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for the refuse service, denied the compay had refused to negotiate with Balmer.

He said the company has not had a rate increase for almost nine years and is losing money in Mill Valley. He said amounts charged for businesses have in cases increased following company route checks where a business had not been paying the full rate for the amount of garbage being removed. Bianchi said the company partners are willing to terminate the contract at midnight but would like to continue negotiations.

Mayor Michael Wornum commented that "perhaps public relations could be better." The city has no intention of rescinding the contract at this point and does not wish to go into the garbage business, he said. He suggested "letting the flames cool" and wait for Balmer's return.

Fifty persons were in the audience and applauded at one point when a garbage company employee reported there have been but 22 complaints about service.

Police said Thomas and two 14-year-old friends were crossing a vacant lot next to 60 Ridgewood Drive, shooting firecrackers to celebrate Halloween.

Two truck-like doors in its side leave a gaping 4' by 4' hole.

Also, its roof is quite a bit higher than the average wagon roof.

And 2 of the VW's 3 bench seats come out completely.

On top of all that, there's a sliding sunroof. (Even if something is too big to fit in, it can stick out.)

That's why, when you've just bought a rolltop desk, or a piano, or a hutch, you might forget it's a station wagon. We don't mind.

Belvedere Stays Out Of Dispute

The Belvedere City Council last night, after hearing an opinion from the city attorney, decided it had no business entering into a dispute over a strip of land between Golden Gate and Bella Vista avenues.

City Atty. William H. MacKay said a title search found the city had no interest in the property and the dispute should be settled between the two parties.

Hahn complained that Leland was taking out shrubs and trees to make an entrance to the rear of his home. "All he wants is a garbage entrance to his back door," Hahn declared.

Leland's attorney, Wallace S. Myers, answered that it made no difference why the entrance was sought. "If he owns part of the property he has the right to use it."

"No matter where our sympathies are," said Mayor Merritt K. Ruddock, "the city has no business in this matter.

Citiy Mgr. William L. Cavalli was authorized to advertise for bids on resurfacing part of Beach Road. The portion will include the west side of Beach Road from Cove Road to San Rafael Avenue and both sides of Beach from San Rafael to Bay View Avenue. The work, to be paid for out of gasoline tax funds, is estimated to cost $44,000.

A request by Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Billstein to build a fence on 75 feet of city property adjacent to their home at 301 San Rafael Avenue was denied.

Cavalli was authorized to draft an ordinance requiring anyone seeking a bay fill permit to file a request with the city. The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission has the power to grant fill permits, but council felt the local ordinance would be a means of keeping an eye on fill proposals.

Five Arrested In New Fracas At Newspaper

Five persons arrested each other early today in Sausalito following a "pushing and shoving" fracas outside the struck publishing plant of the Marin Guide. All were citizens' arrests.

Publisher Harry H. Johnson himself was arrested by picket Allan G. Tuttle and charged with assault and battery.

Johnson, in turn, arrested Tuttle and pickets Dennis Crowley and Peter Stickney, charging Stickney with trespassing and Tuttle with assault and battery and trespassing.

OUT ON BAIL

All five made bail, Stickney of $110 and the rest of $276 each. All are to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Lt. Ted Zink of Sausalito police reported Johnson called police at 12:20 a.m. saying people were "trespassing outside his plant at 42 Caledonia street. There was apparently some pushing and shoving but no signs of violence, said Zink.

EARLIER STRIFE

The action was a continuation of labor troubles which broke out last Wednesday when a flare-type grenade was tossed among a group of teen-agers folding weekly newspapers at Johnson's Tamalpais Valley office at 200 Shoreline Highway.

Three cars, used by the newspaper man, were reportedly tampered with then. Fisticuffs occurred between pickets and newspaper employees.

Johnson arrested Douglas Ajdee Smith, 45, president of San Francisco-Oakland Mailers Union 18, on a citizens' arrest and later signed a complaint charging trespassing. The mailers and Typographical Union 21 of San Francisco, have picketed the Sausalito plant since Oct. 25. Johnson has said the unions are asking him to employ too many men to do his work.

San Anselmo Library Board Hears Complaint

The San Anselmo library board last night met with critics of the city library in what librarian Virginia Stewart described as "a calm and quiet meeting."

Mrs. Andre Moreau of 18 Brenfleck Avenue, who last month wrote the city council criticizing the library, attended the meeting.

According to Mrs. Stewart, she repeated her complaints that the city should belong to the county library system and the library should not require a resident to be sponsored by another property owner before taking out library books.

The board, according to Mrs. Stewart, made no comment on Mrs. Moreau's criticisms.

Also attending the meeting was Emmett Dedeyn of 30 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, a past critics of the library. He asked only that the library annual report be made available to library patrons, Mrs. Stewart said.

County librarian Virginia Keating appeared before the board to explain the benefits of joining the county library system. Mrs. Stewart said she was invited by the board before Mrs. Moreau's letter was received.

All cities in Marin except San Anselmo have an arrangement with the county library whereby city residents may purchase a county library card for $5.

San Rafael joined the system Sept. 1, on a one-year trial basis. Mrs. Stewart said board members want to see how the system is working for San Rafael before joining.

Hub Bicycle Stolen, Returned Stripped

The bike, valued at $60, was found on the street in front of the home the next morning, stripped of all but its rear wheel and frame.

Appointee Abuses Hit By Bagley

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, warned against potential abuses stemming from politically appointed inheritance tax appraisers, in a talk in San Mateo last night.

He spoke at a joint meeting of the Burlingame, Hillsborough and San Mateo chapters of the California Republican League.

"There is no question that the 150 odd appraisers contribute large sums of money to the state controller who appoints them," said Bagley.

Novato Gets Park Land Price Offer

The City of Novato has been offered 33 acres, part of Canyon Lake park shown in its master plan, for $207,000, the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission learned last night.

The commission also referred back to Edward W. Adams, director, plans for the development of the Lions Club park below Stafford Lake, and a request by the Novato Senior Citizens for help in organizing programs.

County Revamps Sick Leave Pay

Marin County supervisors today agreed to abandon the policy of paying county employees for staying well.

Under the policy, an employee accumulating over 60 days of unused sick leave would be paid one-fourth of his salary for each day in excess.

The board today agreed to extend the maximum on possible accumulated sick leave to 90 days, but discontinue the one-fourth pay.

The program will be closed out at the end of this month with any payments due made then.

Red Hill Complaints Fail, Car Wash Permit Renewed

San Anselmo planning commissioners last night renewed the use permit for a coin-operated car wash at 508 Red Hill Avenue, after unanimously voting to restrict its hours of operation to from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The car wash, owned by Western Associates, has been operating 24 hours a day near the hub intersection.

Car wash operator John T. Wolfe opposed the restriction of business hours, saying that about 10 per cent of his business is done between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Herman Weinger, who owns an apartment house at 600 Redhill Avenue, and some of his tenants appeared and complained of late evening noise from the car wash.

In other action, commissioner Warren Perry was assigned the task of drawing a preliminary plan for the city's proposed downtown center.

Perry said he hoped to have a rough plan for restricting the size of the downtown center and a new location for a street to replace San Anselmo Avenue as a main thoroughfare by the commission's next meeting.

Novato School Board Appoints Schneeflock

William G. Schneeflock, 4-H Club specialist for the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, was appointed to the Novato Unified School District Board last night.

Schneeflock will replace William H. Kirk, who resigned because of ill health, to fill out a term expiring June 30, 1969. He served on the Novato board before the merger with San Jose School District, and missed election to the board of the new unified district by only 43 votes. He lives at 670 Arthur Avenue.

His appointment was unanimous by the four board members present at last night's meeting. Mrs. Leonora Dougherty was absent.

WILLIAM G. SCHNEEFLOCK
Back on board

The Novato board approved starting a continuation school for high school dropouts, required by a new state law. Paul Mobley, assistant superintendent, was directed to work out details for its operation.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

1. Accepted classrooms and multipurpose room at Loma Verde School, the Pleasant Valley School, and the San Jose Junior High multipurpose room.

2. Approved a schedule for redemption of bonds which will make the amount repayable approximately the same for the next 20 years. In the past this amount has varied from year to year, causing considerable fluctuation in the tax rate.

3. Learned that Novato will receive $82,000 in federal funds allotted on the basis of students whose family income is less than $2,000 or are on welfare. This money may be used for many projects, Mobley reported.

4. Received a request from the Marin County Federation of Teachers for recognition on a bargaining committee to setup as required under the Winton Act.

5. Adopted a policy on taking athletes to games in school buses.

6. Hired Mrs. Carolyn Barnato as a science teacher at Novtao High School, Mrs. Judy Talley as an assistant in the instructional material center, Mrs. Ruth Wicht as clerk-typist, and Everett Clark as a custodian at Marion School, replacing Perry Wood, who resigned.

7. Was informed by letter from Col. Ralph Wanderer, commander at Hamilton Air Force Base, that the base cannot furnish buses for transportation of students to public schools.

Owner Says Boat Missing

Audrey Mae Wisner of 400 Canal Street, Apt. 123, San Rafael, last night reported the disappearance of a 26-foot Chris Craft pleasure boat valued at $6,000 from the dock behind her apartment.

San Rafael police today were trying to find out whether the boat was stolen or moved as a Halloween prank. They were attempting to reach Mrs. Wisner's estranged husband, James R. Wisner of San Francisco, to learn whether he had knowledge of its whereabouts.

Mrs. Wisner said the craft was blue and white, with a single railing, had white canvas, blue drapes and blue deck chairs.

Two Drivers Injured South Of Novato

Albert M. Thibodeaux, 47, of Petaluma, and Nell N. Walters, 68, of Healdsburg, were injured in a two-car collision at 6:30 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 about 500 feet north of the Black Point Cutoff, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the northbound Thibodeaux swerved and was hit broadside by Mrs. Walters' car. Mrs. Walters suffered a cut lip and neck sprain. Thibodeaux suffered a back sprain. Both were treated at Novato General Hospital.

Lagunitas Board

School building aid program regulations will be discussed today at 8 p.m. when the Lagunitas School District Board meets at Lagunitas School.

This is Water Pik

Most important development in home dental care in 50 years—to help you and every member of your family have beautiful teeth—firm, healthy gums.

Clean teeth, but?

After you've seen the dentist, you use a toothbrush twice a day. Despite that precaution, you're still likely to have gum trouble. In fact many children have it, almost half the teenagers and nearly every adult. That's why your whole family needs to know about Water Pik, the new home oral care invention. Here's why gum trouble is almost universal:

What Happens!

With every meal you eat, food particles lodge between teeth and in pockets along the gum line, where they cannot be reached by a toothbrush, manual or electric. This debris decays; often becomes contaminated. As the contamination spreads, gums may become irritated and sore. Often they begin to bleed, the fibres that hold the teeth in place degenerate. The teeth loosen and may have to be removed.

What Water Pik Does

Water Pik is a revolutionary new product. It provides a pulsating jet of water, under easily controlled pressure, that stimulates the gums and nudges out the food particles from between the teeth and along the gum line. This jet actually turns on and off 20 times a second and a quart of water is ejected into the mouth in about 90 seconds. Even after brushing your teeth you will see a surprising amount of debris that had remained there until Water Pik dislodged it and flushed it out. Even more important are the millions of harmful bacteria which it flushes from the hidden pockets between the teeth and gums.

Recommended by Thousands of Dentists

Water Pik has been demonstrated at dental conventions. It has been prescribed by thousands of dentists, all over the country, for daily use by their patients. In fact, most of the Water Piks (about 100,000) in use today were purchased by patients on their dentists' recommendation.

It is a great step forward toward keeping all your teeth in a healthy mouth as long as you live.

Low Cost

Water Pik is a fine scientific product. It is beautifully designed. It requires no faucet or plumbing connections. The price is $39.50, including 4 tips for use by all members of the family, and the cost of operation is almost nothing. You use tap water at a comfortable temperature.

At Leading Drug and Department Stores

Formerly Water Pik was sold only through dental supply dealers on prescriptions from dentists. Now it is also available at leading drug and department stores.

We have increased production as rapidly as possible. If you fail to find it at your favorite store, write to us direct for literature.

Water Pik®

AQUA TEC CORP., 730 SEVENTEENTH ST., DENVER, COLO. 80202

Reports from people who have used Water Pik for more than one year.

"Have enjoyed using Water Pik because it makes your mouth feel clean in addition to keeping gums healthy."

"Exhilarating and definitely effective in removing food between teeth. Gums no longer bleed with brushing. I recommended it to a friend and her dentist reports improvement of her gums after using Water Pik. She's had pyorrhea for years."

"Think it is great. Definite improvement in condition of gums. Firmer, never any bleeding. A joy to use and leaves marvelously refreshed feeling in mouth."

"Dentist introduced me to Water Pik in December 1963. From my first experience in using this unique device I have praised and preached its necessity in every home."

"Has prevented surgery. Children use it to clean under braces and to help prevent decay."

"Water Pik is the most pleasant and greatest aid I have found for oral hygiene. Recommended it to many friends who have purchased it from their dentists."

"Definite improvement in gum tissue. Now firm and color good. What a fresh happy mouth it gives."

"Teeth were sound but gums were soft. Dentist said 100% improvement and no cavities since using Water Pik."

"Particularly gratifying are compliments we receive from dentist on the condition of our gums."

"Gave four as Christmas presents. Water Pik made my gums firm up and stopped bleeding."

"Cannot say enough good things about Water Pik. Four of five children had braces, and brushing could not remove food particles. Husband likes it, makes his mouth feel clean and fresh. I had pyorrhea and regular use of Water Pik has kept the condition from recurring."

"Gums much healthier, nicer looking and no longer bleed. Son having orthodontal work done and Water Pik helps him keep his braces clean and free of food particles."

"Think so much of it, I'm buying another for second bathroom. Water Pik is the answer to clean mouth and healthy gums."

"Great device. Teeth and gums never in better condition. Dentist says since using Water Pik wife has perfect oral condition and it probably has saved me from full dentures."

"Water Pik should be used by everyone over 12 years of age. When I bought Water Pik, was in danger of losing several teeth because of a gum infection. They bled excessively and were very tender. Now teeth are tight, never bleed and are never sore."

"Like it very much. Brush teeth thoroughly with an electric toothbrush, but it's amazing what Water Pik proves I don't get. Gums were in terrible condition and have improved very much since using Water Pik."

We urge you to discuss these facts with your dentist and to follow his advice.
Good dental and mouth health is a precious thing.
Don't neglect it!

Education Board Seeks Written Communications On Controversy

By FRANK FARRARA

If you have anything controversial to bring up before the Marin County Board of Education, you'll have to do it in writing.

The board adopted a controversial issues policy last night that requires anyone concerned about an issue to submit a written statement.

Purpose "is to insure that adequate consideration is given to issues that concern the operation and program of the county board of education and the county superintendent of schools that may be considered controversial," the board reported.

Statements on controversial issues will be submitted to Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, then "a report of the written statement and a review of the concern" will be reported to the board.

Then the board and Hollis will select a "responsible committee" to review the issue.

Then the committee will prepare a report, including its recommendations, to Hollis. He will submit the committee report and his recommendations to the board.

Before voting for the policy, board member Mrs. Adele J. Alpers said, "I want to see how it is implemented, and the procedure for implementation."

The policy was adopted by 6-0 vote with board member Arnold T. Dolcini Jr. absent.

The board also adopted a policy on selection of supplementary textbooks whereby a supplementary textbook selection committee evaluates the books and reports to Hollis, who makes recommendations to the board. Then the board adopts the supplementary textbooks.

The board also had first reading of a proposed policy for negotiating with employees of the county schools office under provisions of the recently passed Winton Act. There would be a nine-member negotiating council of teachers if more than one teacher organization seeks to join.

The Marin County Board Of Education Also:

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Approved hiring one to four teachers, depending upon how many are available, to supply home instruction to educationally handicapped children in the Sausalito and Bolinas-Stinson school districts.
2. Hired Harry E. Viar as a teacher at Loma Alta School to replace Thomas Stoddard who resigned, at $6,143 per year.
3. Hired David Maness as a programmer at the data processing program, at $619 per month, to succeed Ernest Stokes who resigned to accept a comparable job with the College of Marin.
4. Approved hiring the following as consultants: Dr. Richard Suchman for series of workshops; Howard Slatoff, California State College at Hayward, for Saturday art workshop, Dec. 4; Mary Hanf, consultant from the Elementary Science Institute, for demonstrations of science instruction, and Edgar A. Doll, consultant in special education, to assist in planning new plant for trainable mentally retarded at Magnolia Park School and in planning occupational training program. Hollis said pay would "run around $40 for a half day and $60 to $75 for a full day."
5. Accepted the resignation of Judith Parks, secretary for the staff and field psychologists
6. Acknowledged a $75 gift to Marindale School by Mrs. Frank Howard Allen and a $156 contribution to Lokoya School by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.
7. Changed the date for board committee meetings from the third Monday to the fourth Monday for November only.

Five Girls Vie For Queen Title

Homecoming queen candidates were announced today at Tamalpais High School, the winner to be crowned at Saturday's "Big Game" with Redwood High School. The game starts at 1:30 p.m. at College of Marin.

Candidates, nominated by the Letterman Club, are Sue Bottles, Janey Clark, Susan Farrell, Fran Huffman and Patty Rohl. The student body will vote Friday for a queen.

The homecoming dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday in Ruby Scott Auditorium. It is sponsored by the Letterman and Pep clubs and the social committee.

Lecture Series Starts

Louise W. Cartwright, 25, of 67 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, today gave the first in a series of 21 weekly lectures scheduled during the school year on the campus of San Francisco State College. He is a senior, majoring in psychology.

Tam Trustees Set Up Class For Dropouts

The classes, mandatory under a new state law, will be held between 1 and 5 p.m. daily at Redwood High School. The board was told the district had a dropout rate of only 1 per cent last year.

District home teacher George Wharton was hired to teach the continuation classes at an hourly rate of $6.50.

The board referred to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle a letter from Mrs. Nathalie Hawley of Mill Valley urging hiring of a community relations expert to work with minority groups.

A resolution asking state legislators to seek means of easing the school tax load on local taxpayers was voted. The resolution protests mandatory school programs created by the legislature without including funds to carry them out.

Mrs. Iris Myers, Tamalpais High School Spanish teacher, was granted a maternity leave for the spring semester.

Bring CHP Warning

Motorcycle windshields that are clear above the handlebars but tinted red below are illegal, California Highway Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow has noted from the Corte Madera office. He said an increasing number of such windshields have been seen in the county.

He added that state law requires that motorcycles have headlights with high and low beams.

High, Low Mercury

NEW YORK (UPI)—The lowest temperature reported this morning to the U.S. Weather Bureau, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 10 degrees at Oneonta, N.Y. The highest reported yesterday was 95 at Gila Bend, Ariz.

Lagoons Cause Headaches To Corte Madera Officials

When the two flood control lagoons in Corte Madera are emptied, the houses surrounding them start to sink and sewers break.

When they are full, there is danger a rain will cause flooding.

Corte Madera Public Works Director Arthur N. Morrison explained the problem to the town council last night, saying the town is now checking weather forecasts twice a day to be prepared.

The council unanimously voted a new flexible policy to keep the lagoons half full from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15. Until now, the policy has been to empty the lagoons on Oct. 15, expecting the first rains.

Morrison warned the new policy may mean flooding if there is a particularly heavy rain and high tide at the same time. He said it is less dangerous in October than it might be later.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher asked for the new policy, saying emptying the lagoons when there is no rain causes unsightliness, odor and weeds.

School Boards Set Joint Meet

San Rafael Board of Education and Dixie School District board will meet jointly Thursday at 8 p.m. in Miller Creek School library to decide whether to be governed by San Rafael city charter or by general law if voters say "yes" to unification of San Rafael and Dixie districts next June.

This is one of a series of meetings called to deal with questions arising from the proposed unification.

San Rafael city charter limits the board of education to five members, but the state education code provides at least two ways of overcoming this to provide a seven-member board. Some of the board members of the two districts feel a larger board would provide better geographical representation.

Apartment House Plan Runs Into New Delays

Consideration of the 12-unit apartment proposed by Loyal Davis at 548 Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley, was continued again by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Manuel Gomez, owner of adjacent property, argued that those opposed to the apartment building did not get proper notice of yesterday's hearing.

Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill approved a variance for the development Friday. Gomez said he and his neighbors did not learn of this until yesterday morning and did not know it was ready to be heard before the commission again.

Planning commissioners, being asked to give architectural approval for the development, also wanted more time to consider Cordill's recommendation.

Attorney Julius M. Selinger, representing Davis, and attorney Richard A. Clarke, representing neighbors, also agreed to a continuance. The matter was put off until Nov. 15.

Davis's plans were interrupted several months ago when it was discovered that he did not own all the property originally listed.

Woman Booked In Car Theft

Belvedere police arrested Cindy G. MacKenzie, 20, of Coronado, on a charge of car theft Saturday night, only a few minutes after George H. Rehmet of San Francisco had reported his 1964 Ford sedan was stolen from Main Street in Tiburon.

Miss MacKenzie was driving Rehmet's car, Belvedere officers said. She was booked in county jail on charges of car theft and being drunk in an automobile, and later released on $1,100 bail.

Rehmet reported at the Tiburon sheriff's sub-station that he had left the keys in his car and it was stolen between 3:30 and 8 p.m.

Names In Births Were Transposed

In two birth notices published in the Independent-Journal Oct. 26, the names of the wives of Richard Reynolds and Martin Rohrs, both of San Rafael, were transposed in error.

Arlene Winding is the maiden name of the wife of Reynolds, and Ann Burkey, the wife of Rohrs. Daughters were born to both couples the second week in October.

SAN RAFAEL'S CLOCKS FORGET TIME CHANGE

The City of San Rafael has a hard time getting off daylight saving time.

The clock in the city hall entrance hall and that in the council chamber both said 9 o'clock when the council convened promptly at 8 p.m. yesterday.

And two young women appeared later in the meeting to complain that clocks at city tennis courts, set to turn off automatically at 10 p.m., had turned off instead at 9, interrupting their play.

The council told City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota to see that city hall and tennis court clocks were turned back to standard time today.

Vandals Paint York Cathedral

YORK, England (AP)—Vandals Saturday desecrated York Cathedral, spraying red paint on the lectern and archbishop's chair in an action similar to that yesterday at Canterbury Cathedral.

York Cathedral is in northern England and separated by about 200 miles from Canterbury in the South.

A spray also was used at Canterbury to daub red and blue paint over an altar cloth, the archbishop's chair and the tomb of the Black Prince.

The action there was believed in reaction to Dr. Michael Ramsey's statement that force might be justifiable in Rhodesia.

Troops' Mail Now Speedier

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—U.S. combat troops now will get free air mail and speedier parcel post service.

The parcel post packages will be flown by the Defense Department with the sender paying only the surface rate to the port of embarkation.

President Johnson signed the necessary bill yesterday.

County Slates Interviews For New Planning Director

The Marin County Planning Commission will hold an executive session at the close of its meeting Nov. 15 to start reviewing applications for the job of planning director, chairman Felix M. Warburg announced yesterday.

He said there have already been about 45 applications for the job being vacated Jan. 1 by B. D. Dobbs. Applications do not close until Nov. 30.

Warburg hopes applications can be screened down to about 10 after Nov. 30 and that the commission can interview applicants Dec. 17, a Friday.

Supervisors could act on the commission's recommendation the next day, Warburg said.

Burglary Attempt

Philippa Denning-Kemp, an employee at Yo's Den, a restaurant at 510 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, told police Friday night that she found signs someone had tried to break in the night before. Police found pry marks on the building's rear door.

Belvedere Stays Out Of Dispute

The Belvedere City Council last night, after hearing an opinion from the city attorney, decided it had no business entering into a dispute over a strip of land between Golden Gate and Bella Vista avenues.

City Atty. William H. MacKay said a title search found the city had no interest in the property and the dispute should be settled between the two parties.

Hahn complained that Leland was taking out shrubs and trees to make an entrance to the rear of his home. "All he wants is a garbage entrance to his back door," Hahn declared.

Leland's attorney, Wallace S. Myers, answered that it made no difference why the entrance was sought. "If he owns part of the property he has the right to use it."

"No matter where our sympathies are," said Mayor Merritt K. Ruddock, "the city has no business in this matter.

Citiy Mgr. William L. Cavalli was authorized to advertise for bids on resurfacing part of Beach Road. The portion will include the west side of Beach Road from Cove Road to San Rafael Avenue and both sides of Beach from San Rafael to Bay View Avenue. The work, to be paid for out of gasoline tax funds, is estimated to cost $44,000.

A request by Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Billstein to build a fence on 75 feet of city property adjacent to their home at 301 San Rafael Avenue was denied.

Cavalli was authorized to draft an ordinance requiring anyone seeking a bay fill permit to file a request with the city. The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission has the power to grant fill permits, but council felt the local ordinance would be a means of keeping an eye on fill proposals.

Five Arrested In New Fracas At Newspaper

Five persons arrested each other early today in Sausalito following a "pushing and shoving" fracas outside the struck publishing plant of the Marin Guide. All were citizens' arrests.

Publisher Harry H. Johnson himself was arrested by picket Allan G. Tuttle and charged with assault and battery.

Johnson, in turn, arrested Tuttle and pickets Dennis Crowley and Peter Stickney, charging Stickney with trespassing and Tuttle with assault and battery and trespassing.

OUT ON BAIL

All five made bail, Stickney of $110 and the rest of $276 each. All are to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Lt. Ted Zink of Sausalito police reported Johnson called police at 12:20 a.m. saying people were "trespassing outside his plant at 42 Caledonia street. There was apparently some pushing and shoving but no signs of violence, said Zink.

EARLIER STRIFE

The action was a continuation of labor troubles which broke out last Wednesday when a flare-type grenade was tossed among a group of teen-agers folding weekly newspapers at Johnson's Tamalpais Valley office at 200 Shoreline Highway.

Three cars, used by the newspaper man, were reportedly tampered with then. Fisticuffs occurred between pickets and newspaper employees.

Johnson arrested Douglas Ajdee Smith, 45, president of San Francisco-Oakland Mailers Union 18, on a citizens' arrest and later signed a complaint charging trespassing. The mailers and Typographical Union 21 of San Francisco, have picketed the Sausalito plant since Oct. 25. Johnson has said the unions are asking him to employ too many men to do his work.

San Anselmo Library Board Hears Complaint

The San Anselmo library board last night met with critics of the city library in what librarian Virginia Stewart described as "a calm and quiet meeting."

Mrs. Andre Moreau of 18 Brenfleck Avenue, who last month wrote the city council criticizing the library, attended the meeting.

According to Mrs. Stewart, she repeated her complaints that the city should belong to the county library system and the library should not require a resident to be sponsored by another property owner before taking out library books.

The board, according to Mrs. Stewart, made no comment on Mrs. Moreau's criticisms.

Also attending the meeting was Emmett Dedeyn of 30 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, a past critics of the library. He asked only that the library annual report be made available to library patrons, Mrs. Stewart said.

County librarian Virginia Keating appeared before the board to explain the benefits of joining the county library system. Mrs. Stewart said she was invited by the board before Mrs. Moreau's letter was received.

All cities in Marin except San Anselmo have an arrangement with the county library whereby city residents may purchase a county library card for $5.

San Rafael joined the system Sept. 1, on a one-year trial basis. Mrs. Stewart said board members want to see how the system is working for San Rafael before joining.

Hub Bicycle Stolen, Returned Stripped

The bike, valued at $60, was found on the street in front of the home the next morning, stripped of all but its rear wheel and frame.

Appointee Abuses Hit By Bagley

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, warned against potential abuses stemming from politically appointed inheritance tax appraisers, in a talk in San Mateo last night.

He spoke at a joint meeting of the Burlingame, Hillsborough and San Mateo chapters of the California Republican League.

"There is no question that the 150 odd appraisers contribute large sums of money to the state controller who appoints them," said Bagley.

Novato Gets Park Land Price Offer

The City of Novato has been offered 33 acres, part of Canyon Lake park shown in its master plan, for $207,000, the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission learned last night.

The commission also: referred back to Edward W. Adams, director, plans for the development of the Lions Club park below Stafford Lake, and a request by the Novato Senior Citizens for help in organizing programs.

County Revamps Sick Leave Pay

Marin County supervisors today agreed to abandon the policy of paying county employees for staying well.

Under the policy, an employee accumulating over 60 days of unused sick leave would be paid one-fourth of his salary for each day in excess.

The board today agreed to extend the maximum on possible accumulated sick leave to 90 days, but discontinue the one-fourth pay.

The program will be closed out at the end of this month with any payments due made then.

Red Hill Complaints Fail, Car Wash Permit Renewed

San Anselmo planning commissioners last night renewed the use permit for a coin-operated car wash at 508 Red Hill Avenue, after unanimously voting to restrict its hours of operation to from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Car wash operator John T. Wolfe opposed the restriction of business hours, saying that about 10 per cent of his business is done between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Herman Weinger, who owns an apartment house at 600 Redhill Avenue, and some of his tenants appeared and complained of late evening noise from the car wash.

In other action, commissioner Warren Perry was assigned the task of drawing a preliminary plan for the city's proposed downtown center.

Perry said he hoped to have a rough plan for restricting the size of the downtown center and a new location for a street to replace San Anselmo Avenue as a main thoroughfare by the commission's next meeting.

Novato School Board Appoints Schneeflock

William G. Schneeflock, 4-H Club specialist for the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, was appointed to the Novato Unified School District Board last night.

Schneeflock will replace William H. Kirk, who resigned because of ill health, to fill out a term expiring June 30, 1969. He served on the Novato board before the merger with San Jose School District, and missed election to the board of the new unified district by only 43 votes. He lives at 670 Arthur Avenue.

His appointment was unanimous by the four board members present at last night's meeting. Mrs. Leonora Dougherty was absent.

The Novato board approved starting a continuation school for high school dropouts, required by a new state law. Paul Mobley, assistant superintendent, was directed to work out details for its operation.

WILLIAM G. SCHNEEFLOCK
Back on board

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

1. Accepted classrooms and multipurpose room at Loma Verde School, the Pleasant Valley School, and the San Jose Junior High multipurpose room.

2. Approved a schedule for redemption of bonds which will make the amount repayable approximately the same for the next 20 years. In the past this amount has varied from year to year, causing considerable fluctuation in the tax rate.

3. Learned that Novato will receive $82,000 in federal funds allotted on the basis of students whose family income is less than $2,000 or are on welfare. This money may be used for many projects, Mobley reported.

4. Received a request from the Marin County Federation of Teachers for recognition on a bargaining committee to setup as required under the Winton Act.

5. Adopted a policy on taking athletes to games in school buses.

6. Hired Mrs. Carolyn Barnato as a science teacher at Novtao High School, Mrs. Judy Talley as an assistant in the instructional material center, Mrs. Ruth Wicht as clerk-typist, and Everett Clark as a custodian at Marion School, replacing Perry Wood, who resigned.

7. Was informed by letter from Col. Ralph Wanderer, commander at Hamilton Air Force Base, that the base cannot furnish buses for transportation of students to public schools.

Owner Says Boat Missing

Audrey Mae Wisner of 400 Canal Street, Apt. 123, San Rafael, last night reported the disappearance of a 26-foot Chris Craft pleasure boat valued at $6,000 from the dock behind her apartment.

San Rafael police today were trying to find out whether the boat was stolen or moved as a Halloween prank. They were attempting to reach Mrs. Wisner's estranged husband, James R. Wisner of San Francisco, to learn whether he had knowledge of its whereabouts.

Mrs. Wisner said the craft was blue and white, with a single railing, had white canvas, blue drapes and blue deck chairs.

Two Drivers Injured South Of Novato

Albert M. Thibodeaux, 47, of Petaluma, and Nell N. Walters, 68, of Healdsburg, were injured in a two-car collision at 6:30 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 about 500 feet north of the Black Point Cutoff, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the northbound Thibodeaux swerved and was hit broadside by Mrs. Walters' car. Mrs. Walters suffered a cut lip and neck sprain. Thibodeaux suffered a back sprain. Both were treated at Novato General Hospital.

Lagunitas Board

This is Water Pik

Most important development in home dental care in 50 years—to help you and every member of your family have beautiful teeth—firm, healthy gums.

Clean teeth, but?

After you've seen the dentist, you use a toothbrush twice a day. Despite that precaution, you're still likely to have gum trouble. In fact many children have it, almost half the teenagers and nearly every adult. That's why your whole family needs to know about Water Pik, the new home oral care invention. Here's why gum trouble is almost universal:

What Happens!

With every meal you eat, food particles lodge between teeth and in pockets along the gum line, where they cannot be reached by a toothbrush, manual or electric. This debris decays; often becomes contaminated. As the contamination spreads, gums may become irritated and sore. Often they begin to bleed, the fibres that hold the teeth in place degenerate. The teeth loosen and may have to be removed.

What Water Pik Does

Water Pik is a revolutionary new product. It provides a pulsating jet of water, under easily controlled pressure, that stimulates the gums and nudges out the food particles from between the teeth and along the gum line. This jet actually turns on and off 20 times a second and a quart of water is ejected into the mouth in about 90 seconds. Even after brushing your teeth you will see a surprising amount of debris that had remained there until Water Pik dislodged it and flushed it out. Even more important are the millions of harmful bacteria which it flushes from the hidden pockets between the teeth and gums.

Recommended by Thousands of Dentists

Water Pik has been demonstrated at dental conventions. It has been prescribed by thousands of dentists, all over the country, for daily use by their patients. In fact, most of the Water Piks (about 100,000) in use today were purchased by patients on their dentists' recommendation.

It is a great step forward toward keeping all your teeth in a healthy mouth as long as you live.

Low Cost

Water Pik is a fine scientific product. It is beautifully designed. It requires no faucet or plumbing connections. The price is $39.50, including 4 tips for use by all members of the family, and the cost of operation is almost nothing. You use tap water at a comfortable temperature.

At Leading Drug and Department Stores

Formerly Water Pik was sold only through dental supply dealers on prescriptions from dentists. Now it is also available at leading drug and department stores.

We have increased production as rapidly as possible. If you fail to find it at your favorite store, write to us direct for literature.

Water Pik®
AQUA TEC CORP., 730 SEVENTEENTH ST., DENVER, COLO. 80202

Reports from people who have used Water Pik for more than one year.

"Have enjoyed using Water Pik because it makes your mouth feel clean in addition to keeping gums healthy."

"Exhilarating and definitely effective in removing food between teeth. Gums no longer bleed with brushing. I recommended it to a friend and her dentist reports improvement of her gums after using Water Pik. She's had pyorrhea for years."

"Think it is great. Definite improvement in condition of gums. Firmer, never any bleeding. A joy to use and leaves marvelously refreshed feeling in mouth."

"Dentist introduced me to Water Pik in December 1963. From my first experience in using this unique device I have praised and preached its necessity in every home."

"Has prevented surgery. Children use it to clean under braces and to help prevent decay."

"Water Pik is the most pleasant and greatest aid I have found for oral hygiene. Recommended it to many friends who have purchased it from their dentists."

"Teeth were sound but gums were soft. Dentist said 100% improvement and no cavities since using Water Pik."

"Particularly gratifying are compliments we receive from dentist on the condition of our gums."

"Gave four as Christmas presents. Water Pik made my gums firm up and stopped bleeding."

"Cannot say enough good things about Water Pik. Four of five children had braces, and brushing could not remove food particles. Husband likes it, makes his mouth feel clean and fresh. I had pyorrhea and regular use of Water Pik has kept the condition from recurring."

"Gums much healthier, nicer looking and no longer bleed. Son having orthodontal work done and Water Pik helps him keep his braces clean and free of food particles."

"Think so much of it, I'm buying another for second bathroom. Water Pik is the answer to clean mouth and healthy gums."

"Great device. Teeth and gums never in better condition. Dentist says since using Water Pik wife has perfect oral condition and it probably has saved me from full dentures."

"Water Pik should be used by everyone over 12 years of age. When I bought Water Pik, was in danger of losing several teeth because of a gum infection. They bled excessively and were very tender. Now teeth are tight, never bleed and are never sore."

"Like it very much. Brush teeth thoroughly with an electric toothbrush, but it's amazing what Water Pik proves I don't get. Gums were in terrible condition and have improved very much since using Water Pik."

We urge you to discuss these facts with your dentist and to follow his advice.
Good dental and mouth health is a precious thing.
Don't neglect it!

Apartment House Plan Runs Into New Delays

Consideration of the 12-unit apartment proposed by Loyal Davis at 548 Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley, was continued again by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Manuel Gomez, owner of adjacent property, argued that those opposed to the apartment building did not get proper notice of yesterday's hearing.

Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill approved a variance for the development Friday. Gomez said he and his neighbors did not learn of this until yesterday morning and did not know it was ready to be heard before the commission again.

Planning commissioners, being asked to give architectural approval for the development, also wanted more time to consider Cordill's recommendation.

Attorney Julius M. Selinger, representing Davis, and attorney Richard A. Clarke, representing neighbors, also agreed to a continuance. The matter was put off until Nov. 15.

Davis's plans were interrupted several months ago when it was discovered that he did not own all the property originally listed.

Woman Booked In Car Theft

Belvedere police arrested Cindy G. MacKenzie, 20, of Coronado, on a charge of car theft Saturday night, only a few minutes after George H. Rehmet of San Francisco had reported his 1964 Ford sedan was stolen from Main Street in Tiburon.

Miss MacKenzie was driving Rehmet's car, Belvedere officers said. She was booked in county jail on charges of car theft and being drunk in an automobile, and later released on $1,100 bail.

Rehmet reported at the Tiburon sheriff's sub-station that he had left the keys in his car and it was stolen between 3:30 and 8 p.m.

Names In Births Were Transposed

In two birth notices published in the Independent-Journal Oct. 26, the names of the wives of Richard Reynolds and Martin Rohrs, both of San Rafael, were transposed in error.

Arlene Winding is the maiden name of the wife of Reynolds, and Ann Burkey, the wife of Rohrs. Daughters were born to both couples the second week in October.

SAN RAFAEL'S CLOCKS FORGET TIME CHANGE

The City of San Rafael has a hard time getting off daylight saving time.

The clock in the city hall entrance hall and that in the council chamber both said 9 o'clock when the council convened promptly at 8 p.m. yesterday.

And two young women appeared later in the meeting to complain that clocks at city tennis courts, set to turn off automatically at 10 p.m., had turned off instead at 9, interrupting their play.

The council told City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota to see that city hall and tennis court clocks were turned back to standard time today.

Vandals Paint York Cathedral

YORK, England (AP)—Vandals Saturday desecrated York Cathedral, spraying red paint on the lectern and archbishop's chair in an action similar to that yesterday at Canterbury Cathedral.

York Cathedral is in northern England and separated by about 200 miles from Canterbury in the South.

A spray also was used at Canterbury to daub red and blue paint over an altar cloth, the archbishop's chair and the tomb of the Black Prince.

The action there was believed in reaction to Dr. Michael Ramsey's statement that force might be justifiable in Rhodesia.

WHAT'S COOKING?

Women Drivers Roast Supper While The Wheels Are Rolling

By DOROTHY CRANDALL

BOSTON (AP) — Chalk one up for women drivers: "We're cooking under the hood of the car. With the youngsters in the back seat and the wheels rolling.

"Forget about the oil, just check the roast," one pioneer chef told her filling station attendant. Sure enough there it was, a foil-wrapped package riding on the exhaust manifold, hottest spot under the hood.

WE TRIED IT following the lead of Norma Bidwell, Canadian housewife whose been roasting-while-rolling all summer.

Mrs. Bidwell, food editor of the Hamilton Spectator, said: "My husband scoffed the first time I handed him a three-pound foiled wrapped package of raw meat and said, "We'll cook it under the hood."

"But 10 minutes after we arrived at the cottage the six of us were munching happily on hot roast beef sandwiches with tender-crisp onions and seasoned with cook-on sauce."

THE RULES for road cooking:

Wrap a two-to-three pound roast, not over two inches thick for a three-hour drive, in a large sheet of extra heavy duty foil, fold edges together twice to make a lock seam; Use a wire hanger to anchor the meat to the manifold;

Stop halfway to your destination to turn the roast;

Don't stop to visit with friends for your roast needs three hours driving time;

DON'T TRY turkey.

"During the early stages of a turkey's cooking, it gets bouncy. It sticks its elbows out and pushes away from the heat. You try to push it back and it sticks a drumstick through the foil."

This means trouble — like grease burning on the manifold.

Results Of Family Plan Clinic Told

What happens when you make family planning service available in a low-income community? Here's the experience of New York City's Metropolitan Hospital family planning clinic: You can cut the birth rate by about one-fourth in a year. You can reduce the number of bungled illegal abortions a hospital is forced to complete. You can spend $50 a year per patient for family planning care as against $200 minimum for prenatal care, delivery, and hospitalization.

These findings were reported by Dr. Martin L. Stone, chief of obstetrics and gynecology, New York Medical College Metropolitan Hospital Center, and director of the hospital's family planning clinic.

Churchwomen Will Observe World Community Day Friday

Local protestant and orthodox churchwomen when they observe the annual World Community Day on Friday will examine how Latin Americans caught in a web of poverty, hunger, ignorance and disease can develop their full potential.

Plans for the Southern Marin Chapter of United Churchwomen were announced by Mrs. Lincoln Wirt, chairman of Southern Marin World Community Day, brought about by the churchwomen's desire to express their Christian concern for the needs and problems of people throughout the world.

On Friday, churchwomen of Southern Marin will meet to dedicate their gifts and rededicate themselves to helping people in poverty stricken Chile and Haiti.

Dr. Clay Colwell, minister to the Metropolitan Mission for the United Church of Christ, San Francisco, will address the churchwomen after a worship service to be held at 10:30 a.m. at the First Congregational Church in San Rafael.

In keeping with the emphasis on community development, churchwomen are sewing children's smocks for use in overseas supported institutions. In response to requests for assistance, yard goods, yarns and towels are being collected.

World Community Day is sponsored annually by United Churchwomen, a department of the National Council of Churches, representing some thirteen million protestant and orthodox churchwomen in the United States.

The offering received on that day will make possible an expanded program in Chile which trains women for responsible parenthood and family and community betterment. The organization will train men for reforestation and road building.

MANY SKILLS

Study Techniques Assist Learning

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

There are many skills involved in studying which can be taught just as science and math are taught. Too many students do not know these important techniques which would help them approach all their studies in an efficient and organized manner.

MANY SCHOOL systems attempt to teach these skills as a part of other subject areas. Listening is taught through the reading program. Observation is often involved with science. The use of a table of contents and index is included in the social studies course. When this approach is used, there is too often a lack of emphasis on the study skills themselves. The student is often unaware of the fact that a particular skill is involved. The result may well be a limited knowledge in the skill and limited use of the skill in other appropriate situations.

STUDY SKILLS are applicable to all areas of learning. They are useful regardless of the particular subject matter. It would appear that greater emphasis should be given to the learning of such skills. There is sufficient material in this area so that it might be taught as a separate subject.

This is not to say that the use of these skills should be eliminated from other subjects. Actually, this would be impossible as well as undesirable. Once a skill is taught, it is best reinforced and understood when it is involved is a useful exercise or operation.

It would seem that a student in the intermediate grades 4-6 should have developed a proficiency in study skills or at least should have been introduced to them. Perhaps, parents and teachers assume too much when they think that this has been done. Students who are having difficulty with their school work may need assistance in this area. Although problems appear to be related to a specific subject, further investigation might indicate a general weakness in how to study.

Most children who receive tutoring receive it in particular subjects such as reading or math. Although tutoring in study skills would not be the answer in all cases, it would certainly be worthwhile investigating as a possibility.

WHAT KINDS of skills are we talking about? The techniques for taking notes on a lecture or discussion are very important. The information in the lecture is often the basis for future discussions and activities. It is necessary to review this material on many occasions including preparation for an exam. If notes are inadequate and poorly taken this valuable material may not be available.

It is an impossible task to take down every word unless the student is an expert in shorthand. It is possible to take down key words and phrases. An outline form is an easy way to organize the notes.

This is only one example of many valuable study skills which should be taught. Such learning should not be left to chance. The study skills are too valuable a part of the learning process to be neglected.

WHAT'S COOKING?

Women Drivers Roast Supper While The Wheels Are Rolling

By DOROTHY CRANDALL

BOSTON (AP) — Chalk one up for women drivers: "We're cooking under the hood of the car. With the youngsters in the back seat and the wheels rolling.

"Forget about the oil, just check the roast," one pioneer chef told her filling station attendant. Sure enough there it was, a foil-wrapped package riding on the exhaust manifold, hottest spot under the hood.

WE TRIED IT following the lead of Norma Bidwell, Canadian housewife whose been roasting-while-rolling all summer.

Mrs. Bidwell, food editor of the Hamilton Spectator, said: "My husband scoffed the first time I handed him a three-pound foiled wrapped package of raw meat and said, "We'll cook it under the hood."

"But 10 minutes after we arrived at the cottage the six of us were munching happily on hot roast beef sandwiches with tender-crisp onions and seasoned with cook-on sauce."

THE RULES for road cooking:

Wrap a two-to-three pound roast, not over two inches thick for a three-hour drive, in a large sheet of extra heavy duty foil, fold edges together twice to make a lock seam; Use a wire hanger to anchor the meat to the manifold;

Stop halfway to your destination to turn the roast;

Don't stop to visit with friends for your roast needs three hours driving time;

DON'T TRY turkey.

"During the early stages of a turkey's cooking, it gets bouncy. It sticks its elbows out and pushes away from the heat. You try to push it back and it sticks a drumstick through the foil."

This means trouble — like grease burning on the manifold.

Results Of Family Plan Clinic Told

What happens when you make family planning service available in a low-income community? Here's the experience of New York City's Metropolitan Hospital family planning clinic: You can cut the birth rate by about one-fourth in a year. You can reduce the number of bungled illegal abortions a hospital is forced to complete. You can spend $50 a year per patient for family planning care as against $200 minimum for prenatal care, delivery, and hospitalization.

These findings were reported by Dr. Martin L. Stone, chief of obstetrics and gynecology, New York Medical College Metropolitan Hospital Center, and director of the hospital's family planning clinic.

Art Shows, Concerts Planned At College

Art shows, plays, concerts and opera workshops will make up the special events calendar of the College of Marin fine arts division throughout the 1965-66 school year.

The drama department's highly successful production of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" has already completed a two-weekend run.

Starting Dec. 3 for five performances will be Goldoni's "The Servant of Two Masters," while Brecht's "The Three-Penny Opera" will play for two weekends starting March 24, and Jean Anouilh's "The Lark" will open May 20.

Art events on the calendar will begin with a faculty art show from 7 to 9 p.m. on Nov. 12 in the art building. This will be followed by a pottery sale during the same hours on Dec. 10.

The school's annual student art exhibit and open house will take place during the afternoon and evening of May 20 and 21.

Eleven concerts have been scheduled through the school year by the college madrigals, community band, a cappella chorus, and community chorus and community orchestra.

The madrigals will appear twice: At 8:30 p.m. Nov. 20 in Olney Hall and at the same hour and place May 7. The community band will give three concerts, starting with one at 8 p.m. Dec. 5. Others are scheduled for May 14 and 21.

Two concerts apiece will be given by the a cappella chorus, the community chorus and the community orchestra.

Concerts by the a cappella chorus are scheduled for Dec. 17 and May 28. The community chorus will sing Jan. 23 and May 22, and the community orchestra will play Jan. 29 and June 4.

All concerts except those by the madrigals will be in the gymnasium.

Opera workshops are set for a two-day weekend Jan. 14 and 15, and a three-day session April 28 through 30. All are in Olney Hall.

Chaplin Veers From Talk Of Son

LONDON (UPI) — Charles Chaplin lost his smile for a moment Monday when an interviewer asked whether he was going to cast his beatnik son, Michael, 19, in a film he is directing.

"No personal questions," snapped the 76-year-old comedian.

The interviewer persisted.

"Don't be smart alecky," Chaplin said, this time with more emphasis.

Michael, married against his father's wishes and has since been involved in litigation over a book "I Couldn't Smoke the Grass On My Father's Lawn" which was ghost written for him.

Young Chaplin claims his youth and inexperience led him to prattle indiscreetly about his family and he is suing to stop publication of the book.

Aside from the exchange with the interviewer the elder Chaplin, plump and alert as ever, was in high good humor as he announced at a news conference that he has written and will direct a film starring Sophia Loren and Marlon Brando entitled "The Countess From Hong Kong."

He will also write the music.

Chaplin lolled in a chair, hands in the arm holes of the vest of his blue striped suit, green tinted glasses on his eyes as he disclosed his new deal with Universal Pictures.

"Thank God," he said, "This time I don't have to worry about producing or the purse strings. I can give my complete attention to directing the film and if it doesn't come off the blame will be all mine. But it has a riotously funny situation — at least I think it is. Call it a romantic comedy."

Chaplin said the film would go into production in London Jan. 17.

Worry of FALSE TEETH Slipping or Irritating?

Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Residents Of Black Point Object To Apartment Plan

The Marin County Planning Commission agreed to look at the land Nov. 15 and to hold another hearing Dec. 6, but several commissioners told landowner Philip Rosenberg he was "premature" with the plan.

Attorney Leland H. Jordan, representing Rosenberg, said the apartments would have few more residents than would development under present zoning, assuming four acres with industrial zoning were changed.

He said no development would be started until it could be tied in with the 710-acre project already approved for Kenney Brothers, Inc., just to the southeast.

"I understand the Kenney plan has been abandoned," interjected Commissioner Eugene R. Trombley. "He's sold the property."

"I have heard the same rumors," answered engineer Carlos E. Gonzalez, also representing Rosenberg, "but I don't think the plan was abandoned. Someone is going to develop it."

While the Black Point Improvement Club had applauded the Kenney proposal, the club led the fight against Rosenberg's presenting a petition with 168 signatures saying his plan for 13.3 acres would overtax roads, water supply and sanitary facilities.

Jordan countered that the plan would not use existing roads but would have access through the Kenney land. He said that a new water supply and sewer system will be needed for that project and Rosenberg's land will be tied in.

The planning staff recommended zoning to allow only single - family homes, with an average lot size of about a quarter acre. That would allow 52 homes on the site.

Rosenberg's proposal called for four acres of apartments, with about 65 units, and the rest single-family homes on large lots, with only 10 homes on the nine acres involved.

More Hunters In Corte Madera

Corte Madera policemen had trouble again this weekend with duck hunters illegally firing shotguns inside city limits behind Golden Hinde Passage.

Alfreda Grill of 26 Channel Drive called police at 4:20 p.m. Friday and reported someone was shooting on the marshland, but police could find no one.

Officer Charles Newman, patrolling the area Saturday afternoon, found a 15-year-old boy he had warned about shooting there before. The boy was carrying ducks over his arm, but the officer did not see him shoot a gun. The boy was turned over to his parents, who promised to reprimand him.

MANY SKILLS

Study Techniques Assist Learning

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

There are many skills involved in studying which can be taught just as science and math are taught. Too many students do not know these important techniques which would help them approach all their studies in an efficient and organized manner.

MANY SCHOOL systems attempt to teach these skills as a part of other subject areas. Listening is taught through the reading program. Observation is often involved with science. The use of a table of contents and index is included in the social studies course. When this approach is used, there is too often a lack of emphasis on the study skills themselves. The student is often unaware of the fact that a particular skill is involved. The result may well be a limited knowledge in the skill and limited use of the skill in other appropriate situations.

STUDY SKILLS are applicable to all areas of learning. They are useful regardless of the particular subject matter. It would appear that greater emphasis should be given to the learning of such skills. There is sufficient material in this area so that it might be taught as a separate subject.

This is not to say that the use of these skills should be eliminated from other subjects. Actually, this would be impossible as well as undesirable. Once a skill is taught, it is best reinforced and understood when it is involved is a useful exercise or operation.

It would seem that a student in the intermediate grades 4-6 should have developed a proficiency in study skills or at least should have been introduced to them. Perhaps, parents and teachers assume too much when they think that this has been done. Students who are having difficulty with their school work may need assistance in this area. Although problems appear to be related to a specific subject, further investigation might indicate a general weakness in how to study.

Most children who receive tutoring receive it in particular subjects such as reading or math. Although tutoring in study skills would not be the answer in all cases, it would certainly be worthwhile investigating as a possibility.

WHAT KINDS of skills are we talking about? The techniques for taking notes on a lecture or discussion are very important. The information in the lecture is often the basis for future discussions and activities. It is necessary to review this material on many occasions including preparation for an exam. If notes are inadequate and poorly taken this valuable material may not be available.

It is an impossible task to take down every word unless the student is an expert in shorthand. It is possible to take down key words and phrases. An outline form is an easy way to organize the notes.

This is only one example of many valuable study skills which should be taught. Such learning should not be left to chance. The study skills are too valuable a part of the learning process to be neglected.

Corte Madera Street Damage Brings Protest

Heavy trucks climbing steep, narrow Sausalito Street in Corte Madera are tearing the pavement to pieces, residents of the Madera Park area told the Corte Madera Town Council last night.

The councilmen said they were sympathetic, but would be much more so if residents would get together and form an assessment district to improve the street to town standards, so the town would start maintaining it.

The residents said they did not want to do that, but merely wanted to make sure contractors building new homes at the top of the ridge on the south side of town repaired the street. They suggested that either a load limit be imposed or contractors post bonds to cover damages.

Load limits are out, declared Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis, because there is no alternative route. And to collect for damages, there has to be proof that a particular vehicle did the damage.

Davis did offer some drastic suggestions for improving the situation:

1. Freeze building permits in the area until the streets are brought to city standards, or

2. Refuse any new land divisions that do not have access from a town-maintained street, "even if the subdivider has to build five miles of street to get it."

Davis said both these methods are legal and have been used in other cities, but councilmen were unenthusiastic. The attorney then said that since the residents paid to pave the street, they could sue the truck drivers, or their bosses, for damage.

The council then approved the four-lot Wildwood subdivision of Arthur R. Nicolaisen, after hearing Nicolaisen would pave Sausalito Street completely where he was building, and repair chuckholes down the hill.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Set for Dec. 4 at 2 p.m. the official dedication of the new public safety building.

2. Approved purchase of 12 additional chairs for the volunteer fire department's recreation room in the new building.

3. Approved, 4-1, purchase of an automobile for the town manager, who has been using his own vehicle. Councilman William W. Collier opposed.

4. Held up action on a request for improvement of drainage of Talley's Alley, east of Highway 101, to find out what Larkspur would do, since the road is half in each city.

5. Adopted an ordinance redefining a "nuisance" to include a wide variety of problems, establishing a hearing procedure for abatement, and allowing abatement costs to be made property assessments on the tax roll.

6. Requested the State Division of Highways to widen Highway 101 to four lanes each way from the Golden Gate Bridge to the Greenbrae Overpass, after hearing that 81,000 cars a day now pass the Corte Madera Interchange.

7. Referred to the planning commission proposed renewal of the planning services contract with Livingston and Blayney, San Francisco.

Board Concerned On Public View Of Instant Agenda

The Marin County Board of Education whipped through part of its newly revamped agenda so fast last night that one member became concerned about the public's ability to understand what the board was doing.

Under a new agenda section entitled "routine matters," the board acted quickly on several items without any discussion.

Board member Adele J. Alpers said she wondered if this system would be acceptable to the audience.

Board President James A. Carroll commented that all the "routine matters" had been fully discussed in committee, and that the annotated aganda was available.

At Mrs. Alper's recommendation, the board agreed that in the future there will be an informational sheet attached to the agenda explaining the procedure to the public.

Lawyer-Mother Set For Divorce Forum

Marin's high divorce rate will come under scrutiny at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the third of the discussion series, "Home in Suburbia—Pandora's Box," in the board of supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Speaking on divorce in Marin will be Dr. Alfred Auerbach, chairman of the committee on mental health of the San Francisco Medical Society and California Medical Assn., and Mrs. Ann Diamond, Ross, mother of six and lawyer specializing in family litigation.

Prison Review Starts

Walter Dunbar, director of the State Department of Corrections, arrived at San Quentin Prison today for his annual two-day operations review, including a tour of the prison and meetings with chief staff members.

Sausalito Sets Two Hearings

Two hearings will be conducted at the Sausalito City Council when it meets at 8 o'clock tonight in city hall.

One is a continued hearing on the proposed community antenna television ordinance, the other is on the planned unit development ordinance.

Also to be discussed is the request for a continued conditional use permit from United Sand and Gravel Co. to continue its business adjacent to A. G. Schoonmaker Co.

Corte Madera Town Council Likes Twin City Boundaries

Boundaries of Larkspur and Corte Madera may wrap around in a wierd and intricate way, but the Corte Madera Town Council likes it that way, councilmen decided informally last night.

On receiving notice of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission's meeting Thursday to discuss the boundaries, the council passed a resolution objecting to the commission's proposal to adopt a tentative new boundary before holding a hearing.

And councilmen said they were not happy about the proposed new boundary drawn up as a joint effort of the county public works department, planning department and assessor, especially since it would transfer a good part of Fifer Industrial Park to Larkspur.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton, who was a member of the local agency commission when the boundary question first arose, said there were some problems which should be solved, such as the fact that Redwood High School is partly in Larkspur, partly in Corte Madera and partly in unincorporated territory.

Other problems, such as those near the top of Christmas Tree Hill, he said, were apparently ignored by the county staff in drawing the line.

Pendleton and Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said they would not be able to attend the Thursday meeting. They told Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher to attend and to listen, but say little.

Automobile Stolen

J. L. Berry of 479 Montecito Drive, Corte Madera, told police today that someone stole his 1964 Mercury automobile from his driveway last night. Berry said the ignition was locked.

Attorney Denies Nod In Overdraft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Banker Don Silverthorne's alleged overdrawing of $25,000 at the now defunct San Francisco National Bank was without authorization of attorney J. H. (Jake) Ehrlich, the attorney testified yesterday.

The head teller, William J. Horan, had testified at Silverthorne's grand theft trial that the banker told him:

"It's okay, Bill, Jack Ehrlich gave me permission to overdraw that account by as much as $25,000."

"No one ever authorized that," Ehrlich said.

Art Shows, Concerts Planned At College

Art shows, plays, concerts and opera workshops will make up the special events calendar of the College of Marin fine arts division throughout the 1965-66 school year.

The drama department's highly successful production of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" has already completed a two-weekend run.

Starting Dec. 3 for five performances will be Goldoni's "The Servant of Two Masters," while Brecht's "The Three-Penny Opera" will play for two weekends starting March 24, and Jean Anouilh's "The Lark" will open May 20.

Art events on the calendar will begin with a faculty art show from 7 to 9 p.m. on Nov. 12 in the art building. This will be followed by a pottery sale during the same hours on Dec. 10.

The school's annual student art exhibit and open house will take place during the afternoon and evening of May 20 and 21.

Eleven concerts have been scheduled through the school year by the college madrigals, community band, a cappella chorus, and community chorus and community orchestra.

The madrigals will appear twice: At 8:30 p.m. Nov. 20 in Olney Hall and at the same hour and place May 7. The community band will give three concerts, starting with one at 8 p.m. Dec. 5. Others are scheduled for May 14 and 21.

Two concerts apiece will be given by the a cappella chorus, the community chorus and the community orchestra.

Concerts by the a cappella chorus are scheduled for Dec. 17 and May 28. The community chorus will sing Jan. 23 and May 22, and the community orchestra will play Jan. 29 and June 4.

All concerts except those by the madrigals will be in the gymnasium.

Opera workshops are set for a two-day weekend Jan. 14 and 15, and a three-day session April 28 through 30. All are in Olney Hall.

Chaplin Veers From Talk Of Son

LONDON (UPI) — Charles Chaplin lost his smile for a moment Monday when an interviewer asked whether he was going to cast his beatnik son, Michael, 19, in a film he is directing.

"No personal questions," snapped the 76-year-old comedian.

The interviewer persisted.

"Don't be smart alecky," Chaplin said, this time with more emphasis.

Michael, married against his father's wishes and has since been involved in litigation over a book "I Couldn't Smoke the Grass On My Father's Lawn" which was ghost written for him.

Young Chaplin claims his youth and inexperience led him to prattle indiscreetly about his family and he is suing to stop publication of the book.

Aside from the exchange with the interviewer the elder Chaplin, plump and alert as ever, was in high good humor as he announced at a news conference that he has written and will direct a film starring Sophia Loren and Marlon Brando entitled "The Countess From Hong Kong."

He will also write the music.

Chaplin lolled in a chair, hands in the arm holes of the vest of his blue striped suit, green tinted glasses on his eyes as he disclosed his new deal with Universal Pictures.

"Thank God," he said, "This time I don't have to worry about producing or the purse strings. I can give my complete attention to directing the film and if it doesn't come off the blame will be all mine. But it has a riotously funny situation — at least I think it is. Call it a romantic comedy."

Chaplin said the film would go into production in London Jan. 17.

Sciots Install R. D. Jackson As Toparch

Robert D. Jackson has been installed as toparch of Marin Pyramid 31, Ancient Egyptian Order of Sciots, replacing James D. Ellis, who started a three-year term as trustee.

The installation was held Oct. 15 at the Fairfax Masonic Temple, Larkspur.

What Do You Know About Voting? Test On The Way

The Leagues of Women Voters of Marin will combine forces to promote distribution of CBS-TV's newest test for citizens: A nation-wide telecast to be given next Tuesday from 10 to 11 p.m. Mike Wallace and Harry Reasoner will monitor the quiz.

Similar to the "National Drivers' Test" given earlier this year by CBS, the citizenship questions will rate knowledge on subjects related to voting, government and politics with short answer questions and illustrated situations participants may solve by multiple choice.

The Leagues of Women Voters are distributing test answer forms to Marin high schools and College of Marin. Free copies will also be available at the Civic Center Information Booth. Free copies are available on request with self - addressed, stamped envelopes to Mrs. James Staley, 50 Mooring Road, San Rafael.

Guilty Verdict In Watts Riot Case

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors deliberated 3 and one-half hours before finding Mrs. Rena Frye guilty of interfering with a police officer in performance of his duty—an act blamed for sparking the August riots in South Los Angeles.

Mrs. Frye, her sons, Marquette, 21, and Ronald, 22, were arrested by California Highway Patrolmen the night of Aug. 11. A crowd gathered and before officers left insults and bricks were flying.

The rioting which followed left 34 dead.

Mrs. Frye, 49, was ordered yesterday after her conviction to return to Municipal Court tomorrow for sentencing.

Military Ball

Third annual President's Dinner and Military Ball, sponsored by Marin Chapter 27, Reserve Officers Assn., and Marin Club, Reserve Officer's Assn. of Ladies Clubs, will be held Nov. 13 starting at 7:15 p.m. at Peacock Gap Country Club.

Official's In-Law Trial Date Slated

Court trial for George M. Miller, 26, Culver City man jailed on a citizen's complaint signed by his father-in-law, Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley, was scheduled yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 3 p.m. tomorrow.

He is charged with disturbing the peace and making a threatening telephone call with obscene language to Bradley last Saturday.

Bradley told San Rafael police Miller threatened to beat him and kill him. Miller was released from county jail on $110 bail late yesterday.

Driver Fined $220

Robert Charles Donstad, 30, of 73 Corte Roble, Novato, was fined $220 yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested Friday on Ignacio Boulevard by Novato police.

Legion Sponsors Oratory Contest

The annual high school oratorical contest, sponsored by the American Legion posts of Marin and the Marin County schools office, will be held at the supervisors chambers at the Civic Center at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 14.

Public and non-public high schools have been asked to send representatives to compete, according to Robert Spain of the county schools office.

The winner of the county contest will represent Marin in the District 5 contest in Santa Rosa in February. State finals will be next March 6.

Gets Police Duty

Airman Albert W. Whizin Jr., son of Mrs. Anna P. Smith, 322 D Street, San Rafael, has been assigned to March Air Force Base, Calif., for training for the Air Police after completing basic training.

High Honors Won By Cadets At Academy

High academic honors at San Rafael Military Academy were earned by 14 Marin boys during the past grading period, announced Lawrence W. Robertson, dean of instruction.

Cum laude honors were achieved by William Dietrich of Mill Valley in the Upper School and John Wright of San Rafael in the Lower School. Both boys held an A-minus average.

Other Marin boys with an A-minus average were: Mark Proctor of Larkspur, Richard Hackett of San Rafael, Norman Bisshard of San Rafael, Philip Welchman of Mill Valley and William Weissich of San Rafael.

Boys hold a B-plus average were: Frederick Dietrich of Mill Valley, and Eduardo Ajuria, Graig Snazelle, John Gannon, Rick Hillrigel, James Detro and Bruce Whiteley, all of San Rafael.

State Controls Prison Camps

The prison conservation camp system which has been operated out of San Quentin for 50 years was officially taken over yesterday by the California Conservation Center at Susanville in Lassen County.

The center, a Department of Corrections facility, now has control of the seven forestry and two road camps which have been run by San Quentin since 1915.

At that time, the first camp opened at Rattlesnake Summit in Mendocino County.

Vandals Pour Paint Over Two Cars

Vandals poured tan and green paint over two cars on Brookdale Avenue, San Rafael, police reported Saturday night.

John H. De Rosa, 30 Brookdale Avenue, and Jesse Coffman Jr., 26 Brookdale Avenue, both reported damage to their cars, parked in front of their homes. Paint was also poured on seats inside the Coffman auto, and the windshield and a chrome strip on that car were broken.

Residents Of Black Point Object To Apartment Plan

The Marin County Planning Commission agreed to look at the land Nov. 15 and to hold another hearing Dec. 6, but several commissioners told landowner Philip Rosenberg he was "premature" with the plan.

Attorney Leland H. Jordan, representing Rosenberg, said the apartments would have few more residents than would development under present zoning, assuming four acres with industrial zoning were changed.

He said no development would be started until it could be tied in with the 710-acre project already approved for Kenney Brothers, Inc., just to the southeast.

"I understand the Kenney plan has been abandoned," interjected Commissioner Eugene R. Trombley. "He's sold the property."

"I have heard the same rumors," answered engineer Carlos E. Gonzalez, also representing Rosenberg, "but I don't think the plan was abandoned. Someone is going to develop it."

While the Black Point Improvement Club had applauded the Kenney proposal, the club led the fight against Rosenberg's presenting a petition with 168 signatures saying his plan for 13.3 acres would overtax roads, water supply and sanitary facilities.

Jordan countered that the plan would not use existing roads but would have access through the Kenney land. He said that a new water supply and sewer system will be needed for that project and Rosenberg's land will be tied in.

The planning staff recommended zoning to allow only single - family homes, with an average lot size of about a quarter acre. That would allow 52 homes on the site.

Rosenberg's proposal called for four acres of apartments, with about 65 units, and the rest single-family homes on large lots, with only 10 homes on the nine acres involved.

More Hunters In Corte Madera

Corte Madera policemen had trouble again this weekend with duck hunters illegally firing shotguns inside city limits behind Golden Hinde Passage.

Alfreda Grill of 26 Channel Drive called police at 4:20 p.m. Friday and reported someone was shooting on the marshland, but police could find no one.

Officer Charles Newman, patrolling the area Saturday afternoon, found a 15-year-old boy he had warned about shooting there before. The boy was carrying ducks over his arm, but the officer did not see him shoot a gun. The boy was turned over to his parents, who promised to reprimand him.

Coed Has Stage Role

Corte Madera Street Damage Brings Protest

Heavy trucks climbing steep, narrow Sausalito Street in Corte Madera are tearing the pavement to pieces, residents of the Madera Park area told the Corte Madera Town Council last night.

The councilmen said they were sympathetic, but would be much more so if residents would get together and form an assessment district to improve the street to town standards, so the town would start maintaining it.

The residents said they did not want to do that, but merely wanted to make sure contractors building new homes at the top of the ridge on the south side of town repaired the street. They suggested that either a load limit be imposed or contractors post bonds to cover damages.

Load limits are out, declared Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis, because there is no alternative route. And to collect for damages, there has to be proof that a particular vehicle did the damage.

Davis did offer some drastic suggestions for improving the situation:

1. Freeze building permits in the area until the streets are brought to city standards, or

2. Refuse any new land divisions that do not have access from a town-maintained street, "even if the subdivider has to build five miles of street to get it."

Davis said both these methods are legal and have been used in other cities, but councilmen were unenthusiastic. The attorney then said that since the residents paid to pave the street, they could sue the truck drivers, or their bosses, for damage.

The council then approved the four-lot Wildwood subdivision of Arthur R. Nicolaisen, after hearing Nicolaisen would pave Sausalito Street completely where he was building, and repair chuckholes down the hill.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Set for Dec. 4 at 2 p.m. the official dedication of the new public safety building.

2. Approved purchase of 12 additional chairs for the volunteer fire department's recreation room in the new building.

3. Approved, 4-1, purchase of an automobile for the town manager, who has been using his own vehicle. Councilman William W. Collier opposed.

4. Held up action on a request for improvement of drainage of Talley's Alley, east of Highway 101, to find out what Larkspur would do, since the road is half in each city.

5. Adopted an ordinance redefining a "nuisance" to include a wide variety of problems, establishing a hearing procedure for abatement, and allowing abatement costs to be made property assessments on the tax roll.

6. Requested the State Division of Highways to widen Highway 101 to four lanes each way from the Golden Gate Bridge to the Greenbrae Overpass, after hearing that 81,000 cars a day now pass the Corte Madera Interchange.

7. Referred to the planning commission proposed renewal of the planning services contract with Livingston and Blayney, San Francisco.

Board Concerned On Public View Of Instant Agenda

The Marin County Board of Education whipped through part of its newly revamped agenda so fast last night that one member became concerned about the public's ability to understand what the board was doing.

Under a new agenda section entitled "routine matters," the board acted quickly on several items without any discussion.

Board member Adele J. Alpers said she wondered if this system would be acceptable to the audience.

Board President James A. Carroll commented that all the "routine matters" had been fully discussed in committee, and that the annotated aganda was available.

At Mrs. Alper's recommendation, the board agreed that in the future there will be an informational sheet attached to the agenda explaining the procedure to the public.

Lawyer-Mother Set For Divorce Forum

Marin's high divorce rate will come under scrutiny at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the third of the discussion series, "Home in Suburbia—Pandora's Box," in the board of supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Speaking on divorce in Marin will be Dr. Alfred Auerbach, chairman of the committee on mental health of the San Francisco Medical Society and California Medical Assn., and Mrs. Ann Diamond, Ross, mother of six and lawyer specializing in family litigation.

Prison Review Starts

Walter Dunbar, director of the State Department of Corrections, arrived at San Quentin Prison today for his annual two-day operations review, including a tour of the prison and meetings with chief staff members.

Attorney Denies Nod In Overdraft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Banker Don Silverthorne's alleged overdrawing of $25,000 at the now defunct San Francisco National Bank was without authorization of attorney J. H. (Jake) Ehrlich, the attorney testified yesterday.

The head teller, William J. Horan, had testified at Silverthorne's grand theft trial that the banker told him:

"It's okay, Bill, Jack Ehrlich gave me permission to overdraw that account by as much as $25,000."

"No one ever authorized that," Ehrlich said.

Peacock Homeowners Slate Election

Peacock Gap Homeowners Assn. will meet tomorrow at 8 p.m. in Peacock Gap Country Club for the annual election of officers.

Outgoing officers are: David B. Hudson, president; Mrs. J. John Jakobi, vice president; William I. Pearson, secretary; Jack Orfin, treasurer; Charles Madsen, grievance committee, and directors Harold McKean and Mack Johnson.

Sausalito Sets Two Hearings

Two hearings will be conducted at the Sausalito City Council when it meets at 8 o'clock tonight in city hall.

One is a continued hearing on the proposed community antenna television ordinance, the other is on the planned unit development ordinance.

Also to be discussed is the request for a continued conditional use permit from United Sand and Gravel Co. to continue its business adjacent to A. G. Schoonmaker Co.

Commander of Mill Valley Post 24 of the American Legion is Theodore Greubel.

Corte Madera Town Council Like Twin City Boundaries

Boundaries of Larkspur and Corte Madera may wrap around in a wierd and intricate way, but the Corte Madera Town Council likes it that way, councilmen decided informally last night.

On receiving notice of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission's meeting Thursday to discuss the boundaries, the council passed a resolution objecting to the commission's proposal to adopt a tentative new boundary before holding a hearing.

And councilmen said they were not happy about the proposed new boundary drawn up as a joint effort of the county public works department, planning department and assessor, especially since it would transfer a good part of Fifer Industrial Park to Larkspur.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton, who was a member of the local agency commission when the boundary question first arose, said there were some problems which should be solved, such as the fact that Redwood High School is partly in Larkspur, partly in Corte Madera and partly in unincorporated territory.

Other problems, such as those near the top of Christmas Tree Hill, he said, were apparently ignored by the county staff in drawing the line.

Pendleton and Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said they would not be able to attend the Thursday meeting. They told Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher to attend and to listen, but say little.

Automobile Stolen

Old PG&E Building To Be Rec Center

Albert Field Center Is Urged

The old Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building at Second and Brooks streets will be the temporary San Rafael Recreation Center when the American Legion Hall on Union Street is vacated at the middle of this month.

The San Rafael City Council last night unanimously authorized City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to rent the building at $400 per month — the same price paid Wilkins Post of the American Legion for the present building, which is to be torn down to make way for a Mayfair supermarket.

Building Inspector Jack Coates recommended against moving the Legion Hall, which was offered to the city free by Mayfair if it would be moved.

Coates found a proposal to move the structure across Fourth Street to city-owned property impractical. It would have to be cut in two, reassembled, added to, stuccoed, and new exits provided, at a cost which Coates figured at $29,000 — and would still leave no room for parking on the city-owned 12,000-square-foot lot.

Moving it would cost an additional $14,000, said Councilman Louis H. Baar.

Coates and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said that for $50,000, the city could put up a recreation hall which would be a better, though smaller, building.

Rodota urged this be done, suggesting it be built on what is now the circular turfed area at Albert Field. Councilmen agreed this would be a better ultimate solution.

Rose Paul, president of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, said that council has been negotiating with the Marin Jewish Community Center and can procure use of its recreation hall for the senior citizen program carried on at the recreation center.

Rodota said, however, that the Jewish Center uses the main floor every day for a nursery school, so only the upstairs would be available, which would not be suitable for the seniors.

Councilmen, in voting to rent the former PG&E building, assumed Marin County will continue to pay half the rent as its subsidy to the senior citizen program.

City Manager Andersen said two of the three present owners of the building had agreed to the $400 monthly rental, and he would attempt to get a commitment of the property for a year. He said little work would be required to convert it to recreation use.

A delegation of elder citizens applaunded when the council vote assured them they would not be left without a place for their activities.

Marinites Enroll For Youth Parley

Marin will be well represented at the three-day Governor's Conference on Youth in Sacramento, Nov. 11-13.

Not only will students from throughout the county be in the Marin delegation headed by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, but there also will be many adults.

Forums are scheduled on education, personal values, human relations, community service participation, the family, jobs, and the public and the law.

Conference speakers will include Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Dr. Roger Heyns, chancellor of University of California at Berkeley.

Many delegates from schools in Marin will be subsidized for the conference by student government funds. Others will be aided by local civic groups, while some will pay their own way, said Lawrence Lindberg, director of instruction in the county schools office.

Three full days of work will be relieved by an evening hootenanny Nov. 11 and a dinner dance at the Senator Hotel Nov. 12th.

POSTER GIRL MEETS GOVERNOR

Kathryn Paydo, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. John Paydo Jr. of 190 Westover Circle, Hamilton Air Force Base, is greeted by Gov. Emund G. Brown after she was chosen poster girl for the Mentally Retarded Children of California. Kathryn was selected in a statewide contest by the California Council for Retarded Children. Besides rallies and meetings scheduled for her in the organization's fund raising campaiggn, Katheryn and her parents will visit movie stars in Hollywood, attend a seminar in Fresno and meet Miss America.

Underground Lines Raise Loud Protest

Residents of the portion of Second Street recently added to San Rafael's underground utilities district complained loud and long last night about being put to the expense of new connections.

Ten of them raised their hands in opposition when City Councilman Louis H. Bear asked for a show of hands. But nearly all the talking during more than an hour of the city council's meeting was by two spokeswomen: Mrs. Arthur Quinn and Mrs. Harry L. Mindle—the latter owner of two apartment houses on the portion of Second Street that used to be West End Avenue.

The council added Second Street from Ida to Marquard streets to the underground utilities district to get unsightly power poles out of the center lane of the newly widened street.

This, said Mrs. Mindle and Mrs. Quinn, was discriminatory.

"There isn't one person on that street who would be benefited by this change," declared Mrs. Quinn. "This three blocks isn't the beginning or the end of anything—it's the middle."

"If it's going to beautify the city, you pay for it," said Mrs. Mindle.

The council, however, voted 4-1 to order removal of overhead lines from the section, with a deadline of next May 1. Councilman Harry A. Barbier dissented.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Postponed indefinitely further action on amending the zoning ordinance to require off-street parking in all downtown areas. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said an extension of the parking district was in the works and might prove the solution.

2. Referred back to the planning commission the proposed planned unit development ordinance, after Acting Planner Charles Linthieum reported he found the procedures for issuing use permits were not clear or definite enough. The ordinance was prepared by former City Planner George H. Rodgers.

3. Upheld an appeal by Bell, Braverman and Gonzalez from planning commission requirement for sidewalks at a subdivision on Frontage Road south of Professional Center Parkway, with a proviso that sidewalk may be required later if called for by development of property farther south.

4. Referred to the public works department and insurance company a claim by Charles Graham for damage to a home at 247 Irwin Street caused by a sewage backup. Graham presented repair estimates ranging from $483 to $542, and said the house is temporarily uninhabitable.

5. Awarded Ames Ford Sales the purchase of a one-ton truck on its low bid of $2,009.34 including tax. Other bidders were Shamrock Dodge, $2,111.36, and Rossi Garage, $2,557.68.

6. Authorized pilings under fire station No. 5 in Glenwood, at estimated additional cost of $10,500, because of mud conditions found there, and set 4 p.m., Dec. 3, at the city fire commission meeting, for opening bids on the building.

7. Named a new street in the Bret Harte area Rice Drive, honoring the late J. B. Rice, and changed the name of Napa Street (also shown as Bay Street on some maps) to Bahia Way.

8. Was informed by City Atty. David Menary Jr. that there are adequate state laws for litter control, and "it's simply a matter of enforcement." The council directed City Manager Andersen to order police to start enforcing the laws, and to meet with municipal court judges to try to assure $50 fines for violators.

9. Approved a change in the group life insurance policy for city employees which will save the city $441 per month with no change in benefits, and will permit employees to extend the coverage to their dependents at cost to the employee of 84 cents per month.

10. Passed the slope policy ordinance unanimously.

11. Passed unanimously an ordinance creating a city finance department.

12. Adopted changes in the personnel policy allowing four weeks vacation after 15 years service and increasing the limit on accrued sick leave from 60 days to 120 days.

13 On Councilman Fred E. Jensen's objection to turning in a used street sweeper on a new one, directed the city manager to try to buy the new sweeper through state purchasing and retain the old one for a spare.

14. Directed Andersen to write the Golden Gate Bridge District board commending its decision to go ahead on a second deck on the bridge.

15. Noted a letter from Dr. Kermit Kors complaining of speeding on Second and Third streets since they were made one-way streets. City Engineer Ely Cailouette was directed to keep traffic signals on the two streets operating around the clock.

16. Set for hearing Nov. 15 at 8 p.m. Gerald Stone's appeal from planning commission turndown of rezoning a house at 188 Prospect Drive from single residential to transient residential.

17. Set for Nov. 17 at 8 p.m., a meeting with the San Rafael Board of Education to discuss the recreation program for next fiscal year.

Dias Ranch Cluster Plans Density Debated; No Vote

School sites, roads and density were discussed by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday during a hearing on the Dias Ranch master plan, a 170-acre development west of Mill Valley.

It was an inconclsive discussion, and the hearing was continued until 2 p.m., Nov. 15.

Commissioners heard a letter from the Mill Valley Planning Commission which cited 1.5 and 2 units per acre density in previous master plans of the area and questioned the 3.5 density proposed.

The Mill Valley commission also recommended that a school site be provided and that trails be open to the public.

The Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. praised the plan, but questioned the 3.5 per acre density. The association urged that a proposed 100-unit hotel be considered separately.

Developer Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto said he is willing to include a school site. He said his architects have found the 3.5 density "close to the ideal" use of the land.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Recommended change of 2.5 acres on Miller Creek at Idylberry Road from church use to single-family residential use in the Marinwood Master Plan.

2. Approved a use permit to Dorina Corda to have a house trailer at 2710 Chileno Valley Road, Chileno Valley.

3. Approved a tentative map for Eichler Homes' 9.8-acre subdivision on Miller Creek between Mount Shasta Drive and Lucas Valley Road.

4. Approved a change from residential estates zoning to planned residential for Borah Lawrence's 1.5 acres on the south side of North San Pedro Road opposite LaBrea way, despite objections from Catherine A. Blades that any development would undermine her home on the cliff above. A cluster of seven units is proposed on the most level section of the land at the east end.

5. Put off until Nov. 15, to allow consideration by the Sausalito Planning Commission, H. A. B. Sneve's proposal for apartments on 3.45 acres on the east side of Highway 101 between Butte Street and Sacramento Avenue, just outside Sausalito.

6. Approved by 6-1 vote an increase from 24 to 36 units in the Greenwood Lagoon Master Plan on 1.2 acres between Greenwood Cove Drive and Barbarie Way. Commissioner Margaret Azevedo dissented, claiming it was too big a change.

7. Turned down David Cass's appeal of a use permit granted by the zoning administrator to Robert Busse, designating a 4,500 square foot lot between Wolfe Grade and Canyon Road a legal building site. Cass, who lives next to the lot, declared it should be used for a drive connecting the two roads.

8. Overruled the zoning administrator's requirements for street dedication from Milton Levy in connection with a lot division at Kings Way and Sunnycrest Avenue in Muir Woods Park. Commissioners William F. Upton and Hugh Dougherty dissented.

9. Approved plans for a storage shed to be added to the Rice Supply Co. warehouse at 16 Auburn Street, east of San Rafael. Commissioners made no comment on contractor Donald Myers's claim that its delays had forced him to lay off workers.

10. Approved grading plans proposed by the Marin Covenant Church at the end of Ellen Drive in Marinwood.

11. Approved the addition of a reception room to Dr. I. N. Tucker's office at 25 Evergreen Avenue, Homestead Valley.

12. Took no action on a letter from Mill Valley designer David Stovel announcing he had applied to the State Division of Beaches and Parks for approval of a restarant at the top of Mount Tamalpais. Commissioners agreed they would review the plans only if the state should grant the application.

13. Adjourned at 6:20 p.m.

Fourth Street Parking Idea Hits A Snag

A legal roadblock may prevent the City of San Rafael from converting to parallel parking on Fourth Street.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen last night told the city council that the traffic advisory committee unanimously recommended the diagonal parking be converted to parallel on both sides of Fourth Street between Lincoln Avenue and E Street.

Councilman Charles W. Aby immediately raised the two-pronged question: How many meters would this eliminate, and can the city legally reduce the number of meters in the downtown parking district?

Andersen said it would take 120 metered parking places off Fourth Street. Although he did not say so, this is equal to the number provided by construction of the second deck on the Third and Cijos streets lot.

As to the second question, he did not have the answer.

He was told to find out by the Nov. 15 council meeting.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said that if the meters can be reduced legally, he will still hold a public hearing before acting.

Councilman Louis H. Baar said he was adamantly against the proposed change, which was endorsed by the chamber of commerce. "You're going to drive shoppers off Fourth Street," he declared.

The council took no action on a second proposal of the traffic advisory committee: that all meters on the upper decks of the city's two double-decked lots be changed to five-hour time limit.

Council Hires Decorator For New City Hall

Casa Marin, San Rafael furnishing house, will design the furnishings and interior decoration of the new city hall.

The San Rafael City Council last night unanimously accepted the offer of Casa Marin to provide the service for a fee of $1,000.

Casa Marin's offer, contained in a letter from Milton Schwartz of the company, further specified that the company will not bid on the furniture and will help the city dispose of surplus furnishings from the old city hall.

R. D. Ralsten of Casa Marin, an interior designer, will be in charge of the design.

The firm was one of three submitting offers. James Hill and Sons of San Francisco asked a fee of $4,372. Stevenson and Sons of San Francisco asked $25 per hour, with no estimate of total cost.

Police Cite, Book Youths As Drunks

Four Mill Valley youths were either cited or booked on suspicion of drunkenness inside and outside the city's community and youth center Friday night, police said today.

One boy, 16, was arrested inside the center at the dance and cited to probation department. The other three, all 15, said police, were outside trying to be admitted. Of the three, one was cited and two booked in juvenile hall.

'UNICEF' Art Show Set For Shop Center

There will be an art show Nov. 26-28 at Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, manager Florence Packard of Mill Valley announced today.

The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily on sidewalk malls outside the shops. Theme of the show is "UNICEF."

Stickers Put Him In Business

College of Marin student Martin McKeay of Novato drew a lot of attention when he manufactured an anti-Viet Nam Day Committee bumper sticker and placed it on the back of his car.

In fact, he says, reaction to his "Stamp Out VDC" sticker has been enough to put him in the bumper sticker business.

McKeay has found 20 youths who, he says, will help him manufacture about 1,000 of the stickers to distribute to students and people in his neighborhood.

"The stickers are to get people aroused," he said. "The next step is to invite speakers to the campus so we can really understand what is going on."

Cosmetics Stolen

Mrs. Margaret S. Carson, an Avon saleswoman, told Corte Madera police that her Avon bag, containing cosmetic samples worth $50, was stolen from her unlocked car in front of 33 Corte Madera Avenue at about 1:45 p.m. Friday.

Golden Hinde Home Is Damaged By $1,500 Fire

A fire, believed to have been caused by a discarded cigarette which ignited a plastic waste basket, caused $1,500 damage at the home of George Compton, 30 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael, at 11:01 p.m. Saturday, the San Rafael Fire Department reported.

The fire destroyed a kitchen counter, cabinet, a chair, burned wall and floor tile and caused heavy smoke damage to the kitchen and living room, the fire department reported.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the building and $500 to the contents.

Larkspur Council To Hold Hearing

The Larkspur City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall, will hold a public hearing on amendments to the city zoning ordinance recommended by the planning commission.

One of the amendments specifies that tandem parking does not meet requirements for off-street parking.

The council also will set dates for public hearings on the city's proposed general plan and the precise plan for Larkspur center.

Unity Church Man To Speak Thursday

Rev. Joseph P. Haggerty, minister of the North Hollywood Unity Church, will speak on "Why Did This Happen To Me?" at a public meeting Thursday sponsored by Unity Christ Church of Marin.

Haggerty will speak at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Hall, Fourth and Lootens streets, San Rafael. The Marin church congregation meets at the Women's Improvement Club in San Anselmo.

Carmel Driver Hurt In Crash

Williaim Vernon Crowley Jr., 22, of Carmel suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Olima Street, just south of Coloma Street, Sausalito, at 2 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Crowley had stopped his car for a car turning left in front of him, the patrol reported. It was struck from the rear by a car driven by Stephanie L. Cherin, 22, of Gate Five Road, Sausalito, officers reported.

Old PG&E Building To Be Rec Center

Albert Field Center Is Urged

The old Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building at Second and Brooks streets will be the temporary San Rafael Recreation Center when the American Legion Hall on Union Street is vacated at the middle of this month.

The San Rafael City Council last night unanimously authorized City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to rent the building at $400 per month — the same price paid Wilkins Post of the American Legion for the present building, which is to be torn down to make way for a Mayfair supermarket.

Building Inspector Jack Coates recommended against moving the Legion Hall, which was offered to the city free by Mayfair if it would be moved.

Coates found a proposal to move the structure across Fourth Street to city-owned property impractical. It would have to be cut in two, reassembled, added to, stuccoed, and new exits provided, at a cost which Coates figured at $29,000 — and would still leave no room for parking on the city-owned 12,000-square-foot lot.

Moving it would cost an additional $14,000, said Councilman Louis H. Baar.

Coates and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said that for $50,000, the city could put up a recreation hall which would be a better, though smaller, building.

Rodota urged this be done, suggesting it be built on what is now the circular turfed area at Albert Field. Councilmen agreed this would be a better ultimate solution.

Rose Paul, president of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, said that council has been negotiating with the Marin Jewish Community Center and can procure use of its recreation hall for the senior citizen program carried on at the recreation center.

Rodota said, however, that the Jewish Center uses the main floor every day for a nursery school, so only the upstairs would be available, which would not be suitable for the seniors.

Councilmen, in voting to rent the former PG&E building, assumed Marin County will continue to pay half the rent as its subsidy to the senior citizen program.

City Manager Andersen said two of the three present owners of the building had agreed to the $400 monthly rental, and he would attempt to get a commitment of the property for a year. He said little work would be required to convert it to recreation use.

A delegation of elder citizens applaunded when the council vote assured them they would not be left without a place for their activities.

Marinites Enroll For Youth Parley

Marin will be well represented at the three-day Governor's Conference on Youth in Sacramento, Nov. 11-13.

Not only will students from throughout the county be in the Marin delegation headed by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, but there also will be many adults.

Forums are scheduled on education, personal values, human relations, community service participation, the family, jobs, and the public and the law.

Conference speakers will include Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Dr. Roger Heyns, chancellor of University of California at Berkeley.

Many delegates from schools in Marin will be subsidized for the conference by student government funds. Others will be aided by local civic groups, while some will pay their own way, said Lawrence Lindberg, director of instruction in the county schools office.

Three full days of work will be relieved by an evening hootenanny Nov. 11 and a dinner dance at the Senator Hotel Nov. 12th.

Marin delegates are:

San Rafael High School — Jeffrey Allen, Ronald Giomi, Susan McKinnon and Karen Goldberg.

Terra Linda High School — Jeffrey Heintz, Michael Krambs, Virginia Bills and Ellen Greenberg.

POSTER GIRL MEETS GOVERNOR

Kathryn Paydo, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. John Paydo Jr. of 190 Westover Circle, Hamilton Air Force Base, is greeted by Gov. Emund G. Brown after she was chosen poster girl for the Mentally Retarded Children of California. Kathryn was selected in a statewide contest by the California Council for Retarded Children. Besides rallies and meetings scheduled for her in the organization's fund raising campaiggn, Katheryn and her parents will visit movie stars in Hollywood, attend a seminar in Fresno and meet Miss America.

Underground Lines Raise Loud Protest

Residents of the portion of Second Street recently added to San Rafael's underground utilities district complained loud and long last night about being put to the expense of new connections.

Ten of them raised their hands in opposition when City Councilman Louis H. Bear asked for a show of hands. But nearly all the talking during more than an hour of the city council's meeting was by two spokeswomen: Mrs. Arthur Quinn and Mrs. Harry L. Mindle—the latter owner of two apartment houses on the portion of Second Street that used to be West End Avenue.

The council added Second Street from Ida to Marquard streets to the underground utilities district to get unsightly power poles out of the center lane of the newly widened street.

This, said Mrs. Mindle and Mrs. Quinn, was discriminatory.

"There isn't one person on that street who would be benefited by this change," declared Mrs. Quinn. "This three blocks isn't the beginning or the end of anything—it's the middle."

"If it's going to beautify the city, you pay for it," said Mrs. Mindle.

The council, however, voted 4-1 to order removal of overhead lines from the section, with a deadline of next May 1. Councilman Harry A. Barbier dissented.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Postponed indefinitely further action on amending the zoning ordinance to require off-street parking in all downtown areas. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said an extension of the parking district was in the works and might prove the solution.

2. Referred back to the planning commission the proposed planned unit development ordinance, after Acting Planner Charles Linthieum reported he found the procedures for issuing use permits were not clear or definite enough. The ordinance was prepared by former City Planner George H. Rodgers.

3. Upheld an appeal by Bell, Braverman and Gonzalez from planning commission requirement for sidewalks at a subdivision on Frontage Road south of Professional Center Parkway, with a proviso that sidewalk may be required later if called for by development of property farther south.

4. Referred to the public works department and insurance company a claim by Charles Graham for damage to a home at 247 Irwin Street caused by a sewage backup. Graham presented repair estimates ranging from $483 to $542, and said the house is temporarily uninhabitable.

5. Awarded Ames Ford Sales the purchase of a one-ton truck on its low bid of $2,009.34 including tax. Other bidders were Shamrock Dodge, $2,111.36, and Rossi Garage, $2,557.68.

6. Authorized pilings under fire station No. 5 in Glenwood, at estimated additional cost of $10.500, because of mud conditions found there, and set 4 p.m., Dec. 3. at the city fire commission meeting, for opening bids on the building.

7. Named a new street in the Bret Harte area Rice Drive, honoring the late J. B. Rice, and changed the name of Napa Street (also shown as Bay Street on some maps) to Bahia Way.

8. Was informed by City Atty. David Menary Jr. that there are adequate state laws for litter control, and "it's simply a matter of enforcement." The council directed City Manager Andersen to order police to start enforcing the laws, and to meet with municipal court judges to try to assure $50 fines for violators.

9. Approved a change in the group life insurance policy for city employees which will save the city $441 per month with no change in benefits, and will permit employees to extend the coverage to their dependents at cost to the employee of 84 cents per month.

10. Passed the slope policy ordinance unanimously.

11. Passed unanimously an ordinance creating a city finance department.

12. Adopted changes in the personnel policy allowing four weeks vacation after 15 years service and increasing the limit on accrued sick leave from 60 days to 120 days.

13 On Councilman Fred E. Jensen's objection to turning in a used street sweeper on a new one, directed the city manager to try to buy the new sweeper through state purchasing and retain the old one for a spare.

14. Directed Andersen to write the Golden Gate Bridge District board commending its decision to go ahead on a second deck on the bridge.

15. Noted a letter from Dr. Kermit Kors complaining of speeding on Second and Third streets since they were made one-way streets. City Engineer Ely Cailouette was directed to keep traffic signals on the two streets operating around the clock.

16. Set for hearing Nov. 15 at 8 p.m. Gerald Stone's appeal from planning commission turndown of rezoning a house at 188 Prospect Drive from single residential to transient residential.

17. Set for Nov. 17 at 8 p.m., a meeting with the San Rafael Board of Education to discuss the recreation program for next fiscal year.

Fourth Street Parking Idea Hits A Snag

A legal roadblock may prevent the City of San Rafael from converting to parallel parking on Fourth Street.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen last night told the city council that the traffic advisory committee unanimously recommended the diagonal parking be converted to parallel on both sides of Fourth Street between Lincoln Avenue and E Street.

Councilman Charles W. Aby immediately raised the two-pronged question: How many meters would this eliminate, and can the city legally reduce the number of meters in the downtown parking district?

Andersen said it would take 120 metered parking places off Fourth Street. Although he did not say so, this is equal to the number provided by construction of the second deck on the Third and Cijos streets lot.

As to the second question, he did not have the answer.

He was told to find out by the Nov. 15 council meeting.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said that if the meters can be reduced legally, he will still hold a public hearing before acting.

Councilman Louis H. Baar said he was adamantly against the proposed change, which was endorsed by the chamber of commerce. "You're going to drive shoppers off Fourth Street," he declared.

The council took no action on a second proposal of the traffic advisory committee: that all meters on the upper decks of the city's two double-decked lots be changed to five-hour time limit.

Police Cite, Book Youths As Drunks

Four Mill Valley youths were either cited or booked on suspicion of drunkenness inside and outside the city's community and youth center Friday night, police said today.

One boy, 16, was arrested inside the center at the dance and cited to probation department. The other three, all 15, said police, were outside trying to be admitted. Of the three, one was cited and two booked in juvenile hall.

Council Hires Decorator For New City Hall

Casa Marin, San Rafael furnishing house, will design the furnishings and interior decoration of the new city hall.

The San Rafael City Council last night unanimously accepted the offer of Casa Marin to provide the service for a fee of $1,000.

Casa Marin's offer, contained in a letter from Milton Schwartz of the company, further specified that the company will not bid on the furniture and will help the city dispose of surplus furnishings from the old city hall.

R. D. Ralsten of Casa Marin, an interior designer, will be in charge of the design.

The firm was one of three submitting offers. James Hill and Sons of San Francisco asked a fee of $4,372. Stevenson and Sons of San Francisco asked $25 per hour, with no estimate of total cost.

'UNICEF' Art Show Set For Shop Center

There will be an art show Nov. 26-28 at Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, manager Florence Packard of Mill Valley announced today.

The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily on sidewalk malls outside the shops. Theme of the show is "UNICEF."

Dias Ranch Cluster Plans Density Debated; No Vote

School sites, roads and density were discussed by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday during a hearing on the Dias Ranch master plan, a 170-acre development west of Mill Valley.

It was an inconclsive discussion, and the hearing was continued until 2 p.m., Nov. 15.

Commissioners heard a letter from the Mill Valley Planning Commission which cited 1.5 and 2 units per acre density in previous master plans of the area and questioned the 3.5 density proposed.

The Mill Valley commission also recommended that a school site be provided and that trails be open to the public.

The Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. praised the plan, but questioned the 3.5 per acre density. The association urged that a proposed 100-unit hotel be considered separately.

Developer Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto said he is willing to include a school site. He said his architects have found the 3.5 density "close to the ideal" use of the land.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Recommended change of 2.5 acres on Miller Creek at Idylberry Road from church use to single-family residential use in the Marinwood Master Plan.

2. Approved a use permit to Dorina Corda to have a house trailer at 2710 Chileno Valley Road, Chileno Valley.

3. Approved a tentative map for Eichler Homes' 9.8-acre subdivision on Miller Creek between Mount Shasta Drive and Lucas Valley Road.

4. Approved a change from residential estates zoning to planned residential for Borah Lawrence's 1.5 acres on the south side of North San Pedro Road opposite LaBrea way, despite objections from Catherine A. Blades that any development would undermine her home on the cliff above. A cluster of seven units is proposed on the most level section of the land at the east end.

5. Put off until Nov. 15, to allow consideration by the Sausalito Planning Commission, H. A. B. Sneve's proposal for apartments on 3.45 acres on the east side of Highway 101 between Butte Street and Sacramento Avenue, just outside Sausalito.

6. Approved by 6-1 vote an increase from 24 to 36 units in the Greenwood Lagoon Master Plan on 1.2 acres between Greenwood Cove Drive and Barbarie Way. Commissioner Margaret Azevedo dissented, claiming it was too big a change.

7. Turned down David Cass's appeal of a use permit granted by the zoning administrator to Robert Busse, designating a 4,500 square foot lot between Wolfe Grade and Canyon Road a legal building site. Cass, who lives next to the lot, declared it should be used for a drive connecting the two roads.

8. Overruled the zoning administrator's requirements for street dedication from Milton Levy in connection with a lot division at Kings Way and Sunnycrest Avenue in Muir Woods Park. Commissioners William F. Upton and Hugh Dougherty dissented.

9. Approved plans for a storage shed to be added to the Rice Supply Co. warehouse at 16 Auburn Street, east of San Rafael. Commissioners made no comment on contractor Donald Myers's claim that its delays had forced him to lay off workers.

10. Approved grading plans proposed by the Marin Covenant Church at the end of Ellen Drive in Marinwood.

11. Approved the addition of a reception room to Dr. I. N. Tucker's office at 25 Evergreen Avenue, Homestead Valley.

12. Took no action on a letter from Mill Valley designer David Stovel announcing he had applied to the State Division of Beaches and Parks for approval of a restarant at the top of Mount Tamalpais. Commissioners agreed they would review the plans only if the state should grant the application.

13. Adjourned at 6:20 p.m.

Stickers Put Him In Business

College of Marin student Martin McKeay of Novato drew a lot of attention when he manufactured an anti-Viet Nam Day Committee bumper sticker and placed it on the back of his car.

In fact, he says, reaction to his "Stamp Out VDC" sticker has been enough to put him in the bumper sticker business.

McKeay has found 20 youths who, he says, will help him manufacture about 1,000 of the stickers to distribute to students and people in his neighborhood.

"The stickers are to get people aroused," he said. "The next step is to invite speakers to the campus so we can really understand what is going on."

Cosmetics Stolen

Mrs. Margaret S. Carson, an Avon saleswoman, told Corte Madera police that her Avon bag, containing cosmetic samples worth $50, was stolen from her unlocked car in front of 33 Corte Madera Avenue at about 1:45 p.m. Friday.

Golden Hinde Home Is Damaged By $1,500 Fire

A fire, believed to have been caused by a discarded cigarette which ignited a plastic waste basket, caused $1,500 damage at the home of George Compton, 30 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael, at 11:01 p.m. Saturday, the San Rafael Fire Department reported.

The fire destroyed a kitchen counter, cabinet, a chair, burned wall and floor tile and caused heavy smoke damage to the kitchen and living room, the fire department reported.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the building and $500 to the contents.

Larkspur Council To Hold Hearing

The Larkspur City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall, will hold a public hearing on amendments to the city zoning ordinance recommended by the planning commission.

One of the amendments specifies that tandem parking does not meet requirements for off-street parking.

The council also will set dates for public hearings on the city's proposed general plan and the precise plan for Larkspur center.

Unity Church Man To Speak Thursday

Rev. Joseph P. Haggerty, minister of the North Hollywood Unity Church, will speak on "Why Did This Happen To Me?" at a public meeting Thursday sponsored by Unity Christ Church of Marin.

Haggerty will speak at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Hall, Fourth and Lootens streets, San Rafael. The Marin church congregation meets at the Women's Improvement Club in San Anselmo.

Carmel Driver Hurt In Crash

Williaim Vernon Crowley Jr., 22, of Carmel suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Olima Street, just south of Coloma Street, Sausalito, at 2 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Crowley had stopped his car for a car turning left in front of him, the patrol reported. It was struck from the rear by a car driven by Stephanie L. Cherin, 22, of Gate Five Road, Sausalito, officers reported.

Thief Takes Money From Tiburon Home

Mrs. Brownette V. Wayne of 2277 Paradise Drive, Tiburon reported to the Tiburon sheriff's substation Saturday that $40 was stolen from her daughter's dresser Friday

Mrs. Wayne said her daughter, Wendy, discovered the money was missing when she returned home from Redwood High School at 4 p.m. There was no sign of forced entry.

Damage To Window

Someone threw a beer bottle through a large front plate glass window at Marin Upholstery, 1321 Fourth Street, Friday night or early Saturday, Arthur F. Deiters reported to San Rafael police.

Peruvian Coed Finds U.S. Textbooks Bulky

By DIANE BLANKENBURG and CORINNA GNERI
Drake High School

Adding to international understanding, Theresa Corzo is representing Peru through the American Field Service as a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Theresa expresses her wish to exchange ideas with American youths and to understand American culture.

Theresa said that in Peru teenagers attend non-coed, private schools and study 14 subjects a year. Classes are scheduled as in colleges, meeting periodically through the week.

At Drake, Theresa is taking typing, homemaking, physical education, public speaking, U.S. history and English. She finds that the "books are so big" and lunch time is short, compared to the two-hour lunch period in Peru.

"The informality that you live in, it's wonderful," said Theresa when asked what she liked most.

Theresa flew from Miami and toured parts of the United States before arriving in California. She enjoys the contrast of the hills in Marin to the flatlands of Peru, but finds California's climate hard to adjust to.

Peruvian and American teenagers share the same interests in many things. "We have the same Beatle and Beach Boy records, and we buy the same clothes and cars," she said.

However, dating in Peru takes on a different aspect. An evening begins at 6 p.m. and ends about 9 p.m. Boys date one girl, compared to Americans "playing the field."

THERESA CORZO
Likes school spirit

In her soft, melodic accent, Theresa reports that the Indians in Peru are illiterate but are not discriminated against.

Most families have servants. Children tend to depend on and have greater respect for their parents than American teens, she said.

While at Drake Theresa attended her first football game. "It's so exciting" she said.

Stolen Car Found On Pennisula Road

A 1961 Lincoln sedan, stolen Saturday night in San Anselmo, was found Sunday, undamaged, parked near the Richardson Bay Sanitary District treatment plant in the 500 block of Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon.

Owner Roland O. Johnson of 69 Manderly Street, San Rafael, parked the vehicle in front of 47 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, Saturday night. When he returned a few hours later, it was gone.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Whether It's Bible, Philosophy, Man Must Find Rules For Life

VAN DELLEN

When times are bad and everything goes wrong many persons obtain a lift by reading a book or article that offers a ray of hope. The Bible is preferred by some, other like to read about the lives of happy and successful individuals.

Man must have an aim in order to be content and justify his existence. Many are basically unhappy because they have no goal; living is monotonous and they are in a rut. Some have given up in despair and exist, rather than live. This is not what our Creator intended and therein lies the crux of their condition.

HAPPINESS is a state of mind that is acquired by only a few. Most of us think that the other fellow must be happy because his "grass is greener" than ours. In this respect, material gains are uppermost in their mind.

They forget that with wealth comes responsibilities and worry about possessions. The poorer man also has his troubles, concerned chiefly with security, the mortgage, job, education of children, and similar tribulations.

We must look elsewhere for happiness. Some have laid down rules to follow to reach this goal. Sir William Osler had a formula that worked wonders for him. He traced most worries to looking backward or forward and overcame this by living by the day — life in daytight compartments.

The past is gone and he did everything possible to erase yesterday's events from his mind. There should be no concern for tomorrow because that is the future.

HE USED Carlyle's familiar sentence to express his philosophy: "Our main business is not to see what lies dimly at a distance but to do what lies clearly at hand."

A CLEAR conscience is essential to happiness. The golden rule should be practiced in all business and social relationships It is important to understand the real meaning of the expression, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

CHILBLAINS

B. R. writes: Do you know of a cure for pernio?

REPLY

There is no cure, but chilblains can be avoided by keeping the legs warm or by moving to a mild climate. Most victims develop a burning sensation along with redness and occasionally ulceration of the skin over the lower extremities during the winter. Symptoms disappear with warmer weather.

EYES AND FEELINGS

U. K. writes Could eyestrain be on an emotional basis?

REPLY

The muscles of the eye are no different from muscles elsewhere in the body. They can be strained and fatigued from overuse. Recovery follows rest. Emotional factors do not cause eyestrain, but many nervous people complain of poor eyesight even though vision is normal.

POLYURIA

J. A. writes: What causes a person to urinate a lot?

This condition may be associated with diabetes, kidney disorders, or infection along the urinary tract as well as by simpler causes such as nervousness. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on urinary disturbances.

DISPLACED ORGAN

Mrs. T. writes Can a tilted uterus be cured by exercise?

REPLY

The knee-chest and other exercises help, but if the displacement is marked, surgery may be needed to lighten the overstretched ligaments. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on retrodisplacements of the uterus.

BLACKOUT FROM COUGH

N.R. writes: Why does coughing cause a momentary blackout?

REPLY

This is known as cough syncope, which is thought to stem from irritation or oversensitivity of nerve centers in the throat and windpipe. Many victims have an underlying respiratory disorder, such as asthma or chronic bronchitis. Some with this condition undergo the experience only once whereas others have 20 to 30 blackouts a day.

How to save money when there's nothing left to save

If you've got a pocketful of empty, here's a little trick millions of Americans use: save money before you get it. Then forget it. The Payroll Savings Plan supplies the will power.

Just give your employer the go-ahead to set aside a small amount from each paycheck and apply it to the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Before you know it, the Bonds will start rolling in. It's a mighty good way to put those loose coins to work. The ones that always seem to burn a hole in your pocket.

The theory behind the Plan is simple: what you can't see, you won't miss. And it works—for millions of Americans.

If you think it hurts a little, you'll only think so at first. And remember that this is probably the only part of your take-home pay you'll ever see again.

Then the next time you pass your payroll department, stop in and see how pleasant it is to start hanging on to some of your money—with U. S. Savings Bonds.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- √ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- √ You can get your money when you need it
- √ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- √ You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

TELEVISION REVIEW

Theologian Worried Over The Banality

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — An editor of the magazine "Christianity Today" forwards an article in that publication which deals harshly with the new network television season.

In his letter, the editor notes that the article "represents a new venture for us. As a journal written for ministers and professors, we have tended to be aloof from the livelier arts . . . our magazine circulates 240,000, and the number includes the largest interdenominational audience of Protestant ministers in the U.S."

The article was written by Edmund .P Clowney, whom the editor explains is acting president of Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. The crux of Clowney's piece is this:

"To the Christian church the greaest threat of television is not its incitement to violence or lust but its banality . . . a recent study of TV audience attitudes showed that most people feel guilty about the time they waste. The editor (of the study) asks, 'why these calvinistic hesitations about televiewing, in contrast with the self-satisfaction associated with reading?' "

Concerning television-watching, Clowney writes: "Never were so many joined in one cult at one time; never did the common act of so many mean so little. Americans do not really work together, live together, or pray together; they only escape together.

"The tube is still one-way. TV scans live audiences in the thousands at its sports spectaculars, but it cannot zoom in on the Loners and Adams families in the millions who sit and watch at home."

The new television season, writes Clowney, includes "technical triumphs, skilled performances, talented people, but it does not look at life — it looks away. The 'big' new programs do not answer the big questions; they scarcely dare ask them. . . .

"The religious figure appears only as the fanatic seeking vengeance of 'Jesse James,' or the confused preacher whose pacifism is a hazard on the frontier. The most meaningful questions of the new season, overplayed though they are, may be found in 'run for your life.' A man whose months are numbered sees life differently. The threat of death is 'a hand erasing all life's equations and writing new ones.' "

The new programs, adds Clowney, present little hope of a change in formula or pace:

" 'Turn on the action,' as the ads demand, and you have tuned in on formula one . . . escape equals sex times the square of violence. The action shows may be spiced with sex, but violence carries the wallop. The scene is indifferent: War, the West, espionage, the underworld — any battleground will do, except, of course, one that would involve the viewers too race riots must be avoided."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's previously announced one-hour tour of Washington on BC-TV will be broadcast on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 25, at 10 p.m. EST . the popular ballet entitled "The Nutcracker," based on a fairy tale and with music by Tschaikowsky, will be a one-hour pre-Christmas presentation on CBS-TV Dec. 21 . . the ballet was filmed in West Germany, and the music is played by the Philharmonic Orchestra of Budapest, directed by Franz Allers, who has conducted for many Broadway shows.

Congressmen and their wives in Washington; political party workers in Philadelphia and high school students in St. Louis will join in answering the questions of CBS-TV's viewer-participation "National Citizenship Test," to be broadcast next Tuesday.

Peruvian Coed Finds U.S. Textbooks Bulky

By DIANE BLANKENBURG and CORINNA GNERI
Drake High School

Adding to international understanding, Theresa Corzo is representing Peru through the American Field Service as a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Theresa expresses her wish to exchange ideas with American youths and to understand American culture.

Theresa said that in Peru teenagers attend non-coed, private schools and study 14 subjects a year. Classes are scheduled as in colleges, meeting periodically through the week.

At Drake, Theresa is taking typing, homemaking, physical education, public speaking, U.S. history and English. She finds that the "books are so big" and lunch time is short, compared to the two-hour lunch period in Peru.

"The informality that you live in, it's wonderful," said Theresa when asked what she liked most.

Theresa flew from Miami and toured parts of the United States before arriving in California. She enjoys the contrast of the hills in Marin to the flatlands of Peru, but finds California's climate hard to adjust to.

Peruvian and American teenagers share the same interests in many things. "We have the same Beatle and Beach Boy records, and we buy the same clothes and cars," she said.

However, dating in Peru takes on a different aspect. An evening begins at 6 p.m. and ends about 9 p.m. Boys date one girl, compared to Americans "playing the field."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Whether It's Bible, Philosophy, Man Must Find Rules For Life

When times are bad and everything goes wrong many persons obtain a lift by reading a book or article that offers a ray of hope. The Bible is preferred by some, other like to read about the lives of happy and successful individuals.

VAN DELLEN

Man must have an aim in order to be content and justify his existence. Many are basically unhappy because they have no goal; living is monotonous and they are in a rut. Some have given up in despair and exist, rather than live. This is not what our Creator intended and therein lies the crux of their condition.

HAPPINESS is a state of mind that is acquired by only a few. Most of us think that the other fellow must be happy because his "grass is greener" than ours. In this respect, material gains are uppermost in their mind.

They forget that with wealth comes responsibilities and worry about possessions. The poorer man also has his troubles, concerned chiefly with security, the mortgage, job, education of children, and similar tribulations.

We must look elsewhere for happiness. Some have laid down rules to follow to reach this goal. Sir William Osler had a formula that worked wonders for him. He traced most worries to looking backward or forward and overcame this by living by the day — life in daytight compartments.

The past is gone and he did everything possible to erase yesterday's events from his mind. There should be no concern for tomorrow because that is the future.

HE USED Carlyle's familiar sentence to express his philosophy: "Our main business is not to see what lies dimily at a distance but to do what lies clearly at hand."

A CLEAR conscience is essential to happiness. The golden rule should be practiced in all business and social relationships It is important to understand the real meaning of the expression, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

CHILBLAINS

B. R. writes: Do you know of a cure for pernio?

REPLY

There is no cure, but chilblains can be avoided by keeping the legs warm or by moving to a mild climate. Most victims develop a burning sensation along with redness and occasionally ulceration of the skin over the lower extremities during the winter. Symptoms disappear with warmer weather.

EYES AND FEELINGS

U. K. writes Could eyestrain be on an emotional basis?

REPLY

The muscles of the eye are no different from muscles elsewhere in the body. They can be strained and fatigued from overuse. Recovery follows rest. Emotional factors do not cause eyestrain, but many nervous people complain of poor eyesight even though vision is normal.

POLYURIA

J. A. writes: What causes a person to urinate a lot?

This condition may be associated with diabetes, kidney disorders, or infection along the urinary tract as well as by simpler causes such as nervousness. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on urinary disturbances.

DISPLACED ORGAN

Mrs. T. writes Can a tilted uterus be cured by exercise?

REPLY

The knee-chest and other exercises help, but if the displacement is marked, surgery may be needed to lighten the overstretched ligaments. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on retrodisplacements of the uterus.

BLACKOUT FROM COUGH

N.R. writes: Why does coughing cause a momentary blackout?

REPLY

This is known as cough syncope, which is thought to stem from irritation or oversensitivity of nerve centers in the throat and windpipe. Many victims have an underlying respiratory disorder, such as asthma or chronic bronchitis. Some with this condition undergo the experience only once whereas others have 20 to 30 blackouts a day.

If you've got a pocketful of empty, here's a little trick millions of Americans use: save money before you get it. Then forget it. The Payroll Savings Plan supplies the will power.

Just give your employer the go-ahead to set aside a small amount from each paycheck and apply it to the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Before you know it, the Bonds will start rolling in. It's a mighty good way to put those loose coins to work. The ones that always seem to burn a hole in your pocket.

The theory behind the Plan is simple: what you can't see, you won't miss. And it works—for millions of Americans.

If you think it hurts a little, you'll only think so at first. And remember that this is probably the only part of your take-home pay you'll ever see again.

Then the next time you pass your payroll department, stop in and see how pleasant it is to start hanging on to some of your money—with U. S. Savings Bonds.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- √ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- √ You can get your money when you need it
- √ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- √ You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

Whoosh! New Land Mark: 555 MPH

By THAD POULSON

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Craig Breedlove drove his jet-powered car 566 miles per hour today and set a world land speed record of 555.127 m.p.h.

The record is the average of two runs, back and forth, over a measured mile. In his first run the speed was 544.382 m.p.h. and on the return he was timed at 566.394 m.p.h.

The old record set by Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio, was 536.71 m.p.h.

"I never had to work so hard for a record in my life," said Breedlove, who previously had held the world land speed mark three times.

Breedlove said both runs were made with only the first stage of the three-stage afterburner fired.

He said his only bad moment came when his high speed braking parachute failed to function on his second run. After trying to release the chute twice, he released an emergency parachute and came to a safe stop.

When informed of the record, Breedlove was hoisted to the shoulder of his jubilant crew members.

"I was sure he had the record today," said Norman Breedlove, Craig's father. "I'm wearing my lucky shirt — the one I wore when he set his last record."

Breedlove's wife also was on hand to see the record broken.

Arfons probably will try to regain the record next week. He has been waiting to see what Breedlove does.

Both men have jet-powered cars. Their speed record falls into the recently-recognized unlimited class. The record for a piston engine car is 403.1 m.p.h. set by Donald Campbell of England.

Breedlove's car veered off the course earlier this month when he got it up toward the 600 m.p.h. mark and the front end came off the ground. He is expected to try for the 600 mile later this week.

For this run special wings were put on the front end to keep it down.

Breedlove, a 28-year-old former hot rodder from the Los Angeles area, was clocked by the U.S. Auto Club.

His speeds over the measured kilometer were 550.020 m.p.h. on one run and 561.056 m.p.h. on the return, for an average of 555.483 m.p.h.

LONGDEN IS SET DOWN FOR CARELESS RIDING

SAN MATEO (AP) — Johnny Longden, the winningest jockey in history, has received a 10-day suspension for careless riding at Bay Meadows which caused two other riders and their mounts to take spills.

The race track's board of stewards, which announced the suspension yesterday, said that Longden, riding Corrikhal, broke from the outside after the start of the fourth race Saturday and tightened up the 11-horse field.

That, the stewards ruled, caused the horses ridden by jockeys Miguel Yanez and Dean Hall to fall. Both men were bruised and shaken up.

Terrell Retains Title, But Who Really Cares?

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Tuesday, Nov. 2, 1965 29

May Get Shot At Real Champ Clay

TORONTO (AP)—Ernie Terrell still is a champion today, but the crown which sits atop his 6-foot-6 frame still doesn't make him the big man in the world of boxing. He knows this.

Terrell won a unanimous 15-round decision over George Chuvalo last night to remain champion. But he still is only champion of the World Boxing Association, not of the world.

ERNIE TERRELL
Still WBA champ

The man recognized by everyone but the WBA as king of the heavyweights — Cassius Clay — puts his share of the title on the line against Floyd Patterson Nov. 22 in Las Vegas.

Terrell was not a picture of jubilation in his dressing room after making the first defense of the title he won by outpointing Eddie Machen in Chicago last March 5.

"Everyone has always made fun of me, mostly because I'm a singer as well as a fighter," said the champion, who also is head of a musical combo. "I don't know why people get this laughing image of me."

His victory over Chuvalo probably won't change Terrell's public image immediately, but it could do so indirectly because it puts him in line for a shot at the winner of the Clay-Patterson fight — a fight which would give boxing a single heavyweight champion again.

The WBA threw the heavyweight division into its present Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde state by stripping Clay of his crown for signing a return bout contract with Sonny Liston before their first fight in 1964.

The Chicagoan, who had a seven-inch advantage in reach, threw stinging left hand punches to Chuvalo's face almost from the opening bell until the final gong.

Although there were no knockdowns, Terrell, who weighed 206, drew blood from Chuvalo's nose an cut him about both eyes.

Referee Sammy Luftspring scored it 72-65, judge Fred Nobert called it 73-65, and judge Jackie Burke made it 69-65 for Terrell.

The fight was scored under the five-point-must system, in which the winner of a round receives five points and the loser four or less.

The action didn't end with the fight.

Terrell accused Chuvalo of repeating fouling. He pointed to an inch-long gash in his left eyebrow and he said it was caused by butting. He also said Chuvalo kept stepping on his feet.

Chuvalo was bitter about the outcome and said he was "willing to go to the Supreme Court (of Canada)" to protest the decision.

"I can expect a bad decision anywhere else, but not in my home town," said the 28-year-old Chuvalo, who spent 45 minutes behind the locked door of his dressing room shouting at his manager, Irving Ungerman, and his trainer, Bernie Glickman.

He blamed Ungerman for agreeing to fight in Toronto, saying the bout should have been held elsewhere.

A crowd of 12,500 at Maple Leaf Gardens paid $124,456.50 to see Terrell win his 14th straight fight. His record is 38-4. Chuvalo's record is 33-10-4.

Two Yank Netters Advance

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., were the lone Americans to survive their third round singles matches today in the Queensland Lawn Tennis Championships.

Ashe, a UCLA student, defeated fellow American Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 11-9, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4. Rissen, of Northwestern, ousted Owen Davidson of Australia 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, and Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., were eliminated. Australia's Roy Emerson subdued Graebner 10-8, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3 and Bill Bowrey of Australia downed Richey 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Tom Okker of Holland provided the day's biggest upset with a 6-4, 13-15, 6-3, 4-6, 9-7 victory over Tony Roche, fourth ranked among the Australians. The 21-year-old Okker was seeded fifth among the foreign entrants.

The match lasted three hours and produced the best tennis of the tournament so far. Okker kept the pressure on Roche from the start with near faultless play, forcing Roche into errors. Okker will meet Bowrey in the quarter-finals Wednesday.

In other third-round singles matches, John Newcombe of Australia sidelined Roger Taylor of Great Britain 6-4, 6-4, 12-10 and Fred Stolle of Australia disposed of Lew Gerrard of New Zealand 9-7, 6-3, 6-2.

In the women singles quarterfinals, Judy Tegart of Australia turned back Carole Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, 6-3, 6-2.

Herb FitzGibbon of Garden City, N.Y., and Richey won their second round match in the men's doubles, whipping Richard Russell of Jamaica and Colin Stubbs of Australia 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

And that's what I saw Sunday. You didn't think I went to Kezar to watch the game, did you???

Brodie May Be Okay To Play Sunday

Coach Jack Christiansen says that quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers may be sufficiently recovered from his slight shoulder separation to play against Dallas on Sunday.

Christiansen said yesterday, "We'll play it by ear. It's a very slight separation. There's even a possibility he may not even miss this week."

Brodie suffered the injury to his left shoulder in the final quarter of the 49ers' 34-28 loss to Baltimore last Sunday. It was initially believed he would be out for at least 10 days.

The coach said that if it turns out Brodie is unable to start, he would use reserve quarterback George Mira.

Players and their wives yesterday were on hand for dedication ceremonies honoring the late Morabito brothers, Tony and Vic. The brothers founded the 49er team and had the field house at the training headquarters in Redwood City named for them.

After the dedication, Christiansen commented on the tough loss to Baltimore.

"Defensively, we made some mistakes—a couple of key ones. Offensively, we played well in the first half." He praised starting backs Brodie, John Crow and Ken Willard.

Christiansen again declined to criticize the officials although the players were not so generous. They objected most to the call hat gave Baltimore an interception on Crow's halfback pass. Most thought that the ball had dropped to the ground before linebacker Steve Stonebreaker picked it up.

The interception stopped a 49er drive and launched a scoring drive for Baltimore.

Bears Seek Another Clover In Cabbage Patch Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Bears go looking again for the four-leaf clover in a cabbage patch when they meet the invasion of Southern California on Saturday.

So said Coach Ray Willsey at the Northern California Football Writers meeting yesterday and what did he mean when he added:

"We have to play a ball game better than our capabilities to beat the Trojans. I don't think our best game will be enough."

Commenting on the final second touchdown pass that beat Penn State last Saturday, Willsey said, "I guess we found a four-leaf clover in a cabbage patch. Maybe we can find another Saturday."

Although he switched workhorse Tom Telles from wingback to halfback for the Penn State game, Willsey said the 185-pound senior may revert to his former spot for USC.

California goes into the game with a 4-3 record compared with 4-1-1 for the Trojans. Last year against Cal, the great USC halfback was held to only 37 yards rushing, his career low.

Stanford Coach John Ralston told the writers that Washington outplayed his Indians in every phase of the game in winning 41-8. He appeared particularly disappointed in Stanford's kicking game.

"Dave Lewis averaged 47 yards on six kicks, but he was outkicking his coverage," reviewed Ralston, "and Steve Bramwell averaged 15 yards on his runbacks, so the average was only 32 yards. Then Dave had a kick blocked, which is inexcuseable, and we fumbled a fair catch."

Stanford has five Negroes on its squad for the trip to New Orleans to face Tulane on Saturday night. Ralston said he anticipates no racial trouble and said the school has emphatically assured there will be no difficulty .

Back-of-the-week honors went to San Jose State quarterback Ken Berry who hit for 260 yards, a school record, in passing his club to its 27-7 victory over New Mexico.

"Definitely our best game of the year," commented Coach Harry Anderson whose club face University of the Pacific at San Jose on Saturday night.

Marin Cage Clinic Held A Big Success

Marin County basketball clinic at Kentfield Saturday was proclaimed an artistic as well as financial success today by Chairman Cal Riemcke, the College of Marin coach.

The turnout of 320 coaches and officials was the largest in the four-year history of the event, said Riemcke, adding, ". . . and for the first time we made money, or at least broke even."

Riemcke suited up 10 of his College of Marin basketballers to assist the main speakers, coaches Johnny Wooden of UCLA and Glen Albaugh of Cal State at Hayward in demonstrating plays and situations.

Visiting coaches voted the clinic the most successful in the Marin series, said Riemcke.

The affair took on an international flavor with presidents of national basketball federations of three countries in attendance. They were Jan Mekulowski of Poland, Frank Holness of Republic of Panama, and Alberto Trama of Argentina. They were accompanied by interpreters.

Assisting Riemcke on the clinic committee were Harry Pieper, director of athletics at College of Marin; Renato Sotille, the college's student body; and high school coaches Carl Brown of Drake, Eddie Chavez of Tamalpais, Mike Diaz of San Rafael, Dick Hart of Redwood, John Panagikis of Novato, George Starn of Terra Linda and Gus Hassapakis of Marin Catholic.

The British House of Commons was created in the 13th century as a committee of the lesser landlords.

TELEVISION REVIEW

Theologian Worried Over The Banality

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — An editor of the magazine "Christianity Today" forwards an article in that publication which deals harshly with the new network television season.

In his letter, the editor notes that the article "represents a new venture for us. As a journal written for ministers and professors, we have tended to be aloof from the livelier arts . . . our magazine circulates 240,000, and the number includes the largest interdenominational audience of Protestant ministers in the U.S."

The article was written by Edmund .P Clowney, whom the editor explains is acting president of Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. The crux of Clowney's piece is this:

"To the Christian church the greaest threat of television is not its incitement to violence or lust but its banality . . . a recent study of TV audience attitudes showed that most people feel guilty about the time they waste. The editor (of the study) asks, 'why these calvinistic hesitations about televiewing, in contrast with the self-satisfaction associated with reading?' "

Concerning television - watching, Clowney writes: "Never were so many joined in one cult at one time; never did the common act of so many mean so little. Americans do not really work together, live together, or pray together; they only escape together.

"The tube is still one-way. TV scans live audiences in the thousands at its sports spectaculars, but it cannot zoom in on the Loners and Adams families in the millions who sit and watch at home."

The new television season, writes Clowney, includes "technical triumphs, skilled performances, talented people, but it does not look at life — it looks away. The 'big' new programs do not answer the big questions; they scarcely dare ask them. . . .

"The religious figure appears only as the fanatic seeking vengeance of 'Jesse James,' or the confused preacher whose pacifism is a hazard on the frontier. The most meaningful questions of the new season, overplayed though they are, may be found in 'run for your life.' A man whose months are numbered sees life differently. The threat of death is 'a hand erasing all life's equations and writing new ones.' "

The new programs, adds Clowney, present little hope of a change in formula or pace:

" 'Turn on the action,' as the ads demand, and you have tuned in on formula one . . . escape equals sex times the square of violence. The action shows may be spiced with sex, but violence carries the wallop. The scene is indifferent: War, the West, espionage, the underworld — any battleground will do, except, of course, one that would involve the viewers too race riots must be avoided."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's previously announced one-hour tour of Washington on BC-TV will be broadcast on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 25, at 10 p.m. EST . the popular ballet entitled "The Nutcracker," based on a fairy tale and with music by Tschaikowsky, will be a one-hour pre - Christmas presentation on CBS-TV Dec. 21 . . the ballet was filmed in West Germany, and the music is played by the Philharmonic Orchestra of Budapest, directed by Franz Allers, who has conducted for many Broadway shows.

Congressmen and their wives in Washington; political party workers in Philadelphia and high school students in St. Louis will join in answering the questions of CBS-TV's viewer-participation "National Citizenship Test," to be broadcast next Tuesday.

Marin Grid Co-Leaders Face Tough Tests This Week

PREP NOTEBOOK

Drake, Novato Picked To Finish In A Tie

By RALPH CHATOIAN

This coming weekend will be a big one in the red-hot Marin Athletic League flag chase, with rough games for the three top grid teams.

Drake should have its hands full with Terra Linda Friday night, San Rafael should give Novato quite a battle Saturday, and Redwood has a good chance of getting to Tam Saturday. That three-way tie between Drake, Tam and Novato could be reduced before all the smoke of battle clears.

Off the showings of recent games, Drake and Novato are the class teams of the league, while Tam has had to struggle to remain in the title picture.

Who's the best between Novato and Drake? A look at the league standings pretty well tells the story. Drake has scored 81 points in league play and has given up 39. Novato has scored 80 while giving up 40. After four games, two teams couldn't be any closer without scraping whiskers. When they played each other, it was just as close, with Drake nipping the Hornets to win the rest of the way, ending the league slate as co-champs. The road ahead for Tam, against Redwood and Terra Linda, looks too rough for the Indians.

MARIN CATHOLIC, short on numbers but long on desire, gave Tam quite a scare before finally losing last Friday 19-12. Defensive stars for the Wildcats were John Bruemmer, Gary Wittenmeier, Bing Foster, Ed Lencioni and John Komo. That Bruemmer pulled down Tam men for two straight losses, resulting in a third and 51 situation.

FANS WERE wondering why both Tam and Marin Catholic had blue jerseys for their game. It was a mixup between the coaches. Tam coach Willie Hector wanted to use blue because of a shortage of traveling white ones. At least thee helmets and pants were different colors. Hector had ordered more jerseys for his players but they won't arrive until the season's over. But Tam has nothing to be blue about . . . the Injuns are in first place.

ANOTHER RAP against the North Bay Officials Assn., this one from the Marin Catholic fathers (of the players, that is). They were complaining their objections loud and clear in the stands Friday night in Kentfield.

ONE OF the Bay Area radio stations was reporting scores of Saturday football games involving Marin teams before they were even played. It seems some of the young fans like to have a little fun in calling in the hoped-for scores before the games, telling the disc jockeys the games were played Friday. Our office phones were jingling Saturday morning with questions like:

"Did Redwood really beat Novato 53-0 yesterday?" Or, "My boy heard on the radio that Terra Linda beat Manteca 24-7. I thought that game was tonight."

As they all found out by now, it was just wishful thinking. Novato beat Redwood 14-7 and Manteca topped Terra Linda 19-13.

SOME HIGH school football players are injury prone, but Terra Linda's John Forry should carry his own doctor with him in the huddle. Early in the season Forry hurt his shoulder, and after that came a hip pointer. That injury was followed by bruised ankles, one by one. Since his injuries seem to start from the top and work their way down, coach Brad Squires by now must be glad John isn't the team's place-kicker.

JOHN PANAGAKIS, assistant varsity football coach at Novato, but head mentor for the Hornet cagers, was a spectator at the Drake-San Rafael game Friday night (scouting the Bulldogs, of course). He was in deep conversation under the goal posts with San Rafael basketball coach Mike Diaz and they weren't talking football. Yes, it is almost that time.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of basketball, we see that Ken Robinson of Novato, 6-3 and 195 pounds, is a member of the San Francisco State varsity cage squad and he's only a sophomore. Must be new to the county because he didn't play prep ball here.

WOULDN'T IT be great if we got two backfield men out of Marin County in the North-South Shrine All-Star game? Dean Lazzarini, that flash from Drake has the best shot to make the team, but Dick Otis of Novato is another boy who rates a long look from the selection committee. He doesn't have the flashiness of Lazzarini, but when you want three or four important yards, give the ball to Otis and he'll get 'em for you.

What a workhorse that Otis. He carried the ball 31 times Saturday, picking up 147 yards. And although the weather was hotter than you-know-what, he finished the game as strong as a bull. In his last four carries he made gains of 6, 16, 7 and 3 yards. Novato was just going to keep giving the ball to Otis until the gun went off. What a guy to have when you want to run out the clock.

Bellamy To N.Y. In Big NBA Deal

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The newest member of the New York Knickerbockers' basketball team, Walt Bellamy, says, "it's nice to know that somebody wants me."

The 6-foot-11 center was acquired by the Knicks yesterday in a four-player National Basketball Assn. trade with the Baltimore Bullets.

The Bullets acquired forwards Johnny Green and Jim (Bad News) Barnes and guard Johnny Egan, plus an undisclosed amount of cash in the interdivision trade.

"I knew it was coming," said Bellamy, as he packed to leave. "You know in this business that you are sort of on reserve no matter where you're playing."

Bellamy will be going from the frying pan to the fire — both teams are cellar dwellers, the Knicks in the Eastern and the Bullets in the Western Division.

He said he did not mean that he was exactly unwanted in Baltimore, or that he had not tried his hardest for the Bullets. He denied that he had let his average sag to force a trade.

Bellamy, 26, was the man the Bullets hoped would spark a contending team, but he had been dropped from starting lineups in recent games.

The 245-pound Bellamy is a former star for Indiana University. His 24.8 average last season was sixth highest in the NBA.

His professional career average is 27.8. He played for the U.S. Olympic team in 1960. But during the current season Bellamy's average had dropped to 20.3.

Green, 6-foot-5 and 31 years old, averaged 11 points in games last year. The former Michigan State star has a pro average of 13.0.

Barnes, 24, was the Knicks first 1964 draft choice, a 6-foot-8 NBA All-Rookie player last year. He played college ball at Texas Western.

Egan, 6-foot, is 24 years old and a one-time Providence star. He came to the Knicks from the Detroit Pistons in 1963. His average last year was 9.2.

San Rafael '9' Triumphs, 3-2

Litchfield's semi-pro baseball team remained tied for first place in the San Francisco AAA Winter League Sunday, scoring a come-from-behind triumph over New Pisa Restaurant, 3-2.

Going into the bottom of the ninth inning, the San Rafael team was down, 2-1. Doug Wilson, who reached first on an error, scored the tying run on a wild pitch, and then Ron Blum pinch hit a single to knock in the winning run.

Ron Cole, one of three Litchfield pitchers in the game, got credit for the triumph. Cole, over the last 17 innings, has allowed only 12 hits and four runs.

J.V. Quarterback Passes For 3 TD's

Don Stone tossed three touchdown passes, two to Mike Gaffney and the other to Ken Kline, to lead the Drake High School junior varsity gridders to a 20-0 triumph over San Rafael last Friday.

In other junior varsity games, Tamalpais blanked Marin Catholic 31-0 and Novato edged Redwood 12-7.

New Way To Choose Rose Bowl Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West's team for the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1 will be selected Nov. 22—but not the way previous teams have been chosen.

This time the vote will be preceeded by a round-table discussion at San Francisco at which the member schools' athletic directors can discuss the problems of selecting a Rose Bowl team. Among them:

—The contenders in the Pacific Athletic Conference play a different number of conference games.

—The teams' conference play may not show how well they did in non-conference games—as in the case of the University of Southern California Trojans, who beat Notre Dame last year, then lost to them this season.

—The directors aren't required to send the conference champions to the bowl. Their charge is to select "the most representative team."

These problems, and the changes it's hoped will cope with them, were explained yesterday by athletic directors Jess Hill of USC and J. D. Morgan of UCLA at the Los Angeles Football Writers luncheon.

Last year the vote was taken by wire after the USC-Notre Dame game. Despite the Trojans' dramatic win over the unbeaten Irish, the Rose Bowl nod went to Oregon State, which like USC was 3-1 in conference play.

A sample of the current confusion: This season Washington State plays three conference games, UCLA four, USC five. The Cougars meet neither Southern California team. Said Hill:

"Several things will have to be considered, such as the won-and-lost in the conference, overall season records, caliber of the opposition, and so forth. The champion doesn't necessarily go to Pasadena. We are supposed to pick the most representative team."

STAR BLAMES MAUCH FOR PHILS' DIVE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) —Outfielder Wes Covington of the Phillies charged yesterday that Philadelphia skidded from pennant contention in the National League to a sixth place finish this past season because Manager Gene Mauch "lost control of the club."

"The main problem with the Phils was that Mauch allowed the club to be individualistic in its thinking," Covington said in an interview here during a business trip.

Big O Leads NBA Scoring And Assists

The Big O has scored 223 points and contributed 71 assists in seven games. He sat out the Royals' eighth game Sunday night because of an eye injury.

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, not among the 10 leading scorers, has the best field goal percentage — .655 — with 55 out of 84 attempts. The 76ers have played only three games.

Bill Russell of Boston leads in rebounds per game with a 29.1 average, and the Royals' Jerry Lucas leads in total rebounds with 206.

The scoring leaders, through Sunday's games:

MSU Tightens Hold On Top Grid Rating

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State is more firmly entrenched today as the No. 1 college football team in the country, and it looks as if the position will remain comfortable until at least Nov. 20.

That's the day that the Spartans, closing their regular season, take on the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, who have some designs on the national football title themselves.

The Spartans have had rare success against the Irish during the past decade, but last year Notre Dame atoned for a lot of past beatings by smashing the Big Ten power 34-7.

Since losing to Purdue in the second game of the campaign, Ara Parseghian's South Benders have come fast, winning impressively over Northwestern, Army, Southern California and Navy.

They have the sort of running strength and defense that could give the leaders a run for it. They have moved to fourth in the standings.

Iowa, the State foe Saturday, has lost six games and won only one. Indiana, to be met Nov. 13, has won two and lost five.

The Spartans, crushing Northwestern 49-7 last week for their seventh straight victory, so impressed the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters that they collected 36 of the 50 first place votes.

This was enough to give them 481 points — a comfortable lead over Arkansas, which got 11 votes after drubbing Texas A&M 31-0. Nebraska, also unbeaten, got the remaining three first place mentions on narrow 16-14 squeak over Missouri and clung to third place.

Arkansas has three Southwest games remaining — Rice, SMU and Texas Tech — with Texas Tech apparently the strongest threat. Nebraska stands to run out the season's string now with Kansas, Oklahoma State and Oklahoma ahead.

The race for the national title appears to rest among these four powers.

The lower part of the Top Ten standings continues to undergo change with each week.

Alabama, with a 4-1-1 record, is in fifth place, followed by Southern California. The four teams below them are all new — Georgia Tech, UCLA, Missouri and Kentucky. They replaced Louisiana State, Florida, Purdue and Texas, all of whom were beaten.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses, season records and total points figuredon a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Michigan State (36)	7-0	481
2. Arkansas (11)	7-0	457
3. Nebraska (3)	7-0	392
4. Notre Dame	5-1	362
5. Alabama	5-1-1	209
6. Southern California	4-1-1	201
7. Georgia Tech	5-1-1	115
8. UCLA	4-1-1	105
9. Missouri	4-2-1	52
10. Kentucky	5-2	49

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Clemson, Dartmouth, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Ohio State, Princeton, Purdue, Syracuse, Tennessee, Texas, Texas Tech, Tulsa, Utah State, Washington, Washington State, Wyoming.

Paul Brown Denies Rumor He'll Coach Atlanta Team

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Former Cleveland Browns' Coach Paul Brown has flatly denied printed reports that he would be named head coach of the Atlanta Falcons, who make their National Football League debut next season.

Contacted at his La Jolla, Calif., home yesterday, Brown said the story he will coach the Falcons is "absolutely false." Brown said his discussions with Falcon owner Rankin Smith last summer were "more exploratory and social than anything else."

Brown said he met with Smith at that time to offer advice on the operation of a professional football team. He said he has not seen Smith since that time.

Fred Russell, sports editor of the Nashville Banner, reported that Brown would join the Falcons within two weeks. He said Brown, who still draws about $80,000 annually from the Browns on a long-term contract, is eager to return to football.

Smith said he plans to stand by an earlier decision not to name a coach until the current NFL season has ended. "Putting Brown's name in the rumor mill is all right with me. The more the merrier," Smith said. He said a coach probably will be hired in December.

Boston Red Sox Report A Major Trade Brewing

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Manager Billy Herman reports from the Boston Red Sox winter training camp that the club is on the verge of swinging a major trade which would "change the whole complexion" of the team.

Herman told visiting Boston writers that the trade nearly was made during the World Series, but fell through because the other club apparently is waiting for the start of inter-league trading Nov. 21.

Big News For Toxophilites And A Few Words For You Piscators

STEVENS

The U.S. Open Archery Tourney is scheduled for Jan. 21-23, 1966. If you have wanted to have a good excuse to pay a visit to Las Vegas, and you consider yourself a good "Bowbender," now is your chance.

The tournament will be co-sponsored by the Colt's Firearms Division of Colt Industries and the Hotel Sahara.

There will be a $10,000 prize awards tournament, with $8,000 guaranteed cash awards and $2,000 in merchandise. All archers, male and female, professional and amateur, are invited to participate. Prize provisions have been made for Open Class as well as Handicap and Amateur.

A RECENT release reads: "Two indoor professional Archers Association rounds will be shot by individuals and one PAA round will be shot in the team competition. All members of a team must be from the same state and must be individually registered in the tournament. However, there will be a limit to the number of team entries from any one state.

"Individual entry fee is $10 and team entry fee $12 for all entries received by Friday, Jan. 14, 1966.

"Special room rates will be available from the Hotel Sahara."

For additional information write to: Colt's Firearms Division, 150 Huyshope Avenue, Hartford, Connecticut 06102 or Mr. Nicholas Naff, Hotel Sahara, Las Vegas, Nevada.

SO MUCH for the toxophilite readers. Now for the benefit of the local piscators.

As most of you are aware, with a few exceptions, the trout and salmon season statewide closed Sunday and that yesterday was the opening of salmon and trout (including steelhead) season in tidewater streams along the coast. I won't mention the various counties and tidewater streams, but refer you to page 12 of the 1965 California Sport Fishing Regulations. Instead I will report on the "loop" streams north of the Golden Gate to about Fort Bragg.

I TALKED with Ernie Titus on Sunday and asked about the action in the Point Arena stream, the Garcia. Ernie reported quite a few nice silver salman have been taken near the mouth of the Garcia River. Of particular importance at most times is a report of action at the Garcia. It is one of the few streams along the coast that is always open. The Navarro's mouth is closed tightly with many feet of sand piled up. It will take a number of very rainy days to open the bar at the Navarro, and the same thing goes for the mouth of the Navarro and the Gualala. (Both are barbound at this writing.)

AS REGARDS the steelhead, you should expect at the very least three weeks to a month before that highly desirable species start their spawning runs. That goes for all the loop streams from the Russian to the Ten Mile.

For a good many successive years I shoved off for the high northern Klamath and Smith rivers around Nov. 1. The salmon fishing had slowed down to a walk in the Klamath mouth by that time but was prime in the Smith. Currently, the Smith is prime from the mouth upstream past the bridge, and the upper reaches of the Klamath—Orleans, Happy Camp and others—is furnishing both steelhead and salmon. So, delay your try for steelhead in the Loop streams for about 20 to 30 days, and go to the far north for action at present.

Striped Shirts Are Beating The 49ers

SIDELINES

By ED RANDOL

Resistable force met movable object at Kezar Stadium Sunday, and when the seagulls had settled the San Francisco 49ers had lost their second game of the season to the Baltimore Colts and their second heartbreaker in a row. The final score of 34 to 28 wasn't for sure until the last play of the game.

The 49ers out-rushed, outpassed and out-gained the Colts in this one. And they also outdistanced them in penalties. If the 49ers have nightmares they are going to be populated by ogres in striped shirts filling the air with orange hankies.

Only last week Coach Harlan Svare of the Los Angeles Rams took on the NFL officials for favoring Baltimore and Chicago on their home grounds. Either the Colts brought along their own arbiters this time, or the whistle tooters were out to show the league that they were not "homers."

Generally I try to be impartial when it comes to pro football, but I definitely feel that the Niners were the better team both last week and this week and they were beaten more by officiating than by superior play. Sunday the 49ers were called four times for mask grabbing; one of the oldest tricks in the game is for a tackled back to jerk his head down and scream like an eagle. The Colts deserve an Oscar.

It is not only the lost yards that hurt when penalties are called, it is the lost impetus and demoralizing factors that really hurt a team. The 49ers had good drives stopped by some questionable calls, and the Colts benefited by retaining the ball when calls were made on third and fourth down situations.

Until his injury, John Brodie completed 20 for 28 passes, continuing his fantastic seasonal record. It would be a shame if Brodie were forced to the bench for the season in the middle of a great year.

George Mira came off the bench to throw a touchdown pass on his first play and went on to complete 5 for 7 passes as he drove the 49ers to the 16-yard line with just three seconds to go. Had he pulled this one out the little man would have grown in stature.

The only phase of the game that really favored the Colts was the use of the draw play up the middle. Time and again the 49ers were caught off balance by this play. In other matters they gave as good as they took and a little more.

As far as any possible title hopes are concerned, the 49ers are packed up for the season, but this club is not through winning for the year. It is tough to always say "Wait till next year," but we can spend the rest of this year anticipating a title fight in 1966.

Byers New Pilot For Tahoe Miss

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — George Byers Jr., 36, Columbus, Ohio, will take over next year as driver of Tahoe Miss, the hydroplane owned by gambler and sportsman Bill Harrah.

Byers comes to Nevada after driving Miss Madison, the community-owned boat from Madison, Ind. Byers succeeds Chuck Thompson as the Tahoe Miss pilot.

"He's been a good driver for us, but we feel a change may break our streak of bad luck," said Harry Volpi, Harrah's racing manager.

Byers said, "I decided at the outset of the 1965 season that there was only one boat I wanted to drive besides the Miss Madison, and that was the Tahoe Miss. Now the right boat has popped.

"I hope the folks in Madison will approve of my decision to step into what I think is the best race boat in the world."

Whoosh! New Land Mark: 555 MPH

By THAD POULSON

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Craig Breedlove drove his jet-powered car 566 miles per hour today and set a world land speed record of 555.127 m.p.h.

The record is the average of two runs, back and forth, over a measured mile. In his first run the speed was 544.382 m.p.h. and on the return he was timed at 566.394 m.p.h.

The old record set by Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio, was 536.71 m.p.h.

"I never had to work so hard for a record in my life," said Breedlove, who previously had held the world land speed mark three times.

Breedlove said both runs were made with only the first stage of the three-stage afterburner fired.

He said his only bad moment came when his high speed braking parachute failed to function on his second run. After trying to release the chute twice, he released an emergency parachute and came to a safe stop.

When informed of the record, Breedlove was hoisted to the shoulder of his jubilant crew members.

"I was sure he had the record today," said Norman Breedlove, Craig's father. "I'm wearing my lucky shirt — the one I wore when he set his last record."

Breedlove's wife also was on hand to see the record broken.

Arfons probably will try to regain the record next week. He has been waiting to see what Breedlove does.

Both men have jet-powered cars. Their speed record falls into the recently-recognized unlimited class. The record for a piston engine car is 403.1 m.p.h. set by Donald Campbell of England.

Breedlove's car veered off the course earlier this month when he got it up toward the 600 m.p.h. mark and the front end came off the ground. He is expected to try for the 600 mile later this week.

For this run special wings were put on the front end to keep it down.

Breedlove, a 28-year-old former hot rodder from the Los Angeles area, was clocked by the U.S. Auto Club.

His speeds over the measured kilometer were 550.020 m.p.h. on one run and 561.056 m.p.h. on the return, for an average of 555.483 m.p.h.

LONGDEN IS SET DOWN FOR CARELESS RIDING

SAN MATEO (AP) — Johnny Longden, the winningest jockey in history, has received a 10-day suspension for careless riding at Bay Meadows which caused two other riders and their mounts to take spills.

The race track's board of stewards, which announced the suspension yesterday, said that Longden, riding Corrikhal, broke from the outside after the start of the fourth race Saturday and tightened up the 11-horse field.

That, the stewards ruled, caused the horses ridden by jockeys Miguel Yanez and Dean Hall to fall. Both men were bruised and shaken up.

Terrell Retains Title, But Who Really Cares?

May Get Shot At Real Champ Clay

TORONTO (AP)—Ernie Terrell still is a champion today, but the crown which sits atop his 6-foot-6 frame still doesn't make him the big man in the world of boxing. He knows this.

Terrell won a unanimous 15-round decision over George Chuvalo last night to remain champion. But he still is only champion of the World Boxing Association, not of the world.

The man recognized by everyone but the WBA as king of the heavyweights — Cassius Clay — puts his share of the title on the line against Floyd Patterson Nov. 22 in Las Vegas.

"Everyone has always made fun of me, mostly because I'm a singer as well as a fighter," said the champion, who also is head of a musical combo. "I don't know why people get this laughing image of me."

His victory over Chuvalo probably won't change Terrell's public image immediately, but it could do so indirectly because it puts him in line for a shot at the winner of the Clay-Patterson fight — a fight which would give boxing a single heavyweight champion again.

The WBA threw the heavyweight division into its present Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde state by stripping Clay of his crown for signing a return bout contract with Sonny Liston before their first fight in 1964.

The Chicagoan, who had a seven-inch advantage in reach, threw stinging left hand punches to Chuvalo's face almost from the opening bell until the final gong.

Although there were no knockdowns, Terrell, who weighed 206, drew blood from Chuvalo's nose an cut him about both eyes.

Referee Sammy Luftspring scored it 72-65, judge Fred Nobert called it 73-65, and judge Jackie Burke made it 69-65 for Terrell.

The fight was scored under the five-point-must system, in which the winner of a round receives five points and the loser four or less.

The action didn't end with the fight.

Terrell accused Chuvalo of repeating fouling. He pointed to an inch-long gash in his left eyebrow and he said it was caused by butting. He also said Chuvalo kept stepping on his feet.

Chuvalo was bitter about the outcome and said he was "willing to go to the Supreme Court (of Canada)" to protest the decision.

"I can expect a bad decision anywhere else, but not in my home town," said the 28-year-old Chuvalo, who spent 45 minutes behind the locked door of his dressing room shouting at his manager, Irving Ungerman, and his trainer, Bernie Glickman.

He blamed Ungerman for agreeing to fight in Toronto, saying the bout should have been held elsewhere.

A crowd of 12,500 at Maple Leaf Gardens paid $124,456.50 to see Terrell win his 14th straight fight. His record is 38-4. Chuvalo's record is 33-10-4.

Two Yank Netters Advance

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., were the lone Americans to survive their third round singles matches today in the Queensland Lawn Tennis Championships.

Ashe, a UCLA student, defeated fellow American Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 11-9, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4. Rissen, of Northwestern, ousted Owen Davidson of Australia 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, and Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., were eliminated. Australia's Roy Emerson subdued Graebner 10-8, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3 and Bill Bowrey of Australia downed Richey 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Tom Okker of Holland provided the day's biggest upset with a 6-4, 13-15, 6-3, 4-6, 9-7 victory over Tony Roche, fourth ranked among the Australians. The 21-year-old Okker was seeded fifth among the foreign entrants.

The match lasted three hours and produced the best tennis of the tournament so far. Okker kept the pressure on Roche from the start with near faultless play, forcing Roche into errors. Okker will meet Bowrey in the quarter-finals Wednesday.

In other third-round singles matches, John Newcombe of Australia sidelined Roger Taylor of Great Britain 6-4, 6-4, 12-10 and Fred Stolle of Australia disposed of Lew Gerrard of New Zealand 9-7, 6-3, 6-2.

In the women singles quarterfinals, Judy Tegart of Australia turned back Carole Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, 6-3, 6-2.

Herb FitzGibbon of Garden City, N.Y., and Richey won their second round match in the men's doubles, whipping Richard Russell of Jamaica and Colin Stubbs of Australia 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

KEZAR KALEIDOSCOPE:

Brodie May Be Okay To Play Sunday

Coach Jack Christiansen says that quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers may be sufficiently recovered from his slight shoulder separation to play against Dallas on Sunday.

Christiansen said yesterday, "We'll play it by ear. It's a very slight separation. There's even a possibility he may not even miss this week."

Brodie suffered the injury to his left shoulder in the final quarter of the 49ers' 34-28 loss to Baltimore last Sunday. It was initially believed he would be out for at least 10 days.

The coach said that if it turns out Brodie is unable to start, he would use reserve quarterback George Mira.

Players and their wives yesterday were on hand for dedication ceremonies honoring the late Morabito brothers, Tony and Vic. The brothers founded the 49er team and had the field house at the training headquarters in Redwood City named for them.

After the dedication, Christiansen commented on the tough loss to Baltimore.

"Defensively, we made some mistakes—a couple of key ones. Offensively, we played well in the first half." He praised starting backs Brodie, John Crow and Ken Willard.

Christiansen again declined to criticize the officials although the players were not so generous. They objected most to the call hat gave Baltimore an interception on Crow's halfback pass. Most thought that the ball had dropped to the ground before linebacker Steve Stonebreaker picked it up.

The interception stopped a 49er drive and launched a scoring drive for Baltimore.

Bears Seek Another Clover In Cabbage Patch Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Bears go looking again for the four-leaf clover in a cabbage patch when they meet the invasion of Southern California on Saturday.

So said Coach Ray Willsey at the Northern California Football Writers meeting yesterday and what did he mean when he added:

"We have to play a ball game better than our capabilities to beat the Trojans. I don't think our best game will be enough."

Commenting on the final second touchdown pass that beat Penn State last Saturday, Willsey said, "I guess we found a four-leaf clover in a cabbage patch. Maybe we can find another Saturday."

Although he switched workhorse Tom Telles from wingback to halfback for the Penn State game, Willsey said the 185-pound senior may revert to his former spot for USC.

California goes into the game with a 4-3 record compared with 4-1-1 for the Trojans. Last year against Cal, the great USC halfback was held to only 37 yards rushing, his career low.

Stanford Coach John Ralston told the writers that Washington outplayed his Indians in every phase of the game in winning 41-8. He appeared particularly disappointed in Stanford's kicking game.

"Dave Lewis averaged 47 yards on six kicks, but he was outkicking his coverage," reviewed Ralston, "and Steve Bramwell averaged 15 yards on his runbacks, so the average was only 32 yards. Then Dave had a kick blocked, which is inexcuseable, and we fumbled a fair catch."

Stanford has five Negroes on its squad for the trip to New Orleans to face Tulane on Saturday night. Ralston said he anticipates no racial trouble and said the school has emphatically assured there will be no difficulty .

Back-of-the-week honors went to San Jose State quarterback Ken Berry who hit for 260 yards, a school record, in passing his club to its 27-7 victory over New Mexico.

"Definitely our best game of the year," commented Coach Harry Anderson whose club face University of the Pacific at San Jose on Saturday night.

Marin Cage Clinic Held A Big Success

Marin County basketball clinic at Kentfield Saturday was proclaimed an artistic as well as financial success today by Chairman Cal Riemcke, the College of Marin coach.

The turnout of 320 coaches and officials was the largest in the four-year history of the event, said Riemcke, adding, ". . . and for the first time we made money, or at least broke even."

Riemcke suited up 10 of his College of Marin basketballers to assist the main speakers, coaches Johnny Wooden of UCLA and Glen Albaugh of Cal State at Hayward in demonstrating plays and situations.

Visiting coaches voted the clinic the most successful in the Marin series, said Riemcke.

The affair took on an international flavor with presidents of national basketball federations of three countries in attendance. They were Jan Mekulowski of Poland, Frank Holness of Republic of Panama, and Alberto Trama of Argentina. They were accompanied by interpreters.

Assisting Riemcke on the clinic committee were Harry Pieper, director of athletics at College of Marin; Renato Sotille, the college's student body; and high school coaches Carl Brown of Drake, Eddie Chavez of Tamalpais, Mike Diaz of San Rafael, Dick Hart of Redwood, John Panagikis of Novato, George Starn of Terra Linda and Gus Hassapakis of Marin Catholic.

The British House of Commons was created in the 13th century as a committee of the lesser landlords.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

Rubber Play Conservative; Tourney Play Sharp On Tricks

When you're defending at rubber bridge you make sure of the setting trick and then look around for extra tricks.

In tournament bridge you must sometimes look for the extra trick before you have made quite sure of the setting trick.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one notrump or two spades.

The hand is not strong enough for a response of two hears. Prefer the raise in spades if your partner avoids opening with a weak four-card spade suit.

West opens the ace of diamonds and switches to the three of hearts.

At rubber bridge East would take the act of hearts and return a diamond for West to ruff.

West would cash the king of hearts to take the setting trick, and both defenders would go on to the next hand glowing with satisfaction.

NOT FOR TOURNEY

This fine new book by Norman Kay, Fred Karpin and the late Sidney Silodor observes that East-West should try for 200 points.

If East trusts his partner, he should play the queen of hearts at the second trick instead of the act of hearts. If West is a fine player he will lead the three of hearts only if he has a high heart, which must be the king. If West's hearts were headed by the ten he would lead the ten or some high card to indicate that there is no future in the suit from his point of view.

GETS TWO RUFFS

If East wins the second trick with the queen of hearts he can lead a diamond for West to ruff, and West then leads another heart to the ace to get a second diamond ruff.

The same result is accomplished if East takes the ace of hearts first and returns the ten of diamonds to indicate that he has a possible entry in the high side suit (hearts rather than clubs). West ruffs and leads a low heart to the queen instead of cashing the king of hearts.

This is splendid and necessary in tournaments, but a waste of time at rubber bridge.

Suit your methods to the game you are playing.

Marin Grid Co-Leaders Face Tough Tests This Week

PREP NOTEBOOK

Drake, Novato Picked To Finish In A Tie

By RALPH CHATOIAN

This coming weekend will be a big one in the red-hot Marin Athletic League flag chase, with rough games for the three top grid teams.

Drake should have its hands full with Terra Linda Friday night, San Rafael should give Novato quite a battle Saturday, and Redwood has a good chance of getting to Tam Saturday. That three-way tie between Drake, Tam and Novato could be reduced before all the smoke of battle clears.

Off the showings of recent games, Drake and Novato are the class teams of the league, while Tam has had to struggle to remain in the title picture.

Who's the best between Novato and Drake? A look at the league standings pretty well tells the story. Drake has scored 81 points in league play and has given up 39. Novato has scored 80 while giving up 40. After four games, two teams couldn't be any closer without scraping whiskers. When they played each other, it was just as close, with Drake nipping the Hornets to win the rest of the way, ending the league slate as co-champs. The road ahead for Tam, against Redwood and Terra Linda, looks too rough for the Indians.

MARIN CATHOLIC, short on numbers but long on desire, gave Tam quite a scare before finally losing last Friday 19-12. Defensive stars for the Wildcats were John Bruemmer, Gary Wittenmeier, Bing Foster, Ed Lencioni and John Komo. That Bruemmer pulled down Tam men for two straight losses, resulting in a third and 51 situation.

FANS WERE wondering why both Tam and Marin Catholic had blue jerseys for their game. It was a mixup between the coaches. Tam coach Willie Hector wanted to use blue because of a shortage of traveling white ones. At least thee helmets and pants were different colors. Hector had ordered more jerseys for his players but they won't arrive until the season's over. But Tam has nothing to be blue about . . . the Injuns are in first place.

ANOTHER RAP against the North Bay Officials Assn., this one from the Marin Catholic fathers (of the players, that is). They were complaining their objections loud and clear in the stands Friday night in Kentfield.

ONE OF the Bay Area radio stations was reporting scores of Saturday football games involving Marin teams before they were even played. It seems some of the young fans like to have a little fun in calling in the hoped-for scores before the games, telling the disc jockeys the games were played Friday. Our office phones were jingling Saturday morning with questions like:

"Did Redwood really beat Novato 53-0 yesterday?" Or, "My boy heard on the radio that Terra Linda beat Manteca 24-7. I thought that game was tonight."

As they all found out by now, it was just wishful thinking. Novato beat Redwood 14-7 and Manteca topped Terra Linda 19-13.

SOME HIGH school football players are injury prone, but Terra Linda's John Forry should carry his own doctor with him in the huddle. Early in the season Forry hurt his shoulder, and after that came a hip pointer. That injury was followed by bruised ankles, one by one. Since his injuries seem to start from the top and work their way down, coach Brad Squires by now must be glad John isn't the team's place-kicker.

JOHN PANAGAKIS, assistant varsity football coach at Novato, but head mentor for the Hornet cagers, was a spectator at the Drake-San Rafael game Friday night (scouting the Bulldogs, of course). He was in deep conversation under the goal posts with San Rafael basketball coach Mike Diaz and they weren't talking football. Yes, it is almost that time.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of basketball, we see that Ken Robinson of Novato, 6-3 and 195 pounds, is a member of the San Francisco State varsity cage squad and he's only a sophomore. Must be new to the county because he didn't play prep ball here.

WOULDN'T IT be great if we got two backfield men out of Marin County in the North-South Shrine All-Star game? Dean Lazzarini, that flash from Drake has the best shot to make the team, but Dick Otis of Novato is another boy who rates a long look from the selection committee. He doesn't have the flashiness of Lazzarini, but when you want three or four important yards, give the ball to Otis and he'll get 'em for you.

What a workhorse that Otis. He carried the ball 31 times Saturday, picking up 147 yards. And although the weather was hotter than you-know-what, he finished the game as strong as a bull. In his last four carries he made gains of 6, 16, 7 and 3 yards. Novato was just going to keep giving the ball to Otis until the gun went off. What a guy to have when you want to run out the clock.

Bellamy To N.Y. In Big NBA Deal

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The newest member of the New York Knickerbockers' basketball team, Walt Bellamy, says, "it's nice to know that somebody wants me."

The 6-foot-11 center was acquired by the Knicks yesterday in a four-player National Basketball Assn. trade with the Baltimore Bullets.

The Bullets acquired forwards Johnny Green and Jim (Bad News) Barnes and guard Johnny Egan, plus an undisclosed amount of cash in the interdivision trade.

"I knew it was coming," said Bellamy, as he packed to leave. "You know in this business that you are sort of on reserve no matter where you're playing."

Bellamy will be going from the frying pan to the fire — both teams are cellar dwellers, the Knicks in the Eastern and the Bullets in the Western Division.

He said he did not mean that he was exactly unwanted in Baltimore, or that he had not tried his hardest for the Bullets. He denied that he had let his average sag to force a trade.

Bellamy, 26, was the man the Bullets hoped would spark a contending team, but he had been dropped from starting lineups in recent games.

The 245-pound Bellamy is a former star for Indiana University. His 24.8 average last season was sixth highest in the NBA.

His professional career average is 27.8. He played for the U.S. Olympic team in 1960. But during the current season Bellamy's average had dropped to 20.3.

Green, 6-foot-5 and 31 years old, averaged 11 points in games last year. The former Michigan State star has a pro average of 13.0.

Barnes, 24, was the Knicks first 1964 draft choice, a 6-foot-8 NBA All-Rookie player last year. He played college ball at Texas Western.

Egan, 6-foot, is 24 years old and a one-time Providence star. He came to the Knicks from the Detroit Pistons in 1963. His average last year was 9.2.

San Rafael '9' Triumphs, 3-2

Litchfield's semi-pro baseball team remained tied for first place in the San Francisco AAA Winter League Sunday, scoring a come-from-behind triumph over New Pisa Restaurant, 3-2.

Going into the bottom of the ninth inning, the San Rafael team was down, 2-1. Doug Wilson, who reached first on an error, scored the tying run on a wild pitch, and then Ron Blum pinch hit a single to knock in the winning run.

Ron Cole, one of three Litchfield pitchers in the game, got credit for the triumph. Cole, over the last 17 innings, has allowed only 12 hits and four runs.

J.V. Quarterback Passes For 3 TD's

Don Stone tossed three touchdown passes, two to Mike Gaffney and the other to Ken Kline, to lead the Drake High School junior varsity gridders to a 20-0 triumph over San Rafael last Friday.

In other junior varsity games, Tamalpais blanked Marin Catholic 31-0 and Novato edged Redwood 12-7.

New Way To Choose Rose Bowl Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West's team for the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1 will be selected Nov. 22—but not the way previous teams have been chosen.

This time the vote will be preceeded by a round-table discussion at San Francisco at which the member schools' athletic directors can discuss the problems of selecting a Rose Bowl team. Among them:

—The contenders in the Pacific Athletic Conference play a different number of conference games.

—The teams' conference play may not show how well they did in non-conference games—as in the case of the University of Southern California Trojans, who beat Notre Dame last year, then lost to them this season.

—The directors aren't required to send the conference champions to the bowl. Their charge is to select "the most representative team."

These problems, and the changes it's hoped will cope with them, were explained yesterday by athletic directors Jess Hill of USC and J. D. Morgan of UCLA at the Los Angeles Football Writers luncheon.

Last year the vote was taken by wire after the USC-Notre Dame game. Despite the Trojans' dramatic win over the unbeaten Irish, the Rose Bowl nod went to Oregon State, which like USC was 3-1 in conference play.

A sample of the current confusion: This season Washington State plays three conference games, UCLA four, USC five. The Cougars meet neither Southern California team. Said Hill:

"Several things will have to be considered, such as the won-and-lost in the conference, overall season records, caliber of the opposition, and so forth. The champion doesn't necessarily go to Pasadena. We are supposed to pick the most representative team."

STAR BLAMES MAUCH FOR PHILS' DIVE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) —Outfielder Wes Covington of the Phillies charged yesterday that Philadelphia skidded from pennant contention in the National League to a sixth place finish this past season because Manager Gene Mauch "lost control of the club."

"The main problem with the Phils was that Mauch allowed the club to be individualistic in its thinking," Covington said in an interview here during a business trip.

Big O Leads NBA Scoring And Assists

The Big O has scored 223 points and contributed 71 assists in seven games. He sat out the Royals' eighth game Sunday night because of an eye injury.

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, not among the 10 leading scorers, has the best field goal percentage — .655 — with 55 out of 84 attempts. The 76ers have played only three games.

Bill Russell of Boston leads in rebounds per game with a 29.1 average, and the Royals' Jerry Lucas leads in total rebounds with 206.

MSU Tightens Hold On Top Grid Rating

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State is more firmly entrenched today as the No. 1 college football team in the country, and it looks as if the position will remain comfortable until at least Nov. 20.

That's the day that the Spartans, closing their regular season, take on the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, who have some designs on the national football title themselves.

The Spartans have had rare success against the Irish during the past decade, but last year Notre Dame atoned for a lot of past beatings by smashing the Big Ten power 34-7.

Since losing to Purdue in the second game of the campaign, Ara Parseghian's South Benders have come fast, winning impressively over Northwestern, Army, Southern California and Navy.

They have the sort of running strength and defense that could give the leaders a run for it. They have moved to fourth in the standings.

Iowa, the State foe Saturday, has lost six games and won only one. Indiana, to be met Nov. 13, has won two and lost five.

The Spartans, crushing Northwestern 49-7 last week for their seventh straight victory, so impressed the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters that they collected 36 of the 50 first place votes.

This was enough to give them 481 points — a comfortable lead over Arkansas, which got 11 votes after drubbing Texas A&M 31-0. Nebraska, also unbeaten, got the remaining three first place mentions on narrow 16-14 squeak over Missouri and clung to third place.

Arkansas has three Southwest games remaining — Rice, SMU and Texas Tech — with Texas Tech apparently the strongest threat. Nebraska stands to run out the season's string now with Kansas, Oklahoma State and Oklahoma ahead.

The race for the national title appears to rest among these four powers.

The lower part of the Top Ten standings continues to undergo change with each week.

Alabama, with a 4-1-1 record, is in fifth place, followed by Southern California. The four teams below them are all new — Georgia Tech, UCLA, Missouri and Kentucky. They replaced Louisiana State, Florida, Purdue and Texas, all of whom were beaten.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses, season records and total points figuredon a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Michigan State (36)	7-0	481
2. Arkansas (11)	7-0	457
3. Nebraska (3)	7-0	392
4. Notre Dame	5-1	362
5. Alabama	5-1-1	209
6. Southern California	4-1-1	201
7. Georgia Tech	5-1-1	115
8. UCLA	4-1-1	105
9. Missouri	4-2-1	52
10. Kentucky	5-2	49

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Clemson, Darmouth, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Ohio State, Princeton, Purdue, Syracuse, Tennessee, Texas, Texas Tech, Tulsa, Utah State, Washington, Washington State, Wyoming.

Fisher Captures M.V. Golf Crown

In the semi-finals Fisher had defeated Bob Paterson 3 and 2 while Norwick eliminated Al Walton 5 and 4.

Paul Brown Denies Rumor He'll Coach Atlanta Team

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Former Cleveland Browns' Coach Paul Brown has flatly denied printed reports that he would be named head coach of the Atlanta Falcons, who make their National Football League debut next season.

Contacted at his La Jolla, Calif., home yesterday, Brown said the story he will coach the Falcons is "absolutely false." Brown said his discussions with Falcon owner Rankin Smith last summer were "more exploratory and social than anything else."

Brown said he met with Smith at that time to offer advice on the operation of a professional football team. He said he has not seen Smith since that time.

Fred Russell, sports editor of the Nashville Banner, reported that Brown would join the Falcons within two weeks. He said Brown, who still draws about $80,000 annually from the Browns on a long- term contract, is eager to return to football.

Smith said he plans to stand by an earlier decision not to name a coach until the current NFL season has ended. "Putting Brown's name in the rumor mill is all right with me. The more the merrier," Smith said. He said a coach probably will be hired in December.

Boston Red Sox Report A Major Trade Brewing

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Manager Billy Herman reports from the Boston Red Sox winter training camp that the club is on the verge of swinging a major trade which would "change the whole complexion" of the team.

Herman told visiting Boston writers that the trade nearly was made during the World Series, but fell through because the other club apparently is waiting for the start of inter-league trading Nov. 21.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

New Maternity Shop To Open; Elite Barber At New Location

Planned to open in Strawberry Town and Country Village this month — about the 18th, I believe — is Expectation Maternity Shop, sixth store of a 20-year old firm headquartered in San Francisco.

After living in Belvedere eight years, owner Joel Horowitz has come to the conclusion that Marin County's continuing population growth is not caused entirely by the influx of new arrivals from other areas and natural causes also have something to do with it. Ergo, this type of business should do at least as well here as in downtown San Francisco, Stonestown, Oakland, Sacramento and Modesto where his other stores are located.

He has taken about 1,000 square feet in the area near Bath Renaissance and Little Daisy.

ALSO IN Town and Country Village, the Village Shoe Den, opened last June next to the Hick'ry Pit of Marin, will move to quarters three times as large near Bath Renaissance by Dec. 1. Former owner Sardis Nahigian died of a heart attack in September and his son Edward, who worked with him in the store, has taken over management of the business.

He is adding a women's shoe department and will carry lines of California Debs and Delicio Debs. Men's shoe line is Florsheim.

Hick'ry Pit will expand into the rear part of the present location and the front will be occupied by a jewelry store.

LARKSPUR REAL ESTATE firm of Broessel and Schaefer is now two separate firms—Sue Schaefer Realtor, which remains at 537 Magnolia Avenue, and Dorland A. Broessel Realtor, at 512 Magnolia Avenue, former office of the late Mabelle Culpepper.

ELITE BARBER SHOP that was already a landmark at 936 Fourth Street, San Rafael when World War I was being fought has been closed since it was burned out in September. It was scheduled to open today at a new address — 1117 Fourth Street.

Between Andrew Pedroli who started it and his son Allen who took over the business five years ago, the shop has been in the family about 45 years.

Sinclair

The new one is narrower, but deeper, and has a rear entrance from the city parking lot on Third Street.

NEW ASSISTANT MANAGER at the Northgate office of Crocker-Citizens National Bank is Harold W. Sinclair, who has been entered in the bank's administrative training program since last year. He started work at the Market and Fourth Street office in 1959 and has also served in the loan department at other San Francisco offices.

JOHN BATESON of San Rafael has been appointed assistant to the controller at Bank of America. He has been with the bank 10 years.

JAMES CORBY of Sausalito has been made research director at KPIX television. He has previously worked in market research for the National Tuberculosis Assn., the Alfred Politz Co. and the Massachusetts Port Authority. His broadcast background includes a year in the production department at WNBF-TV, Binghamton, N.Y.

WAGNER D'ALESSIO of Ross, president of California Casualty Indemnity Exchange, has been awarded a Chartered Life Underwriter designation from the American College of Life Underwriters in St. Louis. D'Alessio in two years covered a course that for the average person usually extends from four to five years. He has been with California Casualty since 1929.

U.S. To Sell Mortgages To Investors

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam is planning to take a good-sized step toward getting out of the lending business. On Dec. 1, the government-owned Federal National Mortgage Assn. will, in effect, sell $375 million worth of home mortgages to private investors.

Fanny Mae, as this agency has long been nicknamed, isn't actually delivering the mortgages. Rather, it is offering certificates of participation in a pool of thousands of home loans.

MONEY IN BANK

The association will retain title to the actual mortgages. But it guarantees the principal and interest on the certificates. And since Fanny Mae is an arm of the United States, that guarantee is as good as money in the bank.

Fanny Mae originally acquired the mortgages from builders and mortgage lenders, who found themselves loaded with paper not attractive to regular investors, or with no more room to take on new loans. Thus, the association is really a vehicle for pumping government money into mortgages.

TWO MOTIVES

In the current fiscal year — 1966—Fanny Mae hopes to dispose of $1.3 billion worth of mortgages that have been insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. Around 300,000 individual loans would be included.

The Johnson administration has two motives in selling the certificates of participation:

1. It would like to minimize the government's role in a field in which private enterprise can successfully operate.

2. It would like to use the proceeds to reduce the federal spending totals, and the federal deficit, for this fiscal year.

So far, $525 million worth of mortgages have been sold to private lenders by the certificate route since this fiscal year began. Chances are there will be additional sales before June 30, if private lenders seem receptive.

CHEF'S SPECIAL

Pet Palate Pleased By Gourmet Recipes

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicken croquettes, mixed grill, a meatball dinner for Rover? They're making gourmet dog food now for particular pets.

Pet food was a $654.6 million market in the United States last year. It nearly has doubled since 1958. Predictions are that it will run more than a billion dollars by 1975.

Sales of pet food are growing despite a drop in the number of dogs and cats.

The dog population has declined from 24.1 million in 1961 to 22.9 million in 1965, according to a market research report. The cat population went down from 22.1 to 16.7 million during the same time.

But manufacturers are selling more dog and cat food. Sales the first six months of 1965 were up 10 per cent from 1964.

Trade sources say that is because more of the pets are owned by city and suburban families, which traditionally have been heavier buyers of commercially prepared pet foods.

Eye appeal and convenience pet foods are the order of the day. Pet foods are being made to look like human ones. Advertisements show juicy red steaks or meatloaf touched with parsley.

There is what is billed as a gourmet cat food, compounded of liver, kidney, chicken, meat and fish to appeal to the most fastidious Siamese.

The big pet food companies are going all out to keep pets from feeding on the family's leftovers or sharing its meals.

In the past decade, the big swing has been to packaged dry foods, pellets expanded by air or steam. Manufacturers say they are cheaper than canned food, neater and offer a more uniform product.

Then one manufacturer came up with a gravy made by adding water. Others followed with their own chunks with sauces.

Now there also are soft moist pet foods which come in various forms — hamburger patties or meatballs. Some are individually wrapped in meal-sized packages that don't need to be stored in the refrigerator.

The pet food manufacturers say the new dog and cat owners want small packages that don't require refrigeration or anything to be added before serving.

One brand even comes packaged with individual plastic trays, eliminating the need of a dish.

Pan-Am Airways Profits Increase

NEW YORK—Net income of Pan American Airways for the first nine months of 1965 before special items was $38,928,000, or $2.72 per share on 14,322,815 average shares outstanding.

A special item of $4.8 million, or 34 cents per share previously reported for the second quarter of the year, brings Pan Am's net income for nine months up to $43,728,000, or $3.06 per share, an increase of 27.7 per cent above the net income of $34,238,000 for the corresponding period in 1964.

The special item reported for the second quarter reflects purchase by Pan Am in April of full insurance and discontinuance of self insurance.

Corporations Are All Set To Pay Some Big Dividends

By ADVANCE NEWS

WASHINGTON—The nation's corporations will have some very pleasant news for their stockholders during the next two months. Their boards of directors will announce fat dividend payments — increases in regular dividend rates, plus lush year end extras.

Government statistics show that dividend payments for the first nine months of the year are already running 8.3 per cent ahead of the comparable period of 1964. Economists in Washington expect the pay-outs in the remaining quarter of the year to widen the gain.

The basis for this forecast is the huge profits being rolled up by U.S. business. Company after company is showing prodigious gains over a year ago. New records are commonplace.

Corporate profits before taxes are running at an annual rate of $7.5 billion ahead of last year. Profits after taxes—the fugure upon which dividend decisions are based—are also up more than $7 billion. Afater-tax net gains are now running at a rate of about $44 billion.

The businesses are optimistic about 1966 and therefore more willing to share the profits rather than conserve cash for future expansion and contingencies.

Generally, corporations wait till close to Christmas to pay increased or extra dividends. The Christmas spirit is only part of the reason. Usually even a roughly accurate picture of corporate profits aren't available to company bookkeepers until late in the year.

This year, though, some companies are jumping the gun. Results—and prospects — are so good that there is no great need to wait. This reflects understandable pride in this year's performance and an understandable desire to let stockholders and the world know about it.

Foremost Dairies Earnings Rise

Foremost Dairies, Inc., consolidated net earnings for the first nine months of 1965 were $6,489,000 as compared with $5,807,000 reported for the corresponding period in 1964.

This is equivalent, after dividends on the preferred shares, to 82 cents per share on the 7,683,658 shares reported on the 7,712,140 shares outstanding in 1964.

Consolidated net earnings for the third quarter of 1965 were $2,120,000, as compared with $1,909,000 for the same period in 1964. This is equivalent to 27 cents per common share in 1965 and compares with 24 cents in 1964.

Dividend Declared By Title Company

Directors of Title Insurance and Trust Co. have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 55 cents per share, payable Dec. 10 to shareholders of record Nov. 19.

The company maintains offices and affiliates in 21 Northern California counties. Marin County offices are in San Rafael and Mill Valley. A Novato office is planned to be opened early next year.

Big News For Toxophilites And A Few Words For You Piscators

STEVENS

The U.S. Open Archery Tourney is scheduled for Jan. 21-23, 1966. If you have wanted to have a good excuse to pay a visit to Las Vegas, and you consider yourself a good "Bow-bender," now is your chance.

The tournament will be co-sponsored by the Colt's Firearms Division of Colt Industries and the Hotel Sahara.

There will be a $10,000 prize awards tournament, with $8,000 guaranteed cash awards and $2,000 in merchandise. All archers, male and female, professional and amateur, are invited to participate. Prize provisions have been made for Open Class as well as Handicap and Amateur.

A RECENT release reads: "Two indoor professional Archers Association rounds will be shot by individuals and one PAA round will be shot in the team competition. All members of a team must be from the same state and must be individually registered in the tournament. However, there will be a limit to the number of team entries from any one state.

"Individual entry fee is $10 and team entry fee $12 for all entries received by Friday, Jan. 14, 1966.

"Special room rates will be available from the Hotel Sahara."

For additional information write to: Colt's Firearms Division, 150 Huyshope Avenue, Hartford, Connecticut 06102 or Mr. Nicholas Naff, Hotel Sahara, Las Vegas, Nevada.

SO MUCH for the toxophilite readers. Now for the benefit of the local piscators.

As most of you are aware, with a few exceptions, the trout and salmon season statewide closed Sunday and that yesterday was the opening of salmon and trout (including steelhead) season in tidewater streams along the coast. I won't mention the various counties and tidewater streams, but refer you to page 12 of the 1965 California Sport Fishing Regulations. Instead I will report on the "loop" streams north of the Golden Gate to about Fort Bragg.

I TALKED with Ernie Titus on Sunday and asked about the action in the Point Arena stream, the Garcia. Ernie reported quite a few nice silver salman have been taken near the mouth of the Garcia River. Of particular importance at most times is a report of action at the Garcia. It is one of the few streams along the coast that is always open. The Navarro's mouth is closed tightly with many feet of sand piled up. It will take a number of very rainy days to open the bar at the Navarro, and the same thing goes for the mouth of the Navarro and the Gualala. (Both are barbound at this writing.)

AS REGARDS the steelhead, you should expect at the very least three weeks to a month before that highly desirable species start their spawning runs. That goes for all the loop streams from the Russian to the Ten Mile.

For a good many successive years I shoved off for the high northern Klamath and Smith rivers around Nov. 1. The salmon fishing had slowed down to a walk in the Klamath mouth by that time but was prime in the Smith. Currently, the Smith is prime from the mouth upstream past the bridge, and the upper reaches of the Klamath —Orleans, Happy Camp and others—is furnishing both steelhead and salmon. So, delay your try for steelhead in the Loop streams for about 20 to 30 days, and go to the far north for action at present.

Byers New Pilot For Tahoe Miss

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — George Byers Jr., 36, Columbus, Ohio, will take over next year as driver of Tahoe Miss, the hydroplane owned by gambler and sportsman Bill Harrah.

Byers comes to Nevada after driving Miss Madison, the community-owned boat from Madison, Ind. Byers succeeds Chuck Thompson as the Tahoe Miss pilot.

"He's been a good driver for us, but we feel a change may break our streak of bad luck," said Harry Volpi, Harrah's racing manager.

Byers said, "I decided at the outset of the 1965 season that there was only one boat I wanted to drive besides the Miss Madison, and that was the Tahoe Miss. Now the right boat has popped.

"I hope the folks in Madison will approve of my decision to step into what I think is the best race boat in the world."

Striped Shirts Are Beating The 49ers

SIDELINES

By ED RANDOL

Resistable force met movable object at Kezar Stadium Sunday, and when the seagulls had settled the San Francisco 49ers had lost their second game of the season to the Baltimore Colts and their second heartbreaker in a row. The final score of 34 to 28 wasn't for sure until the last play of the game.

The 49ers out-rushed, outpassed and out-gained the Colts in this one. And they also outdistanced them in penalties. If the 49ers have nightmares they are going to be populated by ogres in striped shirts filling the air with orange hankies.

Only last week Coach Harlan Svare of the Los Angeles Rams took on the NFL officials for favoring Baltimore and Chicago on their home grounds. Either the Colts brought along their own arbiters this time, or the whistle tooters were out to show the league that they were not "homers."

Generally I try to be impartial when it comes to pro football, but I definitely feel that the Niners were the better team both last week and this week and they were beaten more by officiating than by superior play. Sunday the 49ers were called four times for mask grabbing; one of the oldest tricks in the game is for a tackled back to jerk his head down and scream like an eagle. The Colts deserve an Oscar.

It is not only the lost yards that hurt when penalties are called, it is the lost impetus and demoralizing factors that really hurt a team. The 49ers had good drives stopped by some questionable calls, and the Colts benefited by retaining the ball when calls were made on third and fourth down situations.

Until his injury, John Brodie completed 20 for 28 passes, continuing his fantastic seasonal record. It would be a shame if Brodie were forced to the bench for the season in the middle of a great year.

George Mira came off the bench to throw a touchdown pass on his first play and went on to complete 5 for 7 passes as he drove the 49ers to the 16-yard line with just three seconds to go. Had he pulled this one out the little man would have grown in stature.

The only phase of the game that really favored the Colts was the use of the draw play up the middle. Time and again the 49ers were caught off balance by this play. In other matters they gave as good as they took and a little more.

As far as any possible title hopes are concerned, the 49ers are packed up for the season, but this club is not through winning for the year. It is tough to always say "Wait till next year," but we can spend the rest of this year anticipating a title fight in 1966.

There's Hope That Flood Zone Will Become Reality

The Corte Madera Flood Control Zone is still far from reality, but recent actions by several cities in Ross Valley give rise to some optimism.

Larkspur has agreed, with conditions, to join Corte Madera in approving the flood control zone.

Now, Ross Town Council has agreed to a joint powers agreement to pay its share of maintaining the flood control project.

These developments improve the possibility that the federal funds allocated for the project can still be saved for local use.

Communities in the upstream area are still holding out for various reasons, including the fear that a concrete lined ditch will destroy the natural beauties of the creek and the fear that they will be burdened with excessive cost for maintenance.

These are valid concerns. If the periodic flooding suffered in Ross Valley were not so disastrous or so imminent, the holdout communities would be perfectly justified in postponing action until every angle in both esthetics and economies had been explored.

When the downpour comes, and the flooding is compounded by high tides, residents will be screaming for relief. The beauties of the natural creek will all but be forgotten as homeowners scramble to keep heads above water.

More than just individual properties are involved. The College of Marin, which serves all of Marin County, is being stymied in its current program of campus expansion and improvement.

All of these factors must be weighed, along with the esthetics and the expected cost of maintaining the flood control project.

Eventually, some of the esthetics may have to be sacrificed in favor of improved safety for homes and for the College of Marin.

Some of the communities have seen their way clear to give in a little for the good of the whole. There appears to be a break in the impasse that once existed.

We now look with hope for eventual agreement where once there was only despair.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

TOT TRIES TO FLY

A 3-year-old boy, who developed an admiration for sky divers, tried in vain to imitate them recently in England.

Standing on the ledge of a bedroom window, he leaped out into space, only to land a moment later on a concrete walk 15 feet below. The would-be flier escaped with only slight bruises.

When he was picked up, the only explanation he could give was: "I tried to fly."

Children, by the very nature God gave them, are imaginative and eager to make their dreams come true. But this precious trait must be guided and often restrained—lest it cause harm instead of good.

It is not easy for parents and teachers to achieve the happy balance of encouraging youthful exuberance and at the same time keeping it within reasonable check.

But everybody benefits when the hopes and energies of young people are patiently nurtured and directed into constructive channels.

"Show me the way in which I should walk."

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State Moves To Stop Personal Employee Use Of Official Cars

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS—Once again, the state is making an effort to curtail the unbridled use of state automobiles, not only for purposes other than business, but for alleged state business use as well.

This is about as hard to accomplish as the effort of King Canute ordering the tides to cease rolling, but at least it is an effort, and Robert L. Harkness, director of general services, should receive some credit for making the attempt to conserve gasoline, oil, wear and tear on vehicles, and depreciation.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced that state transportation expenses will be reduced five per cent through new departmental "planning and operational procedure" in the use of state cars. He said emphasis will be on reducing use of state cars for official business and substitution of public transportation facilities when it is less expensive.

THE ADMINISTRATION developed its operational procedure as the result of a jogging at the 1965 session of the legislature, some members of which were appalled at the extended use of public vehicles for private purposes. Almost any Saturday morning, the public can go shopping in the various centers around Sacramento, and see state cars parked here and there.

As almost nobody works for the state on Saturday, it's a fair assumption that employees who manage to get a car for state use are using it for the family shopping tour.

WHETHER THE NEW procedures on the part of the department of general services will mean that the citizens motoring to work in the morning will be able to quit dodging state cars on the freeways and various corners of Sacramento's city streets is something that will be determined later on, when it is seen how far the car-driving employees will go in observance.

One of the excuses given for driving state cars to work is that the state has so many cars there isn't enough garage room to house them, so it's more expedient for the drivers to go back and forth to work via state transportation.

This could mean, of course, that the state has too many cars, especially when the citizen who pays for them is driving to and from work in his or her own automobile, for which there is not supposed to be an income tax deduction.

HARKNESS URGES each state agency to eliminate the use of a state car "which is not absolutely essential to carrying out official state business."

With this order in mind, it is foreseen that there could be some fine auction sales of state cars to get rid of the surplus, provided the state agencies take the urging seriously. It is the practice of the state to auction off its worn-out vehicles, and also surplus vehicles if it has any. However, there are more state employees than vehicles, so there seldom is a surplus.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Swimming Suit Purchase Irks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On all sides we hear complaints about high taxes, but nobody does anything about them. Even the Supervisors have thrown up their hands.

An article in your paper on Oct. 19 was very illuminating and may be part of the answer, remembering that better than 50 per cent of your tax dollar goes to schools—"The Tamalpais High School District Board awarded contracts for 5,400 bathing suits amounting to $13,088 to be used at Redwood High School, where a swimming program is planned for the spring semester when the pool now under construction is expected to be completed".

Wonder what the students swam in during their vacation? Even if there has been a precedent established during past years, this is the kind of expense that could be cut when on all sides one hears of retired people moving out of the county and others wondering when their turn will come.

How many other "sleepers" do we have in our schools?

Baton Girls' Dress Defended As Decent

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What Our Readers Say of Oct. 25, contained an article by Patricia Whitmore regarding the Terra Linda High Baton girl's dress. I, as a parent of one of the girls, am astounded to read such complaints about dress, school board and parents.

Does Patricia Whitmore know what a bathing suit looks like?? Does she know how much, almost any of them (excluding Bikinis) reveal? Has she written letters to anyone about stretch slacks, evening gowns, etc. that often times are more suggestive than the beautifully sequined costumes worn by the Color Guard and Baton Twirlers?? Does Patricia Whitmore consider the display of womens under-garments, in the local clothing stores, as a display of flagrant indecency??

Having observed the modesty and decency of each of the girls, in the Color Guard, in my own home, while the costumes were being prepared, I must state that Patricia Whitmore has no right whatsoever, by any stretch of the imagination, to declare these red-blooded American girls immodest, immoral or indecent.

Baton Girls Not Outrage

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The letter "Baton Girls' Dress Outrages Spectators" by Patricia Whitmore appearing in the Oct. 25 I-J "What Our Readers Say" deserves an answer. As the father of one of these girls, I am more than happy to provide one. Judging from the style of writing, we have a vivid image of Miss Whitmore, sitting at her wormwood spinet desk with turkey quill in hand, dressed in 14 petticoats, mother hubbard and tennis shoes, penning this vituperous letter.

Wake up, Miss Whitmore, this is 1965! The dress worn by the baton girls is most decent by 1965's standards, and has no relationship to the frocks worn in Las Vegas night clubs.

The girls are carefully chosen for their ability to perform the difficult steps and their ability to maintain high grade standards. I feel that they provide a half-time spectacular most pleasing at football games, and I am very proud that my daughter was selected to participate.

In conclusion, we find your comments extremely insulting to the young people of Marin, and hope that upon reflection you will make a written apology.

Justice Dooling Left A Legacy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The recent passing of Maurice T. Dooling Jr., retired justice, California Supreme Court, has forever stilled the incisive mind of a judicial giant . . . I cannot let this occasion become mere memory without an attempt to perpetuate a writing by this great and good man.

(The legal proposition involved in a 1955 case was whether or not a member of a non-Caucasian race had a right to be buried in the Mountain View Cemetery, a private corporation. The law at the time did not give anyone that right. So as a matter of law Justice Dooling was bound to concur in the decision. But he protested the state of the Law.)

His opinion: "I concur, but I cannot resist a word of protest. I cannot believe that a man's mortal remains will disintegrate any less peaceably because of the close proximity of the body of a member of another race, and in that inevitable disintegration I am sure that the pigmentation of the skin cannot long endure. It strikes me that the carrying of racial discrimination into the burial grounds is a particularly stupid form of human arrogance and intolerance. If life does not do so, the universal fellowship of death should teach humility. The good people who insist on the racial segregation of what is mortal in man may be shocked to learn when their own lives end that God has reserved no racially exclusive position for them in the hereafter."

If these words of Justice Dooling were his only legacy to his fellow man, this would be more than most of us are allowed to contribute to humanity.

Garbage Service, Price Just Fine

Editor, Independent-Journal:

My first time — and if it "gets in" it would sound like this:

Why? Mill Valley Refuse Service!

I live in Tam Valley on a hill, with never a garbage miss in the past 11 years, even in 1955 when our cars couldn't get up or down.

I'm for another 11 years of Mill Valley Refuse Service. The "price is right," too.

BENNETT CERF

THERE'S A sad little story circulating in the Madison Avenue sector these days. It concerns a lovely and conscientious young lady who completed a secretarial course and landed a job in short order with a giant advertising agency. On the very morning she checked in for her first day there, the crusty boss' own secretary was called home to her sick mother and the newcomer was sent in to take her place. Flustered to begin with, she panicked completely when the boss began dictating at a mile-a-minute pace, chewing a corner of his handkerchef at the same time. The poor girl finally began jotting down mere dots, dashes, and doodles as the boss rattled on and on.

Finally, he arose, announced, "I'd like these letters on my desk by three this afternoon at the latest, please. That's all." Then he sailed out of the office.

The new secretary returned to her desk, tore her notebook into shreds, went home and packed her bag, and flew to California that afternoon.

TWO BUSINESS partners were discussing the rather old-fashioned methods still in effect at the headquarters of one of their most formidable competitors. "That outfit," snorted one of the businessmen with finality, "is run so terribly that if they weren't making a fortune, they'd be out of business tomorrow!"

Age, Conservatism, Increased Affluence May Change Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP)—Age and changing generations in Red China are the best hope for the rest of the world that the Chinese eventually will quiet down and get off their endless belligerency kick. At best, it's a hope.

It could be easily nullified if, once the Chinese have built up their own nuclear arsenal, they develop a new and fantastic sense of power, daring and impregnability.

In the Kremlin's most hostile period, the 1940s, the United States began its containment policy to hem in Russia until time could work changes in the Communist world and push it in a more peaceful direction.

U.S. officials pointed out last week to some 800 editors and broadcasters attending a foreign policy briefing in the State Department that Red China has suffered setbacks from Indonesia to Africa.

THIS SEEMED inevitable when it is remembered that ever since they took over the mainland in 1949 the Red Chinese have preached revolution not only to their neighbors but to people too far away to get substantial Chinese help.

And Red China's break with Russia, worse now than ever in its significance and its vituperations, injured the world Communist movement.

The U.S. officials talked of diminishing Red Chinese influence in Africa as the leaders of the new African nations realize Peking's revolutionary doctrine could be used against them.

IN THE ABORTIVE Indonesian revolution Red China and pro-Peking Communists suffered a loss. And, the officials said, Red China had second thoughts when the United States cautioned it against interference in the India-Pakistan cease-fire.

For 16 years the Red Chinese have used the big mouth technique, talking and urging revolution everywhere while very carefully avoiding direct conflict with Russia and—except for China's role in the Korean conflict—the United States. This is realistic and understandable.

At this time the United States and Russia have the overwhelming nuclear power, enough to wreck Red China and its revolution, while the Chinese are still in the process of achieving similar nuclear power of their own.

HOVERING OVER this ominous prospect is the hope of change: change in the leadership and therefore in the thinking of Red Chinese leaders.

In Russia, the Lenin men were the fanatics, the revolutionaries who thought in terms of any sacrifice for the sake of the revolution. This spirit was kept alive so long as Stalin lived, and he lived until 1953.

But by then, while some of his colleagues of the early days had died, he had murdered others and many of those he had come to depend upon were of a younger generation.

As Russia grew in affluence, both in possessions and responsibilities, the new leadership after Stalin was naturally more reluctant to lose what had been gained.

Thus in time the Kremlin leadership became more and more the big proprietors, and that has a sobering, conservative influence. It's enough to cool some of the revolutionary ardor in any group.

Perhaps this is what Red China is headed for. Its leadership now is made up of old men who will have to yield the reins before too long. The problems within China are enormous. Mao Tze-tung's heirs, lacking his revolutionary obsessions, may become more concerned with domestic expansion than with Communist expansion.

GOP Chief Believes He Is On Way Out

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss is apparently coming to feel very much as King Henry IV must have when he exclaimed (according to Shakespeare), "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

Although in office less than a year, intimates are quoting Bliss as saying, "They are after me on all sides. One slip, and I've had it."

From available evidence, this gloomy prognosis is not borne out by indications of any activity — covert or otherwise — to ditch Bliss.

While Bliss does not exactly fall in the category of a popular GOP chairman, neither is he personally disliked. Even party leaders lukewarm about him readily concede he is honorable, hard-working, conscientious and an able administrator. Also that he is in the torturous position of having to walk a tight rope between furiously divergent elements and factions.

YET BLISS APPEARS to be laboring under a strong sense of insecurity, with deep-seated misgivings over how long he will last as National Committee head.

Friends attribute this pessimistic uncertainty largely to two factors:

1. Lack of the backing of a potent party personality or influential group or section. As long-time Ohio State chairman, Bliss built up a reputation as a highly competent organizer and campaign manager. In 1964 he loyally and zealously supported the national ticket.

In the shake-up after the Goldwater debacle, Bliss was decided on as a compromise acceptable to all segments. While none were overly enthusiastic about him, they also were not against him. That continues to be his situation today. As a consequence, Bliss apparently has come to feel his tenure as national chairman is a matter of sufferance by rival forces waiting for an opportune time to move to replace him.

2. Strongly suspected ambitions of potential aspirants for national chairman. Foremost among these cited by Bliss friends are Idaho Gov. Robert Smylie, chairman of the Republican Governors' Conference; Craig Truax, Pennsylvania state chairman and close partisan of Gov. William Scranton; Fred Seaton, interior secretary in the Eisenhower cabinet and an intimate of former Vice President Nixon.

AMONG BLISS insiders, the Nixon-Seaton "threat" is viewed as the most serious.

This is due to the fact that Nixon already is busily campaigning for the 1968 nomination, and as of now is far out in front. He is almost constantly dashing about the country addressing party and fund-raising gatherings, and usually Seaton accompanies him.

The opinion is general among party leaders that in the not-too-distant future Seaton avowedly will become director of Nixon's drive for another try for the White House.

AT A RECENT private meeting in the East, Nixon disclosed he is looking for a press assistant with political experience. Also that he estimates his traveling and other expenses at around $50,000 a year, and is having no difficulty meeting these costs.

POSTMASTER General Lawrence O'Brien is being eagerly sought by members of Congress as a speaker in their home bailiwicks. He is being deluged with such requests, and is responding to most of them.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Rubber Play Conservative; Tourney Play Sharp On Tricks

When you're defending at rubber bridge you make sure of the setting trick and then look around for extra tricks.

In tournament bridge you must sometimes look for the extra trick before you have made quite sure of the setting trick.

West opens the ace of diamonds and switches to the three of hearts.

At rubber bridge East would take the act of hearts and return a diamond for West to ruff.

West would cash the king of hearts to take the setting trick, and both defenders would go on to the next hand glowing with satisfaction.

NOT FOR TOURNEY

This fine new book by Norman Kay, Fred Karpin and the late Sidney Silodor observes that East-West should try for 200 points.

If East trusts his partner, he should play the queen of hearts at the second trick instead of the act of hearts. If West is a fine player he will lead the three of hearts only if he has a high heart, which must be the king. If West's hearts were headed by the ten he would lead the ten or some high card to indicate that there is no future in the suit from his point of view.

GETS TWO RUFFS

If East wins the second trick with the queen of hearts he can lead a diamond for West to ruff, and West then leads another heart to the ace to get a second diamond ruff.

The same result is accomplished if East takes the ace of hearts first and returns the ten of diamonds to indicate that he has a possible entry in the high side suit (hearts rather than clubs). West ruffs and leads a low heart to the queen instead of cashing the king of hearts.

This is splendid and necessary in tournaments, but a waste of time at rubber bridge.

Suit your methods to the game you are playing.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ 8 7 5
♥ K 10 7 3 2
♣ 10 8 6 4

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one notrump or two spades.

The hand is not strong enough for a response of two hears. Prefer the raise in spades if your partner avoids opening with a weak four-card spade suit.

A Great Ant Society Eschews Laughs For Committed Culture

If I object to the Great Society, it is not because I think it a non-viable phantom conjured up by unrealistic lotus-eaters. After all, it is modeled on a going concern that has been doing business at the same old stand since time immemorial: the perfect organization of that remarkable insect, the ant, who lives under a set of laws not unlike those passed at this session of Congress.

There is obviously no room in such a society for the rugged individualist, that barbaric symbol which marred our own history until this happy era. For here there are neither haves nor have-nots, since each has his place and his duties and accepts them from birth.

IF THE FAMILY life of the ant is slightly more communal than we have been accustomed to, it seems to pay off. No youngster ever goes to a psychiatrist because he feels he doesn't belong. And when was the last time you heard of a teen-aged ant staying out late, getting drunk, smoking reefers, engaging in a free speech movement, or joining the Young Republicans? There is no need to rebel when you know you are taken care of from the cradle to the grave and that you have tenure at your job, whether it's raising fungi or caring for aphis.

And if this communal life works so well with ants, who is to say it will not work with man? Anyway, as our new laws begin to take effect, we'll find out before long.

AND YET, though I am not blind to the manifold advantages of giving up this competitive rat race for the ordered life of the Great Communal Society, I see little fun in it. And certainly no laughter—that marvelous gift the Creator bestowed only on man.

Did you ever hear an ant laugh? Or see him beam as his son got a crucial hit in a Cub Scout game? Or chuckle at a bawdy limerick? Or take a lazy stroll on a spring day and look at the blue sky and green things growing and pretty girls passing by and feel how gay and wonderful it was just to be alive?

There are other species besides man which are blessed with the spirit of pure fun. Watch a colt, released from the barn after a long winter, roll in the snow and romp in sheer ecstasy; watch your dog in a ramble through the woods, running away to sniff eagerly at every smell and sight and sound and come running back, his tail a-wagging, to jump up and lick you as he tries to express his sense of sheer joy.

BUT THESE are emotions that belong to none of the so-called social insects—neither the ant nor his two-legged brother of our own species. To both, every act must have a definite purpose: it must contribute to their Great Society, and no time out is permitted for the smallest of coffee breaks.

The impact of this philosophy is already with us, and if you do not embrace it you are not "committed"—which is the new status symbol. Fun just for fun's sake is out.

Even when a politician tries to make a judge out of a ward heeler, he announces his purpose is to preserve the majesty of the law. Just as an ant, coming unbidden to your picnic, does so only for the communal good.

WE HAD AN interesting example in Los Angeles recently. "Hello, Dolly" came here for a limited run; most of the tickets went to subscribers, and the management announced the rest of the seats would go to the general public on a first come, first served basis on a certain day.

Apparently some 8,000 showed up and waited in line all night for the box office to open. And, as in a World Series, many were disappointed when the "Sold Out" sign appeared.

Two letters on the subject appeared in the paper. One pointed with pride to the astonishing crowd that had queued up. This love of music, the writer proclaimed, was eminent proof of our culture! Not just the obvious fact that the show and its tunes had struck a popular chord and that it might be fun to see—surely the only purpose of the queuers—but a convincing demonstration of our culture. How corny can you get?

But worse was the note printed right below it. This one wept that so many people could turn out for a frothy musical when museums and art exhibits went a-begging for patrons. The lady—a ready-made ant, obviously—will doubtless write her congressman and ask for a law to make her forms of culture obligatory.

I remember—but of course I go back a long way—when going to the theater was pure fun. Will Rogers, W. C. Fields, Bobbby Clark, the Marx Brothers, Bea Lillie—you take the ants, and I'll take the belly laughs. Straight—and without culture.

Pupil Hit A Sour Note When He Transferred To Pickle School

In a school district that is growing as fast as the Novato Unified School District in a town that is growing as fast as Novato, there are bound to be some problems.

For example, where new subdivisions are opened, a majority of people buying those houses are young people with young children. So the school district suddenly finds itself with twice as many children in the lower grades as it had planned and perhaps only half as many in the upper grades.

This story was reported to us by a very reliable source—it had to be, because everything the P-TA does is correct.

Anwway, the story goes that this first grader came home one day to announce solemnly to his young parents that he was being transferred from the Pleasant Valley School to the Pickle School.

NO AMOUNT of questioning could break the child's story. He was being transferred to the Pickle School.

Not knowing the school system, the community into which they had just moved, or anything about transferring students from one school to another, the parents were nonplussed.

Finally they found out that the child was being transferred to the Olive School.

When confronted with the true name of the school, the child replied:

"Pickles and olives; I never could keep them straight."

DAYLIGHT SAVING time is a thing of the past for this year. Suddenly everyone finds darkness falling about an hour earlier than he is used to.

It is now night time when late afternoon and early evening activities are still going on. Paper boys and others may have to find your house in the dark.

CAN THEY SEE and read your house number from the street at night?

If it is not illuminated, it might be a good idea to leave a porch light on until the deliveries are made, or all children are off the street.

Along a similar line, the fall rains and cold weather will be starting soon. Capt. Richard Beyer has issued his annual warning about checking all heating appliances before putting them into their regular winter use.

MAJ. GEN. CARROLL W. McColpin, commander of the 28th Air Division and vice commander of the 28th North American Air Defense Region, recently had an article printed in the NORAD News from Colorado Springs.

The general, who has flown everything from a glider to a supersonic jet, did the article on the YF-12A, a revolutionary new aircraft which he describes as not being designed as an airplane but a weapons system.

WITH TRICK or treat day behind us, we must pass on a story of treating that came to us belatedly.

When he returned to his patrol car, he found it surrounded with small fry who were fascinated by the insignia on the car and the radio which keeps him informed of the goings-on around the county.

He called them to the back of the patrol car and lifted the trunk lid as though to show them something important. Then he reached in and gave each one of them a lollipop.

This probably comes under the heading of good public relations. They may not be voters yet, but they will be one day soon.

10 YEARS AGO

San Rafael High's Bulldogs rolled over Analy, 51-2, to win their first undisputed football championship of the North Bay League Section in 11 years.

The name of Novato Creek Dam and Reservoir was changed to Charles D. Stafford Dam and Stafford Lake in tribute to the late president of the North Marin Water District.

New Maternity Shop To Open; Elite Barber At New Location

Planned to open in Strawberry Town and Country Village this month — about the 18th, I believe — is Expectation Maternity Shop, sixth store of a 20-year old firm headquartered in San Francisco.

After living in Belvedere eight years, owner Joel Horowitz has come to the conclusion that Marin County's continuing population growth is not caused entirely by the influx of new arrivals from other areas and natural causes also have something to do with it. Ergo, this type of business should do at least as well here as in downtown San Francisco, Stonestown, Oakland, Sacramento and Modesto where his other stores are located.

He has taken about 1,000 square feet in the area near Bath Renaissance and Little Daisy.

ALSO IN Town and Country Village, the Village Shoe Den, opened last June next to the Hick'ry Pit of Marin, will move to quarters three times as large near Bath Renaissance by Dec. 1. Former owner Sardis Nahigian died of a heart attack in September and his son Edward, who worked with him in the store, has taken over management of the business.

He is adding a women's shoe department and will carry lines of California Debs and Delicio Debs. Men's shoe line is Florsheim.

Hick'ry Pit will expand into the rear part of the present location and the front will be occupied by a jewelry store.

U.S. To Sell Mortgages To Investors

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam is planning to take a good-sized step toward getting out of the lending business. On Dec. 1, the government-owned Federal National Mortgage Assn. will, in effect, sell $375 million worth of home mortgages to private investors.

Fanny Mae, as this agency has long been nicknamed, isn't actually delivering the mortgages. Rather, it is offering certificates of participation in a pool of thousands of home loans.

MONEY IN BANK

The association will retain title to the actual mortgages. But it guarantees the principal and interest on the certificates. And since Fanny Mae is an arm of the United States, that guarantee is as good as money in the bank.

Fanny Mae originally acquired the mortgages from builders and mortgage lenders, who found themselves loaded with paper not attractive to regular investors, or with no more room to take on new loans. Thus, the association is really a vehicle for pumping government money into mortgages.

TWO MOTIVES

In the current fiscal year — 1966—Fanny Mae hopes to dispose of $1.3 billion worth of mortgages that have been insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. Around 300,000 individual loans would be included.

The Johnson administration has two motives in selling the certificates of participation:

1. It would like to minimize the government's role in a field in which private enterprise can successfully operate.

2. It would like to use the proceeds to reduce the federal spending totals, and the federal deficit, for this fiscal year.

So far, $525 million worth of mortgages have been sold to private lenders by the certificate route since this fiscal year began. Chances are there will be additional sales before June 30, if private lenders seem receptive.

Corporations Are All Set To Pay Some Big Dividends

By ADVANCE NEWS

WASHINGTON—The nation's corporations will have some very pleasant news for their stockholders during the next two months. Their boards of directors will announce fat dividend payments — increases in regular dividend rates, plus lush year end extras.

Government statistics show that dividend payments for the first nine months of the year are already running 8.3 per cent ahead of the comparable period of 1964. Economists in Washington expect the pay-outs in the remaining quarter of the year to widen the gain.

The basis for this forecast is the huge profits being rolled up by U.S. business. Company after company is showing prodigious gains over a year ago. New records are commonplace.

Corporate profits before taxes are running at an annual rate of $7.5 billion ahead of last year. Profits after taxes—the fugure upon which dividend decisions are based—are also up more than $7 billion. Afater-tax net gains are now running at a rate of about $44 billion.

The businesses are optimistic about 1966 and therefore more willing to share the profits rather than conserve cash for future expansion and contingencies.

Generally, corporations wait till close to Christmas to pay increased or extra dividends. The Christmas spirit is only part of the reason. Usually even a roughly accurate picture of corporate profits aren't available to company bookkeepers until late in the year.

This year, though, some companies are jumping the gun. Results—and prospects — are so good that there is no great need to wait. This reflects understandable pride in this year's performance and an understandable desire to let stockholders and the world know about it.

Foremost Dairies Earnings Rise

Foremost Dairies, Inc., consolidated net earnings for the first nine months of 1965 were $6,489,000 as compared with $5,807,000 reported for the corresponding period in 1964.

This is equivalent, after dividends on the preferred shares, to 82 cents per share on the 7,683,658 shares reported on the 7,712,140 shares outstanding in 1964.

Consolidated net earnings for the third quarter of 1965 were $2,120,000, as compared with $1,909,000 for the same period in 1964. This is equivalent to 27 cents per common share in 1965 and compares with 24 cents in 1964.

Dividend Declared By Title Company

Directors of Title Insurance and Trust Co. have declared a regular quarterly dividend of 55 cents per share, payable Dec. 10 to shareholders of record Nov. 19.

The company maintains offices and affiliates in 21 Northern California counties. Marin County offices are in San Rafael and Mill Valley. A Novato office is planned to be opened early next year.

Pet Palate Pleased By Gourmet Recipes

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicken croquettes, mixed grill, a meatball dinner for Rover? They're making gourmet dog food now for particular pets.

Pet food was a $654.6 million market in the United States last year. It nearly has doubled since 1958. Predictions are that it will run more than a billion dollars by 1975.

Sales of pet food are growing despite a drop in the number of dogs and cats.

The dog population has declined from 24.1 million in 1961 to 22.9 million in 1965, according to a market research report. The cat population went down from 22.1 to 16.7 million during the same time.

But manufacturers are selling more dog and cat food. Sales the first six months of 1965 were up 10 per cent from 1964.

Trade sources say that is because more of the pets are owned by city and suburban families, which traditionally have been heavier buyers of commercially prepared pet foods.

Eye appeal and convenience pet foods are the order of the day. Pet foods are being made to look like human ones. Advertisements show juicy red steaks or meatloaf touched with parsley.

There is what is billed as a gourmet cat food, compounded of liver, kidney, chicken, meat and fish to appeal to the most fastidious Siamese.

The big pet food companies are going all out to keep pets from feeding on the family's leftovers or sharing its meals.

In the past decade, the big swing has been to packaged dry foods, pellets expanded by air or steam. Manufacturers say they are cheaper than canned food, neater and offer a more uniform product.

Then one manufacturer came up with a gravy made by adding water. Others followed with their own chunks with sauces.

Now there also are soft moist pet foods which come in various forms — hamburger patties or meatballs. Some are individually wrapped in meal-sized packages that don't need to be stored in the refrigerator.

The pet food manufacturers say the new dog and cat owners want small packages that don't require refrigeration or anything to be added before serving.

One brand even comes packaged with individual plastic trays, eliminating the need of a dish.

Pan-Am Airways Profits Increase

NEW YORK—Net income of Pan American Airways for the first nine months of 1965 before special items was $38,928,000, or $2.72 per share on 14,322,815 average shares outstanding.

A special item of $4.8 million, or 34 cents per share previously reported for the second quarter of the year, brings Pan Am's net income for nine months up to $43,728,000, or $3.06 per share, an increase of 27.7 per cent above the net income of $34,238,000 for the corresponding period in 1964.

The special item reported for the second quarter reflects purchase by Pan Am in April of full insurance and discontinuance of self insurance.

There's Hope That Flood Zone Will Become Reality

The Corte Madera Flood Control Zone is still far from reality, but recent actions by several cities in Ross Valley give rise to some optimism.

Larkspur has agreed, with conditions, to join Corte Madera in approving the flood control zone.

Now, Ross Town Council has agreed to a joint powers agreement to pay its share of maintaining the flood control project.

These developments improve the possibility that the federal funds allocated for the project can still be saved for local use.

Communities in the upstream area are still holding out for various reasons, including the fear that a concrete lined ditch will destroy the natural beauties of the creek and the fear that they will be burdened with excessive cost for maintenance.

These are valid concerns. If the periodic flooding suffered in Ross Valley were not so disastrous or so imminent, the holdout communities would be perfectly justified in postponing action until every angle in both esthetics and economies had been explored.

When the downpour comes, and the flooding is compounded by high tides, residents will be screaming for relief. The beauties of the natural creek will all but be forgotten as homeowners scramble to keep heads above water.

More than just individual properties are involved. The College of Marin, which serves all of Marin County, is being stymied in its current program of campus expansion and improvement.

And continued procrastination could mean the withdrawal of federal funds for the project.

All of these factors must be weighed, along with the esthetics and the expected cost of maintaining the flood control project.

Eventually, some of the esthetics may have to be sacrificed in favor of improved safety for homes and for the College of Marin.

Some of the communities have seen their way clear to give in a little for the good of the whole. There appears to be a break in the impasse that once existed.

We now look with hope for eventual agreement where once there was only despair.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

TOT TRIES TO FLY

A 3-year-old boy, who developed an admiration for sky divers, tried in vain to imitate them recently in England.

Standing on the ledge of a bedroom window, he leaped out into space, only to land a moment later on a concrete walk 15 feet below. The would-be flier escaped with only slight bruises.

When he was picked up, the only explanation he could give was: "I tried to fly."

Children, by the very nature God gave them, are imaginative and eager to make their dreams come true. But this precious trait must be guided and often restrained—lest it cause harm instead of good.

It is not easy for parents and teachers to achieve the happy balance of encouraging youthful exuberance and at the same time keeping it within reasonable check.

But everybody benefits when the hopes and energies of young people are patiently nurtured and directed into constructive channels.

"Show me the way in which I should walk."

State Moves To Stop Personal Employee Use Of Official Cars

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS—Once again, the state is making an effort to curtail the unbridled use of state automobiles, not only for purposes other than business, but for alleged state business use as well.

This is about as hard to accomplish as the effort of King Canute ordering the tides to cease rolling, but at least it is an effort, and Robert L. Harkness, director of general services, should receive some credit for making the attempt to conserve gasoline, oil, wear and tear on vehicles, and depreciation.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced that state transportation expenses will be reduced five per cent through new departmental "planning and operational procedure" in the use of state cars. He said emphasis will be on reducing use of state cars for official business and substitution of public transportation facilities when it is less expensive.

THE ADMINISTRATION developed its operational procedure as the result of a jogging at the 1965 session of the legislature, some members of which were appalled at the extended use of public vehicles for private purposes. Almost any Saturday morning, the public can go shopping in the various centers around Sacramento, and see state cars parked here and there.

As almost nobody works for the state on Saturday, it's a fair assumption that employees who manage to get a car for state use are using it for the family shopping tour.

WHETHER THE NEW procedures on the part of the department of general services will mean that the citizens motoring to work in the morning will be able to quit dodging state cars on the freeways and various corners of Sacramento's city streets is something that will be determined later on, when it is seen how far the car-driving employees will go in observance.

One of the excuses given for driving state cars to work is that the state has so many cars there isn't enough garage room to house them, so it's more expedient for the drivers to go back and forth to work via state transportation.

This could mean, of course, that the state has too many cars, especially when the citizen who pays for them is driving to and from work in his or her own automobile, for which there is not supposed to be an income tax deduction.

HARKNESS URGES each state agency to eliminate the use of a state car "which is not absolutely essential to carrying out official state business."

With this order in mind, it is foreseen that there could be some fine auction sales of state cars to get rid of the surplus, provided the state agencies take the urging seriously. It is the practice of the state to auction off its worn-out vehicles, and also surplus vehicles if it has any. However, there are more state employees than vehicles, so there seldom is a surplus.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Swimming Suit Purchase Irks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On all sides we hear complaints about high taxes, but nobody does anything about them. Even the Supervisors have thrown up their hands.

An article in your paper on Oct. 19 was very illuminating and may be part of the answer, remembering that better than 50 per cent of your tax dollar goes to schools—"The Tamalpais High School District Board awarded contracts for 5,400 bathing suits amounting to $13,088 to be used at Redwood High School, where a swimming program is planned for the spring semester when the pool now under construction is expected to be completed".

Wonder what the students swam in during their vacation? Even if there has been a precedent established during past years, this is the kind of expense that could be cut when on all sides one hears of retired people moving out of the county and others wondering when their turn will come.

How many other "sleepers" do we have in our schools?

Baton Girls' Dress Defended As Decent

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What Our Readers Say of Oct. 25, contained an article by Patricia Whitmore regarding the Terra Linda High Baton girl's dress. I, as a parent of one of the girls, am astounded to read such complaints about dress, school board and parents.

Does Patricia Whitmore know what a bathing suit looks like?? Does she know how much, almost any of them (excluding Bikinis) reveal? Has she written letters to anyone about stretch slacks, evening gowns, etc. that often times are more suggestive than the beautifully sequined costumes worn by the Color Guard and Baton Twirlers?? Does Patricia Whitmore consider the display of womens under-garments, in the local clothing stores, as a display of flagrant indecency??

Having observed the modesty and decency of each of the girls, in the Color Guard, in my own home, while the costumes were being prepared, I must state that Patricia Whitmore has no right whatsoever, by any stretch of the imagination, to declare these red-blooded American girls immodest, immoral or indecent.

Baton Girls Not Outrage

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The letter "Baton Girls' Dress Outrages Spectators" by Patricia Whitmore appearing in the Oct. 25 I-J "What Our Readers Say" deserves an answer. As the father of one of these girls, I am more than happy to provide one. Judging from the style of writing, we have a vivid image of Miss Whitmore, sitting at her wormwood spinet desk with turkey quill in hand, dressed in 14 petticoats, mother hubbard and tennis shoes, penning this vituperous letter.

Wake up, Miss Whitmore, this is 1965! The dress worn by the baton girls is most decent by 1965's standards, and has no relationship to the frocks worn in Las Vegas night clubs.

The girls are carefully chosen for their ability to perform the difficult steps and their ability to maintain high grade standards. I feel that they provide a half-time spectacular most pleasing at football games, and I am very proud that my daughter was selected to participate.

In conclusion, we find your comments extremely insulting to the young people of Marin, and hope that upon reflection you will make a written apology.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The recent passing of Maurice T. Dooling Jr., retired justice, California Supreme Court, has forever stilled the incisive mind of a judicial giant . . . I cannot let this occasion become mere memory without an attempt to perpetuate a writing by this great and good man.

(The legal proposition involved in a 1955 case was whether or not a member of a non-Caucasian race had a right to be buried in the Mountain View Cemetery, a private corporation. The law at the time did not give anyone that right. So as a matter of law Justice Dooling was bound to concur in the decision. But he protested the state of the Law.)

His opinion: "I concur, but I cannot resist a word of protest. I cannot believe that a man's mortal remains will disintegrate any less peaceably because of the close proximity of the body of a member of another race, and in that inevitable disintegration I am sure that the pigmentation of the skin cannot long endure. It strikes me that the carrying of racial discrimination into the burial grounds is a particularly stupid form of human arrogance and intolerance. If life does not do so, the universal fellowship of death should teach humility. The good people who insist on the racial segregation of what is mortal in man may be shocked to learn when their own lives end that God has reserved no racially exclusive position for them in the hereafter."

If these words of Justice Dooling were his only legacy to his fellow man, this would be more than most of us are allowed to contribute to humanity.

Garbage Service, Price Just Fine

Editor, Independent-Journal:

My first time — and if it "gets in" it would sound like this:

Why? Mill Valley Refuse Service!

I live in Tam Valley on a hill, with never a garbage miss in the past 11 years, even in 1955 when our cars couldn't get up or down.

I'm for another 11 years of Mill Valley Refuse Service. The "price is right," too.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

THERE'S A sad little story circulating in the Madison Avenue sector these days. It concerns a lovely and conscientious young lady who completed a secretarial course and landed a job in short order with a giant advertising agency. On the very morning she checked in for her first day there, the crusty boss' own secretary was called home to her sick mother and the newcomer was sent in to take her place. Flustered to begin with, she panicked completely when the boss began dictating at a mile-a-minute pace, chewing a corner of his handkerchef at the same time. The poor girl finally began jotting down mere dots, dashes, and doodles as the boss rattled on and on.

Finally, he arose, announced, "I'd like these letters on my desk by three this afternoon at the latest, please. That's all." Then he sailed out of the office.

The new secretary returned to her desk, tore her notebook into shreds, went home and packed her bag, and flew to California that afternoon.

TWO BUSINESS partners were discussing the rather old-fashioned methods still in effect at the headquarters of one of their most formidable competitors. "That outfit," snorted one of the businessmen with finality, "is run so terribly that if they weren't making a fortune, they'd be out of business tomorrow!"

Age, Conservatism, Increased Affluence May Change Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP)—Age and changing generations in Red China are the best hope for the rest of the world that the Chinese eventually will quiet down and get off their endless belligerency kick. At best, it's a hope.

It could be easily nullified if, once the Chinese have built up their own nuclear arsenal, they develop a new and fantastic sense of power, daring and impregnability.

In the Kremlin's most hostile period, the 1940s, the United States began its containment policy to hem in Russia until time could work changes in the Communist world and push it in a more peaceful direction.

U.S. officials pointed out last week to some 800 editors and broadcasters attending a foreign policy briefing in the State Department that Red China has suffered setbacks from Indonesia to Africa.

THIS SEEMED inevitable when it is remembered that ever since they took over the mainland in 1949 the Red Chinese have preached revolution not only to their neighbors but to people too far away to get substantial Chinese help.

The U.S. officials talked of diminishing Red Chinese influence in Africa as the leaders of the new African nations realize Peking's revolutionary doctrine could be used against them.

IN THE ABORTIVE Indonesian revolution Red China and pro-Peking Communists suffered a loss. And, the officials said, Red China had second thoughts when the United States cautioned it against interference in the India-Pakistan cease-fire.

For 16 years the Red Chinese have used the big mouth technique, talking and urging revolution everywhere while very carefully avoiding direct conflict with Russia and—except for China's role in the Korean conflict—the United States. This is realistic and understandable.

At this time the United States and Russia have the overwhelming nuclear power, enough to wreck Red China and its revolution, while the Chinese are still in the process of achieving similar nuclear power of their own.

HOVERING OVER this ominous prospect is the hope of change: change in the leadership and therefore in the thinking of Red Chinese leaders.

In Russia, the Lenin men were the fanatics, the revolutionaries who thought in terms of any sacrifice for the sake of the revolution. This spirit was kept alive so long as Stalin lived, and he lived until 1953.

But by then, while some of his colleagues of the early days had died, he had murdered others and many of those he had come to depend upon were of a younger generation.

As Russia grew in affluence, both in possessions and responsibilities, the new leadership after Stalin was naturally more reluctant to lose what had been gained.

Thus in time the Kremlin leadership became more and more the big proprietors, and that has a sobering, conservative influence. It's enough to cool some of the revolutionary ardor in any group.

Perhaps this is what Red China is headed for. Its leadership now is made up of old men who will have to yield the reins before too long. The problems within China are enormous. Mao Tze-tung's heirs, lacking his revolutionary obsessions, may become more concerned with domestic expansion than with Communist expansion.

GOP Chief Believes He Is On Way Out

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss is apparently coming to feel very much as King Henry IV must have when he exclaimed (according to Shakespeare), "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

Although in office less than a year, intimates are quoting Bliss as saying, "They are after me on all sides. One slip, and I've had it."

From available evidence, this gloomy prognosis is not borne out by indications of any activity — covert or otherwise — to ditch Bliss.

While Bliss does not exactly fall in the category of a popular GOP chairman, neither is he personally disliked. Even party leaders lukewarm about him readily concede he is honorable, hard-working, conscientious and an able administrator. Also that he is in the torturous position of having to walk a tight rope between furiously divergent elements and factions.

YET BLISS APPEARS to be laboring under a strong sense of insecurity, with deep-seated misgivings over how long he will last as National Committee head.

Friends attribute this pessimistic uncertainty largely to two factors:

1. Lack of the backing of a potent party personality or influential group or section. As long-time Ohio State chairman, Bliss built up a reputation as a highly competent organizer and campaign manager. In 1964 he loyally and zealously supported the national ticket.

In the shake-up after the Goldwater debacle, Bliss was decided on as a compromise acceptable to all segments. While none were overly enthusiastic about him, they also were not against him. That continues to be his situation today. As a consequence, Bliss apparently has come to feel his tenure as national chairman is a matter of sufferance by rival forces waiting for an opportune time to move to replace him.

2. Strongly suspected ambitions of potential aspirants for national chairman. Foremost among these cited by Bliss friends are Idaho Gov. Robert Smylie, chairman of the Republican Governors' Conference; Craig Truax, Pennsylvania state chairman and close partisan of Gov. William Scranton; Fred Seaton, interior secretary in the Eisenhower cabinet and an intimate of former Vice President Nixon.

AMONG BLISS insiders, the Nixon-Seaton "threat" is viewed as the most serious.

This is due to the fact that Nixon already is busily campaigning for the 1968 nomination, and as of now is far out in front. He is almost constantly dashing about the country addressing party and fund-raising gatherings, and usually Seaton accompanies him.

The opinion is general among party leaders that in the not-too-distant future Seaton avowedly will become director of Nixon's drive for another try for the White House.

AT A RECENT private meeting in the East, Nixon disclosed he is looking for a press assistant with political experience. Also that he estimates his traveling and other expenses at around $50,000 a year, and is having no difficulty meeting these costs.

POSTMASTER General Lawrence O'Brien is being eagerly sought by members of Congress as a speaker in their home bailiwicks. He is being deluged with such requests, and is responding to most of them.

San Rafael Robbers Hit Store, Motorist

A San Rafael liquor store clerk and a visiting Long Beach man were the victims of two robberies within five hours last night and early today in San Rafael.

The larger haul was made by a short, polite young man who brandished a .32 caliber pistol at Wilbur Lewis Haven in Rudy's Liquor Store, 1835 Fourth Street, at 9 p.m. yesterday, then took about $277 in currency from the cash register.

Victim of the other robbery, Ren Hoek, 51, lost $64 in cash and a watch and ring worth a total of $61 when two men claiming to have a gun ordered him out of his car at Fourth and A streets at 1:43 a.m. today.

Police gave this description of the liquor store holdup:

Haven was in the rear of the store when a short man, about 25, with a crew cut walked in through the Second Street door and waited at the cigarette counter.

When Haven went to the counter, the man drew the gun and said, politely, "This is a holdup, sir."

Haven told officers the holdup man again called him "sir" when he advised him that his weapon was "not a toy gun."

Ordering Haven to open the cash register and lie on the floor, the robber reached into the cash drawer, scooped out all the currency and hurried through the same doorway by which he had entered.

Coins in the cash drawer were untouched, police said.

Inspector Thomas Cheetham said two women apparently saw or heard the man within the next few minutes. One reported seeing a man running south across Second Street (which runs behind the store before joining with Fourth Street at the start of the Miracle Mile).

Next, she told police, he ran south on West Street and she lost sight of him.

The other woman witness said she heard a dog bark and a car drive away from West Street about the same time.

Haven said the man was about 5 feet 7 inches, weighed 160 pounds, had "dirty brown hair," and had a day's growth of beard. His speech sounded as though he might have been of German descent, Haven said.

It was the second holdup of Rudy's in just over two months.

High-Rise Project Proposed In Courthouse Square Plan

FUTURE OF COURTHOUSE SQUARE? — This layout by engineer Daniel P. Coleman, prepared for the City of San Rafael, shows how the courthouse square might provide a central downtown park and at the same time accommodate a 10-story building and two two-story buildings. A portion of Fourth Street would be depressed to connect with underground parking. A and Court streets between Fourth and an extended Julia Street would be narrowed to walkways.

Off-Street Parking Suggested

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

A 10-story building at the rear of the courthouse square would dominate a park-like center of downtown San Rafael in a proposal presented to the San Rafael City Council last night by engineer Daniel P. Coleman.

Julia Street would be extended as a subway to Court Street, connecting with a second level of underground parking beneath the rear portion of the square. A and Court streets would be only walkways between Julia and Fourth.

PEDESTRIAN WALK

Curbside parking would vanish from Fourth Street. There would be diagonal parking in a center section beyond both ends of the depressed portion.

Four hundred and seventy-five cars could park on the two levels beneath the courthouse block, solving San Rafael's longtime problem of where to park automobiles without killing off valuable street frontage.

REPORT TO CITY

Coleman pictured this development in his report to the city council on how best to control development of the square when it is sold by the county. It is to be sold to raise money toward a new Hall of Justice at the Civic Center.

Such development would be possible under a new zone, "planned commercial redevelopment district," designed especially for the courthouse block.

"These plans are not intended as master plan," Coleman wrote, "but merely as a visual explanation of the proposed amendment."

The city council, expressing pleasure with Coleman's work, unanimously referred the report and suggested ordinance to the planning commission.

No Solution Found For Ditch Dispute

By ROBERT M. COPPOCK

Residents of east Corte Madera who intend to buy a new car might consider the Land Rover or four-wheel-drive Jeep.

Paradise Drive will be undergoing the therapy of one contractor or another for the next 90 days, at least, assuming the weather doesn't get too bad.

That was the most encouraging word Acting Town Engineer Philip B. Lygren could give about 30 irritated residents and businessmen at the Corte Madera Town Council meeting last night. But, he said, the present ditch should be filled in about 10 days.

Lygren said the contractor agreed, after a meeting earlier in the day, to go back to work on the project tomorrow. He had pulled out after an encroachment permit expired.

The agreement came after Corte Madera Sanitary District engineers agreed to ask that district's board to withhold payments until the town was satisfied with the work.

But, Lygren added, digging of the 16-foot deep trench has damaged the street, causing sinking, cracks and chuckholes, and the contractor and town have yet to agree what is damage and what has always been there.

"We had a man from Kirkwood-Bly, Inc. (the contractor) in here yesterday telling us the street hasn't subsided," said Public Works Director Arthur N. Morrison, as the audience laughed.

Because of the disagreement, the town cannot correct the damage without hurting its case when it asks the contractor to pay for the mess created, Lygren explained.

Town forces will fill up holes that are a serious hazard; but otherwise, until all damage is surveyed by an impartial outside firm of soil engineers, the cracks and chuckholes will have to remain, he continued.

Then, when Kirkwood-Bly completes the sewer job, Ghilotti Brothers, Inc., will move

Police Chief Tells Of Klan Acts, Arrests

Chief Leo Blackwell, of Griffin, Ga., told the House Committee on Un-American Activities that the incident occurred April 24, 1964.

The committee was looking also into the activities of Nacirema, Inc., which investigator Philip Manuel described as a Klan offshoot for those who wanted "more violent action." The word is a reverse spelling of American.

Witnesses refused yesterday to answer any committee questions about Nacirema, schools on how to handle explosives, or parties at a klavern headquarters near Atlanta. The parties led to the arrest of five Klansmen on charges of maintaining a disorderly house.

Blackwell said after a cross was burned in front of a Negro establishment, he and his men located the two cars that had carried the Klansmen. They were parked near the local klavern headquarters, he said.

Blackwell said he arrested two men in the klavern — he named them as Colbert McGriff and Oliver Custis Sanders—and three others later. He identified these three as Allen Bayne, Thomas Royce Carlyle and a John Mitchell.

Blackwell said all were strangers to him and he suggested they were from out of town.

In searching their cars, Blackwell said he uncovered a small arsenal and Klan robes and signs.

Witnesses at the cross burning, Blackwell said, told him

Barry Wants McNamara's Resignation

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Barry Goldwater called today for the resignation of Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara, urged an all-out bombing of Hanoi industrial complexes and blamed Govs. William W. Scranton and Nelson Rockefeller, both Republicans, for his defeat in last year's presidential election.

In a taped television interview with newscaster Vince Leonard of KYW (Westinghouse) entitled "One Year Later," Goldwater also said the Johnson administration had turned down his request to visit Viet Nam as a reserve general in the Air Force.

Speaking from his home in Phoenix, the former Arizona senator said the resignation of McNamara "would be the best thing that could happen in our war effort. He has had too big a say in making foreign policy."

Goldwater, who was soundly beaten by President Johnson in the 1964 election, said McNamara's policies have reduced the morale in the Pentagon to an all-time low.

Goldwater said the war in Viet Nam could be ended in a relative few months if "we would say to Hanoi you are no longer a sacred place."

He urged heavy bombing of "not the city—we are not people killers," but industrial targets.

On politics he said the attacks by Rockefeller, of New York, and Scranton, of Pennsylvania, describing him as trigger happy and out to destroy Social Security hurt most in his bid for the presidency.

Son's Accidental Shot Kills Novato Huntsman

A 40-year-old Novato father of three children was accidentally shot to death by his son yesterday while duck hunting near Olympia, Wash.

Maurese Eugene Sisco, of 64 Montego Key, was walking down a road with his son, Bruce, 13, when the boy stumbled and a shotgun he was holding flew out of his hands.

The gun landed in brush, discharged, and the blast struck the elder Sisco in the back, said Thurston County Sheriff C. A. Van Allen. The father was dead on arrival at an Olympia hospital.

A friend of the family said today: "Bruce was so excited at the prospect of going hunting. It was the big thing in his life."

The Sisco family were on a weekend visit to James Hamilton, operator of the Rainier Hereford Ranch, about 15 miles south of Olympia. They arrived Saturday and planned to leave today.

Sisco, a manufacturer's representative, is survived by his wife, his son, and two small daughters, Lezlie Ann and Jann Louise.

Parking Tag Favoritism Is Charged

Favoritism by San Rafael's meter maids in enforcing the city parking ordinance was charged last night by a Fourth Street merchant.

Warren Robinson of Marin Upholstery at 1321 Fourth Street complained to the city council that people who work or have businesses on San Rafael's main street park their cars at the curb all day and get no tickets.

When car tires are marked, they back out and drive right in again, he declared. Moreover, he said, Police Chief Charles J. Chisea had told him his "hands were tied" as cars could not be ticketed if the movement had erased or changed position of the tire mark.

"If you pull out and right back in, it's an evasion of the ordinance," he declared. "Ticket them. I'd like to take it to court and make a test case."

"The people who park there all day don't get the tickets," asserted Robinson. "The customers get the tickets."

Councilman Fred E. Jensen backed Robinson's complaint. He said he had observed a meter maid ignoring overparked cars, and she had told him, "It's none of your business."

Airborne Cavalry Captures 26 Reds, Kills 92 Of Enemy

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. combat troops reported 92 Communist guerrillas killed and 26 captured in fighting in central Viet Nam today and yesterday.

Men of the 1st Air Cavalry Division, who arrived in Viet Nam only seven weeks ago, fought three engagements against an enemy force of between 500 and 600 men near the U.S. Special Forces camp at Plei Me, 210 miles north of Saigon.

The airborne cavalrymen reported they killed 88 of the enemy, captured 26 others and picked up 26 suspects. A U.S. spokesman said North Vietnamese regulars were among those killed and captured.

There was no word on American casualties.

The Plei Me camp underwent a week-long seige before the Communists were routed last week. The cavalrymen have been hunting down Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in the area since then.

The Viet Cong attacked an outpost near Qui Nhon, on the coast 260 miles north of Saigon, but a U.S. spokesman said paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division fought off the assault and killed four Viet Cong. The Americans suffered light casualties, the spokesman said.

In the northernmost sea rescue of the war, Capt. Norman P. Huggins of Mullins, S.C., was picked up after his plane was hit by conventional ground fire over a Communist surface-to-air missile site 35 miles northeast of Hanoi, a military spokesman reported.

FBI Makes First Arrest In Brinks Cannon Caper

NEW YORK (UPI) — FBI Agents today sought the husky Canadian nephew of Jack Frank, who was arrested last night in connection with the Oct. 23 cannon-blast burglary of $416,028 from a Brinks Inc. vault in Syracuse, N.Y.

Frank, 33, of Freeport, N.Y., was arrested in nearby Garden City, N.Y. His nephew, Joe Singer, 23, of Chomady, Quebec, Canada, remained at large. Also being sought were two other Canadians, both unidentified, who along with Singer were alleged to have staged the daring theft.

The FBI charged Frank and Singer with conspiracy to violate the interstate transportation of stolen property act — the property said to be the stolen money.

Singer was also charged with violating the federal firearms act in the transportation of a 20-mm anti-tank gun which was used to help blow open a concrete and steel vault in the Brinks office.

Frank was not accused of participating in the theft. The FBI said he and Singer purchased two of the anti-tank weapons from an Alexandria, Va., gun dealer.

Investigators said Frank apparently was unaware of the burglary plan and later cooperated with the FBI in the investigation.

A Great Ant Society Eschews Laughs For Committed Culture

If I object to the Great Society, it is not because I think it a non-viable phantom conjured up by unrealistic lotus-eaters. After all, it is modeled on a going concern that has been doing business at the same old stand since time immemorial: the perfect organization of that remarkable insect, the ant, who lives under a set of laws not unlike those passed at this session of Congress.

There is obviously no room in such a society for the rugged individualist, that barbaric symbol which marred our own history until this happy era. For here there are neither haves nor have-nots, since each has his place and his duties and accepts them from birth.

IF THE FAMILY life of the ant is slightly more communal than we have been accustomed to, it seems to pay off. No youngster ever goes to a psychiatrist because he feels he doesn't belong. And when was the last time you heard of a teen-aged ant staying out late, getting drunk, smoking reefers, engaging in a free speech movement, or joining the Young Republicans? There is no need to rebel when you know you are taken care of from the cradle to the grave and that you have tenure at your job, whether it's raising fungi or caring for aphis.

And if this communal life works so well with ants, who is to say it will not work with man? Anyway, as our new laws begin to take effect, we'll find out before long.

AND YET, though I am not blind to the manifold advantages of giving up this competitive rat race for the ordered life of the Great Communal Society, I see little fun in it. And certainly no laughter—that marvelous gift the Creator bestowed only on man.

Did you ever hear an ant laugh? Or see him beam as his son got a crucial hit in a Cub Scout game? Or chuckle at a bawdy limerick? Or take a lazy stroll on a spring day and look at the blue sky and green things growing and pretty girls passing by and feel how gay and wonderful it was just to be alive?

There are other species besides man which are blessed with the spirit of pure fun. Watch a colt, released from the barn after a long winter, roll in the snow and romp in sheer ecstasy; watch your dog in a ramble through the woods, running away to sniff eagerly at every smell and sight and sound and come running back, his tail a-wagging, to jump up and lick you as he tries to express his sense of sheer joy.

BUT THESE are emotions that belong to none of the so-called social insects—neither the ant nor his two-legged brother of our own species. To both, every act must have a definite purpose: it must contribute to their Great Society, and no time out is permitted for the smallest of coffee breaks.

The impact of this philosophy is already with us, and if you do not embrace it you are not "committed"—which is the new status symbol. Fun just for fun's sake is out.

Even when a politician tries to make a judge out of a ward heeler, he announces his purpose is to preserve the majesty of the law. Just as an ant, coming unbidden to your picnic, does so only for the communal good.

WE HAD AN interesting example in Los Angeles recently. "Hello, Dolly" came here for a limited run; most of the tickets went to subscribers, and the management announced the rest of the seats would go to the general public on a first come, first served basis on a certain day.

Apparently some 8,000 showed up and waited in line all night for the box office to open. And, as in a World Series, many were disappointed when the "Sold Out" sign appeared.

Two letters on the subject appeared in the paper. One pointed with pride to the astonishing crowd that had queued up. This love of music, the writer proclaimed, was eminent proof of our culture! Not just the obvious fact that the show and its tunes had struck a popular chord and that it might be fun to see—surely the only purpose of the queuers—but a convincing demonstration of our culture. How corny can you get?

But worse was the note printed right below it. This one wept that so many people could turn out for a frothy musical when museums and art exhibits went a-begging for patrons. The lady—a ready-made ant, obviously—will doubtless write her congressman and ask for a law to make her forms of culture obligatory.

I remember—but of course I go back a long way—when going to the theater was pure fun. Will Rogers, W. C. Fields, Bobbby Clark, the Marx Brothers, Bea Lillie—you take the ants, and I'll take the belly laughs. Straight—and without culture.

Pupil Hit A Sour Note When He Transferred To Pickle School

In a school district that is growing as fast as the Novato Unified School District in a town that is growing as fast as Novato, there are bound to be some problems.

For example, where new subdivisions are opened, a majority of people buying those houses are young people with young children. So the school district suddenly finds itself with twice as many children in the lower grades as it had planned and perhaps only half as many in the upper grades.

This story was reported to us by a very reliable source—it had to be, because everything the P-TA does is correct.

Anwway, the story goes that this first grader came home one day to announce solemnly to his young parents that he was being transferred from the Pleasant Valley School to the Pickle School.

NO AMOUNT of questioning could break the child's story. He was being transferred to the Pickle School.

Not knowing the school system, the community into which they had just moved, or anything about transferring students from one school to another, the parents were nonplussed.

Finally they found out that the child was being transferred to the Olive School.

When confronted with the true name of the school, the child replied:

"Pickles and olives; I never could keep them straight."

DAYLIGHT SAVING time is a thing of the past for this year. Suddenly everyone finds darkness falling about an hour earlier than he is used to.

It is now night time when late afternoon and early evening activities are still going on. Paper boys and others may have to find your house in the dark.

CAN THEY SEE and read your house number from the street at night?

If it is not illuminated, it might be a good idea to leave a porch light on until the deliveries are made, or all children are off the street.

Along a similar line, the fall rains and cold weather will be starting soon. Capt. Richard Beyer has issued his annual warning about checking all heating appliances before putting them into their regular winter use.

MAJ. GEN. CARROLL W. McColpin, commander of the 28th Air Division and vice commander of the 28th North American Air Defense Region, recently had an article printed in the NORAD News from Colorado Springs.

The general, who has flown everything from a glider to a supersonic jet, did the article on the YF-12A, a revolutionary new aircraft which he describes as not being designed as an airplane but a weapons system.

WITH TRICK or treat day behind us, we must pass on a story of treating that came to us belatedly.

When he returned to his patrol car, he found it surrounded with small fry who were fascinated by the insignia on the car and the radio which keeps him informed of the goings-on around the county.

He called them to the back of the patrol car and lifted the trunk lid as though to show them something important. Then he reached in and gave each one of them a lollipop.

This probably comes under the heading of good public relations. They may not be voters yet, but they will be one day soon.

10 YEARS AGO

San Rafael High's Bulldogs rolled over Analy, 51-2, to win their first undisputed football championship of the North Bay League Section in 11 years.

The name of Novato Creek Dam and Reservoir was changed to Charles D. Stafford Dam and Stafford Lake in tribute to the late president of the North Marin Water District.

Roy Rogers' Son Dies

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—An autopsy revealed "an amount" of alcohol in the body of Pfc John David (Sandy) Rogers, the 18-year-old adopted son of cowboy actor Roy Rogers and actress Dale Evans, a U. S. Army spokesman reported today.

Rogers

The young soldier died Sunday in a U.S. Army hospital here of asphyxiation due to vomiting. He had been admitted to the hospital nine hours earlier, complaining of feeling ill.

The Army spokesman said he could neither confirm nor deny published reports that Rogers had fallen ill after engaging in a drinking contest. These reports said Rogers accepted a challenge to drink five glasses of vodka, brandy and whisky in 20 minutes.

The body was being flown to New York today for transshipment to California where Rogers will be buried.

Mrs. Neuberger To Drop Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Maurine Neuberger, D-Ore., has dropped out of contention for reelection with a blast against the way she said senatorial campaigns are financed.

Mrs. Neuberger, who is really Mrs. Philip Solomon, made it clear in a statement Monday that one other principal reason for quitting was that she didn't want "to be beholden to some group for campaign money and to go begging from friends and relatives."

Mrs. Neuberger

The Senate seat she occupies will be at stake in next year's election. Oregon Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, a Republican, is expected to bid strongly for it. Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., might seek the Democratic nomination.

Mrs. Neuberger said that since she had an operation for cancer four years ago she has known she probably would not run again. She said she made "a wonderful recovery," that her health is excellent and that she has been able to carry on the heavy workload of a senator.

Paris, Moscow Call For Viet Peace Accord

MOSCOW (AP) — France and the Soviet Union called today for a Viet Nam peace settlement based on an end to outside interference in the internal affairs of the divided country.

The proposal—restating a position which both the French and the Soviet governments have taken previously—was made in a joint communique at the end of five days of talks between French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville and top Soviet leaders.

The communique contained no joint peace formula, however, and made no specific mention of U.S. troops in Viet Nam.

It said the two governments expressed "growing concern" over the "new dangers" for peace stemming from the Viet Nam war.

It said the Viet Nam problem should be solved by strict application of the Geneva agreements of 1954.

The statement said the French-Soviet talks helped to build understanding between Eastern and Western Europe in a dialogue both sides said they hoped would continue.

The only specific agreement mentioned was a pact to be concluded later covering Soviet-French cooperation in space research. It is believed this will apply to joint work on a communications satellite system.

Guilty Verdict In Park Play Battle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Municipal Court jury found Ronald G. Davis, 32, guilty yesterday of presenting a theatrical performance in a city park without a permit.

Davis is director of the San Francisco Mime Troupe which had its permit to give free commedia dell' arte performances in San Francisco's city parks revoked Aug. 4 by the city's Recreation and Park Commission.

The commission ruled that the groupe's production of "Il Candelaio," a 16th century Italian comedy, was lewd.

Klan Leader To Be Buried

READING, Pa. (AP) — A Ku Klux Klan leader who shot himself to death when his Jewish background became public is being cremated and buried today.

His parents identified the body yesterday.

WAR VETERANS WELCOMED HOME

Jack Digman, Navy instrument controlman second class, from Sacramento, greets his family with much vigor at Alameda Naval Air Station yesterday after his ship, the carrier Coral Sea, returned from action in Viet Nam waters. The warship and her srew of 3,700 officers and men were gone for 331 days, set records for launching sorties, and suffered 10 battle casualties. Crowds lined the Golden Gate Bridge and the air station pier yesterday to welcome home the warriors. (AP Wirephoto)

Tax Assessors Reviewing Legislative Reform Plan

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK (AP)—California's county property tax assessors are reviewing today a 28-point plan for legislative reform.

The plan calls for laws requiring all assessors to use uniform assessment ratios that are disclosed publicly.

"Assessors have been allowed to operate behind a veil of secrecy that no other agency and practically no private business enjoys," John Lynch of Fresno said yesterday. Lynch is chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

Some California county assessors' offices have been under investigation since charges were made earlier this year that certain assessors' deputies received payments in return for reduced tax bills. Assessors in San Francisco and Alameda counties have been charged by grand juries with taking money in return for lower assessments.

The Association of County Assessors began examining the reform program last Wednesday. The association is holding its annual meeting, which began Sunday and ends Thursday.

Burt Broemmel, Marin County assessor, is head of the committee which is urging adoption of the reform plan.

Other members are assessors Phil Watson of Los Angeles, Fred Wanaka of Contra Costa, Don Stewart of Monterey and Harold Brundige of Modoc.

Africa-Asia Plan For Summit Dies

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN

ALGIERS (AP) — The second African-Asian summit conference finally fell apart today, a victim of the fierce political conflict between the Soviet Union and Red China.

Foreign ministers of the African-Asian world buried their hopes for the projected meeting and shelved it indefinitely. Already delayed twice, it was to have opened Friday.

The foreign ministers reluctantly concluded that a summit could not be held now because it would be boycotted by their most powerful member, Red China, and a number of other members.

Peking stayed away from the foreign ministers' conference and warned that it would not at this time attend any conference which included the Soviet Union.

The Red Chinese also scored a point when the foreign ministers declined to adopt India's proposal to bring the Soviet Union into the African-Asian ranks now. Nearly all of the 45 countries represented, however, favored inclusion of the Soviet Union if another summit meeting is ever held.

Indian Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs C.S. Jha told a news conference this was "of great political consequence for the Afro-Asian bloc and for the entire world."

The debate on Soviet participation raged day and night over the weekend in the committee rooms and corridors of Algeria's new $30-million conference center on a beach 15 miles west of Algiers.

Luci, Beau Remain Mum On Cupid Tales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Luci Johnson replied, "You know I can't say anything" when reporters asked her about reports she was seeking her parents' permission to marry Patrick J. Nugent.

Earlier Monday, Nugent, 22, of Waukegan, Ill., told reporters, "My private life is my own and so is Luci's." He is employed here at the District Commissioner's Advisory Council on Higher Education.

Supervisors Spat Over Bridge Deck Opinions

Sparks flew between county supervisors Thomas T. Storer and Ernest N. Kettenhofen at the Civic Center today over the proposal for a second deck on the Golden Gate Bridge.

The exchange was triggered when Kettenhofen said he did not think it proper for a board member to speak on an issue before public bodies after it has been defeated twice by the board.

He obviously referred to Storer's actions after the 3-2 approval by the board last week of a second deck, in which Supervisor Peter H. Behr and Storer were in the minority. Storer since spoke to the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen on the second deck and wrote a letter to the directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District opposing it.

"It will be a sad day when an elected official is gagged," Storer retorted.

He further declared he did not want to see his views or anyone else's censored, and referred to constitutional right to free speech and free press.

Kettenhofen said he did not intend criticism of Storer's specific actions, "however, the shoe must be hurting, because you're certainly squealing about it."

Kettenhofen further criticized Storer for sending the bridge board letter on Marin County stationery with no mention that his view was the minority view.

"At least you got a copy of my letter," Storer answered referring to the fact that Storer did not see a copy of Kettenhofen's telegram of rebutal to the bridge board.

Supervisors William A. Gnoss and Behr tried to cool the dispute, but Kettenhofen declared that he thought interpretation of his criticism as an argument against free speech was "poor taste."

Board Goes Slow On Plea For Civic Center Museum

Association President Nancy Hayden told the board that a donor willing to give a substantial sum for a museum is getting impatient. She said space has to be assured before the donor will contribute.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker said that when Mrs. Hayden called him yesterday, a lease was not mentioned, only that the board agree to provide space at the center. He said also he had received calls from other association members saying that there was not so much urgency as Mrs. Hayden suggested.

Mrs. Hayden, backed by five other directors of the association, insisted that action was needed.

At the end of the discussion, supervisors agreed to take the matter up again next week. No specific site for a museum has been designated.

Neighbor's Find Is Clue To Burglary

When Ellsworth Miller of 37 Sonora Way, Corte Madera, took out the garbage Friday, he found a pillow slip filled with what appeared to be trash on top of his garbage can.

On checking the contents, he found a check book and other items bearing another man's name. He called police and thereby may have provided a break in a burglary case police have been investigating nearly a month.

The items in the pillow slip belong to Ronald A. Hoag of 3 Harbor Drive, Corte Madera. Burglars took $1,817 in cameras, jewelry and money from his home the night of Oct. 9, including the items found by Miller.

Police assumed the burglary was the work of an adult, but with Miller's discovery they have begun questioning boys with a record of burglaries who live in the Marin Estates area of Corte Madera.

that McGriff covered them from one of the cars with a weapon that looked like a tommy gun as the cross was set up and ignited.

Blackwell said he also found records indicating one of the Klansmen as an organizer for the KKK.

Nacirema's charter from the state of Georgia was placed in the record. It stated as the purpose of the organization "to instill patriotism and re-activate liberty and justice for the body politic." Its address was given as a post office box in Mableton, Ga.

Nacirema's original incorporators were Clyde J. Newborn, Tom Gentry and R. H. Wynn.

Police reports on the disorderly house, also placed in the record, described a series of drunken weekend parties, with men and women staggering out to relieve themselves in the front yard in public.

On March 16, 1963, De Kalb County police stepped in and arrested five men at the house at 2666 Kelly Lake Drive outside Atlanta. They were John Brock, William Crowe, William Anderson, Robert Day and Billy F. Wilson. The charges against Brock and Wilson were later dropped. The disposition of the other cases could not be learned. Brock, Crowe and Anderson were called as witnesses yesterday and identified as Klan officers. All refused to answer questions.

Halloween Mischief Still On

San Rafael police were still plagued yesterday with the last mischief of the Halloween weekend.

At 8 a.m. yesterday, Maurice Antoine of 208 Fairhills Drive complained that someone had thrown eggs at the front of his house.

Donald DeLong of DeLong Chevrolet, 550 Francisco Boulevard, reported at 12:30 p.m. yesterday that someone had smashed a two-by-three foot window in the firm's parts building.

At 10:50 p.m., two 16-year-old San Rafael boys, James C. Rogers of 830 Rincon Way and Harry A. Litteral of 5 Ross Street, were walking along downtown Fourth Street when they heard a crash.

The two said they then saw two youths about their age running south on Lootens Place, leaving behind a broken window, about two by seven feet, in the front door of Gallen-Kamp's Shoe Store, 891 Fourth Street.

been charged with the Labor Day murder of a San Rafael bartender, and Harold Frank Percell, 24, both are charged with an Aug. 30 holdup at the liquor store.

In the other robbery, police said, Hoek reported that he was driving west on Fourth Street and made a left turn to A Street when two men on the sidewalk yelled at him to pull over.

When he did so, one of the men said, "Give me your money or we'll blow your brains out."

Hoek said the second man, who did not speak, had his right hand in his pocket as though holding a weapon, but no gun was visible.

Doing as he was ordered, Hoek pulled out his wallet and handed over the $64 which was inside. Then the first man ordered him to "give me your watch and that ring."

Hoek again did as he was told.

Next, the man ordered Hoek to get out of his car and start walking. He told officers he heard the men run from the area as he walked south on A Street. He walked five blocks to a service station at Second Street and Lincoln Avenue, where he called police from a pay telephone.

Police said Hoek was unable to give complete discriptions of the men, but said both wore dark clothing while the first had on a wool sweater. One man was about 5 feet 5 inches, the other 5 feet 2, and the one who spoke had a Mexican accent.

Hoek told officers he was staying at the Wilkins Hotel while in San Rafael on business.

It varies from an elevation of 26 feet above sea level at Fifth Avenue and A Street to 17 feet at Fourth and Court streets.

Approximately 30 per cent of the land area is now covered by the courthouse and its annex. The same amount of land would be covered by the three buildings proposed.

However, about 40 per cent of the land is now used for parking. With this underground, there would be a much more extensive park area under Coleman's plan than now exists.

In his proposal, and in the zoning amendment creating the new zone, Coleman divided the square into two parcels, at the north edge of the extension of Julia Street. Height limit on the parcel nearest Fourth Street would be 30 feet, but on the rear parcel, a 10-story building would be allowed.

"Although the amendment is intended to be specific in those areas where specifics are necessary," he wrote, "it has been prepared so as to allow considerable latitude in design since the ultimate plan for the site should reflect the most imaginative of ideas."

With only 30 per cent of the land area covered by buildings, the two two-story and one 10-story structure could have total floor area of 156,356 square feet —equal to a two-story building over the entire site, he noted.

Although he did not rule out keeping the old courthouse, Coleman observed that "although well constructed, it is not well suited for conversion to office or commercial uses."

Further arraignment proceedings in the case of two San Quentin prisoners charged with murdering San Rafael bartender Mario Ferrari were continued in Marin Superior Court today, pending arguments on motions to set aside their indictment.

Judge Samuel W. Gardiner scheduled hearing of the arguments for defendants Marc C. Osuna, 30, and Jack R. Gorman, 36, for 10 a.m. Nov. 16. The motions, made by attorney Thomas P. Boyd representing Osuna, and Jerome Durham, public defender representing Gorman, allege the two were indicted without reasonable or probable cause.

GIRL SETS A RECORD OF SORTS

Meredith Durkee, 16, of 1495 Casa Buena Drive, Apt. 605, Corte Madera, wanted to play some records last night, but first had to replace the needle in the phonograph. The machine may never be the same.

Miss Durkee dropped the needle into the phonograph, fished blindly for it, and caught her finger in some unseen crevice.

There the finger stayed until Corte Madera police officer Fred Talmadge, summoned by her sister Barbara, arrived and, with surgical precision, dismanteled the infernal machine, found the finger and freed it.

its equipment in to widen the street to four lanes and repave it.

The audience groaned at hearing the scope of the work. Lygren added he could not insure that Ghilotti would start work immediately, because approval is first needed from the county and state, which are sharing the cost.

Hopefully, he said, Kirkwood-Bly will contract with Ghilotti to fix up the street, so that project can all be handled at one time with the city's street widening job.

Gerritt Orton, 44 Echo Avenue, said he would rather see the major cracks and chuckholes fixed immediately, even though the question of liability would be clouded.

Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said taxpayers might be stuck with a bill of as much as $30,000 which should be paid by Kirkwood-Bly.

Those same taxpayers who live east of the highway are going to be stuck with $12 wheel it should even out, Orton asserted.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton said he had driven the street both ways at the evening commute hour and did not feel the condition was quite that serious.

Gabe M. Angel, head of the Paradise Shopping Center Merchants Assn., asked for signs pointing out temporary driveways to the shopping area, saying people cannot find them in a maze of barracades.

Colthurst said there would be no signs in the public right of way.

"We're entering our busiest season right now, we hope," said Angel. He noted Gregory's Restaurant had placed a sign near the street, apparently illegally. Councilmen did not ask to have it removed.

Someone Likes To Steal Wigs

Marin's wig thief has struck again.

Last week, 11 to 15 wigs were stolen from a wig shop in Novato.

At 9:35 a.m. yesterday, manager Jean Weill of the H. Liebes Beauty Salon, 300 Northgate Shopping Center, told police someone had stolen six wigs worth a total of $1,525, sometime before Saturday afternoon.

The wigs varied in shade from strawberry blonde to dark brown, she said.

Marina Developer Challenges Lease

The City of Mill Valley's right to grant a private developer a six-month option to lease the city's small craft yacht harbor was questioned last night by an attorney representing the developer of an adjacent marina.

Clark W. Maser, representing Bothin Real Estate Co., which has begun dredging on its marina development, told the city council its procedure "does not provide any public competition, any public bidding."

"This is for the people of Mill Valley to decide," he declared.

Maser suggested seeking an opinion from the state attorney general to see if there should be a review by the State Small Craft Harbor Commission.

City Atty. Leland H. Jordan said "we are not required to go to competitive bidding." Jordan said City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer has checked this with the harbor commission and no review is required. He said that if and when a lease is entered into, the state loan is immediately paid in full.

Mayor Michael Wornum remarked: "This has been public knowledge. If anyone else wanted to lease it, they could have spoken up."

Wornum asked if the council wanted to act on the option, saying "time is of the urgency." However, Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks asked to continue the subject to Nov. 15 to give him time to study the new proposed agreement.

The council went over portions of the agreement with Paul B. Fischer, Corona del Mar developer, and it was agreed the lease term would be not less than 30 nor more than 55 years.

The council did not agree with a proposal that the city pay 90 per cent of engineering and feasibility studies estimated at $18,500.

The council adopted "in principle" a plan whereby entrance to the proposed William S. Allen subdivision would be from both West Blithedale Avenue and Manzanita Place. After hearing arguments for and against the access from West Blithedale residents.

Councilman Albert E. White reported that contract are being drawn following negotiations between builder George C. Goheen, Pacific Gas and Electric Co. and Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to put utilities underground in Scott Highlands Units 2 and 2A.

The Mill Valley City Council Also:

1. Approved engineering plans and authorized call for bids to overlay East Blithedale Avenue from Park School to Camino Alto.

2. Agreed to request $7,700 from the County Flood Control District No. 3 to clean out Mill Valley creeks, with additional money to be requested for Warner Creek.

3. Voted 4-0, Councilman Sheeks abstaining, to inform the county board of supervisors and planning department that it backs the Mill Valley Planning Commission's proposals for the proposed planned development on the Dias Ranch and finds proposed density at 3.5 units per acre too high.

4. Adopted a resolution initiating proceedings to get four "hold-out" parties on East Blithedale Avenue to install sidewalks.

5. Heard a letter from Harvey Muntzel praising the city for reducing its tax rate.

6. Adjourned in memory of Mrs. Gladys Balmer, mother of City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer. Mrs. Balmer died last Friday. Balmer was absent last night.

Students Hope For Pen Pal Plan

A list of 110 students interested in corresponding has been obtained by Fernando Silva, Tamalpais foreign language teacher, from Liceo de Ninas, a girls' high school in Vina.

The hope of the Sausalito People-To-People Program, according to Tamalpais High School reporter Pam Kroner, is to start an exchange student program with Vina.

Peter L. Goldstein, 31-year-old publicist injured in a freak accident Oct. 19 on the Waldo Grade, was reported in poor condition at Marin General Hospital today. Hospital officials said Goldstein, of 26 Carlson Court, San Anselmo, is now conscious most of the time.

Janitor, 24, Indicted In Girl's Death

The San Francisco County Grand Jury last night indicted a 24-year-old janitor for the alleged murder of his teen-age girl friend, whose body was found in Muir Woods last April.

Virgilio Restauro, arrested after a six-month search, was indicted in the slaying of Nonita Vicera, 16, of Daly City. He insists her death was an accident.

The high school student's body had several stab wounds. Police said she apparently was slain in a parking garage and then driven to Marin County.

Miss Vicera's body was found on the afternoon of April 19, on a slope below Muir Woods Road, by two employees of the Marin County Public Works Department. Coroner Frank J. Keaton said she died of at least six stab wounds in the head and a skull fracture.

An alarm was at once put out for Restauro. Later, a pool of blood was found in a San Francisco garage where he had parked his white Thunderbird. Investigators believe the girl was killed in the car and her body hauled to Muir Woods.

Mill Valley Garbage Cost, Service Argued

Differences over rates and service supplied by the Mill Valley Refuse Co. were argued before the city council last night, with action being postponed until the return of City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer, who was absent because of the death of his mother last Friday.

Councilman Albert E. White charged there is a difference in the garbage regulations in city ordinance, which allows the franchise, and the "small print on the back of garbage bills."

White said, too, the rates, specially for commercial users, are unclear. He said the company has tried to negotiate with the city council rather than with the city manager. He suggested three months be given for negotiations and, if not concluded then, the franchise be cancelled and opened to bid.

Albert Bianchi, attorney for the refuse service, denied the compay had refused to negotiate with Balmer.

He said the company has not had a rate increase for almost nine years and is losing money in Mill Valley. He said amounts charged for businesses have in cases increased following company route checks where a business had not been paying the full rate for the amount of garbage being removed. Bianchi said the company partners are willing to terminate the contract at midnight but would like to continue negotiations.

Mayor Michael Wornum commented that "perhaps public relations could be better." The city has no intention of rescinding the contract at this point and does not wish to go into the garbage business, he said. He suggested "letting the flames cool" and wait for Balmer's return.

Fifty persons were in the audience and applauded at one point when a garbage company employee reported there have been but 22 complaints about service.

Thomas S. Chandler of 15 Maywood Way was in good condition today at San Rafael General Hospital.

Police said Thomas and two 14-year-old friends were crossing a vacant lot next to 60 Ridgewood Drive, shooting firecrackers to celebrate Halloween.

The boys told officers that someone approached them from behind, shined a flashlight on young Chandler and fired a pellet gun at him, striking him in the hand.

East German Guard Uses Escape Trick

BRUNSWICK, Germany (AP) —An East German checkpoint guard fled to the West after removing the bolt of his comrade's automatic pistol, West German border officials reported today.

The two soldiers were manning an observation tower on the autobahn checkpoint Helmstedt-Marienborn when the one fled. He managed to disarm his colleague's gun unnoticed and covered his escape with a volley of shots from his own pistol.

Tiburon Sanitary Post Filled By Directors

The Tiburon Sanitary District Board last night named Francis J. Ryan to fill the board vacancy created by resignation of John Eichorn.

Ryan, of 1803 Lagoon View Drive, is also a member of the Tiburon Fire District Commission.

The board elected Angelo Mirata as president and James Murray as secretary.

A letter to the City of Tiburon was authorized protesting delay in forming a Tiburon Boulevcard flood control district.

Murray said the sanitary district has spent $1,700 on engineering studies for the flood district and is seeking repayment from the city.

Sometimes people forget it's a station wagon.

Two truck-like doors in its side leave a gaping 4' by 4' hole.

And once inside, the usual things that get in your way aren't there.

Also, its roof is quite a bit higher than the average wagon roof.

And 2 of the VW's 3 bench seats come out completely.

On top of all that, there's a sliding sunroof. (Even if something is too big to fit in, it can stick out.)

That's why, when you've just bought a rolltop desk, or a piano, or a hutch, you might forget it's a station wagon. We don't mind.

As long as you don't forget it's a station wagon, when you're shopping for a station wagon.

Education Board Seeks Written Communications On Controversy

By FRANK FARRARA

If you have anything controversial to bring up before the Marin County Board of Education, you'll have to do it in writing.

The board adopted a controversial issues policy last night that requires anyone concerned about an issue to submit a written statement.

Purpose "is to insure that adequate consideration is given to issues that concern the operation and program of the county board of education and the county superintendent of schools that may be considered controversial," the board reported.

Statements on controversial issues will be submitted to Virgil S. Hollis, county superintendent of schools, then "a report of the written statement and a review of the concern" will be reported to the board.

Then the board and Hollis will select a "responsible committee" to review the issue.

Then the committee will prepare a report, including its recommendations, to Hollis. He will submit the committee report and his recommendations to the board.

Before voting for the policy, board member Mrs. Adele J. Alpers said, "I want to see how it is implemented, and the procedure for implementation."

The policy was adopted by 6-0 vote with board member Arnold T. Dolcini Jr. absent.

The board also adopted a policy on selection of supplementary textbooks whereby a supplementary textbook selection committee evaluates the books and reports to Hollis, who makes recommendations to the board. Then the board adopts the supplementary textbooks.

The board also had first reading of a proposed policy for negotiating with employees of the county schools office under provisions of the recently passed Winton Act. There would be a nine-member negotiating council of teachers if more than one teacher organization seeks to join.

The Marin County Board Of Education Also:

The Marin County Board of Education also:

1. Approved hiring one to four teachers, depending upon how many are available, to supply home instruction to educationally handicapped children in the Sausalito and Bolinas-Stinson school districts.
2. Hired Harry E. Viar as a teacher at Loma Alta School to replace Thomas Stoddard who resigned, at $6,143 per year.
3. Hired David Maness as a programmer at the data processing program, at $619 per month, to succeed Ernest Stokes who resigned to accept a comparable job with the College of Marin.
4. Approved hiring the following as consultants: Dr. Richard Suchman for series of workshops; Howard Slatoff, California State College at Hayward, for Saturday art workshop, Dec. 4; Mary Hanf, consultant from the Elementary Science Institute, for demonstrations of science instruction, and Edgar A. Doll, consultant in special education, to assist in planning new plant for trainable mentally retarded at Magnolia Park School and in planning occupational training program. Hollis said pay would "run around $40 for a half day and $60 to $75 for a full day."
5. Accepted the resignation of Judith Parks, secretary for the staff and field psychologists.
6. Acknowledged a $75 gift to Marindale School by Mrs. Frank Howard Allen and a $156 contribution to Lokoya School by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Marin Rod and Gun Club.
7. Changed the date for board committee meetings from the third Monday to the fourth Monday for November only.

Five Girls Vie For Queen Title

Homecoming queen candidates were announced today at Tamalpais High School, the winner to be crowned at Saturday's "Big Game" with Redwood High School. The game starts at 1:30 p.m. at College of Marin.

Candidates, nominated by the Letterman Club, are Sue Bottles, Janey Clark, Susan Farrell, Fran Huffman and Patty Rohl. The student body will vote Friday for a queen.

The homecoming dance will be held from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. Saturday in Ruby Scott Auditorium. It is sponsored by the Letterman and Pep clubs and the social committee.

Lecture Series Starts

Louise W. Cartwright, 25, of 67 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, today gave the first in a series of 21 weekly lectures scheduled during the school year on the campus of San Francisco State College. He is a senior, majoring in psychology.

High, Low Mercury

NEW YORK (UPI)—The lowest temperature reported this morning to the U.S. Weather Bureau, excluding Alaska and Hawaii, was 10 degrees at Oneonta, N.Y. The highest reported yesterday was 95 at Gila Bend, Ariz.

Tam Trustees Set Up Class For Dropouts

The classes, mandatory under a new state law, will be held between 1 and 5 p.m. daily at Redwood High School. The board was told the district had a dropout rate of only 1 per cent last year.

District home teacher George Wharton was hired to teach the continuation classes at an hourly rate of $6.50.

The board referred to Supt. Chester G. Carlisle a letter from Mrs. Nathalie Hawley of Mill Valley urging hiring of a community relations expert to work with minority groups.

A resolution asking state legislators to seek means of easing the school tax load on local taxpayers was voted. The resolution protests mandatory school programs created by the legislature without including funds to carry them out.

Mrs. Iris Myers, Tamalpais High School Spanish teacher, was granted a maternity leave for the spring semester.

Bring CHP Warning

Motorcycle windshields that are clear above the handlebars but tinted red below are illegal, California Highway Patrol Capt. Theodore F. Parnow has noted from the Corte Madera office. He said an increasing number of such windshields have been seen in the county.

He added that state law requires that motorcycles have headlights with high and low beams.

Lagoons Cause Headaches To Corte Madera Officials

When the two flood control lagoons in Corte Madera are emptied, the houses surrounding them start to sink and sewers break.

When they are full, there is danger a rain will cause flooding.

Corte Madera Public Works Director Arthur N. Morrison explained the problem to the town council last night, saying the town is now checking weather forecasts twice a day to be prepared.

The council unanimously voted a new flexible policy to keep the lagoons half full from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15. Until now, the policy has been to empty the lagoons on Oct. 15, expecting the first rains.

Morrison warned the new policy may mean flooding if there is a particularly heavy rain and high tide at the same time. He said it is less dangerous in October than it might be later.

Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher asked for the new policy, saying emptying the lagoons when there is no rain causes unsightliness, odor and weeds.

School Boards Set Joint Meet

San Rafael Board of Education and Dixie School District board will meet jointly Thursday at 8 p.m. in Miller Creek School library to decide whether to be governed by San Rafael city charter or by general law if voters say "yes" to unification of San Rafael and Dixie districts next June.

This is one of a series of meetings called to deal with questions arising from the proposed unification.

San Rafael city charter limits the board of education to five members, but the state education code provides at least two ways of overcoming this to provide a seven-member board. Some of the board members of the two districts feel a larger board would provide better geographical representation.

Belvedere Stays Out Of Dispute

The Belvedere City Council last night, after hearing an opinion from the city attorney, decided it had no business entering into a dispute over a strip of land between Golden Gate and Bella Vista avenues.

City Atty. William H. MacKay said a title search found the city had no interest in the property and the dispute should be settled between the two parties.

Hahn complained that Leland was taking out shrubs and trees to make an entrance to the rear of his home. "All he wants is a garbage entrance to his back door," Hahn declared.

Leland's attorney, Wallace S. Myers, answered that it made no difference why the entrance was sought. "If he owns part of the property he has the right to use it."

"No matter where our sympathies are," said Mayor Merritt K. Ruddock, "the city has no business in this matter.

Citiy Mgr. William L. Cavalli was authorized to advertise for bids on resurfacing part of Beach Road. The portion will include the west side of Beach Road from Cove Road to San Rafael Avenue and both sides of Beach from San Rafael to Bay View Avenue. The work, to be paid for out of gasoline tax funds, is estimated to cost $44,000.

A request by Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Billstein to build a fence on 75 feet of city property adjacent to their home at 301 San Rafael Avenue was denied.

Cavalli was authorized to draft an ordinance requiring anyone seeking a bay fill permit to file a request with the city. The San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission has the power to grant fill permits, but council felt the local ordinance would be a means of keeping an eye on fill proposals.

Five Arrested In New Fracas At Newspaper

Five persons arrested each other early today in Sausalito following a "pushing and shoving" fracas outside the struck publishing plant of the Marin Guide. All were citizens' arrests.

Publisher Harry H. Johnson himself was arrested by picket Allan G. Tuttle and charged with assault and battery.

Johnson, in turn, arrested Tuttle and pickets Dennis Crowley and Peter Stickney, charging Stickney with trespassing and Tuttle with assault and battery and trespassing.

OUT ON BAIL

All five made bail, Stickney of $110 and the rest of $276 each. All are to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 1:30 p.m. Friday.

Lt. Ted Zink of Sausalito police reported Johnson called police at 12:20 a.m. saying people were "trespassing outside his plant at 42 Caledonia street. There was apparently some pushing and shoving but no signs of violence, said Zink.

EARLIER STRIFE

The action was a continuation of labor troubles which broke out last Wednesday when a flare-type grenade was tossed among a group of teen-agers folding weekly newspapers at Johnson's Tamalpais Valley office at 200 Shoreline Highway.

Three cars, used by the newspaper man, were reportedly tampered with then. Fisticuffs occurred between pickets and newspaper employees.

Johnson arrested Douglas Ajdee Smith, 45, president of San Francisco-Oakland Mailers Union 18, on a citizens' arrest and later signed a complaint charging trespassing. The mailers and Typographical Union 21 of San Francisco, have picketed the Sausalito plant since Oct. 25. Johnson has said the unions are asking him to employ too many men to do his work.

San Anselmo Library Board Hears Complaint

The San Anselmo library board last night met with critics of the city library in what librarian Virginia Stewart described as "a calm and quiet meeting."

Mrs. Andre Moreau of 18 Brenfleck Avenue, who last month wrote the city council criticizing the library, attended the meeting.

According to Mrs. Stewart, she repeated her complaints that the city should belong to the county library system and the library should not require a resident to be sponsored by another property owner before taking out library books.

The board, according to Mrs. Stewart, made no comment on Mrs. Moreau's criticisms.

Also attending the meeting was Emmett Dedeyn of 30 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, a past critics of the library. He asked only that the library annual report be made available to library patrons, Mrs. Stewart said.

County librarian Virginia Keating appeared before the board to explain the benefits of joining the county library system. Mrs. Stewart said she was invited by the board before Mrs. Moreau's letter was received.

All cities in Marin except San Anselmo have an arrangement with the county library whereby city residents may purchase a county library card for $5.

San Rafael joined the system Sept. 1, on a one-year trial basis. Mrs. Stewart said board members want to see how the system is working for San Rafael before joining.

Hub Bicycle Stolen, Returned Stripped

The bike, valued at $60, was found on the street in front of the home the next morning, stripped of all but its rear wheel and frame.

Appointee Abuses Hit By Bagley

Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, warned against potential abuses stemming from politically appointed inheritance tax appraisers, in a talk in San Mateo last night.

He spoke at a joint meeting of the Burlingame, Hillsborough and San Mateo chapters of the California Republican League.

"There is no question that the 150 odd appraisers contribute large sums of money to the state controller who appoints them," said Bagley.

Novato Gets Park Land Price Offer

The City of Novato has been offered 33 acres, part of Canyon Lake park shown in its master plan, for $207,000, the Novato Parks and Recreation Commission learned last night.

The property, known as the Kreloff property, is at the end of Tamalpais Avenue.

The commission also referred back to Edward W. Adams, director, plans for the development of the Lions Club park below Stafford Lake, and a request by the Novato Senior Citizens for help in organizing programs.

County Revamps Sick Leave Pay

Marin County supervisors today agreed to abandon the policy of paying county employees for staying well.

Under the policy, an employee accumulating over 60 days of unused sick leave would be paid one-fourth of his salary for each day in excess.

The board today agreed to extend the maximum on possible accumulated sick leave to 90 days, but discontinue the one-fourth pay.

The program will be closed out at the end of this month with any payments due made then.

Red Hill Complaints Fail, Car Wash Permit Renewed

San Anselmo planning commissioners last night renewed the use permit for a coin-operated car wash at 508 Red Hill Avenue, after unanimously voting to restrict its hours of operation to from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Car wash operator John T. Wolfe opposed the restriction of business hours, saying that about 10 per cent of his business is done between 10 p.m. and 7 a.m.

Herman Weinger, who owns an apartment house at 600 Redhill Avenue, and some of his tenants appeared and complained of late evening noise from the car wash.

In other action, commissioner Warren Perry was assigned the task of drawing a preliminary plan for the city's proposed downtown center.

Perry said he hoped to have a rough plan for restricting the size of the downtown center and a new location for a street to replace San Anselmo Avenue as a main thoroughfare by the commission's next meeting.

Novato School Board Appoints Schneeflock

William G. Schneeflock, 4-H Club specialist for the University of California Agricultural Extension Service, was appointed to the Novato Unified School District Board last night.

Schneeflock will replace William H. Kirk, who resigned because of ill health, to fill out a term expiring June 30, 1969. He served on the Novato board before the merger with San Jose School District, and missed election to the board of the new unified district by only 43 votes. He lives at 670 Arthur Avenue.

His appointment was unanimous by the four board members present at last night's meeting. Mrs. Leonora Dougherty was absent.

WILLIAM G. SCHNEEFLOCK
Back on board

The Novato board approved starting a continuation school for high school dropouts, required by a new state law. Paul Mobley, assistant superintendent, was directed to work out details for its operation.

The Novato Unified School District Board also:

1. Accepted classrooms and multipurpose room at Loma Verde School, the Pleasant Valley School, and the San Jose Junior High multipurpose room.

2. Approved a schedule for redemption of bonds which will make the amount repayable approximately the same for the next 20 years. In the past this amount has varied from year to year, causing considerable fluctuation in the tax rate.

3. Learned that Novato will receive $82,000 in federal funds allotted on the basis of students whose family income is less than $2,000 or are on welfare. This money may be used for many projects, Mobley reported.

4. Received a request from the Marin County Federation of Teachers for recognition on a bargaining committee to setup as required under the Winton Act.

5. Adopted a policy on taking athletes to games in school buses.

6. Hired Mrs. Carolyn Barnato as a science teacher at Novtao High School, Mrs. Judy Talley as an assistant in the instructional material center, Mrs. Ruth Wicht as clerk-typist, and Everett Clark as a custodian at Marion School, replacing Perry Wood, who resigned.

7. Was informed by letter from Col. Ralph Wanderer, commander at Hamilton Air Force Base, that the base cannot furnish buses for transportation of students to public schools.

Owner Says Boat Missing

Audrey Mae Wisner of 400 Canal Street, Apt. 123, San Rafael, last night reported the disappearance of a 26-foot Chris Craft pleasure boat valued at $6,000 from the dock behind her apartment.

San Rafael police today were trying to find out whether the boat was stolen or moved as a Halloween prank. They were attempting to reach Mrs. Wisner's estranged husband, James R. Wisner of San Francisco, to learn whether he had knowledge of its whereabouts.

Mrs. Wisner said the craft was blue and white, with a single railing, had white canvas, blue drapes and blue deck chairs.

Two Drivers Injured South Of Novato

Albert M. Thibodeaux, 47, of Petaluma, and Nell N. Walters, 68, of Healdsburg, were injured in a two-car collision at 6:30 p.m. yesterday on Highway 101 about 500 feet north of the Black Point Cutoff, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The patrol said the northbound Thibodeaux swerved and was hit broadside by Mrs. Walters' car. Mrs. Walters suffered a cut lip and neck sprain. Thibodeaux suffered a back sprain. Both were treated at Novato General Hospital.

Lagunitas Board

School building aid program regulations will be discussed today at 8 p.m. when the Lagunitas School District Board meets at Lagunitas School.

This is Water Pik

Most important development in home dental care in 50 years—to help you and every member of your family have beautiful teeth—firm, healthy gums.

Clean teeth, but?

After you've seen the dentist, you use a toothbrush twice a day. Despite that precaution, you're still likely to have gum trouble. In fact many children have it, almost half the teenagers and nearly every adult. That's why your whole family needs to know about Water Pik, the new home oral care invention. Here's why gum trouble is almost universal:

What Happens!

With every meal you eat, food particles lodge between teeth and in pockets along the gum line, where they cannot be reached by a toothbrush, manual or electric. This debris decays; often becomes contaminated. As the contamination spreads, gums may become irritated and sore. Often they begin to bleed, the fibres that hold the teeth in place degenerate. The teeth loosen and may have to be removed.

What Water Pik Does

Water Pik is a revolutionary new product. It provides a pulsating jet of water, under easily controlled pressure, that stimulates the gums and nudges out the food particles from between the teeth and along the gum line. This jet actually turns on and off 20 times a second and a quart of water is ejected into the mouth in about 90 seconds. Even after brushing your teeth you will see a surprising amount of debris that had remained there until Water Pik dislodged it and flushed it out. Even more important are the millions of harmful bacteria which it flushes from the hidden pockets between the teeth and gums.

Recommended by Thousands of Dentists

Water Pik has been demonstrated at dental conventions. It has been prescribed by thousands of dentists, all over the country, for daily use by their patients. In fact, most of the Water Piks (about 100,000) in use today were purchased by patients on their dentists' recommendation.

It is a great step forward toward keeping all your teeth in a healthy mouth as long as you live.

Low Cost

Water Pik is a fine scientific product. It is beautifully designed. It requires no faucet or plumbing connections. The price is $39.50, including 4 tips for use by all members of the family, and the cost of operation is almost nothing. You use tap water at a comfortable temperature.

At Leading Drug and Department Stores

Formerly Water Pik was sold only through dental supply dealers on prescriptions from dentists. Now it is also available at leading drug and department stores.

We have increased production as rapidly as possible. If you fail to find it at your favorite store, write to us direct for literature.

Water Pik®

AQUA TEC CORP., 730 SEVENTEENTH ST., DENVER, COLO. 80202

Reports from people who have used Water Pik for more than one year.

"Have enjoyed using Water Pik because it makes your mouth feel clean in addition to keeping gums healthy."

"Exhilarating and definitely effective in removing food between teeth. Gums no longer bleed with brushing. I recommended it to a friend and her dentist reports improvement of her gums after using Water Pik. She's had pyorrhea for years."

"Think it is great. Definite improvement in condition of gums. Firmer, never any bleeding. A joy to use and leaves marvelously refreshed feeling in mouth."

"Dentist introduced me to Water Pik in December 1963. From my first experience in using this unique device I have praised and preached its necessity in every home."

"Has prevented surgery. Children use it to clean under braces and to help prevent decay."

"Water Pik is the most pleasant and greatest aid I have found for oral hygiene. Recommended it to many friends who have purchased it from their dentists."

"Teeth were sound but gums were soft. Dentist said 100% improvement and no cavities since using Water Pik."

"Particularly gratifying are compliments we receive from dentist on the condition of our gums."

"Gave four as Christmas presents. Water Pik made my gums firm up and stopped bleeding."

"Cannot say enough good things about Water Pik. Four of five children had braces, and brushing could not remove food particles. Husband likes it, makes his mouth feel clean and fresh. I had pyorrhea and regular use of Water Pik has kept the condition from recurring."

"Gums much healthier, nicer looking and no longer bleed. Son having orthodontal work done and Water Pik helps him keep his braces clean and free of food particles."

"Think so much of it, I'm buying another for second bathroom. Water Pik is the answer to clean mouth and healthy gums."

"Great device. Teeth and gums never in better condition. Dentist says since using Water Pik wife has perfect oral condition and it probably has saved me from full dentures."

"Water Pik should be used by everyone over 12 years of age. When I bought Water Pik, was in danger of losing several teeth because of a gum infection. They bled excessively and were very tender. Now teeth are tight, never bleed and are never sore."

"Like it very much. Brush teeth thoroughly with an electric toothbrush, but it's amazing what Water Pik proves I don't get. Gums were in terrible condition and have improved very much since using Water Pik."

We urge you to discuss these facts with your dentist and to follow his advice.
Good dental and mouth health is a precious thing.
Don't neglect it!

Apartment House Plan Runs Into New Delays

Consideration of the 12-unit apartment proposed by Loyal Davis at 548 Miller Avenue, just outside Mill Valley, was continued again by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday.

Manuel Gomez, owner of adjacent property, argued that those opposed to the apartment building did not get proper notice of yesterday's hearing.

Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill approved a variance for the development Friday. Gomez said he and his neighbors did not learn of this until yesterday morning and did not know it was ready to be heard before the commission again.

Planning commissioners, being asked to give architectural approval for the development, also wanted more time to consider Cordill's recommendation.

Attorney Julius M. Selinger, representing Davis, and attorney Richard A. Clarke, representing neighbors, also agreed to a continuance. The matter was put off until Nov. 15.

Davis's plans were interrupted several months ago when it was discovered that he did not own all the property originally listed.

Woman Booked In Car Theft

Belvedere police arrested Cindy G. MacKenzie, 20, of Coronado, on a charge of car theft Saturday night, only a few minutes after George H. Rehmet of San Francisco had reported his 1964 Ford sedan was stolen from Main Street in Tiburon.

Miss MacKenzie was driving Rehmet's car, Belvedere officers said. She was booked in county jail on charges of car theft and being drunk in an automobile, and later released on $1,100 bail.

Rehmet reported at the Tiburon sheriff's sub-station that he had left the keys in his car and it was stolen between 3:30 and 8 p.m.

SAN RAFAEL'S CLOCKS FORGET TIME CHANGE

The City of San Rafael has a hard time getting off daylight saving time.

The clock in the city hall entrance hall and that in the council chamber both said 9 o'clock when the council convened promptly at 8 p.m. yesterday.

And two young women appeared later in the meeting to complain that clocks at city tennis courts, set to turn off automatically at 10 p.m., had turned off instead at 9, interrupting their play.

The council told City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota to see that city hall and tennis court clocks were turned back to standard time today.

Vandals Paint York Cathedral

YORK, England (AP)—Vandals Saturday desecrated York Cathedral, spraying red paint on the lectern and archbishop's chair in an action similar to that yesterday at Canterbury Cathedral.

York Cathedral is in northern England and separated by about 200 miles from Canterbury in the South.

A spray also was used at Canterbury to daub red and blue paint over an altar cloth, the archbishop's chair and the tomb of the Black Prince.

The action there was believed in reaction to Dr. Michael Ramsey's statement that force might be justifiable in Rhodesia.

Churchwomen Will Observe World Community Day Friday

Local protestant and orthodox churchwomen when they observe the annual World Community Day on Friday will examine how Latin Americans caught in a web of poverty, hunger, ignorance and disease can develop their full potential.

Plans for the Southern Marin Chapter of United Churchwomen were announced by Mrs. Lincoln Wirt, chairman of Southern Marin World Community Day, brought about by the churchwomen's desire to express their Christian concern for the needs and problems of people throughout the world.

On Friday, churchwomen of Southern Marin will meet to dedicate their gifts and rededicate themselves to helping people in poverty stricken Chile and Haiti.

Dr. Clay Colwell, minister to the Metropolitan Mission for the United Church of Christ, San Francisco, will address the churchwomen after a worship service to be held at 10:30 a.m. at the First Congregational Church in San Rafael.

A salad luncheon will be served after the service. Salads and cakes are to be furnished by the participating women.

In keeping with the emphasis on community development, churchwomen are sewing children's smocks for use in overseas supported institutions. In response to requests for assistance, yard goods, yarns and towels are being collected.

World Community Day is sponsored annually by United Churchwomen, a department of the National Council of Churches, representing some thirteen million protestant and orthodox churchwomen in the United States.

The offering received on that day will make possible an expanded program in Chile which trains women for responsible parenthood and family and community betterment. The organization will train men for reforestation and road building.

Land will be reclaimed to make fertile and productive farms in wastelands caused by lack of fertilization and scientific technology. The organization will also hire a woman for a two-year period to join with the team of experts in community development.

WHAT'S COOKING?

Women Drivers Roast Supper While The Wheels Are Rolling

By DOROTHY CRANDALL

BOSTON (AP) — Chalk one up for women drivers: "We're cooking under the hood of the car. With the youngsters in the back seat and the wheels rolling.

"Forget about the oil, just check the roast," one pioneer chef told her filling station attendant. Sure enough there it was, a foil-wrapped package riding on the exhaust manifold, hottest spot under the hood.

WE TRIED IT following the lead of Norma Bidwell, Canadian housewife whose been roasting-while-rolling all summer.

Mrs. Bidwell, food editor of the Hamilton Spectator, said: "My husband scoffed the first time I handed him a three-pound foiled wrapped package of raw meat and said, "We'll cook it under the hood."

"But 10 minutes after we arrived at the cottage the six of us were munching happily on hot roast beef sandwiches with tender-crisp onions and seasoned with cook-on sauce."

THE RULES for road cooking:

Wrap a two-to-three pound roast, not over two inches thick for a three-hour drive, in a large sheet of extra heavy duty foil, fold edges together twice to make a lock seam; Use a wire hanger to anchor the meat to the manifold;

Stop halfway to your destination to turn the roast;

Don't stop to visit with friends for your roast needs three hours driving time;

DON'T TRY turkey.

"During the early stages of a turkey's cooking, it gets bouncy. It sticks its elbows out and pushes away from the heat. You try to push it back and it sticks a drumstick through the foil."

This means trouble — like grease burning on the manifold.

Results Of Family Plan Clinic Told

What happens when you make family planning service available in a low-income community? Here's the experience of New York City's Metropolitan Hospital family planning clinic: You can cut the birth rate by about one-fourth in a year. You can reduce the number of bungled illegal abortions a hospital is forced to complete. You can spend $50 a year per patient for family planning care as against $200 minimum for prenatal care, delivery, and hospitalization.

These findings were reported by Dr. Martin L. Stone, chief of obstetrics and gynecology, New York Medical College Metropolitan Hospital Center, and director of the hospital's family planning clinic.

MANY SKILLS

Study Techniques Assist Learning

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

There are many skills involved in studying which can be taught just as science and math are taught. Too many students do not know these important techniques which would help them approach all their studies in an efficient and organized manner.

MANY SCHOOL systems attempt to teach these skills as a part of other subject areas. Listening is taught through the reading program. Observation is often involved with science. The use of a table of contents and index is included in the social studies course. When this approach is used, there is too often a lack of emphasis on the study skills themselves. The student is often unaware of the fact that a particular skill is involved. The result may well be a limited knowledge in the skill and limited use of the skill in other appropriate situations.

STUDY SKILLS are applicable to all areas of learning. They are useful regardless of the particular subject matter. It would appear that greater emphasis should be given to the learning of such skills. There is sufficient material in this area so that it might be taught as a separate subject.

This is not to say that the use of these skills should be eliminated from other subjects. Actually, this would be impossible as well as undesirable. Once a skill is taught, it is best reinforced and understood when it is involved is a useful exercise or operation.

It would seem that a student in the intermediate grades 4-6 should have developed a proficiency in study skills or at least should have been introduced to them. Perhaps, parents and teachers assume too much when they think that this has been done. Students who are having difficulty with their school work may need assistance in this area. Although problems appear to be related to a specific subject, further investigation might indicate a general weakness in how to study.

Most children who receive tutoring receive it in particular subjects such as reading or math. Although tutoring in study skills would not be the answer in all cases, it would certainly be worthwhile investigating as a possibility.

WHAT KINDS of skills are we talking about? The techniques for taking notes on a lecture or discussion are very important. The information in the lecture is often the basis for future discussions and activities. It is necessary to review this material on many occasions including preparation for an exam. If notes are inadequate and poorly taken this valuable material may not be available.

It is an impossible task to take down every word unless the student is an expert in shorthand. It is possible to take down key words and phrases. An outline form is an easy way to organize the notes.

This is only one example of many valuable study skills which should be taught. Such learning should not be left to chance. The study skills are too valuable a part of the learning process to be neglected.

Art Shows, Concerts Planned At College

Art shows, plays, concerts and opera workshops will make up the special events calendar of the College of Marin fine arts division throughout the 1965-66 school year.

The drama department's highly successful production of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" has already completed a two-weekend run.

Starting Dec. 3 for five performances will be Goldoni's "The Servant of Two Masters," while Brecht's "The Three-Penny Opera" will play for two weekends starting March 24, and Jean Anouilh's "The Lark" will open May 20.

Art events on the calendar will begin with a faculty art show from 7 to 9 p.m. on Nov. 12 in the art building. This will be followed by a pottery sale during the same hours on Dec. 10.

The school's annual student art exhibit and open house will take place during the afternoon and evening of May 20 and 21.

Eleven concerts have been scheduled through the school year by the college madrigals, community band, a cappella chorus, and community chorus and community orchestra.

The madrigals will appear twice: At 8:30 p.m. Nov. 20 in Olney Hall and at the same hour and place May 7. The community band will give three concerts, starting with one at 8 p.m. Dec. 5. Others are scheduled for May 14 and 21.

Two concerts apiece will be given by the a cappella chorus, the community chorus and the community orchestra.

Concerts by the a cappella chorus are scheduled for Dec. 17 and May 28. The community chorus will sing Jan. 23 and May 22, and the community orchestra will play Jan. 29 and June 4.

All concerts except those by the madrigals will be in the gymnasium.

Opera workshops are set for a two-day weekend Jan. 14 and 15, and a three-day session April 28 through 30. All are in Olney Hall.

Chaplin Veers From Talk Of Son

LONDON (UPI) — Charles Chaplin lost his smile for a moment Monday when an interviewer asked whether he was going to cast his beatnik son, Michael, 19, in a film he is directing.

"No personal questions," snapped the 76-year-old comedian.

The interviewer persisted.

"Don't be smart alecky," Chaplin said, this time with more emphasis.

Michael, married against his father's wishes and has since been involved in litigation over a book "I Couldn't Smoke the Grass On My Father's Lawn" which was ghost written for him.

Young Chaplin claims his youth and inexperience led him to prattle indiscreetly about his family and he is suing to stop publication of the book.

Aside from the exchange with the interviewer the elder Chaplin, plump and alert as ever, was in high good humor as he announced at a news conference that he has written and will direct a film starring Sophia Loren and Marlon Brando entitled "The Countess From Hong Kong."

He will also write the music.

Chaplin lolled in a chair, hands in the arm holes of the vest of his blue striped suit, green tinted glasses on his eyes as he disclosed his new deal with Universal Pictures.

"Thank God," he said, "This time I don't have to worry about producing or the purse strings. I can give my complete attention to directing the film and if it doesn't come off the blame will be all mine. But it has a riotously funny situation — at least I think it is. Call it a romantic comedy."

Chaplin said the film would go into production in London Jan. 17.

The Leagues of Women Voters of Marin will combine forces to promote distribution of CBS-TV's newest test for citizens: A nation-wide telecast to be given next Tuesday from 10 to 11 p.m. Mike Wallace and Harry Reasoner will monitor the quiz.

The rioting which followed left 34 dead.

Mrs. Frye, 49, was ordered yesterday after her conviction to return to Municipal Court tomorrow for sentencing.

Residents Of Black Point Object To Apartment Plan

The Marin County Planning Commission agreed to look at the land Nov. 15 and to hold another hearing Dec. 6, but several commissioners told landowner Philip Rosenberg he was "premature" with the plan.

Attorney Leland H. Jordan, representing Rosenberg, said the apartments would have few more residents than would development under present zoning, assuming four acres with industrial zoning were changed.

He said no development would be started until it could be tied in with the 710-acre project already approved for Kenney Brothers, Inc., just to the southeast.

"I understand the Kenney plan has been abandoned," interjected Commissioner Eugene R. Trombley. "He's sold the property."

"I have heard the same rumors," answered engineer Carlos E. Gonzalez, also representing Rosenberg, "but I don't think the plan was abandoned. Someone is going to develop it."

While the Black Point Improvement Club had applauded the Kenney proposal, the club led the fight against Rosenberg's presenting a petition with 168 signatures saying his plan for 13.3 acres would overtax roads, water supply and sanitary facilities.

Jordan countered that the plan would not use existing roads but would have access through the Kenney land. He said that a new water supply and sewer system will be needed for that project and Rosenberg's land will be tied in.

The planning staff recommended zoning to allow only single - family homes, with an average lot size of about a quarter acre. That would allow 52 homes on the site.

Rosenberg's proposal called for four acres of apartments, with about 65 units, and the rest single-family homes on large lots, with only 10 homes on the nine acres involved.

"The geography is pretty forbidding," complained Commissioner Hugh Doughtery. "We'll get a new Pelican Hill if not worse."

More Hunters In Corte Madera

Corte Madera policemen had trouble again this weekend with duck hunters illegally firing shotguns inside city limits behind Golden Hinde Passage.

Alfreda Grill of 26 Channel Drive called police at 4:20 p.m. Friday and reported someone was shooting on the marshland, but police could find no one.

Officer Charles Newman, patrolling the area Saturday afternoon, found a 15-year-old boy he had warned about shooting there before. The boy was carrying ducks over his arm, but the officer did not see him shoot a gun. The boy was turned over to his parents, who promised to reprimand him.

The winner of the county contest will represent Marin in the District 5 contest in Santa Rosa in February. State finals will be next March 6.

State Controls Prison Camps

The prison conservation camp system which has been operated out of San Quentin for 50 years was officially taken over yesterday by the California Conservation Center at Susanville in Lassen County.

The center, a Department of Corrections facility, now has control of the seven forestry and two road camps which have been run by San Quentin since 1915.

At that time, the first camp opened at Rattlesnake Summit in Mendocino County.

Vandals Pour Paint Over Two Cars

Vandals poured tan and green paint over two cars on Brookdale Avenue, San Rafael, police reported Saturday night.

John H. De Rosa, 30 Brookdale Avenue, and Jesse Coffman Jr., 26 Brookdale Avenue, both reported damage to their cars, parked in front of their homes. Paint was also poured on seats inside the Coffman auto, and the windshield and a chrome strip on that car were broken.

Corte Madera Street Damage Brings Protest

Heavy trucks climbing steep, narrow Sausalito Street in Corte Madera are tearing the pavement to pieces, residents of the Madera Park area told the Corte Madera Town Council last night.

The councilmen said they were sympathetic, but would be much more so if residents would get together and form an assessment district to improve the street to town standards, so the town would start maintaining it.

The residents said they did not want to do that, but merely wanted to make sure contractors building new homes at the top of the ridge on the south side of town repaired the street. They suggested that either a load limit be imposed or contractors post bonds to cover damages.

Load limits are out, declared Town Atty. Sherrod S. Davis, because there is no alternative route. And to collect for damages, there has to be proof that a particular vehicle did the damage.

Davis did offer some drastic suggestions for improving the situation:

1. Freeze building permits in the area until the streets are brought to city standards, or

2. Refuse any new land divisions that do not have access from a town-maintained street, "even if the subdivider has to build five miles of street to get it."

Davis said both these methods are legal and have been used in other cities, but councilmen were unenthusiastic. The attorney then said that since the residents paid to pave the street, they could sue the truck drivers, or their bosses, for damage.

The council then approved the four-lot Wildwood subdivision of Arthur R. Nicolaisen, after hearing Nicolaisen would pave Sausalito Street completely where he was building, and repair chuckholes down the hill.

The Corte Madera Town Council Also:

1. Set for Dec. 4 at 2 p.m. the official dedication of the new public safety building.

2. Approved purchase of 12 additional chairs for the volunteer fire department's recreation room in the new building.

3. Approved, 4-1, purchase of an automobile for the town manager, who has been using his own vehicle. Councilman William W. Collier opposed.

4. Held up action on a request for improvement of drainage of Talley's Alley, east of Highway 101, to find out what Larkspur would do, since the road is half in each city.

5. Adopted an ordinance redefining a "nuisance" to include a wide variety of problems, establishing a hearing procedure for abatement, and allowing abatement costs to be made property assessments on the tax roll.

6. Requested the State Division of Highways to widen Highway 101 to four lanes each way from the Golden Gate Bridge to the Greenbrae Overpass, after hearing that 81,000 cars a day now pass the Corte Madera Interchange.

7. Referred to the planning commission proposed renewal of the planning services contract with Livingston and Blayney, San Francisco.

Board Concerned On Public View Of Instant Agenda

The Marin County Board of Education whipped through part of its newly revamped agenda so fast last night that one member became concerned about the public's ability to understand what the board was doing.

Under a new agenda section entitled "routine matters," the board acted quickly on several items without any discussion.

Board member Adele J. Alpers said she wondered if this system would be acceptable to the audience.

Board President James A. Carroll commented that all the "routine matters" had been fully discussed in committee, and that the annotated aganda was available.

At Mrs. Alper's recommendation, the board agreed that in the future there will be an informational sheet attached to the agenda explaining the procedure to the public.

Lawyer-Mother Set For Divorce Forum

Marin's high divorce rate will come under scrutiny at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the third of the discussion series, "Home in Suburbia—Pandora's Box," in the board of supervisors' chambers at the Civic Center.

Speaking on divorce in Marin will be Dr. Alfred Auerbach, chairman of the committee on mental health of the San Francisco Medical Society and California Medical Assn., and Mrs. Ann Diamond, Ross, mother of six and lawyer specializing in family litigation.

Prison Review Starts

Walter Dunbar, director of the State Department of Corrections, arrived at San Quentin Prison today for his annual two-day operations review, including a tour of the prison and meetings with chief staff members.

Sausalito Sets Two Hearings

Two hearings will be conducted at the Sausalito City Council when it meets at 8 o'clock tonight in city hall.

One is a continued hearing on the proposed community antenna television ordinance, the other is on the planned unit development ordinance.

Also to be discussed is the request for a continued conditional use permit from United Sand and Gravel Co. to continue its business adjacent to A. G. Schoonmaker Co.

Commander of Mill Valley Post 24 of the American Legion is Theodore Greubel.

Corte Madera Town Council Likes Twin City Boundaries

Boundaries of Larkspur and Corte Madera may wrap around in a wierd and intricate way, but the Corte Madera Town Council likes it that way, councilmen decided informally last night.

On receiving notice of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission's meeting Thursday to discuss the boundaries, the council passed a resolution objecting to the commission's proposal to adopt a tentative new boundary before holding a hearing.

And councilmen said they were not happy about the proposed new boundary drawn up as a joint effort of the county public works department, planning department and assessor, especially since it would transfer a good part of Fifer Industrial Park to Larkspur.

Councilman Charles F. Pendleton, who was a member of the local agency commission when the boundary question first arose, said there were some problems which should be solved, such as the fact that Redwood High School is partly in Larkspur, partly in Corte Madera and partly in unincorporated territory.

Other problems, such as those near the top of Christmas Tree Hill, he said, were apparently ignored by the county staff in drawing the line.

Pendleton and Mayor Edward W. Colthurst said they would not be able to attend the Thursday meeting. They told Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher to attend and to listen, but say little.

Automobile Stolen

J. L. Berry of 479 Montecito Drive, Corte Madera, told police today that someone stole his 1964 Mercury automobile from his driveway last night. Berry said the ignition was locked.

Attorney Denies Nod In Overdraft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Banker Don Silverthorne's alleged overdrawing of $25,000 at the now defunct San Francisco National Bank was without authorization of attorney J. H. (Jake) Ehrlich, the attorney testified yesterday.

Ehrlich, whose cross-examination in Superior Court continued today, succeeded Silverthorne as chairman of the bank's board.

The head teller, William J. Horan, had testified at Silverthorne's grand theft trial that the banker told him:

"It's okay, Bill, Jack Ehrlich gave me permission to overdraw that account by as much as $25,000."

"No one ever authorized that," Ehrlich said.

Old PG&E Building To Be Rec Center

Albert Field Center Is Urged

The old Pacific Gas and Electric Co. building at Second and Brooks streets will be the temporary San Rafael Recreation Center when the American Legion Hall on Union Street is vacated at the middle of this month.

The San Rafael City Council last night unanimously authorized City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen to rent the building at $400 per month — the same price paid Wilkins Post of the American Legion for the present building, which is to be torn down to make way for a Mayfair supermarket.

Building Inspector Jack Coates recommended against moving the Legion Hall, which was offered to the city free by Mayfair if it would be moved.

Coates found a proposal to move the structure across Fourth Street to city-owned property impractical. It would have to be cut in two, reassembled, added to, stuccoed, and new exits provided, at a cost which Coates figured at $29,000 — and would still leave no room for parking on the city-owned 12,000-square-foot lot.

Moving it would cost an additional $14,000, said Councilman Louis H. Baar.

Coates and Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota said that for $50,000, the city could put up a recreation hall which would be a better, though smaller, building.

Rodota urged this be done, suggesting it be built on what is now the circular turfed area at Albert Field. Councilmen agreed this would be a better ultimate solution.

Rose Paul, president of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, said that council has been negotiating with the Marin Jewish Community Center and can procure use of its recreation hall for the senior citizen program carried on at the recreation center.

Rodota said, however, that the Jewish Center uses the main floor every day for a nursery school, so only the upstairs would be available, which would not be suitable for the seniors.

Councilmen, in voting to rent the former PG&E building, assumed Marin County will continue to pay half the rent as its subsidy to the senior citizen program.

City Manager Andersen said two of the three present owners of the building had agreed to the $400 monthly rental, and he would attempt to get a commitment of the property for a year. He said little work would be required to convert it to recreation use.

A delegation of elder citizens applaunded when the council vote assured them they would not be left without a place for their activities.

Marinites Enroll For Youth Parley

Marin will be well represented at the three-day Governor's Conference on Youth in Sacramento, Nov. 11-13.

Not only will students from throughout the county be in the Marin delegation headed by County Schools Supt. Virgil S. Hollis, but there also will be many adults.

Forums are scheduled on education, personal values, human relations, community service participation, the family, jobs, and the public and the law.

Conference speakers will include Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Dr. Roger Heyns, chancellor of University of California at Berkeley.

Many delegates from schools in Marin will be subsidized for the conference by student government funds. Others will be aided by local civic groups, while some will pay their own way, said Lawrence Lindberg, director of instruction in the county schools office.

Three full days of work will be relieved by an evening hootenanny Nov. 11 and a dinner dance at the Senator Hotel Nov. 12th.

Marin delegates are:

POSTER GIRL MEETS GOVERNOR

Kathryn Paydo, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. John Paydo Jr. of 190 Westover Circle, Hamilton Air Force Base, is greeted by Gov. Emund G. Brown after she was chosen poster girl for the Mentally Retarded Children of California. Kathryn was selected in a statewide contest by the California Council for Retarded Children. Besides rallies and meetings scheduled for her in the organization's fund raising campaiggn, Katheryn and her parents will visit movie stars in Hollywood, attend a seminar in Fresno and meet Miss America.

Underground Lines Raise Loud Protest

Residents of the portion of Second Street recently added to San Rafael's underground utilities district complained loud and long last night about being put to the expense of new connections.

Ten of them raised their hands in opposition when City Councilman Louis H. Bear asked for a show of hands. But nearly all the talking during more than an hour of the city council's meeting was by two spokeswomen: Mrs. Arthur Quinn and Mrs. Harry L. Mindle—the latter owner of two apartment houses on the portion of Second Street that used to be West End Avenue.

The council added Second Street from Ida to Marquard streets to the underground utilities district to get unsightly power poles out of the center lane of the newly widened street.

This, said Mrs. Mindle and Mrs. Quinn, was discriminatory.

"There isn't one person on that street who would be benefited by this change," declared Mrs. Quinn. "This three blocks isn't the beginning or the end of anything—it's the middle."

"If it's going to beautify the city, you pay for it," said Mrs. Mindle.

The council, however, voted 4-1 to order removal of overhead lines from the section, with a deadline of next May 1. Councilman Harry A. Barbier dissented.

The San Rafael City Council Also:

1. Postponed indefinitely further action on amending the zoning ordinance to require off-street parking in all downtown areas. City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen said an extension of the parking district was in the works and might prove the solution.

2. Referred back to the planning commission the proposed planned unit development ordinance, after Acting Planner Charles Linthieum reported he found the procedures for issuing use permits were not clear or definite enough. The ordinance was prepared by former City Planner George H. Rodgers.

3. Upheld an appeal by Bell, Braverman and Gonzalez from planning commission requirement for sidewalks at a subdivision on Frontage Road south of Professional Center Parkway, with a proviso that sidewalk may be required later if called for by development of property farther south.

4. Referred to the public works department and insurance company a claim by Charles Graham for damage to a home at 247 Irwin Street caused by a sewage backup. Graham presented repair estimates ranging from $483 to $542, and said the house is temporarily uninhabitable.

5. Awarded Ames Ford Sales the purchase of a one-ton truck on its low bid of $2,009.34 including tax. Other bidders were Shamrock Dodge, $2,111.36, and Rossi Garage, $2,557.68.

6. Authorized pilings under fire station No. 5 in Glenwood, at estimated additional cost of $10,500, because of mud conditions found there, and set 4 p.m., Dec. 3, at the city fire commission meeting, for opening bids on the building.

7. Named a new street in the Bret Harte area Rice Drive, honoring the late J. B. Rice, and changed the name of Napa Street (also shown as Bay Street on some maps) to Bahia Way.

8. Was informed by City Atty. David Menary Jr. that there are adequate state laws for litter control, and "it's simply a matter of enforcement." The council directed City Manager Andersen to order police to start enforcing the laws, and to meet with municipal court judges to try to assure $50 fines for violators.

9. Approved a change in the group life insurance policy for city employees which will save the city $441 per month with no change in benefits, and will permit employees to extend the coverage to their dependents at cost to the employee of 84 cents per month.

10. Passed the slope policy ordinance unanimously.

11. Passed unanimously an ordinance creating a city finance department.

12. Adopted changes in the personnel policy allowing four weeks vacation after 15 years service and increasing the limit on accrued sick leave from 60 days to 120 days.

13. On Councilman Fred E. Jensen's objection to turning in a used street sweeper on a new one, directed the city manager to try to buy the new sweeper through state purchasing and retain the old one for a spare.

14. Directed Andersen to write the Golden Gate Bridge District board commending its decision to go ahead on a second deck on the bridge.

15. Noted a letter from Dr. Kermit Kors complaining of speeding on Second and Third streets since they were made one-way streets. City Engineer Ely Callouette was directed to keep traffic signals on the two streets operating around the clock.

16. Set for hearing Nov. 15 at 8 p.m. Gerald Stone's appeal from planning commission turndown of rezoning a house at 188 Prospect Drive from single residential to transient residential.

17. Set for Nov. 17 at 8 p.m., a meeting with the San Rafael Board of Education to discuss the recreation program for next fiscal year.

Dias Ranch Cluster Plans Density Debated; No Vote

School sites, roads and density were discussed by the Marin County Planning Commission yesterday during a hearing on the Dias Ranch master plan, a 170-acre development west of Mill Valley.

It was an inconclsive discussion, and the hearing was continued until 2 p.m., Nov. 15.

Commissioners heard a letter from the Mill Valley Planning Commission which cited 1.5 and 2 units per acre density in previous master plans of the area and questioned the 3.5 density proposed.

The Mill Valley commission also recommended that a school site be provided and that trails be open to the public.

The Muir Woods Park Improvement Assn. praised the plan, but questioned the 3.5 per acre density. The association urged that a proposed 100-unit hotel be considered separately.

Developer Alfred J. Stern of Palo Alto said he is willing to include a school site. He said his architects have found the 3.5 density "close to the ideal" use of the land.

The Marin County Planning Commission Also:

1. Recommended change of 2.5 acres on Miller Creek at Idylberry Road from church use to single-family residential use in the Marinwood Master Plan.

2. Approved a use permit to Dorina Corda to have a house trailer at 2710 Chileno Valley Road, Chileno Valley.

3. Approved a tentative map for Eichler Homes' 9.8-acre subdivision on Miller Creek between Mount Shasta Drive and Lucas Valley Road.

4. Approved a change from residential estates zoning to planned residential for Borah Lawrence's 1.5 acres on the south side of North San Pedro Road opposite LaBrea way, despite objections from Catherine A. Blades that any development would undermine her home on the cliff above. A cluster of seven units is proposed on the most level section of the land at the east end.

5. Put off until Nov. 15, to allow consideration by the Sausalito Planning Commission, H. A. B. Sneve's proposal for apartments on 3.45 acres on the east side of Highway 101 between Butte Street and Sacramento Avenue, just outside Sausalito.

6. Approved by 6-1 vote an increase from 24 to 36 units in the Greenwood Lagoon Master Plan on 1.2 acres between Greenwood Cove Drive and Barbarie Way. Commissioner Margaret Azevedo dissented, claiming it was too big a change.

7. Turned down David Cass's appeal of a use permit granted by the zoning administrator to Robert Busse, designating a 4,500 square foot lot between Wolfe Grade and Canyon Road a legal building site. Cass, who lives next to the lot, declared it should be used for a drive connecting the two roads.

8. Overruled the zoning administrator's requirements for street dedication from Milton Levy in connection with a lot division at Kings Way and Sunnycrest Avenue in Muir Woods Park. Commissioners William F. Upton and Hugh Dougherty dissented.

9. Approved plans for a storage shed to be added to the Rice Supply Co. warehouse at 16 Auburn Street, east of San Rafael. Commissioners made no comment on contractor Donald Myers's claim that its delays had forced him to lay off workers.

10. Approved grading plans proposed by the Marin Covenant Church at the end of Ellen Drive in Marinwood.

11. Approved the addition of a reception room to Dr. I. N. Tucker's office at 25 Evergreen Avenue, Homestead Valley.

12. Took no action on a letter from Mill Valley designer David Stovel announcing he had applied to the State Division of Beaches and Parks for approval of a restarant at the top of Mount Tamalpais. Commissioners agreed they would review the plans only if the state should grant the application.

13. Adjourned at 6:20 p.m.

Fourth Street Parking Idea Hits A Snag

A legal roadblock may prevent the City of San Rafael from converting to parallel parking on Fourth Street.

City Mgr. Dan E. Andersen last night told the city council that the traffic advisory committee unanimously recommended the diagonal parking be converted to parallel on both sides of Fourth Street between Lincoln Avenue and E Street.

Councilman Charles W. Aby immediately raised the two-pronged question: How many meters would this eliminate, and can the city legally reduce the number of meters in the downtown parking district?

Andersen said it would take 120 metered parking places off Fourth Street. Although he did not say so, this is equal to the number provided by construction of the second deck on the Third and Cijos streets lot.

As to the second question, he did not have the answer.

He was told to find out by the Nov. 15 council meeting.

Mayor C. Paul Bettini said that if the meters can be reduced legally, he will still hold a public hearing before acting.

Councilman Louis H. Baar said he was adamantly against the proposed change, which was endorsed by the chamber of commerce. "You're going to drive shoppers off Fourth Street," he declared.

The council took no action on a second proposal of the traffic advisory committee: that all meters on the upper decks of the city's two double-decked lots be changed to five-hour time limit.

Police Cite, Book Youths As Drunks

Four Mill Valley youths were either cited or booked on suspicion of drunkenness inside and outside the city's community and youth center Friday night, police said today.

One boy, 16, was arrested inside the center at the dance and cited to probation department. The other three, all 15, said police, were outside trying to be admitted. Of the three, one was cited and two booked in juvenile hall.

Council Hires Decorator For New City Hall

Casa Marin, San Rafael furnishing house, will design the furnishings and interior decoration of the new city hall.

The San Rafael City Council last night unanimously accepted the offer of Casa Marin to provide the service for a fee of $1,000.

Casa Marin's offer, contained in a letter from Milton Schwartz of the company, further specified that the company will not bid on the furniture and will help the city dispose of surplus furnishings from the old city hall.

R. D. Ralsten of Casa Marin, an interior designer, will be in charge of the design.

The firm was one of three submitting offers. James Hill and Sons of San Francisco asked a fee of $4,372. Stevenson and Sons of San Francisco asked $25 per hour, with no estimate of total cost.

'UNICEF' Art Show Set For Shop Center

There will be an art show Nov. 26-28 at Strawberry Town and Country Shopping Center, manager Florence Packard of Mill Valley announced today.

The show will be held from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. daily on sidewalk malls outside the shops. Theme of the show is "UNICEF."

Stickers Put Him In Business

College of Marin student Martin McKeay of Novato drew a lot of attention when he manufactured an anti-Viet Nam Day Committee bumper sticker and placed it on the back of his car.

In fact, he says, reaction to his "Stamp Out VDC" sticker has been enough to put him in the bumper sticker business.

McKeay has found 20 youths who, he says, will help him manufacture about 1,000 of the stickers to distribute to students and people in his neighborhood.

"The stickers are to get people aroused," he said. "The next step is to invite speakers to the campus so we can really understand what is going on."

Cosmetics Stolen

Mrs. Margaret S. Carson, an Avon saleswoman, told Corte Madera police that her Avon bag, containing cosmetic samples worth $50, was stolen from her unlocked car in front of 33 Corte Madera Avenue at about 1:45 p.m. Friday.

Golden Hinde Home Is Damaged By $1,500 Fire

A fire, believed to have been caused by a discarded cigarette which ignited a plastic waste basket, caused $1,500 damage at the home of George Compton, 30 Golden Hinde Boulevard, San Rafael, at 11:01 p.m. Saturday, the San Rafael Fire Department reported.

The fire destroyed a kitchen counter, cabinet, a chair, burned wall and floor tile and caused heavy smoke damage to the kitchen and living room, the fire department reported.

Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the building and $500 to the contents.

Larkspur Council To Hold Hearing

The Larkspur City Council, meeting at 8 p.m. tomorrow at city hall, will hold a public hearing on amendments to the city zoning ordinance recommended by the planning commission.

One of the amendments specifies that tandem parking does not meet requirements for off-street parking.

The council also will set dates for public hearings on the city's proposed general plan and the precise plan for Larkspur center.

Unity Church Man To Speak Thursday

Rev. Joseph P. Haggerty, minister of the North Hollywood Unity Church, will speak on "Why Did This Happen To Me?" at a public meeting Thursday sponsored by Unity Christ Church of Marin.

Haggerty will speak at 8 p.m. at the Masonic Hall, Fourth and Lootens streets, San Rafael. The Marin church congregation meets at the Women's Improvement Club in San Anselmo.

Carmel Driver Hurt In Crash

Williaim Vernon Crowley Jr., 22, of Carmel suffered minor injuries in a two-car collision on Olima Street, just south of Coloma Street, Sausalito, at 2 p.m. Saturday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Crowley had stopped his car for a car turning left in front of him, the patrol reported. It was struck from the rear by a car driven by Stephanie L. Cherin, 22, of Gate Five Road, Sausalito, officers reported.

Thief Takes Money From Tiburon Home

Mrs. Brownette V. Wayne of 2277 Paradise Drive, Tiburon reported to the Tiburon sheriff's substation Saturday that $40 was stolen from her daughter's dresser Friday

Mrs. Wayne said her daughter, Wendy, discovered the money was missing when she returned home from Redwood High School at 4 p.m. There was no sign of forced entry.

Damage To Window

Someone threw a beer bottle through a large front plate glass window at Marin Upholstery, 1321 Fourth Street, Friday night or early Saturday, Arthur F. Deiters reported to San Rafael police.

Peruvian Coed Finds U.S. Textbooks Bulky

By DIANE BLANKENBURG and CORINNA GNERI
Drake High School

Adding to international understanding, Theresa Corzo is representing Peru through the American Field Service as a junior at Sir Francis Drake High School in San Anselmo.

Theresa expresses her wish to exchange ideas with American youths and to understand American culture.

Theresa said that in Peru teenagers attend non-coed, private schools and study 14 subjects a year. Classes are scheduled as in colleges, meeting periodically through the week.

At Drake, Theresa is taking typing, homemaking, physical education, public speaking, U.S. history and English. She finds that the "books are so big" and lunch time is short, compared to the two-hour lunch period in Peru.

"The informality that you live in, it's wonderful," said Theresa when asked what she liked most.

Theresa flew from Miami and toured parts of the United States before arriving in California. She enjoys the contrast of the hills in Marin to the flatlands of Peru, but finds California's climate hard to adjust to.

Peruvian and American teenagers share the same interests in many things. "We have the same Beatle and Beach Boy records, and we buy the same clothes and cars," she said.

However, dating in Peru takes on a different aspect. An evening begins at 6 p.m. and ends about 9 p.m. Boys date one girl, compared to Americans "playing the field."

Likes school spirit

In her soft, melodic accent, Theresa reports that the Indians in Peru are illiterate but are not discriminated against.

Most families have servants. Children tend to depend on and have greater respect for their parents than American teens, she said.

While at Drake Theresa attended her first football game. "It's so exciting" she said.

Stolen Car Found On Pennisula Road

A 1961 Lincoln sedan, stolen Saturday night in San Anselmo, was found Sunday, undamaged, parked near the Richardson Bay Sanitary District treatment plant in the 500 block of Tiburon Boulevard, Tiburon.

Owner Roland O. Johnson of 69 Manderly Street, San Rafael, parked the vehicle in front of 47 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, Saturday night. When he returned a few hours later, it was gone.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Whether It's Bible, Philosophy, Man Must Find Rules For Life

When times are bad and everything goes wrong many persons obtain a lift by reading a book or article that offers a ray of hope. The Bible is preferred by some, other like to read about the lives of happy and successful individuals.

VAN DELLEN

Man must have an aim in order to be content and justify his existence. Many are basically unhappy because they have no goal; living is monotonous and they are in a rut. Some have given up in despair and exist, rather than live. This is not what our Creator intended and therein lies the crux of their condition.

HAPPINESS is a state of mind that is acquired by only a few. Most of us think that the other fellow must be happy because his "grass is greener" than ours. In this respect, material gains are uppermost in their mind.

They forget that with wealth comes responsibilities and worry about possessions. The poorer man also has his troubles, concerned chiefly with security, the mortgage, job, education of children, and similar tribulations.

We must look elsewhere for happiness. Some have laid down rules to follow to reach this goal. Sir William Osler had a formula that worked wonders for him. He traced most worries to looking backward or forward and overcame this by living by the day — life in daytight compartments.

The past is gone and he did everything possible to erase yesterday's events from his mind. There should be no concern for tomorrow because that is the future.

HE USED Carlyle's familiar sentence to express his philosophy: "Our main business is not to see what lies dimily at a distance but to do what lies clearly at hand."

A CLEAR conscience is essential to happiness. The golden rule should be practiced in all business and social relationships It is important to understand the real meaning of the expression, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request).

CHILBLAINS

B. R. writes: Do you know of a cure for pernio?

REPLY

There is no cure, but chilblains can be avoided by keeping the legs warm or by moving to a mild climate. Most victims develop a burning sensation along with redness and occasionally ulceration of the skin over the lower extremities during the winter. Symptoms disappear with warmer weather.

EYES AND FEELINGS

U. K. writes Could eyestrain be on an emotional basis?

REPLY

The muscles of the eye are no different from muscles elsewhere in the body. They can be strained and fatigued from overuse. Recovery follows rest. Emotional factors do not cause eyestrain, but many nervous people complain of poor eyesight even though vision is normal.

POLYURIA

J. A. writes: What causes a person to urinate a lot?

This condition may be associated with diabetes, kidney disorders, or infection along the urinary tract as well as by simpler causes such as nervousness. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on urinary disturbances.

DISPLACED ORGAN

Mrs. T. writes Can a tilted uterus be cured by exercise?

REPLY

The knee-chest and other exercises help, but if the displacement is marked, surgery may be needed to lighten the overstretched ligaments. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on retrodisplacements of the uterus.

BLACKOUT FROM COUGH

N.R. writes: Why does coughing cause a momentary blackout?

REPLY

This is known as cough syncope, which is thought to stem from irritation or oversensitivity of nerve centers in the throat and windpipe. Many victims have an underlying respiratory disorder, such as asthma or chronic bronchitis. Some with this condition undergo the experience only once whereas others have 20 to 30 blackouts a day.

If you've got a pocketful of empty, here's a little trick millions of Americans use: save money before you get it. Then forget it. The Payroll Savings Plan supplies the will power.

Just give your employer the go-ahead to set aside a small amount from each paycheck and apply it to the purchase of U. S. Savings Bonds.

Before you know it, the Bonds will start rolling in. It's a mighty good way to put those loose coins to work. The ones that always seem to burn a hole in your pocket.

The theory behind the Plan is simple: what you can't see, you won't miss. And it works—for millions of Americans.

If you think it hurts a little, you'll only think so at first. And remember that this is probably the only part of your take-home pay you'll ever see again.

Then the next time you pass your payroll department, stop in and see how pleasant it is to start hanging on to some of your money—with U. S. Savings Bonds.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- √ You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity
- √ You can get your money when you need it
- √ Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- √ You can buy Bonds where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work

TELEVISION REVIEW

Theologian Worried Over The Banality

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — An editor of the magazine "Christianity Today" forwards an article in that publication which deals harshly with the new network television season.

In his letter, the editor notes that the article "represents a new venture for us. As a journal written for ministers and professors, we have tended to be aloof from the livelier arts . . . our magazine circulates 240,000, and the number includes the largest interdenominational audience of Protestant ministers in the U.S."

The article was written by Edmund .P Clowney, whom the editor explains is acting president of Westminster Theological Seminary in Philadelphia. The crux of Clowney's piece is this:

"To the Christian church the greaest threat of television is not its incitement to violence or lust but its banality . . . a recent study of TV audience attitudes showed that most people feel guilty about the time they waste. The editor (of the study) asks, 'why these calvinistic hesitations about televiewing, in contrast with the self-satisfaction associated with reading?' "

Concerning television - watching, Clowney writes: "Never were so many joined in one cult at one time; never did the common act of so many mean so little. Americans do not really work together, live together, or pray together; they only escape together.

"The tube is still one-way. TV scans live audiences in the thousands at its sports spectaculars, but it cannot zoom in on the Loners and Adams families in the millions who sit and watch at home."

The new television season, writes Clowney, includes "technical triumphs, skilled performances, talented people, but it does not look at life — it looks away. The 'big' new programs do not answer the big questions; they scarcely dare ask them. . . .

"The religious figure appears only as the fanatic seeking vengeance of 'Jesse James,' or the confused preacher whose pacifism is a hazard on the frontier. The most meaningful questions of the new season, overplayed though they are, may be found in 'run for your life.' A man whose months are numbered sees life differently. The threat of death is 'a hand erasing all life's equations and writing new ones.' "

The new programs, adds Clowney, present little hope of a change in formula or pace:

" 'Turn on the action,' as the ads demand, and you have tuned in on formula one . . . escape equals sex times the square of violence. The action shows may be spiced with sex, but violence carries the wallop. The scene is indifferent: War, the West, espionage, the underworld — any battleground will do, except, of course, one that would involve the viewers too race riots must be avoided."

THE CHANNEL SWIM: Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's previously announced one-hour tour of Washington on BC-TV will be broadcast on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 25, at 10 p.m. EST . the popular ballet entitled "The Nutcracker," based on a fairy tale and with music by Tschaikowsky, will be a one-hour pre-Christmas presentation on CBS-TV Dec. 21 . . the ballet was filmed in West Germany, and the music is played by the Philharmonic Orchestra of Budapest, directed by Franz Allers, who has conducted for many Broadway shows.

Congressmen and their wives in Washington; political party workers in Philadelphia and high school students in St. Louis will join in answering the questions of CBS-TV's viewer-participation "National Citizenship Test," to be broadcast next Tuesday.

Whoosh! New Land Mark: 555 MPH

By THAD POULSON

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Craig Breedlove drove his jet-powered car 566 miles per hour today and set a world land speed record of 555.127 m.p.h.

The record is the average of two runs, back and forth, over a measured mile. In his first run the speed was 544.382 m.p.h. and on the return he was timed at 566.394 m.p.h.

The old record set by Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio, was 536.71 m.p.h.

"I never had to work so hard for a record in my life," said Breedlove, who previously had held the world land speed mark three times.

Breedlove said both runs were made with only the first stage of the three-stage afterburner fired.

He said his only bad moment came when his high speed braking parachute failed to function on his second run. After trying to release the chute twice, he released an emergency parachute and came to a safe stop.

When informed of the record, Breedlove was hoisted to the shoulder of his jubilant crew members.

"I was sure he had the record today," said Norman Breedlove, Craig's father. "I'm wearing my lucky shirt — the one I wore when he set his last record."

Breedlove's wife also was on hand to see the record broken.

Arfons probably will try to regain the record next week. He has been waiting to see what Breedlove does.

Both men have jet-powered cars. Their speed record falls into the recently-recognized unlimited class. The record for a piston engine car is 403.1 m.p.h. set by Donald Campbell of England.

Breedlove's car veered off the course earlier this month when he got it up toward the 600 m.p.h. mark and the front end came off the ground. He is expected to try for the 600 mile later this week.

For this run special wings were put on the front end to keep it down.

Breedlove, a 28-year-old former hot rodder from the Los Angeles area, was clocked by the U.S. Auto Club.

His speeds over the measured kilometer were 550.020 m.p.h. on one run and 561.056 m.p.h. on the return, for an average of 555.483 m.p.h.

LONGDEN IS SET DOWN FOR CARELESS RIDING

SAN MATEO (AP) — Johnny Longden, the winningest jockey in history, has received a 10-day suspension for careless riding at Bay Meadows which caused two other riders and their mounts to take spills.

The race track's board of stewards, which announced the suspension yesterday, said that Longden, riding Corrikhal, broke from the outside after the start of the fourth race Saturday and tightened up the 11-horse field.

That, the stewards ruled, caused the horses ridden by jockeys Miguel Yanez and Dean Hall to fall. Both men were bruised and shaken up.

Terrell Retains Title, But Who Really Cares?

May Get Shot At Real Champ Clay

TORONTO (AP)—Ernie Terrell still is a champion today, but the crown which sits atop his 6-foot-6 frame still doesn't make him the big man in the world of boxing. He knows this.

Terrell won a unanimous 15-round decision over George Chuvalo last night to remain champion. But he still is only champion of the World Boxing Association, not of the world.

The man recognized by everyone but the WBA as king of the heavyweights — Cassius Clay — puts his share of the title on the line against Floyd Patterson Nov. 22 in Las Vegas.

"Everyone has always made fun of me, mostly because I'm a singer as well as a fighter," said the champion, who also is head of a musical combo. "I don't know why people get this laughing image of me."

His victory over Chuvalo probably won't change Terrell's public image immediately, but it could do so indirectly because it puts him in line for a shot at the winner of the Clay-Patterson fight — a fight which would give boxing a single heavyweight champion again.

The WBA threw the heavyweight division into its present Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde state by stripping Clay of his crown for signing a return bout contract with Sonny Liston before their first fight in 1964.

The Chicagoan, who had a seven-inch advantage in reach, threw stinging left hand punches to Chuvalo's face almost from the opening bell until the final gong.

Although there were no knockdowns, Terrell, who weighed 206, drew blood from Chuvalo's nose an cut him about both eyes.

Referee Sammy Luftspring scored it 72-65, judge Fred Nobert called it 73-65, and judge Jackie Burke made it 69-65 for Terrell.

The fight was scored under the five-point-must system, in which the winner of a round receives five points and the loser four or less.

The action didn't end with the fight.

Terrell accused Chuvalo of repeating fouling. He pointed to an inch-long gash in his left eyebrow and he said it was caused by butting. He also said Chuvalo kept stepping on his feet.

Chuvalo was bitter about the outcome and said he was "willing to go to the Supreme Court (of Canada)" to protest the decision.

"I can expect a bad decision anywhere else, but not in my home town," said the 28-year-old Chuvalo, who spent 45 minutes behind the locked door of his dressing room shouting at his manager, Irving Ungerman, and his trainer, Bernie Glickman.

He blamed Ungerman for agreeing to fight in Toronto, saying the bout should have been held elsewhere.

A crowd of 12,500 at Maple Leaf Gardens paid $124,456.50 to see Terrell win his 14th straight fight. His record is 38-4. Chuvalo's record is 33-10-4.

Two Yank Netters Advance

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., and Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., were the lone Americans to survive their third round singles matches today in the Queensland Lawn Tennis Championships.

Ashe, a UCLA student, defeated fellow American Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 11-9, 3-6, 7-5, 6-4. Rissen, of Northwestern, ousted Owen Davidson of Australia 6-2, 6-1, 6-4.

Clark Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, and Cliff Richey of Dallas, Tex., were eliminated. Australia's Roy Emerson subdued Graebner 10-8, 6-4, 6-8, 6-3 and Bill Bowrey of Australia downed Richey 6-2, 6-4, 6-0.

Tom Okker of Holland provided the day's biggest upset with a 6-4, 13-15, 6-3, 4-6, 9-7 victory over Tony Roche, fourth ranked among the Australians. The 21-year-old Okker was seeded fifth among the foreign entrants.

The match lasted three hours and produced the best tennis of the tournament so far. Okker kept the pressure on Roche from the start with near faultless play, forcing Roche into errors. Okker will meet Bowrey in the quarter-finals Wednesday.

In other third-round singles matches, John Newcombe of Australia sidelined Roger Taylor of Great Britain 6-4, 6-4, 12-10 and Fred Stolle of Australia disposed of Lew Gerrard of New Zealand 9-7, 6-3, 6-2.

In the women singles quarterfinals, Judy Tegart of Australia turned back Carole Graebner of Beechwood, Ohio, 6-3, 6-2.

Herb FitzGibbon of Garden City, N.Y., and Richey won their second round match in the men's doubles, whipping Richard Russell of Jamaica and Colin Stubbs of Australia 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

A Sunday Afternoon At Kezar . . . Nips, Naps, Yarns And Yawns

KEZAR KALEIDOSCOPE:

And that's what I saw Sunday. You didn't think I went to Kezar to watch the game, did you???

Brodie May Be Okay To Play Sunday

Coach Jack Christiansen says that quarterback John Brodie of the San Francisco 49ers may be sufficiently recovered from his slight shoulder separation to play against Dallas on Sunday.

Christiansen said yesterday, "We'll play it by ear. It's a very slight separation. There's even a possibility he may not even miss this week."

Brodie suffered the injury to his left shoulder in the final quarter of the 49ers' 34-28 loss to Baltimore last Sunday. It was initially believed he would be out for at least 10 days.

The coach said that if it turns out Brodie is unable to start, he would use reserve quarterback George Mira.

Players and their wives yesterday were on hand for dedication ceremonies honoring the late Morabito brothers, Tony and Vic. The brothers founded the 49er team and had the field house at the training headquarters in Redwood City named for them.

After the dedication, Christiansen commented on the tough loss to Baltimore.

"Defensively, we made some mistakes—a couple of key ones. Offensively, we played well in the first half." He praised starting backs Brodie, John Crow and Ken Willard.

Christiansen again declined to criticize the officials although the players were not so generous. They objected most to the call hat gave Baltimore an interception on Crow's halfback pass. Most thought that the ball had dropped to the ground before linebacker Steve Stonebreaker picked it up.

The interception stopped a 49er drive and launched a scoring drive for Baltimore.

Bears Seek Another Clover In Cabbage Patch Saturday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—California's Bears go looking again for the four-leaf clover in a cabbage patch when they meet the invasion of Southern California on Saturday.

So said Coach Ray Willsey at the Northern California Football Writers meeting yesterday and what did he mean when he added:

"We have to play a ball game better than our capabilities to beat the Trojans. I don't think our best game will be enough."

Commenting on the final second touchdown pass that beat Penn State last Saturday, Willsey said, "I guess we found a four-leaf clover in a cabbage patch. Maybe we can find another Saturday."

Although he switched workhorse Tom Telles from wingback to halfback for the Penn State game, Willsey said the 185-pound senior may revert to his former spot for USC.

California goes into the game with a 4-3 record compared with 4-1-1 for the Trojans. Last year against Cal, the great USC halfback was held to only 37 yards rushing, his career low.

Stanford Coach John Ralston told the writers that Washington outplayed his Indians in every phase of the game in winning 41-8. He appeared particularly disappointed in Stanford's kicking game.

"Dave Lewis averaged 47 yards on six kicks, but he was outkicking his coverage," reviewed Ralston, "and Steve Bramwell averaged 15 yards on his runbacks, so the average was only 32 yards. Then Dave had a kick blocked, which is inexcuseable, and we fumbled a fair catch."

Stanford has five Negroes on its squad for the trip to New Orleans to face Tulane on Saturday night. Ralston said he anticipates no racial trouble and said the school has emphatically assured there will be no difficulty .

Back-of-the-week honors went to San Jose State quarterback Ken Berry who hit for 260 yards, a school record, in passing his club to its 27-7 victory over New Mexico.

"Definitely our best game of the year," commented Coach Harry Anderson whose club face University of the Pacific at San Jose on Saturday night.

Marin Cage Clinic Held A Big Success

Marin County basketball clinic at Kentfield Saturday was proclaimed an artistic as well as financial success today by Chairman Cal Riemcke, the College of Marin coach.

The turnout of 320 coaches and officials was the largest in the four-year history of the event, said Riemcke, adding, ". . . and for the first time we made money, or at least broke even."

Riemcke suited up 10 of his College of Marin basketballers to assist the main speakers, coaches Johnny Wooden of UCLA and Glen Albaugh of Cal State at Hayward in demonstrating plays and situations.

Visiting coaches voted the clinic the most successful in the Marin series, said Riemcke.

The affair took on an international flavor with presidents of national basketball federations of three countries in attendance. They were Jan Mekulowski of Poland, Frank Holness of Republic of Panama, and Alberto Trama of Argentina. They were accompanied by interpreters.

Assisting Riemcke on the clinic committee were Harry Pieper, director of athletics at College of Marin; Renato Sotille, the college's student body; and high school coaches Carl Brown of Drake, Eddie Chavez of Tamalpais, Mike Diaz of San Rafael, Dick Hart of Redwood, John Panagikis of Novato, George Starn of Terra Linda and Gus Hassapakis of Marin Catholic.

The British House of Commons was created in the 13th century as a committee of the lesser landlords.

Drake, Novato Picked To Finish In A Tie

By RALPH CHATOIAN

This coming weekend will be a big one in the red-hot Marin Athletic League flag chase, with rough games for the three top grid teams.

Drake should have its hands full with Terra Linda Friday night, San Rafael should give Novato quite a battle Saturday, and Redwood has a good chance of getting to Tam Saturday. That three-way tie between Drake, Tam and Novato could be reduced before all the smoke of battle clears.

Off the showings of recent games, Drake and Novato are the class teams of the league, while Tam has had to struggle to remain in the title picture.

Who's the best between Novato and Drake? A look at the league standings pretty well tells the story. Drake has scored 81 points in league play and has given up 39. Novato has scored 80 while giving up 40. After four games, two teams couldn't be any closer without scraping whiskers. When they played each other, it was just as close, with Drake nipping the Hornets to win the rest of the way, ending the league slate as co-champs. The road ahead for Tam, against Redwood and Terra Linda, looks too rough for the Indians.

MARIN CATHOLIC, short on numbers but long on desire, gave Tam quite a scare before finally losing last Friday 19-12. Defensive stars for the Wildcats were John Bruemmer, Gary Wittenmeier, Bing Foster, Ed Lencioni and John Komo. That Bruemmer pulled down Tam men for two straight losses, resulting in a third and 51 situation.

FANS WERE wondering why both Tam and Marin Catholic had blue jerseys for their game. It was a mixup between the coaches. Tam coach Willie Hector wanted to use blue because of a shortage of traveling white ones. At least thee helmets and pants were different colors. Hector had ordered more jerseys for his players but they won't arrive until the season's over. But Tam has nothing to be blue about . . . the Injuns are in first place.

ANOTHER RAP against the North Bay Officials Assn., this one from the Marin Catholic fathers (of the players, that is). They were complaining their objections loud and clear in the stands Friday night in Kentfield.

ONE OF the Bay Area radio stations was reporting scores of Saturday football games involving Marin teams before they were even played. It seems some of the young fans like to have a little fun in calling in the hoped-for scores before the games, telling the disc jockeys the games were played Friday. Our office phones were jingling Saturday morning with questions like:

"Did Redwood really beat Novato 53-0 yesterday?" Or, "My boy heard on the radio that Terra Linda beat Manteca 24-7. I thought that game was tonight."

As they all found out by now, it was just wishful thinking. Novato beat Redwood 14-7 and Manteca topped Terra Linda 19-13.

SOME HIGH school football players are injury prone, but Terra Linda's John Forry should carry his own doctor with him in the huddle. Early in the season Forry hurt his shoulder, and after that came a hip pointer. That injury was followed by bruised ankles, one by one. Since his injuries seem to start from the top and work their way down, coach Brad Squires by now must be glad John isn't the team's place-kicker.

JOHN PANAGAKIS, assistant varsity football coach at Novato, but head mentor for the Hornet cagers, was a spectator at the Drake-San Rafael game Friday night (scouting the Bulldogs, of course). He was in deep conversation under the goal posts with San Rafael basketball coach Mike Diaz and they weren't talking football. Yes, it is almost that time.

WHILE WE'RE on the subject of basketball, we see that Ken Robinson of Novato, 6-3 and 195 pounds, is a member of the San Francisco State varsity cage squad and he's only a sophomore. Must be new to the county because he didn't play prep ball here.

WOULDN'T IT be great if we got two backfield men out of Marin County in the North-South Shrine All-Star game? Dean Lazzarini, that flash from Drake has the best shot to make the team, but Dick Otis of Novato is another boy who rates a long look from the selection committee. He doesn't have the flashiness of Lazzarini, but when you want three or four important yards, give the ball to Otis and he'll get 'em for you.

What a workhorse that Otis. He carried the ball 31 times Saturday, picking up 147 yards. And although the weather was hotter than you-know-what, he finished the game as strong as a bull. In his last four carries he made gains of 6, 16, 7 and 3 yards. Novato was just going to keep giving the ball to Otis until the gun went off. What a guy to have when you want to run out the clock.

Bellamy To N.Y. In Big NBA Deal

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The newest member of the New York Knickerbockers' basketball team, Walt Bellamy, says, "it's nice to know that somebody wants me."

The 6-foot-11 center was acquired by the Knicks yesterday in a four-player National Basketball Assn. trade with the Baltimore Bullets.

The Bullets acquired forwards Johnny Green and Jim (Bad News) Barnes and guard Johnny Egan, plus an undisclosed amount of cash in the interdivision trade.

"I knew it was coming," said Bellamy, as he packed to leave. "You know in this business that you are sort of on reserve no matter where you're playing."

Bellamy will be going from the frying pan to the fire — both teams are cellar dwellers, the Knicks in the Eastern and the Bullets in the Western Division.

He said he did not mean that he was exactly unwanted in Baltimore, or that he had not tried his hardest for the Bullets. He denied that he had let his average sag to force a trade.

Bellamy, 26, was the man the Bullets hoped would spark a contending team, but he had been dropped from starting lineups in recent games.

The 245-pound Bellamy is a former star for Indiana University. His 24.8 average last season was sixth highest in the NBA.

His professional career average is 27.8. He played for the U.S. Olympic team in 1960. But during the current season Bellamy's average had dropped to 20.3.

Green, 6-foot-5 and 31 years old, averaged 11 points in games last year. The former Michigan State star has a pro average of 13.0.

Barnes, 24, was the Knicks first 1964 draft choice, a 6-foot-8 NBA All-Rookie player last year. He played college ball at Texas Western.

Egan, 6-foot, is 24 years old and a one-time Providence star. He came to the Knicks from the Detroit Pistons in 1963. His average last year was 9.2.

San Rafael '9' Triumphs, 3-2

Litchfield's semi-pro baseball team remained tied for first place in the San Francisco AAA Winter League Sunday, scoring a come-from-behind triumph over New Pisa Restaurant, 3-2.

Going into the bottom of the ninth inning, the San Rafael team was down, 2-1. Doug Wilson, who reached first on an error, scored the tying run on a wild pitch, and then Ron Blum pinch hit a single to knock in the winning run.

Ron Cole, one of three Litchfield pitchers in the game, got credit for the triumph. Cole, over the last 17 innings, has allowed only 12 hits and four runs.

J.V. Quarterback Passes For 3 TD's

Don Stone tossed three touchdown passes, two to Mike Gaffney and the other to Ken Kline, to lead the Drake High School junior varsity gridders to a 20-0 triumph over San Rafael last Friday.

In other junior varsity games, Tamalpais blanked Marin Catholic 31-0 and Novato edged Redwood 12-7.

New Way To Choose Rose Bowl Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The West's team for the Rose Bowl game Jan. 1 will be selected Nov. 22—but not the way previous teams have been chosen.

This time the vote will be preceeded by a round-table discussion at San Francisco at which the member schools' athletic directors can discuss the problems of selecting a Rose Bowl team. Among them:

—The contenders in the Pacific Athletic Conference play a different number of conference games.

—The teams' conference play may not show how well they did in non-conference games—as in the case of the University of Southern California Trojans, who beat Notre Dame last year, then lost to them this season.

—The directors aren't required to send the conference champions to the bowl. Their charge is to select "the most representative team."

These problems, and the changes it's hoped will cope with them, were explained yesterday by athletic directors Jess Hill of USC and J. D. Morgan of UCLA at the Los Angeles Football Writers luncheon.

Last year the vote was taken by wire after the USC-Notre Dame game. Despite the Trojans' dramatic win over the unbeaten Irish, the Rose Bowl nod went to Oregon State, which like USC was 3-1 in conference play.

A sample of the current confusion: This season Washington State plays three conference games, UCLA four, USC five. The Cougars meet neither Southern California team. Said Hill:

"Several things will have to be considered, such as the won-and-lost in the conference, overall season records, caliber of the opposition, and so forth. The champion doesn't necessarily go to Pasadena. We are supposed to pick the most representative team."

STAR BLAMES MAUCH FOR PHILS' DIVE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) —Outfielder Wes Covington of the Phillies charged yesterday that Philadelphia skidded from pennant contention in the National League to a sixth place finish this past season because Manager Gene Mauch "lost control of the club."

"The main problem with the Phils was that Mauch allowed the club to be individualistic in its thinking," Covington said in an interview here during a business trip.

Big O Leads NBA Scoring And Assists

The Big O has scored 223 points and contributed 71 assists in seven games. He sat out the Royals' eighth game Sunday night because of an eye injury.

Philadelphia's Wilt Chamberlain, not among the 10 leading scorers, has the best field goal percentage — .655 — with 55 out of 84 attempts. The 76ers have played only three games.

Bill Russell of Boston leads in rebounds per game with a 29.1 average, and the Royals' Jerry Lucas leads in total rebounds with 206.

MSU Tightens Hold On Top Grid Rating

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Michigan State is more firmly entrenched today as the No. 1 college football team in the country, and it looks as if the position will remain comfortable until at least Nov. 20.

That's the day that the Spartans, closing their regular season, take on the Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, who have some designs on the national football title themselves.

The Spartans have had rare success against the Irish during the past decade, but last year Notre Dame atoned for a lot of past beatings by smashing the Big Ten power 34-7.

Since losing to Purdue in the second game of the campaign, Ara Parseghian's South Benders have come fast, winning impressively over Northwestern, Army, Southern California and Navy.

They have the sort of running strength and defense that could give the leaders a run for it. They have moved to fourth in the standings.

Iowa, the State foe Saturday, has lost six games and won only one. Indiana, to be met Nov. 13, has won two and lost five.

The Spartans, crushing Northwestern 49-7 last week for their seventh straight victory, so impressed the special panel of sports writers and broadcasters that they collected 36 of the 50 first place votes.

This was enough to give them 481 points — a comfortable lead over Arkansas, which got 11 votes after drubbing Texas A&M 31-0. Nebraska, also unbeaten, got the remaining three first place mentions on narrow 16-14 squeak over Missouri and clung to third place.

Arkansas has three Southwest games remaining — Rice, SMU and Texas Tech — with Texas Tech apparently the strongest threat. Nebraska stands to run out the season's string now with Kansas, Oklahoma State and Oklahoma ahead.

The race for the national title appears to rest among these four powers.

The lower part of the Top Ten standings continues to undergo change with each week.

Alabama, with a 4-1-1 record, is in fifth place, followed by Southern California. The four teams below them are all new — Georgia Tech, UCLA, Missouri and Kentucky. They replaced Louisiana State, Florida, Purdue and Texas, all of whom were beaten.

The Top Ten with first place votes in parentheses, season records and total points figuredon a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis:

1. Michigan State (36)	7-0	481
2. Arkansas (11)	7-0	457
3. Nebraska (3)	7-0	392
4. Notre Dame	5-1	362
5. Alabama	5-1-1	209
6. Southern California	4-1-1	201
7. Georgia Tech	5-1-1	115
8. UCLA	4-1-1	105
9. Missouri	4-2-1	52
10. Kentucky	5-2	49

Others receiving votes, listed alphabetically: Clemson, Darmouth, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Ohio State, Princeton, Purdue, Syracuse, Tennessee, Texas, Texas Tech, Tulsa, Utah State, Washington, Washington State, Wyoming.

Fisher Captures M.V. Golf Crown

In the semi-finals Fisher had defeated Bob Paterson 3 and 2 while Norwick eliminated Al Walton 5 and 4.

Paul Brown Denies Rumor He'll Coach Atlanta Team

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Former Cleveland Browns' Coach Paul Brown has flatly denied printed reports that he would be named head coach of the Atlanta Falcons, who make their National Football League debut next season.

Contacted at his La Jolla, Calif., home yesterday, Brown said the story he will coach the Falcons is "absolutely false." Brown said his discussions with Falcon owner Rankin Smith last summer were "more exploratory and social than anything else."

Brown said he met with Smith at that time to offer advice on the operation of a professional football team. He said he has not seen Smith since that time.

Fred Russell, sports editor of the Nashville Banner, reported that Brown would join the Falcons within two weeks. He said Brown, who still draws about $80,000 annually from the Browns on a long-term contract, is eager to return to football.

Smith said he plans to stand by an earlier decision not to name a coach until the current NFL season has ended. "Putting Brown's name in the rumor mill is all right with me. The more the merrier," Smith said. He said a coach probably will be hired in December.

Boston Red Sox Report A Major Trade Brewing

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — Manager Billy Herman reports from the Boston Red Sox winter training camp that the club is on the verge of swinging a major trade which would "change the whole complexion" of the team.

Herman told visiting Boston writers that the trade nearly was made during the World Series, but fell through because the other club apparently is waiting for the start of inter-league trading Nov. 21.

Big News For Toxophilites And A Few Words For You Piscators

STEVENS

The U.S. Open Archery Tourney is scheduled for Jan. 21-23, 1966. If you have wanted to have a good excuse to pay a visit to Las Vegas, and you consider yourself a good "Bow-bender," now is your chance.

The tournament will be co-sponsored by the Colt's Firearms Division of Colt Industries and the Hotel Sahara.

There will be a $10,000 prize awards tournament, with $8,000 guaranteed cash awards and $2,000 in merchandise. All archers, male and female, professional and amateur, are invited to participate. Prize provisions have been made for Open Class as well as Handicap and Amateur.

A RECENT release reads: "Two indoor professional Archers Association rounds will be shot by individuals and one PAA round will be shot in the team competition. All members of a team must be from the same state and must be individually registered in the tournament. However, there will be a limit to the number of team entries from any one state.

"Individual entry fee is $10 and team entry fee $12 for all entries received by Friday, Jan. 14, 1966.

"Special room rates will be available from the Hotel Sahara."

For additional information write to: Colt's Firearms Division, 150 Huyshope Avenue, Hartford, Connecticut 06102 or Mr. Nicholas Naff, Hotel Sahara, Las Vegas, Nevada.

SO MUCH for the toxophilite readers. Now for the benefit of the local piscators.

As most of you are aware, with a few exceptions, the trout and salmon season statewide closed Sunday and that yesterday was the opening of salmon and trout (including steelhead) season in tidewater streams along the coast. I won't mention the various counties and tidewater streams, but refer you to page 12 of the 1965 California Sport Fishing Regulations. Instead I will report on the "loop" streams north of the Golden Gate to about Fort Bragg.

I TALKED with Ernie Titus on Sunday and asked about the action in the Point Arena stream, the Garcia. Ernie reported quite a few nice silver salman have been taken near the mouth of the Garcia River. Of particular importance at most times is a report of action at the Garcia. It is one of the few streams along the coast that is always open. The Navarro's mouth is closed tightly with many feet of sand piled up. It will take a number of very rainy days to open the bar at the Navarro, and the same thing goes for the mouth of the Navarro and the Gualala. (Both are barbound at this writing.)

AS REGARDS the steelhead, you should expect at the very least three weeks to a month before that highly desirable species start their spawning runs. That goes for all the loop streams from the Russian to the Ten Mile.

For a good many successive years I shoved off for the high northern Klamath and Smith rivers around Nov. 1. The salmon fishing had slowed down to a walk in the Klamath mouth by that time but was prime in the Smith. Currently, the Smith is prime from the mouth upstream past the bridge, and the upper reaches of the Klamath —Orleans, Happy Camp and others—is furnishing both steelhead and salmon. So, delay your try for steelhead in the Loop streams for about 20 to 30 days, and go to the far north for action at present.

Byers New Pilot For Tahoe Miss

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — George Byers Jr., 36, Columbus, Ohio, will take over next year as driver of Tahoe Miss, the hydroplane owned by gambler and sportsman Bill Harrah.

Byers comes to Nevada after driving Miss Madison, the community-owned boat from Madison, Ind. Byers succeeds Chuck Thompson as the Tahoe Miss pilot.

"He's been a good driver for us, but we feel a change may break our streak of bad luck," said Harry Volpi, Harrah's racing manager.

Tahoe Miss has been plagued with mechanical problems for three years.

Byers said, "I decided at the outset of the 1965 season that there was only one boat I wanted to drive besides the Miss Madison, and that was the Tahoe Miss. Now the right boat has popped.

"I hope the folks in Madison will approve of my decision to step into what I think is the best race boat in the world."

Striped Shirts Are Beating The 49ers

SIDELINES

By ED RANDOL

Resistable force met movable object at Kezar Stadium Sunday, and when the seagulls had settled the San Francisco 49ers had lost their second game of the season to the Baltimore Colts and their second heartbreaker in a row. The final score of 34 to 28 wasn't for sure until the last play of the game.

The 49ers out-rushed, outpassed and out-gained the Colts in this one. And they also outdistanced them in penalties. If the 49ers have nightmares they are going to be populated by ogres in striped shirts filling the air with orange hankies.

Only last week Coach Harlan Svare of the Los Angeles Rams took on the NFL officials for favoring Baltimore and Chicago on their home grounds. Either the Colts brought along their own arbiters this time, or the whistle tooters were out to show the league that they were not "homers."

Generally I try to be impartial when it comes to pro football, but I definitely feel that the Niners were the better team both last week and this week and they were beaten more by officiating than by superior play. Sunday the 49ers were called four times for mask grabbing; one of the oldest tricks in the game is for a tackled back to jerk his head down and scream like an eagle. The Colts deserve an Oscar.

It is not only the lost yards that hurt when penalties are called, it is the lost impetus and demoralizing factors that really hurt a team. The 49ers had good drives stopped by some questionable calls, and the Colts benefited by retaining the ball when calls were made on third and fourth down situations.

Until his injury, John Brodie completed 20 for 28 passes, continuing his fantastic seasonal record. It would be a shame if Brodie were forced to the bench for the season in the middle of a great year.

George Mira came off the bench to throw a touchdown pass on his first play and went on to complete 5 for 7 passes as he drove the 49ers to the 16-yard line with just three seconds to go. Had he pulled this one out the little man would have grown in stature.

The only phase of the game that really favored the Colts was the use of the draw play up the middle. Time and again the 49ers were caught off balance by this play. In other matters they gave as good as they took and a little more.

As far as any possible title hopes are concerned, the 49ers are packed up for the season, but this club is not through winning for the year. It is tough to always say "Wait till next year," but we can spend the rest of this year anticipating a title fight in 1966.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Rubber Play Conservative; Tourney Play Sharp On Tricks

When you're defending at rubber bridge you make sure of the setting trick and then look around for extra tricks.

In tournament bridge you must sometimes look for the extra trick before you have made quite sure of the setting trick.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid one notrump or two spades.

The hand is not strong enough for a response of two hears. Prefer the raise in spades if your partner avoids opening with a weak four-card spade suit.

West opens the ace of diamonds and switches to the three of hearts.

At rubber bridge East would take the act of hearts and return a diamond for West to ruff.

West would cash the king of hearts to take the setting trick, and both defenders would go on to the next hand glowing with satisfaction.

NOT FOR TOURNEY

This fine new book by Norman Kay, Fred Karpin and the late Sidney Silodor observes that East-West should try for 200 points.

If East trusts his partner, he should play the queen of hearts at the second trick instead of the act of hearts. If West is a fine player he will lead the three of hearts only if he has a high heart, which must be the king. If West's hearts were headed by the ten he would lead the ten or some high card to indicate that there is no future in the suit from his point of view.

GETS TWO RUFFS

If East wins the second trick with the queen of hearts he can lead a diamond for West to ruff, and West then leads another heart to the ace to get a second diamond ruff.

The same result is accomplished if East takes the ace of hearts first and returns the ten of diamonds to indicate that he has a possible entry in the high side suit (hearts rather than clubs). West ruffs and leads a low heart to the queen instead of cashing the king of hearts.

Either method produces 200 points instead of just 100 points for the defenders.

This is splendid and necessary in tournaments, but a waste of time at rubber bridge.

Suit your methods to the game you are playing.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Maternity Shop To Open; Elite Barber At New Location

Planned to open in Strawberry Town and Country Village this month — about the 18th, I believe — is Expectation Maternity Shop, sixth store of a 20-year old firm headquartered in San Francisco.

After living in Belvedere eight years, owner Joel Horowitz has come to the conclusion that Marin County's continuing population growth is not caused entirely by the influx of new arrivals from other areas and natural causes also have something to do with it. Ergo, this type of business should do at least as well here as in downtown San Francisco, Stonestown, Oakland, Sacramento and Modesto where his other stores are located.

He has taken about 1,000 square feet in the area near Bath Renaissance and Little Daisy.

ALSO IN Town and Country Village, the Village Shoe Den, opened last June next to the Hick'ry Pit of Marin, will move to quarters three times as large near Bath Renaissance by Dec. 1. Former owner Sardis Nahigian died of a heart attack in September and his son Edward, who worked with him in the store, has taken over management of the business.

He is adding a women's shoe department and will carry lines of California Debs and Delicio Debs. Men's shoe line is Florsheim.

Hick'ry Pit will expand into the rear part of the present location and the front will be occupied by a jewelry store.

LARKSPUR REAL ESTATE firm of Broessel and Schaefer is now two separate firms—Sue Schaefer Realtor, which remains at 537 Magnolia Avenue, and Dorland A. Broessel Realtor, at 512 Magnolia Avenue, former office of the late Mabelle Culpepper.

ELITE BARBER SHOP that was already a landmark at 936 Fourth Street, San Rafael when World War I was being fought has been closed since it was burned out in September. It was scheduled to open today at a new address — 1117 Fourth Street.

Between Andrew Pedroli who started it and his son Allen who took over the business five years ago, the shop has been in the family about 45 years.

Sinclair

The new one is narrower, but deeper, and has a rear entrance from the city parking lot on Third Street.

NEW ASSISTANT MANAGER at the Northgate office of Crocker-Citizens National Bank is Harold W. Sinclair, who has been entered in the bank's administrative training program since last year. He started work at the Market and Fourth Street office in 1959 and has also served in the loan department at other San Francisco offices.

JOHN BATESON of San Rafael has been appointed assistant to the controller at Bank of America. He has been with the bank 10 years.

JAMES CORBY of Sausalito has been made research director at KPIX television. He has previously worked in market research for the National Tuberculosis Assn., the Alfred Politz Co. and the Massachusetts Port Authority. His broadcast background includes a year in the production department at WNBF-TV, Binghamton, N.Y.

WAGNER D'ALESSIO of Ross, president of California Casualty Indemnity Exchange, has been awarded a Chartered Life Underwriter designation from the American College of Life Underwriters in St. Louis. D'Alessio in two years covered a course that for the average person usually extends from four to five years. He has been with California Casualty since 1929.

U.S. To Sell Mortgages To Investors

By PETER S. NAGAN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—Uncle Sam is planning to take a good-sized step toward getting out of the lending business. On Dec. 1, the government-owned Federal National Mortgage Assn. will, in effect, sell $375 million worth of home mortgages to private investors.

Fanny Mae, as this agency has long been nicknamed, isn't actually delivering the mortgages. Rather, it is offering certificates of participation in a pool of thousands of home loans.

MONEY IN BANK

The association will retain title to the actual mortgages. But it guarantees the principal and interest on the certificates. And since Fanny Mae is an arm of the United States, that guarantee is as good as money in the bank.

Fanny Mae originally acquired the mortgages from builders and mortgage lenders, who found themselves loaded with paper not attractive to regular investors, or with no more room to take on new loans. Thus, the association is really a vehicle for pumping government money into mortgages.

TWO MOTIVES

In the current fiscal year — 1966—Fanny Mae hopes to dispose of $1.3 billion worth of mortgages that have been insured by the Federal Housing Administration or guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. Around 300,000 individual loans would be included.

The Johnson administration has two motives in selling the certificates of participation:

1. It would like to minimize the government's role in a field in which private enterprise can successfully operate.

2. It would like to use the proceeds to reduce the federal spending totals, and the federal deficit, for this fiscal year.

So far, $525 million worth of mortgages have been sold to private lenders by the certificate route since this fiscal year began. Chances are there will be additional sales before June 30, if private lenders seem receptive.

Pet Palate Pleased By Gourmet Recipes

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Chicken croquettes, mixed grill, a meatball dinner for Rover? They're making gourmet dog food now for particular pets.

Pet food was a $654.6 million market in the United States last year. It nearly has doubled since 1958. Predictions are that it will run more than a billion dollars by 1975.

Sales of pet food are growing despite a drop in the number of dogs and cats.

The dog population has declined from 24.1 million in 1961 to 22.9 million in 1965, according to a market research report. The cat population went down from 22.1 to 16.7 million during the same time.

But manufacturers are selling more dog and cat food. Sales the first six months of 1965 were up 10 per cent from 1964.

Trade sources say that is because more of the pets are owned by city and suburban families, which traditionally have been heavier buyers of commercially prepared pet foods.

Eye appeal and convenience pet foods are the order of the day. Pet foods are being made to look like human ones. Advertisements show juicy red steaks or meatloaf touched with parsley.

There is what is billed as a gourmet cat food, compounded of liver, kidney, chicken, meat and fish to appeal to the most fastidious Siamese.

The big pet food companies are going all out to keep pets from feeding on the family's leftovers or sharing its meals.

In the past decade, the big swing has been to packaged dry foods, pellets expanded by air or steam. Manufacturers say they are cheaper than canned food, neater and offer a more uniform product.

Then one manufacturer came up with a gravy made by adding water. Others followed with their own chunks with sauces.

Now there also are soft moist pet foods which come in various forms — hamburger patties or meatballs. Some are individually wrapped in meal-sized packages that don't need to be stored in the refrigerator.

The pet food manufacturers say the new dog and cat owners want small packages that don't require refrigeration or anything to be added before serving.

One brand even comes packaged with individual plastic trays, eliminating the need of a dish.

Pan-Am Airways Profits Increase

NEW YORK—Net income of Pan American Airways for the first nine months of 1965 before special items was $38,928,000, or $2.72 per share on 14,322,815 average shares outstanding.

A special item of $4.8 million, or 34 cents per share previously reported for the second quarter of the year, brings Pan Am's net income for nine months up to $43,728,000, or $3.06 per share, an increase of 27.7 per cent above the net income of $34,238,000 for the corresponding period in 1964.

The special item reported for the second quarter reflects purchase by Pan Am in April of full insurance and discontinuance of self insurance.

Corporations Are All Set To Pay Some Big Dividends

By ADVANCE NEWS

WASHINGTON—The nation's corporations will have some very pleasant news for their stockholders during the next two months. Their boards of directors will announce fat dividend payments — increases in regular dividend rates, plus lush year end extras.

Government statistics show that dividend payments for the first nine months of the year are already running 8.3 per cent ahead of the comparable period of 1964. Economists in Washington expect the pay-outs in the remaining quarter of the year to widen the gain.

The basis for this forecast is the huge profits being rolled up by U.S. business. Company after company is showing prodigious gains over a year ago. New records are commonplace.

Corporate profits before taxes are running at an annual rate of $7.5 billion ahead of last year. Profits after taxes—the fugure upon which dividend decisions are based—are also up more than $7 billion. Afater-tax net gains are now running at a rate of about $44 billion.

The businesses are optimistic about 1966 and therefore more willing to share the profits rather than conserve cash for future expansion and contingencies.

Generally, corporations wait till close to Christmas to pay increased or extra dividends. The Christmas spirit is only part of the reason. Usually even a roughly accurate picture of corporate profits aren't available to company bookkeepers until late in the year.

This year, though, some companies are jumping the gun. Results—and prospects — are so good that there is no great need to wait. This reflects understandable pride in this year's performance and an understandable desire to let stockholders and the world know about it.

Foremost Dairies Earnings Rise

Foremost Dairies, Inc., consolidated net earnings for the first nine months of 1965 were $6,489,000 as compared with $5,807,000 reported for the corresponding period in 1964.

This is equivalent, after dividends on the preferred shares, to 82 cents per share on the 7,683,658 shares reported on the 7,712,140 shares outstanding in 1964.

Consolidated net earnings for the third quarter of 1965 were $2,120,000, as compared with $1,909,000 for the same period in 1964. This is equivalent to 27 cents per common share in 1965 and compares with 24 cents in 1964.

There's Hope That Flood Zone Will Become Reality

The Corte Madera Flood Control Zone is still far from reality, but recent actions by several cities in Ross Valley give rise to some optimism.

Larkspur has agreed, with conditions, to join Corte Madera in approving the flood control zone.

Now, Ross Town Council has agreed to a joint powers agreement to pay its share of maintaining the flood control project.

These developments improve the possibility that the federal funds allocated for the project can still be saved for local use.

Communities in the upstream area are still holding out for various reasons, including the fear that a concrete lined ditch will destroy the natural beauties of the creek and the fear that they will be burdened with excessive cost for maintenance.

These are valid concerns. If the periodic flooding suffered in Ross Valley were not so disastrous or so imminent, the holdout communities would be perfectly justified in postponing action until every angle in both esthetics and economies had been explored.

When the downpour comes, and the flooding is compounded by high tides, residents will be screaming for relief. The beauties of the natural creek will all but be forgotten as homeowners scramble to keep heads above water.

More than just individual properties are involved. The College of Marin, which serves all of Marin County, is being stymied in its current program of campus expansion and improvement.

And continued procrastination could mean the withdrawal of federal funds for the project.

All of these factors must be weighed, along with the esthetics and the expected cost of maintaining the flood control project.

Eventually, some of the esthetics may have to be sacrificed in favor of improved safety for homes and for the College of Marin.

Some of the communities have seen their way clear to give in a little for the good of the whole. There appears to be a break in the impasse that once existed.

We now look with hope for eventual agreement where once there was only despair.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

TOT TRIES TO FLY

A 3-year-old boy, who developed an admiration for sky divers, tried in vain to imitate them recently in England.

Standing on the ledge of a bedroom window, he leaped out into space, only to land a moment later on a concrete walk 15 feet below. The would-be flier escaped with only slight bruises.

When he was picked up, the only explanation he could give was: "I tried to fly."

Children, by the very nature God gave them, are imaginative and eager to make their dreams come true. But this precious trait must be guided and often restrained—lest it cause harm instead of good.

It is not easy for parents and teachers to achieve the happy balance of encouraging youthful exuberance and at the same time keeping it within reasonable check.

But everybody benefits when the hopes and energies of young people are patiently nurtured and directed into constructive channels.

"Show me the way in which I should walk."

AFFAIRS OF STATE

State Moves To Stop Personal Employee Use Of Official Cars

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS—Once again, the state is making an effort to curtail the unbridled use of state automobiles, not only for purposes other than business, but for alleged state business use as well.

This is about as hard to accomplish as the effort of King Canute ordering the tides to cease rolling, but at least it is an effort, and Robert L. Harkness, director of general services, should receive some credit for making the attempt to conserve gasoline, oil, wear and tear on vehicles, and depreciation.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced that state transportation expenses will be reduced five per cent through new departmental "planning and operational procedure" in the use of state cars. He said emphasis will be on reducing use of state cars for official business and substitution of public transportation facilities when it is less expensive.

THE ADMINISTRATION developed its operational procedure as the result of a jogging at the 1965 session of the legislature, some members of which were appalled at the extended use of public vehicles for private purposes. Almost any Saturday morning, the public can go shopping in the various centers around Sacramento, and see state cars parked here and there.

As almost nobody works for the state on Saturday, it's a fair assumption that employees who manage to get a car for state use are using it for the family shopping tour.

WHETHER THE NEW procedures on the part of the department of general services will mean that the citizens motoring to work in the morning will be able to quit dodging state cars on the freeways and various corners of Sacramento's city streets is something that will be determined later on, when it is seen how far the car-driving employees will go in observance.

One of the excuses given for driving state cars to work is that the state has so many cars there isn't enough garage room to house them, so it's more expedient for the drivers to go back and forth to work via state transportation.

This could mean, of course, that the state has too many cars, especially when the citizen who pays for them is driving to and from work in his or her own automobile, for which there is not supposed to be an income tax deduction.

HARKNESS URGES each state agency to eliminate the use of a state car "which is not absolutely essential to carrying out official state business."

With this order in mind, it is foreseen that there could be some fine auction sales of state cars to get rid of the surplus, provided the state agencies take the urging seriously. It is the practice of the state to auction off its worn-out vehicles, and also surplus vehicles if it has any. However, there are more state employees than vehicles, so there seldom is a surplus.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Swimming Suit Purchase Irks

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On all sides we hear complaints about high taxes, but nobody does anything about them. Even the Supervisors have thrown up their hands.

An article in your paper on Oct. 19 was very illuminating and may be part of the answer, remembering that better than 50 per cent of your tax dollar goes to schools—"The Tamalpais High School District Board awarded contracts for 5,400 bathing suits amounting to $13,088 to be used at Redwood High School, where a swimming program is planned for the spring semester when the pool now under construction is expected to be completed".

Wonder what the students swam in during their vacation? Even if there has been a precedent established during past years, this is the kind of expense that could be cut when on all sides one hears of retired people moving out of the county and others wondering when their turn will come.

How many other "sleepers" do we have in our schools?

Baton Girls' Dress Defended As Decent

Editor, Independent-Journal:

What Our Readers Say of Oct. 25, contained an article by Patricia Whitmore regarding the Terra Linda High Baton girl's dress. I, as a parent of one of the girls, am astounded to read such complaints about dress, school board and parents.

Does Patricia Whitmore know what a bathing suit looks like?? Does she know how much, almost any of them (excluding Bikinis) reveal? Has she written letters to anyone about stretch slacks, evening gowns, etc. that often times are more suggestive than the beautifully sequined costumes worn by the Color Guard and Baton Twirlers?? Does Patricia Whitmore consider the display of womens under-garments, in the local clothing stores, as a display of flagrant indecency??

Having observed the modesty and decency of each of the girls, in the Color Guard, in my own home, while the costumes were being prepared, I must state that Patricia Whitmore has no right whatsoever, by any stretch of the imagination, to declare these red-blooded American girls immodest, immoral or indecent.

Baton Girls Not Outrage

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The letter "Baton Girls' Dress Outrages Spectators" by Patricia Whitmore appearing in the Oct. 25 I-J "What Our Readers Say" deserves an answer. As the father of one of these girls, I am more than happy to provide one. Judging from the style of writing, we have a vivid image of Miss Whitmore, sitting at her wormwood spinet desk with turkey quill in hand, dressed in 14 petticoats, mother hubbard and tennis shoes, penning this vituperous letter.

Wake up, Miss Whitmore, this is 1965! The dress worn by the baton girls is most decent by 1965's standards, and has no relationship to the frocks worn in Las Vegas night clubs.

The girls are carefully chosen for their ability to perform the difficult steps and their ability to maintain high grade standards. I feel that they provide a half-time spectacular most pleasing at football games, and I am very proud that my daughter was selected to participate.

In conclusion, we find your comments extremely insulting to the young people of Marin, and hope that upon reflection you will make a written apology.

Justice Dooling Left A Legacy

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The recent passing of Maurice T. Dooling Jr., retired justice, California Supreme Court, has forever stilled the incisive mind of a judicial giant . . . I cannot let this occasion become mere memory without an attempt to perpetuate a writing by this great and good man.

(The legal proposition involved in a 1955 case was whether or not a member of a non-Caucasian race had a right to be buried in the Mountain View Cemetery, a private corporation. The law at the time did not give anyone that right. So as a matter of law Justice Dooling was bound to concur in the decision. But he protested the state of the Law.)

His opinion: "I concur, but I cannot resist a word of protest. I cannot believe that a man's mortal remains will disintegrate any less peaceably because of the close proximity of the body of a member of another race, and in that inevitable disintegration I am sure that the pigmentation of the skin cannot long endure. It strikes me that the carrying of racial discrimination into the burial grounds is a particularly stupid form of human arrogance and intolerance. If life does not do so, the universal fellowship of death should teach humility. The good people who insist on the racial segregation of what is mortal in man may be shocked to learn when their own lives end that God has reserved no racially exclusive position for them in the hereafter."

If these words of Justice Dooling were his only legacy to his fellow man, this would be more than most of us are allowed to contribute to humanity.

Garbage Service, Price Just Fine

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

THERE'S A sad little story circulating in the Madison Avenue sector these days. It concerns a lovely and conscientious young lady who completed a secretarial course and landed a job in short order with a giant advertising agency. On the very morning she checked in for her first day there, the crusty boss' own secretary was called home to her sick mother and the newcomer was sent in to take her place. Flustered to begin with, she panicked completely when the boss began dictating at a mile-a-minute pace, chewing a corner of his handkerchef at the same time. The poor girl finally began jotting down mere dots, dashes, and doodles as the boss rattled on and on.

Finally, he arose, announced, "I'd like these letters on my desk by three this afternoon at the latest, please. That's all." Then he sailed out of the office.

The new secretary returned to her desk, tore her notebook into shreds, went home and packed her bag, and flew to California that afternoon.

TWO BUSINESS partners were discussing the rather old-fashioned methods still in effect at the headquarters of one of their most formidable competitors. "That outfit," snorted one of the businessmen with finality, "is run so terribly that if they weren't making a fortune, they'd be out of business tomorrow!"

Age, Conservatism, Increased Affluence May Change Chinese

WASHINGTON (AP)—Age and changing generations in Red China are the best hope for the rest of the world that the Chinese eventually will quiet down and get off their endless belligerency kick. At best, it's a hope.

It could be easily nullified if, once the Chinese have built up their own nuclear arsenal, they develop a new and fantastic sense of power, daring and impregnability.

In the Kremlin's most hostile period, the 1940s, the United States began its containment policy to hem in Russia until time could work changes in the Communist world and push it in a more peaceful direction.

U.S. officials pointed out last week to some 800 editors and broadcasters attending a foreign policy briefing in the State Department that Red China has suffered setbacks from Indonesia to Africa.

THIS SEEMED inevitable when it is remembered that ever since they took over the mainland in 1949 the Red Chinese have preached revolution not only to their neighbors but to people too far away to get substantial Chinese help.

The U.S. officials talked of diminishing Red Chinese influence in Africa as the leaders of the new African nations realize Peking's revolutionary doctrine could be used against them.

IN THE ABORTIVE Indonesian revolution Red China and pro-Peking Communists suffered a loss. And, the officials said, Red China had second thoughts when the United States cautioned it against interference in the India-Pakistan cease-fire.

For 16 years the Red Chinese have used the big mouth technique, talking and urging revolution everywhere while very carefully avoiding direct conflict with Russia and—except for China's role in the Korean conflict—the United States. This is realistic and understandable.

At this time the United States and Russia have the overwhelming nuclear power, enough to wreck Red China and its revolution, while the Chinese are still in the process of achieving similar nuclear power of their own.

HOVERING OVER this ominous prospect is the hope of change: change in the leadership and therefore in the thinking of Red Chinese leaders.

In Russia, the Lenin men were the fanatics, the revolutionaries who thought in terms of any sacrifice for the sake of the revolution. This spirit was kept alive so long as Stalin lived, and he lived until 1953.

But by then, while some of his colleagues of the early days had died, he had murdered others and many of those he had come to depend upon were of a younger generation.

As Russia grew in affluence, both in possessions and responsibilities, the new leadership after Stalin was naturally more reluctant to lose what had been gained.

Thus in time the Kremlin leadership became more and more the big proprietors, and that has a sobering, conservative influence. It's enough to cool some of the revolutionary ardor in any group.

Perhaps this is what Red China is headed for. Its leadership now is made up of old men who will have to yield the reins before too long. The problems within China are enormous. Mao Tze-tung's heirs, lacking his revolutionary obsessions, may become more concerned with domestic expansion than with Communist expansion.

GOP Chief Believes He Is On Way Out

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss is apparently coming to feel very much as King Henry IV must have when he exclaimed (according to Shakespeare), "uneasy lies the head that wears a crown."

Although in office less than a year, intimates are quoting Bliss as saying, "They are after me on all sides. One slip, and I've had it."

From available evidence, this gloomy prognosis is not borne out by indications of any activity — covert or otherwise — to ditch Bliss.

While Bliss does not exactly fall in the category of a popular GOP chairman, neither is he personally disliked. Even party leaders lukewarm about him readily concede he is honorable, hard-working, conscientious and an able administrator. Also that he is in the torturous position of having to walk a tight rope between furiously divergent elements and factions.

YET BLISS APPEARS to be laboring under a strong sense of insecurity, with deep-seated misgivings over how long he will last as National Committee head.

Friends attribute this pessimistic uncertainty largely to two factors:

1. Lack of the backing of a potent party personality or influential group or section. As long-time Ohio State chairman, Bliss built up a reputation as a highly competent organizer and campaign manager. In 1964 he loyally and zealously supported the national ticket.

In the shake-up after the Goldwater debacle, Bliss was decided on as a compromise acceptable to all segments. While none were overly enthusiastic about him, they also were not against him. That continues to be his situation today. As a consequence, Bliss apparently has come to feel his tenure as national chairman is a matter of sufferance by rival forces waiting for an opportune time to move to replace him.

2. Strongly suspected ambitions of potential aspirants for national chairman. Foremost among these cited by Bliss friends are Idaho Gov. Robert Smylie, chairman of the Republican Governors' Conference; Craig Truax, Pennsylvania state chairman and close partisan of Gov. William Scranton; Fred Seaton, interior secretary in the Eisenhower cabinet and an intimate of former Vice President Nixon.

AMONG BLISS insiders, the Nixon-Seaton "threat" is viewed as the most serious.

This is due to the fact that Nixon already is busily campaigning for the 1968 nomination, and as of now is far out in front. He is almost constantly dashing about the country addressing party and fund-raising gatherings, and usually Seaton accompanies him.

The opinion is general among party leaders that in the not-too-distant future Seaton avowedly will become director of Nixon's drive for another try for the White House.

AT A RECENT private meeting in the East, Nixon disclosed he is looking for a press assistant with political experience. Also that he estimates his traveling and other expenses at around $50,000 a year, and is having no difficulty meeting these costs.

POSTMASTER General Lawrence O'Brien is being eagerly sought by members of Congress as a speaker in their home bailiwicks. He is being deluged with such requests, and is responding to most of them.

A Great Ant Society Eschews Laughs For Committed Culture

If I object to the Great Society, it is not because I think it a non-viable phantom conjured up by unrealistic lotus-eaters. After all, it is modeled on a going concern that has been doing business at the same old stand since time immemorial: the perfect organization of that remarkable insect, the ant, who lives under a set of laws not unlike those passed at this session of Congress.

There is obviously no room in such a society for the rugged individualist, that barbaric symbol which marred our own history until this happy era. For here there are neither haves nor have-nots, since each has his place and his duties and accepts them from birth.

IF THE FAMILY life of the ant is slightly more communal than we have been accustomed to, it seems to pay off. No youngster ever goes to a psychiatrist because he feels he doesn't belong. And when was the last time you heard of a teen-aged ant staying out late, getting drunk, smoking reefers, engaging in a free speech movement, or joining the Young Republicans? There is no need to rebel when you know you are taken care of from the cradle to the grave and that you have tenure at your job, whether it's raising fungi or caring for aphis.

And if this communal life works so well with ants, who is to say it will not work with man? Anyway, as our new laws begin to take effect, we'll find out before long.

AND YET, though I am not blind to the manifold advantages of giving up this competitive rat race for the ordered life of the Great Communal Society, I see little fun in it. And certainly no laughter—that marvelous gift the Creator bestowed only on man.

Did you ever hear an ant laugh? Or see him beam as his son got a crucial hit in a Cub Scout game? Or chuckle at a bawdy limerick? Or take a lazy stroll on a spring day and look at the blue sky and green things growing and pretty girls passing by and feel how gay and wonderful it was just to be alive?

There are other species besides man which are blessed with the spirit of pure fun. Watch a colt, released from the barn after a long winter, roll in the snow and romp in sheer ecstasy; watch your dog in a ramble through the woods, running away to sniff eagerly at every smell and sight and sound and come running back, his tail a-wagging, to jump up and lick you as he tries to express his sense of sheer joy.

BUT THESE are emotions that belong to none of the so-called social insects—neither the ant nor his two-legged brother of our own species. To both, every act must have a definite purpose: it must contribute to their Great Society, and no time out is permitted for the smallest of coffee breaks.

The impact of this philosophy is already with us, and if you do not embrace it you are not "committed"—which is the new status symbol. Fun just for fun's sake is out.

Even when a politician tries to make a judge out of a ward heeler, he announces his purpose is to preserve the majesty of the law. Just as an ant, coming unbidden to your picnic, does so only for the communal good.

WE HAD AN interesting example in Los Angeles recently. "Hello, Dolly" came here for a limited run; most of the tickets went to subscribers, and the management announced the rest of the seats would go to the general public on a first come, first served basis on a certain day.

Apparently some 8,000 showed up and waited in line all night for the box office to open. And, as in a World Series, many were disappointed when the "Sold Out" sign appeared.

Two letters on the subject appeared in the paper. One pointed with pride to the astonishing crowd that had queued up. This love of music, the writer proclaimed, was eminent proof of our culture! Not just the obvious fact that the show and its tunes had struck a popular chord and that it might be fun to see—surely the only purpose of the queuers—but a convincing demonstration of our culture. How corny can you get?

But worse was the note printed right below it. This one wept that so many people could turn out for a frothy musical when museums and art exhibits went a-begging for patrons. The lady—a ready-made ant, obviously—will doubtless write her congressman and ask for a law to make her forms of culture obligatory.

I remember—but of course I go back a long way—when going to the theater was pure fun. Will Rogers, W. C. Fields, Bobbby Clark, the Marx Brothers, Bea Lillie—you take the ants, and I'll take the belly laughs. Straight—and without culture.

Pupil Hit A Sour Note When He Transferred To Pickle School

In a school district that is growing as fast as the Novato Unified School District in a town that is growing as fast as Novato, there are bound to be some problems.

For example, where new subdivisions are opened, a majority of people buying those houses are young people with young children. So the school district suddenly finds itself with twice as many children in the lower grades as it had planned and perhaps only half as many in the upper grades.

This story was reported to us by a very reliable source—it had to be, because everything the P-TA does is correct.

Anwway, the story goes that this first grader came home one day to announce solemnly to his young parents that he was being transferred from the Pleasant Valley School to the Pickle School.

NO AMOUNT of questioning could break the child's story. He was being transferred to the Pickle School.

Not knowing the school system, the community into which they had just moved, or anything about transferring students from one school to another, the parents were nonplussed.

Finally they found out that the child was being transferred to the Olive School.

When confronted with the true name of the school, the child replied:

"Pickles and olives; I never could keep them straight."

DAYLIGHT SAVING time is a thing of the past for this year. Suddenly everyone finds darkness falling about an hour earlier than he is used to.

It is now night time when late afternoon and early evening activities are still going on. Paper boys and others may have to find your house in the dark.

CAN THEY SEE and read your house number from the street at night?

If it is not illuminated, it might be a good idea to leave a porch light on until the deliveries are made, or all children are off the street.

Along a similar line, the fall rains and cold weather will be starting soon. Capt. Richard Beyer has issued his annual warning about checking all heating appliances before putting them into their regular winter use.

MAJ. GEN. CARROLL W. McColpin, commander of the 28th Air Division and vice commander of the 28th North American Air Defense Region, recently had an article printed in the NORAD News from Colorado Springs.

The general, who has flown everything from a glider to a supersonic jet, did the article on the YF-12A, a revolutionary new aircraft which he describes as not being designed as an airplane but a weapons system.

WITH TRICK or treat day behind us, we must pass on a story of treating that came to us belatedly.

When he returned to his patrol car, he found it surrounded with small fry who were fascinated by the insignia on the car and the radio which keeps him informed of the goings-on around the county.

He called them to the back of the patrol car and lifted the trunk lid as though to show them something important. Then he reached in and gave each one of them a lollipop.

This probably comes under the heading of good public relations. They may not be voters yet, but they will be one day soon.
